2 Kings 19

2<sup>a</sup> And kept back part of the price, his wife also being privy to it, and brought a certain part, and laid it at the apostles' feet.

3<sup>b</sup> But Peter said, Ananias, why hath Satan filled thy heart to lie to the Holy Ghost, and to keep back part of the price of the land?

4 While it remained, was it not thine own? and after it was sold, was it not in thine own power? Why hast thou conceived this thing in thy heart? Thou hast not lied unto men, but unto God.

5<sup>c</sup> And Ananias hearing these words, fell down, and gave up the ghost: and great fear came on all them that heard these things.

6 And the young men arose, wound him up, and carried him out, and buried him.

7 And it was about the space of three hours after, when his wife, not knowing what was done, came in.

8 And Peter answered unto her, Tell me whether ye sold the land for so much? And she said, Yea, for so much.

9<sup>d</sup> Then Peter said unto her, How is it that ye have agreed together to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? Behold, the feet of them which have buried thy husband are at the door, and shall carry thee out.

10 Then fell she down straightway at his feet, and yielded up the ghost: and the young men came in and found her dead, and carrying her forth, buried her by her husband.

11<sup>e</sup> And great fear came upon all the church, and upon as many as heard these things.

12<sup>f</sup> And by the hands of the apostles were many signs and wonders wrought among the people; (and they were all with one accord in Solomon's porch.

13<sup>g</sup> And of the rest durst no man join himself to them: but the people magnified them.

14<sup>h</sup> And believers were the more added to the Lord, multitudes both of men and women;)

15 Inasmuch that they brought forth the sick into the streets, and laid them on beds and couches, that at the least the shadow of Peter passing by might overshadow some of them.

16 There came also a multitude out of the cities round about unto Jerusalem, bringing sick folks, and them which were vexed with unclean spirits: and they were healed every one.

17<sup>i</sup> Then the high priest rose up, and all they that were with him, (which is the sect of the Sadducees,) and were filled with indignation,

18 And laid their hands on the apostles, and put them in the common prison.

19<sup>k</sup> But the angel of the Lord by night opened the prison-doors, and brought them forth, and said, 20<sup>l</sup> Go, stand and speak in the temple to the people all the words of this life.

21<sup>m</sup> And when they heard that, they entered into the temple early in the morning, and taught. But the high priest came, and they that were with him, and called the council together, and all the senate of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison to have them brought.

22 But when the officers came, and found them not in the prison, they returned, and told,

23<sup>n</sup> Saying, The prison truly found we shut with all safety, and the keepers standing without before the doors: but when we had opened, we found no man within.

24 Now when the <sup>o</sup> high priest and the captain of the temple and the chief priests heard these things, they doubted of them whereunto this would grow.

25<sup>o</sup> Then came one and told them, saying, Behold, the men whom ye put in prison are standing in the temple, and teaching the people.

26<sup>p</sup> Then went the captain with the officers, and brought them without violence: for they feared the people, lest they should have been stoned.

27 And when they had brought them, they set them before the council: and the high priest asked them,

28<sup>q</sup> Saying, Did not we straitly command you that you should not teach in this name? and, behold, ye have filled Jerusalem with your doctrine, and intend to bring this man's blood upon us.

29<sup>r</sup> Then Peter and the other apostles answered and said, We ought to obey God rather than men.

30<sup>s</sup> The God of our fathers raised up Jesus, whom ye slew and hanged on a tree.

31<sup>t</sup> Him hath God exalted with his right hand, to be a Prince and a Saviour, for to give repentance to Israel, and forgiveness of sins.

32<sup>u</sup> And we are his witnesses of these things; and so is also the Holy Ghost, whom God hath given to them that obey him.

33<sup>v</sup> When they heard that, they were cut to the heart, and took counsel to slay them.

34<sup>w</sup> Then stood there up one in the council, a Pharisee, named Gamaliel, a doctor of law, had in reputation among all the people, and commanded to put the apostles forth a little space;

35 And said unto them, Ye men of Israel, take heed to yourselves what ye intend to do as touching these men.

36 For before these days rose up Theudas, boasting himself to be somebody; to whom a number of men, about four hundred, joined themselves: who was slain; and all, as many as obeyed him, were scattered, and brought to nought.

37 After this man rose up Judas of Galilee, in the days of the taxing, and drew away much people after him: he also perished; and all, even as many as obeyed him, were dispersed.

38<sup>y</sup> And now I say unto you, Refrain from these men, and let them alone: for if this counsel or this work be of men, it will come to nought:

39<sup>z</sup> But if it be of God, ye cannot overthrow it; lest haply ye be found even to fight against God.

40<sup>a</sup> And to him they agreed: and when they had called the apostles, and beaten them, they commanded that they should not speak in the name of Jesus, and let them go.

41<sup>b</sup> And they departed from the presence of the council, rejoicing that they were counted worthy to suffer shame for his name.

42<sup>c</sup> And daily in the temple, and in every house, they ceased not to teach, and preach Jesus Christ.

CHAPTER VI.

1 The apostles' care for the poor, and preaching of the word.
5 Seven deacons chosen.

<sup>a</sup> AND in those days, when the number of the disciples was multiplied, there arose a murmuring of the Grecians against the Hebrews, because their widows were neglected in the daily ministration.

2<sup>b</sup> Then the twelve called the multitude of the disciples unto them, and said, It is not reason that we should leave the word of God, and serve tables.

3<sup>c</sup> Wherefore, brethren, look ye out among you seven men of honest report, full of the Holy Ghost and wisdom, whom we may appoint over this business

4 But we will give ourselves continually to prayer, and to the ministry of the word.

5 ¶ And the saying pleased the whole multitude: and they chose Stephen, a man full of faith and of the Holy Ghost, and Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and Nicolas a proselyte of Antioch:

6 ¶ Whom they set before the apostles: and when they had prayed, they laid their hands on them.

7 ¶ And the word of God increased; and the number of the disciples multiplied in Jerusalem greatly; and a great company of the priests were obedient to the faith.

8 ¶ And Stephen, full of faith and power, did great wonders and miracles among the people.

9 ¶ Then there arose certain of the synagogue, which is called The synagogue of the Libertines, and Cyrenians, and Alexandrians, and of them of Cilicia, and of Asia, disputing with Stephen.

10 ¶ And they were not able to resist the wisdom and the spirit by which he spake.

11 Then they suborned men, which said, We have heard him speak blasphemous words against Moses, and against God.

12 And they stirred up the people, and the elders, and the scribes, and came upon him, and caught him, and brought him to the council,

13 And set up false witnesses, which said, This man ceaseth not to speak blasphemous words against this holy place and the law:

14 ¶ For we have heard him say, That this Jesus of Nazareth shall destroy this place, and shall change the customs which Moses delivered us.

15 And all that sat in the council, looking steadfastly on him, saw his face as it had been the face of an angel.

CHAPTER VII.

1 Stephen being called, answereth to his accusation; 54 they stone him to death.

THEN said the high priest, Are these things so?

2 And he said, Men, brethren, and fathers, hearken; the God of glory appeared unto our father Abraham when he was in Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in Charran,

3 ¶ And said unto him, Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and come into the land which I shall shew thee.

4 Then came he out of the land of the Chaldeans, and dwelt in Charran: and from thence, when his father was dead, he removed him into this land, wherein ye now dwell.

5 ¶ And he gave him none inheritance in it, no, not so much as to set his foot on: yet he promised that he would give it to him for a possession, and to his seed after him, when as yet he had no child.

6 ¶ And God spake on this wise, That his seed should sojourn in a strange land; and that they should bring them into bondage, and entreat them evil four hundred years.

7 And the nation to whom they shall be in bondage will I judge, said God: and after that shall they come forth, and serve me in this place.

8 ¶ And he gave him the covenant of circumcision. And so Abraham begat Isaac, and circumcised him the eighth day; and Isaac begat Jacob; and Jacob begat the twelve patriarchs.

9 ¶ And the patriarchs, moved with envy, sold Joseph into Egypt; but God was with him,

10 ¶ And delivered him out of all his afflictions, and gave him favour and wisdom in the sight of Pharaoh king of Egypt; and he made him governor over Egypt and all his house.

11 ¶ Now there came a dearth over all the land of Egypt and Chanaan, and great affliction: and our fathers found no sustenance.

12 ¶ But when Jacob heard that there was corn in Egypt, he sent out our fathers first.

13 ¶ And at the second time Joseph was made known to his brethren; and Joseph's kindred was made known unto Pharaoh.

14 ¶ Then sent Joseph, and called his father Jacob to him, and all his kindred, threescore and fifteen souls.

15 ¶ So Jacob went down into Egypt, and died, he, and our fathers,

16 ¶ And were carried over into Sychem, and laid in the sepulchre that Abraham bought for a sum of money of the sons of Emmor the father of Sychem.

17 ¶ But when the time of the promise drew nigh, which God had sworn to Abraham, the people grew and multiplied in Egypt, 18 Till another king arose, which knew not Joseph.

19 The same dealt subtilly with our kindred, and evil-entreated our fathers, so that they cast out their young children, to the end they might not live.

20 ¶ In which time Moses was born, and was exceeding fair, and nourished up in his father's house three months:

21 ¶ And when he was cast out, Pharaoh's daughter took him up, and nourished him for her own son.

22 And Moses was learned in all the wisdom of the Egyptians, and was mighty in words and in deeds.

23 And when he was full forty years old, it came into his heart to visit his brethren the children of Israel.

24 ¶ And seeing one of them suffer wrong, he defended him, and avenged him that was oppressed, and smote the Egyptian.

25 For he supposed his brethren would have understood how that God by his hand would deliver them; but they understood not.

26 ¶ And the next day he shewed himself unto them as they strove, and would have set them at one again, saying, Sirs, ye are brethren; why do ye wrong one to another?

27 But he that did his neighbour wrong thrust him away, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge over us?

28 Wilt thou kill me, as thou didst the Egyptian yesterday?

29 ¶ Then fled Moses at this saying, and was a stranger in the land of Madian, where he begat two sons.

30 ¶ And when forty years were expired, there appeared to him in the wilderness of mount Sina an angel of the Lord, in a flame of fire in a bush.

31 When Moses saw it, he wondered at the sight and as he drew near to behold it, the voice of the Lord came unto him, 32 Saying, I am the God of thy fathers, the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. Then Moses trembled, and durst not behold.

33 Then said the Lord to him, Put off thy shoes from thy feet; for the place where thou standest is holy ground.

34 I have seen, I have seen the affliction of my people which is in Egypt, and I have heard their groaning, and am come down to deliver them. And now come, I will send thee into Egypt.

35 ¶ This Moses, whom they refused, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge? the same did God send to be a ruler and a deliverer, by the hand of the angel which appeared to him in the bush.

36<sup>a</sup> He brought them out, after that he had shewed wonders and signs in the land of Egypt, and in the Red Sea, and in the wilderness forty years.

37<sup>1</sup> This is that Moses which said unto the children of Israel, A Prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you of your brethren, like unto me; him shall ye hear.

38<sup>2</sup> This is he that was in the church in the wilderness, with the angel which spake to him in the mount Sina, and with our fathers; who received the lively oracles to give unto us:

39 To whom our fathers would not obey, but thrust him from them, and in their hearts turned back again into Egypt,

40<sup>a</sup> Saying unto Aaron, Make us gods to go before us: for as for this Moses which brought us out of the land of Egypt, we wot not what is become of him.

41 And they made a calf in those days, and offered sacrifice unto the idol, and rejoiced in the works of their own hands.

42<sup>b</sup> Then God turned, and gave them up to worship the host of heaven: as it is written in the book of the prophets, O ye house of Israel, have ye offered to me slain beasts and sacrifices by the space of forty years in the wilderness?

43 Yea, ye took up the tabernacle of Moloch, and the star of your god Remphan, figures which ye made to worship them: and I will carry you away beyond Babylon.

44<sup>c</sup> Our fathers had the tabernacle of witness in the wilderness, as he had appointed, speaking unto Moses, that he should make it according to the fashion that he had seen.

45<sup>d</sup> Which also our fathers that came after brought in with Jesus into the possession of the Gentiles, whom God drave out before the face of our fathers, unto the days of David;

46<sup>e</sup> Who found favour before God, and desired to find a tabernacle for the God of Jacob.

47<sup>f</sup> But Solomon built him a house.

48<sup>g</sup> Howbeit, the Most High dwelleth not in temples made with hands; as saith the prophet,

49<sup>h</sup> Heaven is my throne, and earth is my footstool: what house will ye build me? saith the Lord: or what is the place of my rest?

50 Hath not my hand made all these things?

51<sup>1</sup> Ye stiff-necked, and uncircumcised in heart and ears, ye do always resist the Holy Ghost: as your fathers did, so do ye.

52<sup>k</sup> Which of the prophets have not your fathers persecuted? and they have slain them which shewed before of the coming of the Just One, of whom ye have been now the betrayers and murderers:

53<sup>l</sup> Who have received the law by the disposition of angels, and have not kept it.

54<sup>m</sup> When they heard these things, they were cut to the heart, and they gnashed on him with their teeth.

55<sup>n</sup> But he, being full of the Holy Ghost, looked up steadfastly into heaven, and saw the glory of God, and Jesus standing on the right hand of God, 56 And said, Behold, I see the heavens opened, and the Son of man standing on the right hand of God.

57 Then they cried out with a loud voice, and stopped their ears and ran upon him with one accord,

58<sup>o</sup> And cast him out of the city, and stoned him: and the witnesses laid down their clothes at a young man's feet, whose name was Saul.

59<sup>p</sup> And they stoned Stephen, calling upon God, and saying, Lord Jesus, receive my spirit.

60 And he kneeled down, and cried with a loud voice, Lord, lay not this sin to their charge. And when he had said this, he fell asleep.

CHAPTER VIII.

5 Philip planteth the church in Samaria; & 26 he baptizeth an Ethiopian eunuch.

AND Saul was consenting unto his death. And at that time there was a great persecution against the church which was at Jerusalem; and they were all scattered abroad throughout the regions of Judea and Samaria, except the apostles.

2<sup>b</sup> And devout men carried Stephen to his burial, and made great lamentation over him.

3<sup>c</sup> As for Saul, he made havock of the church, entering into every house; and haling men and women, committed them to prison.

4<sup>d</sup> Therefore they that were scattered abroad went every where preaching the word.

5<sup>1</sup> Then Philip went down to the city of Samaria, and preached Christ unto them.

6 And the people with one accord gave heed unto those things which Philip spake, hearing, and seeing the miracles which he did.

7 For unclean spirits, crying with loud voice, came out of many that were possessed with them: and many taken with palsies, and that were lame, were healed.

8 And there was great joy in that city.

9<sup>1</sup> But there was a certain man called Simon, which beforetime in the same city used sorcery, and bewitched the people of Samaria, giving out that himself was some great one:

10 To whom they all gave heed, from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is the great power of God.

11 And to him they had regard, because that of long time he had bewitched them with sorceries.

12<sup>a</sup> But when they believed Philip preaching the things concerning the kingdom of God, and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized, both men and women.

13 Then Simon himself believed also: and when he was baptized, he continued with Philip, and wondered, beholding the miracles and signs which were done.

14<sup>1</sup> Now when the apostles which were at Jerusalem heard that Samaria had received the word of God, they sent unto them Peter and John:

15 Who, when they were come down, prayed for them, that they might receive the Holy Ghost:

16 For as yet he was fallen upon none of them; only they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus.

17 Then laid they their hands on them, and they received the Holy Ghost.

18 And when Simon saw, that through laying on of the apostles' hands the Holy Ghost was given, he offered them money,

19<sup>a</sup> Saying, Give me also this power, that on whomsoever I lay hands, he may receive the Holy Ghost.

20 But Peter said unto him, Thy money perish with thee, because thou hast thought that the gift of God may be purchased with money.

21 Thou hast neither part nor lot in this matter for thy heart is not right in the sight of God.

22 Repent therefore of this thy wickedness; and pray God, if perhaps the thought of thy heart may be forgiven thee.

23 For I perceive that thou art in the gall of bitterness, and in the bond of iniquity.

24 Then answered Simon, and said, Pray ye to the Lord for me, that none of these things which ye have spoken come upon me.

25 And they, when they had testified and preached the word of the Lord, returned to Jerusalem, and preached the gospel in many villages of the Samaritans.

26 ¶ And the angel of the Lord spake unto Philip, saying, Arise, and go toward the south, unto the way that goeth down from Jerusalem unto Gaza, which is desert.

27 And he arose and went: and, behold, a man of Ethiopia, a eunuch of great authority under Candace queen of the Ethiopians, who had the charge of all her treasure, and had come to Jerusalem for to worship, 28 Was returning; and, sitting in his chariot, read Esaias the prophet.

29 Then the Spirit said unto Philip, Go near, and join thyself to this chariot.

30 And Philip ran thither to him, and heard him read the prophet Esaias, and said, Understandest thou what thou readest?

31 And he said, How can I, except some man should guide me? And he desired Philip that he would come up and sit with him.

32 ¶ The place of the scripture which he read was this, He was led as a sheep to the slaughter; and like a lamb dumb before his shearer, so opened he not his mouth:

33 In his humiliation his judgment was taken away: and who shall declare his generation? for his life is taken from the earth.

34 And the eunuch answered Philip, and said, I pray thee, of whom speaketh the prophet this? of himself, or of some other man?

35 Then Philip opened his mouth, and began at the same scripture, and preached unto him Jesus.

36 And as they went on their way, they came unto a certain water: and the eunuch said, See, here is water; what doth hinder me to be baptized?

37 ¶ And Philip said, If thou believest with all thy heart, thou mayest. And he answered and said, I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God.

38 And he commanded the chariot to stand still: and they went down both into the water, both Philip and the eunuch; and he baptized him.

39 ¶ And when they were come up out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord caught away Philip, that the eunuch saw him no more: and he went on his way rejoicing.

40 ¶ But Philip was found at Azotus: and passing through, he preached in all the cities, till he came to Cesarea.

CHAPTER IX.

1 Saul, going towards Damascus, is called by Christ: 10 Ananias sent to him, and he is baptized, 20 and boldly preacheth Christ.

AND Saul yet breathing out threatenings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went unto the high priest,

2 And desired of him letters to Damascus to the synagogues, that if he found any of this way, whether they were men or women, he might bring them bound unto Jerusalem.

3 ¶ And as he journeyed, he came near Damascus; and suddenly there shined round about him a light from heaven:

4 And he fell to the earth, and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

5 And he said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest: it is hard for thee to kick against the pricks.

6 And he, trembling and astonished, said, Lord, what wilt thou have me to do? And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go into the city, and it shall be told thee what thou must do.

7 ¶ And the men which journeyed with him stood speechless, hearing a voice, but seeing no man.

8 And Saul arose from the earth; and when his eyes were opened, he saw no man: but they led him by the hand, and brought him into Damascus.

9 And he was three days without sight, and neither did eat nor drink.

10 ¶ And there was a certain disciple at Damascus, named Ananias: and to him said the Lord in a vision, Ananias. And he said, Behold, I am here, Lord.

11 ¶ And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go into the street which is called Straight, and inquire in the house of Judas for one called Saul of Tarsus: for, behold, he prayeth, 12 And hath seen in a vision a man named Ananias coming in, and putting his hand on him, that he might receive his sight.

13 ¶ Then Ananias answered, Lord, I have heard by many of this man, how much evil he hath done to thy saints at Jerusalem:

14 And here he hath authority from the chief priests to bind all that call on thy name.

15 ¶ But the Lord said unto him, Go thy way: for he is a chosen vessel unto me, to bear my name before the Gentiles, and kings, and the children of Israel:

16 ¶ For I will shew him how great things he must suffer for my name's sake.

17 ¶ And Ananias went his way, and entered into the house; and putting his hands on him, said, Brother Saul, the Lord, even Jesus, that appeared unto thee in the way as thou camest, hath sent me, that thou mightest receive thy sight, and be filled with the Holy Ghost.

18 And immediately there fell from his eyes as it had been scales; and he received sight forthwith, and arose, and was baptized.

19 ¶ And when he had received meat, he was strengthened. Then was Saul certain days with the disciples which were at Damascus.

20 And straightway he preached Christ in the synagogues, that he is the Son of God.

21 ¶ But all that heard him were amazed, and said, Is not this he that destroyed them which called on this name in Jerusalem, and came hither for that intent, that he might bring them bound unto the chief priests?

22 ¶ But Saul increased the more in strength, and confounded the Jews which dwelt at Damascus, proving that this is very Christ.

23 ¶ And after that many days were fulfilled, the Jews took counsel to kill him.

24 ¶ But their laying await was known of Saul. And they watched the gates day and night, to kill him.

25 Then the disciples took him by night, and let him down by the wall, in a basket.

25 <sup>a</sup> And when Saul was come to Jerusalem, he assayed to join himself to the disciples: but they were all afraid of him, and believed not that he was a disciple.

27 But Barnabas took him, and brought him to the apostles, and declared unto them how he had seen the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken to him, and how he had preached boldly at Damascus in the name of Jesus.

28 And he was with them coming in and going out at Jerusalem.

29 And he spake boldly in the name of the Lord Jesus, and disputed against the Grecians: but they went about to slay him.

30 Which when the brethren knew, they brought him down to Cesarea, and sent him forth to Tarsus.

31 <sup>o</sup> Then had the churches rest throughout all Judea and Galilee and Samaria, and were edified; and walking in the fear of the Lord, and in the comfort of the Holy Ghost, were multiplied.

32 <sup>1</sup> And it came to pass, as Peter passed throughout all quarters, he came down also to the saints which dwelt at Lydda.

33 And there he found a certain man named Eneas, which had kept his bed eight years, and was sick of the palsy.

34 And Peter said unto him, Eneas, Jesus Christ maketh thee whole; arise, and make thy bed. And he arose immediately.

35 And all that dwelt in Lydda and Saron saw him, and turned to the Lord.

36 <sup>1</sup> Now there was at Joppa a certain disciple named Tabitha, which by interpretation is called Dorcas: this woman was full of good works and alms-deeds which she did.

37 And it came to pass in those days, that she was sick, and died: whom when they had washed, they laid her in an upper chamber.

38 And forasmuch as Lydda was nigh to Joppa, and the disciples had heard that Peter was there, they sent unto him two men, desiring him that he would not delay to come to them.

39 Then Peter arose, and went with them. When he was come, they brought him into the upper chamber: and all the widows stood by him weeping, and shewing the coats and garments which Dorcas made while she was with them.

40 But Peter put them all forth, and kneeled down, and prayed: and turning him to the body, said, Tabitha, arise. And she opened her eyes: and when she saw Peter, she sat up.

41 And he gave her his hand, and lifted her up: and when he had called the saints and widows, he presented her alive.

42 And it was known throughout all Joppa: and many believed in the Lord.

43 And it came to pass, that he tarried many days in Joppa, with one Simon a tanner.

CHAPTER X.

1 Cornelius sendeth for Peter....34 Peter preacheth....44 The Holy Ghost falleth on the hearers: they are baptized.

A. D. 41.

THERE was a certain man in Cesarea called Cornelius, a centurion of the band called the Italian band, a verses 4.

2 <sup>a</sup> A devout man, and one that feared God with all his house, which gave much alms to the people, and prayed to God always.

3 He saw in a vision evidently, about the ninth hour of the day, an angel of God coming in to him, and saying unto him, Cornelius.

4 And when he looked on him, he was afraid, and said, What is it, Lord? And he said unto him, Thy prayers and thine alms are come up for a memorial before God.

5 <sup>b</sup> And now send men to Joppa, and call for one Simon, whose surname is Peter:

6 <sup>c</sup> He lodgeth with one Simon a tanner, whose house is by the sea-side: he shall tell thee what thou oughtest to do.

7 <sup>d</sup> And when the angel which spake unto Cornelius was departed, he called two of his household servants, and a devout soldier of them that waited on him continually;

8 <sup>e</sup> And when he had declared all these things unto them, he sent them to Joppa.

9 <sup>f</sup> On the morrow, as they went on their journey, and drew nigh unto the city, Peter went up upon the house-top to pray, about the sixth hour:

10 And he became very hungry, and would have eaten: but while they made ready, he fell into a trance,

11 <sup>g</sup> And saw heaven opened, and a certain vessel descending unto him, as it had been a great sheet, knit at the four corners, and let down to the earth;

12 Wherein were all manner of four-footed beasts of the earth, and wild beasts, and creeping things, and fowls of the air.

13 <sup>h</sup> And there came a voice to him, Rise, Peter: kill, and eat.

14 But Peter said, Not so, Lord; for I have never eaten any thing that is common or unclean.

15 <sup>i</sup> And the voice spake unto him again the second time, What God hath cleansed, that call not thou common.

16 This was done thrice: and the vessel was received up again into heaven.

17 Now while Peter doubted in himself what this vision which he had seen should mean, behold, the men which were sent from Cornelius had made inquiry for Simon's house, and stood before the gate

18 And called, and asked, whether Simon, which was surnamed Peter, were lodged there.

19 <sup>j</sup> While Peter thought on the vision, the Spirit said unto him, Behold, three men seek thee.

20 <sup>k</sup> Arise therefore, and get thee down, and go with them, doubting nothing: for I have sent them.

21 Then Peter went down to the men which were sent unto him from Cornelius, and said, Behold, I am he whom ye seek: what is the cause wherefore ye are come?

22 <sup>l</sup> And they said, Cornelius the centurion, a just man, and one that feareth God, and of good report among all the nation of the Jews, was warned from God by a holy angel, to send for thee into his house, and to hear words of thee.

23 <sup>m</sup> Then called he them in, and lodged them. And on the morrow Peter went away with them, and certain brethren from Joppa accompanied him.

24 <sup>n</sup> And the morrow after they entered into Cesarea. And Cornelius waited for them, and had called together his kinsmen and near friends.

25 And as Peter was coming in, Cornelius met him, and fell down at his feet, and worshipped him.

26 <sup>o</sup> But Peter took him up, saying, Stand up: I myself also am a man.

27<sup>a</sup> And as he talked with him, he went in, and found many that were come together.

28<sup>r</sup> And he said unto them, Ye know how that it is an unlawful thing for a man that is a Jew to keep company, or come unto one of another nation; but God hath shewed me that I should not call any man common or unclean.

29 Therefore came I unto you without gainsaying, as soon as I was sent for. I ask, therefore, for what intent ye have sent for me?

30<sup>s</sup> And Cornelius said, Four days ago I was fasting until this hour; and at the ninth hour I prayed in my house; and, behold, a man stood before me in bright clothing, 31 And said, Cornelius, thy prayer is heard, and thine alms are had in remembrance in the sight of God.

32 Send therefore to Joppa, and call hither Simon whose surname is Peter: he is lodged in the house of one Simon a tanner, by the sea-side; who, when he cometh, shall speak unto thee.

33 Immediately therefore I sent to thee; and thou hast well done that thou art come. Now therefore are we all here present before God, to hear all things that are commanded thee of God.

34<sup>t</sup> Then Peter opened his mouth, and said, Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons:

35<sup>u</sup> But in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is accepted with him.

36<sup>x</sup> The word which God sent unto the children of Israel, preaching peace by Jesus Christ; (he is Lord of all:)

37<sup>y</sup> That word, I say, ye know, which was published throughout all Judea, and began from Galilee, after the baptism which John preached;

38<sup>z</sup> How God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Ghost and with power; who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the devil: for God was with him.

39<sup>a</sup> And we are witnesses of all things which he did, both in the land of the Jews and in Jerusalem; whom they slew and hanged on a tree:

40<sup>b</sup> Him God raised up the third day, and shewed him openly;

41<sup>c</sup> Not to all the people, but unto witnesses chosen before of God, even to us, who did eat and drink with him after he rose from the dead.

42<sup>d</sup> And he commanded us to preach unto the people, and to testify that it is he which was ordained of God to be the Judge of quick and dead.

43<sup>e</sup> To him give all the prophets witness, that through his name whosoever believeth in him shall receive remission of sins.

44<sup>f</sup> While Peter yet spake these words, the Holy Ghost fell on all them which heard the word.

45<sup>g</sup> And they of the circumcision which believed were astonished, as many as came with Peter, because that on the Gentiles also was poured out the gift of the Holy Ghost:

46 For they heard them speak with tongues, and magnify God. Then answered Peter, 47<sup>h</sup> Can any man forbid water, that these should not be baptized, which have received the Holy Ghost as well as we?

48<sup>i</sup> And he commanded them to be baptized in the name of the Lord. Then prayed they him to tarry certain days.

CHAPTER XI.

1 Peter accused for going to the Gentiles....19 The gospel is preached in many places....27 Agabus prophesieth of a great dearth.

<sup>a</sup> AND the apostles and brethren that were in Judea, heard that the Gentiles had also received the word of God.

2<sup>b</sup> And when Peter was come up to Jerusalem, they that were of the circumcision contended with him,

3<sup>c</sup> Saying, Thou wentest in to men uncircumcised, and didst eat with them.

4 But Peter rehearsed the matter from the beginning, and expounded it by order unto them, saying,

5<sup>d</sup> I was in the city of Joppa, praying: and in a trance I saw a vision, A certain vessel descending, as it had been a great sheet, let down from heaven by four corners; and it came even to me:

6 Upon the which when I had fastened mine eyes, I considered, and saw four-footed beasts of the earth, and wild beasts, and creeping things, and fowls of the air.

7 And I heard a voice saying unto me, Arise, Peter; slay, and eat.

8 But I said, Not so, Lord: for nothing common or unclean hath at any time entered into my mouth.

9 But the voice answered me again from heaven, What God hath cleansed, that call not thou common.

10 And this was done three times: and all were drawn up again into heaven.

11 And, behold, immediately there were three men already come unto the house where I was, sent from Cesarea unto me.

12 And the Spirit bade me go with them, nothing doubting. Moreover, these six brethren accompanied me; and we entered into the man's house:

13 And he shewed us how he had seen an angel in his house, which stood and said unto him, Send men to Joppa, and call for Simon, whose surname is Peter;

14 Who shall tell thee words, whereby thou and all thy house shall be saved.

15<sup>e</sup> And as I began to speak, the Holy Ghost fell on them, as on us at the beginning.

16<sup>f</sup> Then remembered I the word of the Lord, how that he said, John indeed baptized with water; but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost.

17 Forasmuch then as God gave them the like gift as he did unto us, who believed on the Lord Jesus Christ, what was I, that I could withstand God?

18 When they heard these things, they held their peace, and glorified God, saying, Then hath God also to the Gentiles granted repentance unto life.

19<sup>g</sup> Now they which were scattered abroad upon the persecution that arose about Stephen, travelled as far as Phenice, and Cyprus, and Antioch, preaching the word to none but unto the Jews only.

20 And some of them were men of Cyprus and Cyrene, which, when they were come to Antioch, spake unto the Grecians, preaching the Lord Jesus.

21<sup>h</sup> And the hand of the Lord was with them: and a great number believed, and turned unto the Lord.

22<sup>i</sup> Then tidings of these things came unto the ears of the church which was in Jerusalem: and they sent forth Barnabas, that he should go as far as Antioch.

23 Who, when he came, and had seen the grace of God, was glad, and exhorted them all that with purpose of heart they would cleave unto the Lord.

24 For he was a good man, and full of the Holy Ghost, and of faith : and much people was added unto the Lord.

25<sup>i</sup> Then departed Barnabas to Tarsus, for to seek Saul :

26 And when he had found him, he brought him unto Antioch. And it came to pass, that a whole year they assembled themselves with the church, and taught much people. And the disciples were called Christians first in Antioch.

27<sup>1</sup> And in these days came prophets from Jerusalem unto Antioch.

28 And there stood up one of them, named Agabus, and signified by the Spirit that there should be great dearth throughout all the world : which came to pass in the days of Claudius Cesar.

29<sup>i</sup> Then the disciples, every man according to his ability, determined to send relief unto the brethren which dwelt in Judea :

30 Which also they did, and sent it to the elders by the hands of Barnabas and Saul.

CHAPTER XII.

1 Herod persecuteth the Christians ; 20 his pride, and miserable death.

NOW about that time, Herod the king stretched forth his hands, to vex certain of the church.

2<sup>a</sup> And he killed James the brother of John with the sword.

3 And because he saw it pleased the Jews, he proceeded further to take Peter also. Then were the days of unleavened bread.

4<sup>b</sup> And when he had apprehended him, he put him in prison, and delivered him to four quaternions of soldiers to keep him ; intending after Easter to bring him forth to the people.

5 Peter therefore was kept in prison ; but prayer was made without ceasing of the church unto God for him.

6 And when Herod would have brought him forth, the same night Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains : and the keepers before the door kept the prison.

7 And, behold, the angel of the Lord came upon him, and a light shined in the prison : and he smote Peter on the side, and raised him up, saying, Arise up quickly. And his chains fell off from his hands.

8 And the angel said unto him, Gird thyself, and bind on thy sandals : and so he did. And he saith unto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and follow me.

9 And he went out, and followed him ; and wist not that it was true which was done by the angel : but thought he saw a vision.

10 When they were past the first and the second ward, they came unto the iron gate that leadeth unto the city, which opened to them of his own accord : and they went out, and passed on through one street ; and forthwith the angel departed from him.

11 And when Peter was come to himself, he said, Now I know of a surety that the Lord hath sent his angel, and hath delivered me out of the hand of Herod, and from all the expectation of the people of the Jews.

12<sup>c</sup> And when he had considered the thing, he came to the house of Mary the mother of John, whose surname was Mark ; where many were gathered together, praying.

13 And as Peter knocked at the door of the gate, a damsel came to harken, named Rhoda.

14 And when she knew Peter's voice, she opened not the gate for gladness, but ran in, and told how Peter stood before the gate.

15<sup>d</sup> And they said unto her, Thou art mad. But she constantly affirmed that it was even so. Then said they, It is his angel.

16 But Peter continued knocking : and when they had opened the door, and saw him, they were astonished.

17 But he beckoning unto them with the hand, to hold their peace, declared unto them how the Lord had brought him out of the prison. And he said, Go, shew these things unto James, and to the brethren. And he departed, and went into another place.

18 Now as soon as it was day, there was no small stir among the soldiers, what was become of Peter.

19 And when Herod had sought for him, and found him not, he examined the keepers, and commanded that they should be put to death. And he went down from Judea to Cesaræa, and there abode.

20<sup>1</sup> And Herod was highly displeased with them of Tyre and Sidon : but they came with one accord to him, and, having made Blastus the king's chamberlain their friend, desired peace ; because their country was nourished by the king's country.

21 And upon a set day, Herod, arrayed in royal apparel, sat upon his throne, and made an oration unto them.

22 And the people gave a shout, saying, It is the voice of a god, and not of a man.

23 And immediately the angel of the Lord smote him, because he gave not God the glory : and he was eaten of worms, and gave up the ghost.

24<sup>1</sup> But the word of God grew and multiplied.

25<sup>2</sup> And Barnabas and Saul returned from Jerusalem, when they had fulfilled their ministry, and took with them John, whose surname was Mark.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 Paul and Barnabas sent to the Gentiles....42 The Gentiles believe....45 The Jews blaspheme, and raise a persecution.

NOW there were in the church that was at Antioch, certain prophets and teachers ; as Barnabas, and Simeon that was called Niger, and Lucius of Cyrene, and Manaen, which had been brought up with Herod the tetrarch, and Saul.

2<sup>b</sup> As they ministered to the Lord, and fasted, the Holy Ghost said, Separate me Barnabas and Saul, for the work whereunto I have called them.

3<sup>c</sup> And when they had fasted and prayed, and laid their hands on them, they sent them away.

4<sup>1</sup> So they, being sent forth by the Holy Ghost, departed unto Seleucia ; and from thence they sailed to Cyprus.

5<sup>d</sup> And when they were at Salamis, they preached the word of God in the synagogues of the Jews : and they had also John to their minister.

6<sup>e</sup> And when they had gone through the isle unto Paphos, they found a certain sorcerer, a false prophet, a Jew, whose name was Bar-jesus :

7 Which was with the deputy of the country, Sergius Paulus, a prudent man ; who called for Barnabas and Saul, and desired to hear the word of God.

8<sup>f</sup> But Elymas the sorcerer (for so is his name by interpretation) withstood them, seeking to turn away the deputy from the faith.

9 Then Saul (who also is called Paul,) filled with the Holy Ghost, set his eyes on him,

10<sup>g</sup> And said, O full of all subtilty and all mischief, thou child of the devil, thou enemy of all righteousness, wilt thou not cease to pervert the right ways of the Lord ?

11 And now, behold, the hand of the Lord is upon thee, and thou shalt be blind, not seeing the sun for a season. And immediately there fell on him a mist and a darkness; and he went about, seeking some to lead him by the hand.

12 Then the deputy, when he saw what was done, believed, being astonished at the doctrine of the Lord.

13 Now when Paul and his company loosed from Paphos, they came to Perga in Pamphylia; and John departing from them, returned to Jerusalem.

14 But when they departed from Perga, they came to Antioch in Pisidia, and went into the synagogue on the sabbath-day, and sat down.

15 And after the reading of the law and the prophets, the rulers of the synagogue sent unto them, saying, Ye men and brethren, if ye have any word of exhortation for the people, say on.

16 Then Paul stood up, and beckoning with his hand, said, Men of Israel, and ye that fear God, give audience.

17 The God of this people of Israel chose our fathers, and exalted the people when they dwelt as strangers in the land of Egypt, and with a high arm brought he them out of it.

18 And about the time of forty years suffered he their manners in the wilderness.

19 And when he had destroyed seven nations in the land of Chanaan, he divided their land to them by lot.

20 And after that, he gave unto them judges, about the space of four hundred and fifty years, until Samuel the prophet.

21 And afterward they desired a king: and God gave unto them Saul the son of Cis, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, by the space of forty years.

22 And when he had removed him, he raised up unto them David to be their king; to whom also he gave testimony, and said, I have found David the son of Jesse, a man after mine own heart, which shall fulfil all my will.

23 Of this man's seed hath God, according to his promise, raised unto Israel a Saviour, Jesus:

24 When John had first preached, before his coming, the baptism of repentance to all the people of Israel.

25 And as John fulfilled his course, he said, Who think ye that I am? I am not he: but, behold, there cometh one after me, whose shoes of his feet I am not worthy to loose.

26 Men and brethren, children of the stock of Abraham, and whosoever among you feareth God, to you is the word of this salvation sent.

27 For they that dwell at Jerusalem, and their rulers, because they knew him not, nor yet the voices of the prophets which are read every sabbath-day, they have fulfilled them in condemning him.

28 And though they found no cause of death in him, yet desired they Pilate that he should be slain.

29 And when they had fulfilled all that was written of him, they took him down from the tree, and laid him in a sepulchre.

30 But God raised him from the dead:

31 And he was seen many days of them which came up with him from Galilee to Jerusalem, who are his witnesses unto the people.

32 And we declare unto you glad tidings, how that the promise which was made unto the fathers,

33 God hath fulfilled the same unto us their children, in that he hath raised up Jesus again; as it is also written in the second psalm, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee.

34 And as concerning that he raised him up from the dead, now no more to return to corruption, he said on this wise, I will give you the sure mercies of David.

35 Wherefore he saith also in another psalm, Thou shalt not suffer thy Holy One to see corruption.

36 For David, after he had served his own generation by the will of God, fell on sleep, and was laid unto his fathers, and saw corruption:

37 But he whom God raised again, saw no corruption.

38 Be it known unto you therefore, men and brethren, that through this man is preached unto you the forgiveness of sins:

39 And by him, all that believe are justified from all things, from which ye could not be justified by the law of Moses.

40 Beware therefore, lest that come upon you which is spoken of in the prophets;

41 Behold, ye despisers, and wonder, and perish: for I work a work in your days, a work which ye shall in no wise believe, though a man declare it unto you.

42 And when the Jews were gone out of the synagogue, the Gentiles besought that these words might be preached to them the next sabbath.

43 Now when the congregation was broken up, many of the Jews and religious proselytes followed Paul and Barnabas: who speaking to them, persuaded them to continue in the grace of God.

44 And the next sabbath-day came almost the whole city together, to hear the word of God.

45 But when the Jews saw the multitudes, they were filled with envy, and spake against those things which were spoken by Paul, contradicting and blaspheming.

46 Then Paul and Barnabas waxed bold, and said, It was necessary that the word of God should first have been spoken to you: but seeing ye put it from you, and judge yourselves unworthy of everlasting life, lo, we turn to the Gentiles.

47 For so hath the Lord commanded us, saying, I have set thee to be a light of the Gentiles, that thou shouldest be for salvation unto the ends of the earth.

48 And when the Gentiles heard this, they were glad, and glorified the word of the Lord: and as many as were ordained to eternal life, believed.

49 And the word of the Lord was published throughout all the region.

50 But the Jews stirred up the devout and honourable women, and the chief men of the city, and raised persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and expelled them out of their coasts.

51 But they shook off the dust of their feet against them, and came unto Iconium.

52 And the disciples were filled with joy, and with the Holy Ghost.

CHAPTER XIV.

1 Paul and Barnabas are persecuted.... 8 Paul, healing a cripple at Lystra, they are reputed as gods by the people.

AND it came to pass in Iconium, that they went both together into the synagogue of the Jews, and so spake, that a great multitude, both of the Jews and also of the Greeks, believed.

2 But the unbelieving Jews stirred up the Gentiles, and made their minds evil-affected against the brethren.

3 Long time therefore abode they speaking boldly in the Lord, which gave testimony unto the word of his grace, and granted signs and wonders to be done by their hands

4 But the multitude of the city was divided : and part held with the Jews, and part with the apostles.

5 <sup>c</sup> And when there was an assault made, both of the Gentiles and also of the Jews, with their rulers, to use them despitefully, and to stone them,

6 <sup>d</sup> They were ware of it, and fled unto Lystra and Derbe, cities of Lycaonia, and unto the region that lieth round about :

7 And there they preached the gospel.

8 <sup>e</sup> And there sat a certain man at Lystra, impotent in his feet, being a cripple from his mother's womb, who never had walked :

9 <sup>f</sup> The same heard Paul speak : who steadfastly beholding him, and perceiving that he had faith to be healed,

10 <sup>g</sup> Said with a loud voice, Stand upright on thy feet. And he leaped and walked.

11 <sup>h</sup> And when the people saw what Paul had done, they lifted up their voices, saying in the speech of Lycaonia, The gods are come down to us in the likeness of men.

12 And they called Barnabas, Jupiter ; and Paul, Mercurius, because he was the chief speaker.

13 <sup>i</sup> Then the priest of Jupiter, which was before their city, brought oxen and garlands unto the gates, and would have done sacrifice with the people.

14 <sup>k</sup> Which when the apostles, Barnabas and Paul, heard of, they rent their clothes, and ran in among the people, crying out,

15 <sup>l</sup> And saying, Sirs, why do ye these things ? We also are men of like passions with you, and preach unto you, that ye should turn from these vanities, unto the living God, which made heaven and earth, and the sea, and all things that are therein :

16 <sup>m</sup> Who in times past suffered all nations to walk in their own ways.

17 <sup>n</sup> Nevertheless, he left not himself without witness, in that he did good, and gave us rain from heaven, and fruitful seasons, filling our hearts with food and gladness.

18 And with these sayings scarce restrained they the people, that they had not done sacrifice unto them.

19 <sup>o</sup> And there came thither certain Jews from Antioch and Iconium, who persuaded the people, and having stoned Paul, drew him out of the city, supposing he had been dead.

20 <sup>p</sup> Howbeit, as the disciples stood round about him, he rose up, and came into the city : and the next day he departed with Barnabas to Derbe.

21 And when they had preached the gospel to that city, and had taught many, they returned again to Lystra, and to Iconium, and to Antioch,

22 <sup>q</sup> Confirming the souls of the disciples, and exhorting them to continue in the faith, and that we must through much tribulation enter into the kingdom of God.

23 <sup>r</sup> And when they † had ordained them elders in every church, and had prayed with fasting, they commended them to the Lord, on whom they believed.

24 And after they had passed throughout Pisidia, they came to Pamphylia.

25 And when they had preached the word in Perga, they went down into Attalia :

26 <sup>s</sup> And thence sailed to Antioch, from whence they had been recommended to the grace of God for the work which they fulfilled.

27 <sup>t</sup> And when they were come, and had gathered the church together they rehearsed all that God had done with them, and how he had opened the door of faith unto the Gentiles.

28 And there they abode long time with the disciples

CHAPTER XV.

1 Dissension about circumcision : 6 the apostles consult about it : 22 their determination....36 Paul and Barnabas contend and part.

<sup>a</sup> AND certain men which came down from Judea, taught the brethren, and said, Except ye be circumcised after the manner of Moses, ye cannot be saved.

2 <sup>b</sup> When therefore Paul and Barnabas had no small dissension and disputation with them, they determined that Paul and Barnabas, and certain other of them, should go up to Jerusalem, unto the apostles and elders, about this question.

3 And being brought on their way by the church, they passed through Phenice and Samaria, declaring the conversion of the Gentiles : and they caused great joy unto all the brethren.

4 <sup>c</sup> And when they were come to Jerusalem, they were received of the church, and of the apostles and elders ; and they declared all things that God had done with them.

5 <sup>d</sup> But there rose up certain of the sect of the Pharisees which believed, saying, That it was needful to circumcise them, and to command them to keep the law of Moses.

6 And the apostles and elders came together for to consider of this matter.

7 <sup>e</sup> And when there had been much disputing, Peter rose up, and said unto them, Men and brethren, ye know how that a good while ago God made choice among us, that the Gentiles by my mouth should hear the word of the gospel, and believe.

8 <sup>f</sup> And God, which knoweth the hearts, bare them witness, giving them the Holy Ghost, even as he did unto us ;

9 <sup>g</sup> And put no difference between us and them, purifying their hearts by faith.

10 <sup>h</sup> Now therefore why tempt ye God, to put a yoke upon the neck of the disciples, which neither our fathers nor we were able to bear ?

11 <sup>i</sup> But we believe that through the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ we shall be saved, even as they.

12 <sup>j</sup> Then all the multitude kept silence, and gave audience to Barnabas and Paul, declaring what miracles and wonders God had wrought among the Gentiles by them.

13 <sup>k</sup> And after they had held their peace, James answered, saying, Men and brethren hearken unto me :

14 <sup>l</sup> Simeon hath declared how God at the first did visit the Gentiles, to take out of them a people for his name.

15 And to this agree the words of the prophets ; as it is written,

16 <sup>m</sup> After this I will return, and will build again the tabernacle of David, which is fallen down ; and I will build again the ruins thereof, and I will set it up :

17 That the residue of men might seek after the Lord, and all the Gentiles, upon whom my name is called, saith the Lord, who doeth all these things.

18 Known unto God are all his works, from the beginning of the world.

19 Wherefore my sentence is, that we trouble not them, which from among the Gentiles are turned to God :

from pollutions of idols, and from fornication, and from things strangled, and from blood.

21 <sup>p</sup> For Moses of old time hath in every city them that preach him, being read in the synagogues every sabbath-day.

22 <sup>q</sup> Then pleased it the apostles and elders, with the whole church, to send chosen men of their own company to Antioch, with Paul and Barnabas; namely, Judas surnamed Barsabas, and Silas, chief men among the brethren:

23 And they wrote letters by them after this manner, The apostles and elders, and brethren, send greeting unto the brethren which are of the Gentiles in Antioch, and Syria, and Cilicia:

24 <sup>r</sup> Forasmuch as we have heard that certain which went out from us have troubled you with words, subverting your souls, saying, Ye must be circumcised, and keep the law; to whom we gave no such commandment:

25 It seemed good unto us, being assembled with one accord, to send chosen men unto you, with our beloved Barnabas and Paul;

26 <sup>s</sup> Men that have hazarded their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.

27 We have sent therefore Judas and Silas, who shall also tell you the same things by mouth.

28 For it seemed good to the Holy Ghost, and to us, to lay upon you no greater burden than these necessary things;

29 <sup>t</sup> That ye abstain from meats offered to idols, and from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication: from which if ye keep yourselves, ye shall do well. Fare ye well.

30 <sup>u</sup> So when they were dismissed, they came to Antioch: and when they had gathered the multitude together, they delivered the epistle:

31 Which when they had read, they rejoiced for the consolation.

32 <sup>v</sup> And Judas and Silas, being prophets also themselves, exhorted the brethren with many words, and confirmed them.

33 And after they had tarried there a space, they were let go in peace from the brethren unto the apostles.

34 Notwithstanding, it pleased Silas to abide there still.

35 <sup>w</sup> Paul also and Barnabas continued in Antioch, teaching and preaching the word of the Lord, with many others also.

36 <sup>x</sup> And some days after, Paul said unto Barnabas, Let us go again and visit our brethren, in every city where we have preached the word of the Lord, and see how they do.

37 <sup>y</sup> And Barnabas determined to take with them John, whose surname was Mark.

38 <sup>z</sup> But Paul thought not good to take him with them, who departed from them from Pamphylia, and went not with them to the work.

39 <sup>a</sup> And the contention was so sharp between them, that they departed asunder one from the other: and so Barnabas took Mark, and sailed unto Cyprus.

40 And Paul chose Silas, and departed, being recommended by the brethren unto the grace of God.

41 <sup>b</sup> And he went through Syria and Cilicia, confirming the churches.

CHAPTER XVI.

1 Paul circumciseth Timothy.... 14 Lydia converted.

THEN came he to Derbe and Lystra: and behold, a certain disciple was there, named Timo-theus, the son of a certain woman, which was a Jewess, and believed; but his father was a Greek:

2 <sup>b</sup> Which was well reported of by the brethren that were at Lystra and Iconium.

3 <sup>c</sup> Him would Paul have to go forth with him; and took and circumcised him, because of the Jews which were in those quarters: for they knew all that his father was a Greek.

4 <sup>d</sup> And as they went through the cities, they delivered them the decrees for to keep, that were ordained of the apostles and elders which were at Jerusalem.

5 And so were the churches established in the faith, and increased in number daily.

6 Now when they had gone throughout Phrygia and the region of Galatia, and were forbidden of the Holy Ghost to preach the word in Asia;

7 After they were come to Mysia, they assayed to go into Bithynia: but the Spirit suffered them not.

8 <sup>e</sup> And they passing by Mysia, came down to Troas.

9 <sup>f</sup> And a vision appeared to Paul in the night: There stood a man of Macedonia, and prayed him, saying, Come over into Macedonia, and help us.

10 <sup>g</sup> And after he had seen the vision, immediately we endeavoured to go into Macedonia, assuredly gathering that the Lord had called us for to preach the gospel unto them

11 Therefore loosing from Troas, we came with a straight course to Samothracia, and the next day to Neapolis;

12 And from thence to Philippi, which is the chief city of that part of Macedonia, and a colony. And we were in that city abiding certain days.

13 <sup>h</sup> And on the sabbath we went out of the city by a river side, where prayer was wont to be made: and we sat down, and spake unto the women which resorted thither.

14 <sup>i</sup> And a certain woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the city of Thyatira, which worshipped God, heard us: whose heart the Lord opened, that she attended unto the things which were spoken of Paul.

15 <sup>j</sup> And when she was baptized, and her household, she besought us, saying, If ye have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come into my house, and abide there. And she constrained us.

16 <sup>k</sup> And it came to pass, as we went to prayer, a certain damsel possessed with a spirit of divination met us, which brought her masters much gain by soothsaying:

17 The same followed Paul and us, and cried, saying, These men are the servants of the most high God, which shew unto us the way of salvation.

18 <sup>l</sup> And this did she many days. But Paul, being grieved, turned and said to the spirit, I command thee in the name of Jesus Christ, to come out of her. And he came out the same hour

19 <sup>m</sup> And when her masters saw that the hope of their gains was gone, they caught Paul and Silas, and drew them into the market-place, unto the rulers,

20 <sup>n</sup> And brought them to the magistrates, saying, These men, being Jews, do exceedingly trouble our city,

21 And teach customs which are not lawful for us to receive, neither to observe, being Romans.

22 <sup>o</sup> And the multitude rose up together against them: and the magistrates rent off their clothes, and commanded to beat them.

23 <sup>p</sup> And when they had laid many stripes upon

CHAPTER XIX.

6 The Holy Ghost given by the laying on of Paul's hands.

17 Many believe the gospel.

AND it came to pass, that while Apollos was at Corinth, Paul having passed through the upper coasts, came to Ephesus ; and finding certain disciples,

4 <sup>c</sup> Then said Paul, John verily baptized with the baptism of repentance, saying unto the people, that they should believe on him which should come after him, that is, on Christ Jesus.

7 And all the men were about twelve.

8 <sup>a</sup> And he went into the synagogue, and spake boldly for the space of three months, disputing, and persuading the things concerning the kingdom of God.9 <sup>f</sup> But when divers were hardened, and believed not, but spake evil of that way before the multitude, he departed from them, and separated the disciples, disputing daily in the school of one Tyrannus.10 <sup>e</sup> And this continued by the space of two years; so that all they which dwelt in Asia heard the word of the Lord Jesus, both Jews and Greeks.11 <sup>b</sup> And God wrought special miracles by the hands of Paul:12 <sup>i</sup> So that from his body were brought unto the sick handkerchiefs or aprons, and the diseases departed from them, and the evil spirits went out of them.13 <sup>k</sup> Then certain of the vagabond Jews, exorcists, took upon them to call over them which had evil spirits, the name of the Lord Jesus, saying, We adjure you by Jesus, whom Paul preacheth.14 And there were seven sons of one Sceva, a Jew, and chief of the priests, which did so.

15 And the evil spirit answered and said, Jesus I know, and Paul I know; but who are ye?

16 And the man in whom the evil spirit was, leaped on them, and overcame them, and prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded.

17 And this was known to all the Jews and Greeks also dwelling at Ephesus; and fear fell on them all, and the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified.

18 <sup>l</sup> And many that believed, came, and confessed, and shewed their deeds.19 Many also of them which used curious arts, brought their books together, and burned them before all men: and they counted the price of them, and found it fifty thousand pieces of silver.20 <sup>m</sup> So mightily grew the word of God, and prevailed.21 <sup>n</sup> After these things were ended, Paul purposed in the spirit, when he had passed through Macedonia and Achaia, to go to Jerusalem, saying, After I have been there, I must also see Rome.22 <sup>o</sup> So he sent into Macedonia two of them that ministered unto him, Timotheus and Erastus; but he himself stayed in Asia for a season.23 <sup>p</sup> And the same time there arose no small stir about that way.24 <sup>q</sup> For a certain man named Demetrius, a silversmith, which made silver shrines for Diana, brought no small gain unto the craftsmen;

25 Whom he called together with the workmen of like occupation, and said, Sirs, ye know that by this craft we have our wealth.

26 <sup>r</sup> Moreover, ye see and hear, that not alone at Ephesus, but almost throughout all Asia, this Paul hath persuaded and turned away much people, saying, that they be no gods, which are made with hands:

27 So that not only this our craft is in danger to be set at nought; but also that the temple of the great goddess Diana should be despised, and her magnificence should be destroyed, whom all Asia and the world worshippeth.

28 And when they heard these sayings, they were full of wrath, and cried out, saying, Great is Diana of the Ephesians!29 <sup>s</sup> And the whole city was filled with confusion: and having caught Gaius and Aristarchus, men of Macedonia, Paul's companions in travel, they rushed with one accord into the theatre.

30 And when Paul would have entered in unto the people, the disciples suffered him not.

31 And certain of the chief of Asia, which were his friends, sent unto him, desiring him that he would not adventure himself into the theatre.

32 Some therefore cried one thing, and some another; for the assembly was confused: and the more part knew not wherefore they were come together.

33 <sup>t</sup> And they drew Alexander out of the multitude, the Jews putting him forward. And Alexander beckoned with the hand, and would have made his defence unto the people.34 But when they knew that he was a Jew, all with one voice, about the space of two hours, cried out, Great is Diana of the Ephesians!35 And when the town-clerk had appeased the people, he said, Ye men of Ephesus, what man is there that knoweth not how that the city of the Ephesians is a worshipper of the great goddess Diana, and of the image which fell down from Jupiter?

36 Seeing then that these things cannot be spoken against, ye ought to be quiet, and to do nothing rashly.

37 For ye have brought hither these men, which are neither robbers of churches, nor yet blasphemers of your goddess.

38 Wherefore if Demetrius, and the craftsmen which are with him, have a matter against any man, the law is open, and there are deputies: let them implead one another.

39 But if ye inquire any thing concerning other matters, it shall be determined in a lawful assembly.

40 For we are in danger to be called in question for this day's uproar, there being no cause whereby we may give an account of this concourse.

41 And when he had thus spoken, he dismissed the assembly.

CHAPTER XX.

1 Paul goeth to Macedonia; 7 he celebrateth the Lord's supper, and preacheth....9 Eutychus, falling down dead, 10 is raised to life.

<sup>a</sup> AND after the uproar was ceased, Paul called unto him the disciples, and embraced them, and departed, for to go into Macedonia.

2 And when he had gone over those parts, and had given them much exhortation, he came into Greece,

3 <sup>b</sup> And there abode three months. And when the Jews laid wait for him, as he was about to sail into Syria, he purposed to return through Macedonia.4 <sup>c</sup> And there accompanied him into Asia, Sopater of Berea; and of the Thessalonians, Aristarchus and Secundus; and Gaius of Derbe, and Timotheus; and of Asia, Tychicus, and Trophimus.

5 These going before, tarried for us at Troas.

6 And we sailed away from Philippi after the days of unleavened bread, and came unto them to Troas in five days; where we abode seven days.

7 <sup>d</sup> And upon the first day of the week, when the disciples came together to break bread, Paul preached unto them, ready to depart on the morrow; and continued his speech until midnight.

8 And there were many lights in the upper chamber, where they were gathered together.

9 And there sat in a window a certain young man named Eutychus, being fallen into a deep sleep: and as Paul was long preaching, he sunk down with sleep and fell down from the third loft, and was taken up dead.

10 <sup>e</sup> And Paul went down, and fell on him, and embracing him, said, Trouble not yourselves; for his life is in him.

11 When he therefore was come up again, and had broken bread, and eaten, and talked a long while, even till break of day, so he departed.

12 And they brought the young man alive, and were not a little comforted.

13 <sup>f</sup> And we went before to ship, and sailed unto Assos, there intending to take in Paul: for so had he appointed, minding himself to go afoot.

14 And when he met with us at Assos, we took him in, and came to Mitylene.

15 And we sailed thence, and came the next day over against Chios; and the next day we arrived at Samos, and tarried at Trogyllium; and the next day we came to Miletus.

16 <sup>g</sup> For Paul had determined to sail by Ephesus, because he would not spend the time in Asia; for he hastened, if it were possible for him, to be at Jerusalem the day of Pentecost.

17 <sup>h</sup> And from Miletus he sent to Ephesus, and called the elders of the church.

18 <sup>i</sup> And when they were come to him, he said unto them, Ye know, from the first day that I came into Asia, after what manner I have been with you at all seasons,

19 Serving the Lord with all humility of mind, and with many tears, and temptations, which befell me by the laying in wait of the Jews:

20 And how I kept back nothing that was profitable unto you, but have shewed you, and have taught you publicly, and from house to house,

21 <sup>k</sup> Testifying both to the Jews, and also to the Greeks, repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ.

22 <sup>l</sup> And now, behold, I go bound in the spirit unto Jerusalem, not knowing the things that shall befall me there:

23 <sup>m</sup> Save that the Holy Ghost witnesseth in every city, saying that bonds and afflictions abide me.

24 <sup>n</sup> But none of these things move me, neither count I my life dear unto myself, so that I might finish my course with joy: and the ministry, which I have received of the Lord Jesus, to testify the gospel of the grace of God.

25 And now, behold, I know that ye all, among whom I have gone preaching the kingdom of God, shall see my face no more.

26 <sup>o</sup> Wherefore I take you to record this day, that I am pure from the blood of all men;

27 <sup>p</sup> For I have not shunned to declare unto you all the counsel of God.

28 <sup>q</sup> Take heed therefore unto yourselves, and to all the flock, over the which the Holy Ghost hath made you overseers, to feed the church of God, which he hath purchased with his own blood.

29 <sup>r</sup> For I know this, that after my departing, shall grievous wolves enter in among you, not sparing the flock.

30 <sup>s</sup> Also of your own selves shall men arise, speaking perverse things, to draw away disciples after them.

31 <sup>t</sup> Therefore watch, and remember, that by the space of three years I ceased not to warn every one night and day with tears.

32 <sup>u</sup> And now, brethren, I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified.

33 <sup>v</sup> I have coveted no man's silver, or gold, or apparel.

34 <sup>w</sup> Yea, ye yourselves know that these hands have ministered unto my necessities, and to them that were with me.

35 <sup>x</sup> I have shewed you all things, how that so labouring ye ought to support the weak: and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he said, It is more blessed to give than to receive.

36 <sup>y</sup> And when he had thus spoken, he kneeled down, and prayed with them all.

37 <sup>z</sup> And they all wept sore, and fell on Paul's neck, and kissed him;

38 Sorrowing most of all for the words which he spake, that they should see his face no more. And they accompanied him unto the ship.

CHAPTER XXI.

1 Paul, journeying to Jerusalem, cometh to Philip's house, whose daughters prophesied....17 Paul, at Jerusalem, 27 is apprehended, 31 but rescued by the chief captain.

<sup>a</sup> AND it came to pass, that after we were † gotten from them, and had launched, we came with a straight course unto Coos, and the day following unto Rhodes, and from thence unto Patara:

2 And finding a ship sailing over unto Phenicia, we went aboard, and set forth.

3 Now when we had discovered Cyprus, we left it on the left hand, and sailed into Syria, and landed at Tyre: for there the ship was to unlade her burden.

4 <sup>b</sup> And finding disciples, we tarried there seven days: who said to Paul through the Spirit, that he should not go up to Jerusalem.

5 <sup>c</sup> And when we had accomplished those days, we departed and went our way: and they all brought us on our way, with wives and children, till we were out of the city: and we kneeled down on the shore, and prayed.

6 And when we had taken our leave one of another, we took ship; and they returned home again.

7 And when we had finished our course from Tyre, we came to Ptolemais, and saluted the brethren, and abode with them one day.

8 <sup>d</sup> And the next day, we that were of Paul's company departed, and came unto Cesarea: and we entered into the house of Philip the evangelist, which was one of the seven; and abode with him.

9 <sup>e</sup> And the same man had four daughters, virgins, which did prophesy.

10 <sup>f</sup> And as we tarried there many days, there came down from Judea a certain prophet, named Agabus.

11 <sup>g</sup> And when he was come unto us, he took Paul's girdle, and bound his own hands and feet, and said, Thus saith the Holy Ghost, So shall the Jews at Jerusalem bind the man that owneth this girdle, and shall deliver him into the hands of the Gentiles.

12 <sup>h</sup> And when we heard these things, both we, and they of that place, besought him not to go up to Jerusalem.

13 <sup>i</sup> Then Paul answered, What mean ye to weep and to break my heart? for I am ready not to be bound only, but also to die at Jerusalem for the name of the Lord Jesus.

14 <sup>k</sup> And when he would not be persuaded, we ceased, saying, The will of the Lord be done

15 And after those days we took up our carriages, and went up to Jerusalem.

16 There went with us also certain of the disciples of Cesarea, and brought with them one Mnason of Cyprus, an old disciple, with whom we should lodge.

17 And when we were come to Jerusalem, the brethren received us gladly.

18 And the day following Paul went in with us unto James ; and all the elders were present.

19 And when he had saluted them, he declared particularly what things God had wrought among the Gentiles by his ministry.

20 And when they heard it, they glorified the Lord, and said unto him, Thou seest, brother, how many thousands of Jews there are which believe ; and they are all zealous of the law :

21 And they are informed of thee, that thou teachest all the Jews which are among the Gentiles to forsake Moses, saying, That they ought not to circumcise their children, neither to walk after the customs.

22 What is it therefore ? the multitude must needs come together : for they will hear that thou art come.

23 Do therefore this that we say to thee : We have four men which have a vow on them ;

24 Them take, and purify thyself with them, and be at charges with them, that they may shave their heads : and all may know, that those things whereof they were informed concerning thee, are nothing, but that thou thyself also walkest orderly, and keepest the law.

25 As touching the Gentiles which believe, we have written, and concluded that they observe no such thing, save only that they keep themselves from things offered to idols, and from blood, and from strangled, and from fornication.

26 Then Paul took the men ; and the next day purifying himself with them, entered into the temple, to signify the accomplishment of the days of purification, until that an offering should be offered for every one of them.

27 And when the seven days were almost ended, the Jews which were of Asia, when they saw him in the temple, stirred up all the people, and laid hands on him,

28 Crying out, Men of Israel, help : this is the man that teacheth all men every where against the people, and the law, and this place ; and further, brought Greeks also into the temple, and hath polluted this holy place.

29 (For they had seen before with him in the city, Trophimus, an Ephesian, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple.)

30 And all the city was moved, and the people ran together : and they took Paul, and drew him out of the temple : and forthwith the doors were shut.

31 And as they went about to kill him, tidings came unto the chief captain of the band, that all Jerusalem was in an uproar :

32 Who immediately took soldiers and centurions, and ran down unto them : and when they saw the chief captain and the soldiers, they left beating of Paul.

33 Then the chief captain came near, and took him, and commanded him to be bound with two chains ; and demanded who he was, and what he had done.

34 And some cried one thing, some another, among the multitude : and when he could not know the certainty for the tumult, he commanded him to be carried into the castle.

35 And when he came upon the stairs, so it was, that he was borne of the soldiers, for the violence of the people.

36 For the multitude of the people followed after, crying, Away with him !

37 And as Paul was to be led into the castle, he said unto the chief captain, May I speak unto thee ? who said, Canst thou speak Greek ?

38 Art not thou that Egyptian, which before these days madest an uproar, and leddest out into the wilderness four thousand men that were murderers ?

39 But Paul said, I am a man which am a Jew of Tarsus, a city in Cilicia, a citizen of no mean city : and I beseech thee, suffer me to speak unto the people.

40 And when he had given him license, Paul stood on the stairs, and beckoned with the hand unto the people : and when there was made a great silence, he spake unto them in the Hebrew tongue, saying,

CHAPTER XXII.

1 Paul declareth how he was converted ; 25 he escapeth scourging, being a Roman citizen.

MEN, brethren, and fathers, hear ye my defence which I make now unto you.

2 (And when they heard that he spake in the Hebrew tongue to them, they kept the more silence : and he saith,)

3 I am verily a man which am a Jew, born in Tarsus, a city in Cilicia, yet brought up in this city, at the feet of Gamaliel, and taught according to the perfect manner of the law of the fathers, and was zealous toward God, as ye all are this day.

4 And I persecuted this way unto the death, binding and delivering into prisons both men and women.

5 As also the high priest doth bear me witness, and all the estate of the elders : from whom also I received letters unto the brethren, and went to Damascus, to bring them which were there, bound unto Jerusalem, for to be punished.

6 And it came to pass, that as I made my journey, and was come nigh unto Damascus about noon, suddenly there shone from heaven a great light round about me.

7 And I fell unto the ground, and heard a voice saying unto me, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me ?

8 And I answered, Who art thou, Lord ? And he said unto me, I am Jesus of Nazareth, whom thou persecutest.

9 And they that were with me saw indeed the light, and were afraid ; but they heard not the voice of him that spake to me.

10 And I said, What shall I do, Lord ? And the Lord said unto me, Arise, and go into Damascus ; and there it shall be told thee of all things which are appointed for thee to do.

11 And when I could not see for the glory of that light, being led by the hand of them that were with me, I came into Damascus.

12 And one Ananias, a devout man according to the law, having a good report of all the Jews which dwelt there, 13 Came unto me, and stood, and said unto me, Brother Saul, receive thy sight. And the same hour I looked up upon him.

14 And he said, The God of our fathers hath chosen thee, that thou shouldst know his will, and see that Just One, and shouldest hear the voice of his mouth.

15 For thou shalt be his witness unto all men, of what thou hast seen and heard.

16 <sup>1</sup> And now, why tarriest thou? arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sins, calling on the name of the Lord.

17 <sup>m</sup> And it came to pass, that when I was come again to Jerusalem, even while I prayed in the temple, I was in a trance;

18 And saw him saying unto me, Make haste, and get thee quickly out of Jerusalem: for they will not receive thy testimony concerning me.

19 <sup>n</sup> And I said, Lord, they know that I imprisoned and beat in every synagogue them that believed on thee:

20 <sup>o</sup> And when the blood of thy martyr Stephen was shed, I also was standing by, and consenting unto his death, and kept the raiment of them that slew him.

21 <sup>p</sup> And he said unto me, Depart: for I will send thee far hence, unto the Gentiles.

22 <sup>q</sup> And they gave him audience unto this word, and then lifted up their voices, and said, Away with such a fellow from the earth; for it is not fit that he should live.

23 And as they cried out, and cast off their clothes, and threw dust into the air, 24 <sup>r</sup> The chief captain commanded him to be brought into the castle, and bade that he should be examined by scourging; that he might know wherefore they cried so against him.

25 <sup>s</sup> And as they bound him with thongs, Paul said unto the centurion that stood by, Is it lawful for you to scourge a man that is a Roman, and uncondemned?

26 When the centurion heard that, he went and told the chief captain, saying, Take heed what thou doest: for this man is a Roman.

27 Then the chief captain came, and said unto him, Tell me, art thou a Roman? He said, Yea.

28 And the chief captain answered, With a great sum obtained I this freedom. And Paul said, But I was free born.

29 Then straightway they departed from him which should have examined him: and the chief captain also was afraid, after he knew that he was a Roman, and because he had bound him.

30 On the morrow, because he would have known the certainty wherefore he was accused of the Jews, he loosed him from his bands, and commanded the chief priests and all their council to appear, and brought Paul down, and set him before them.

CHAPTER XXIII.

1 Paul pleadeth his cause; 7 dissension among his accusers; 10 he is again imprisoned; 23 he is sent to Felix the governor.

<sup>a</sup> AND Paul, earnestly beholding the council, said, Men and brethren, I have lived in all good conscience before God until this day.

2 <sup>b</sup> And the high priest Ananias commanded them that stood by him to smite him on the mouth.

3 <sup>c</sup> Then said Paul unto him, God shall smite thee, thou whited wall: for sittest thou to judge me after the law, and commandest me to be smitten contrary to the law?

4 And they that stood by, said, Revilest thou God's high priest?

5 <sup>d</sup> Then said Paul, I wist not, brethren, that he was the high priest: for it is written, Thou shalt not speak evil of the ruler of thy people.

6 <sup>e</sup> But when Paul perceived that the one part were Sadducees, and the other Pharisees, he cried out in the council, Men and brethren, I am a Pharisee, the son of a Pharisee: of the hope and resurrection of the dead I am called in question.

7 And when he had so said, there arose a dissension between the Pharisees and the Sadducees: and the multitude was divided.

8 <sup>f</sup> For the Sadducees say that there is no resurrection, neither angel nor spirit: but the Pharisees confess both.

9 <sup>g</sup> And there arose a great cry: and the scribes that were of the Pharisees' part arose, and strove, saying, We find no evil in this man: but if a spirit or an angel hath spoken to him, let us not fight against God.

10 And when there arose a great dissension, the chief captain, fearing lest Paul should have been pulled in pieces of them, commanded the soldiers to go down, and to take him by force from among them, and to bring him into the castle.

11 <sup>h</sup> And the night following, the Lord stood by him, and said, Be of good cheer, Paul: for as thou hast testified of me in Jerusalem, so must thou bear witness also at Rome.

12 <sup>i</sup> And when it was day, certain of the Jews banded together, and bound themselves under a curse, saying, that they would neither eat nor drink till they had killed Paul.

13 And they were more than forty which had made this conspiracy.

14 And they came to the chief priests and elders, and said, We have bound ourselves under a great curse, that we will eat nothing until we have slain Paul.

15 <sup>k</sup> Now therefore ye, with the council, signify to the chief captain that he bring him down unto you to-morrow, as though ye would inquire something more perfectly concerning him: and we, or ever he come near, are ready to kill him.

16 And when Paul's sister's son heard of their lying in wait, he went and entered into the castle, and told Paul.

17 Then Paul called one of the centurions unto him, and said, Bring this young man unto the chief captain; for he hath a certain thing to tell him.

18 So he took him, and brought him to the chief captain, and said, Paul the prisoner called me unto him, and prayed me to bring this young man unto thee, who hath something to say unto thee.

19 Then the chief captain took him by the hand, and went with him aside privately, and asked him, What is that thou hast to tell me?

20 <sup>l</sup> And he said, The Jews have agreed to desire thee that thou wouldest bring down Paul to-morrow into the council, as though they would inquire somewhat of him more perfectly.

21 But do not thou yield unto them: for there lie in wait for him of them more than forty men, which have bound themselves with an oath, that they will neither eat nor drink till they have killed him: and now are they ready, looking for a promise from thee.

22 So the chief captain then let the young man depart, and charged him, See thou tell no man that thou hast shewed these things to me.

23 And he called unto him two centurions, saying, Make ready two hundred soldiers to go to Cesarea, and horsemen threescore and ten, and spearmen two hundred, at the third hour of the night;

24 And provide them beasts, that they may set Paul on, and bring him safe unto Felix the governor.

25 And he wrote a letter after this manner:

26 Claudius Lysias unto the most excellent governor Felix sendeth greeting.

29<sup>o</sup> Whom I perceived to be accused of questions of their law, but to have nothing laid to his charge worthy of death or of bonds.

30<sup>v</sup> And when it was told me, how that the Jews laid wait for the man, I sent straightway to thee, and gave commandment to his accusers also, to say before thee what they had against him. Farewell.

31 ¶ Then the soldiers, as it was commanded them, took Paul, and brought him by night to Antipatris.

32 On the morrow they left the horsemen to go with him, and returned to the castle:

33 Who, when they came to Cesarea, and delivered the epistle to the governor, presented Paul also before him.

34 And when the governor had read the letter, he asked of what province he was. And when he understood that he was of Cilicia;

35<sup>a</sup> I will hear thee, said he, when thine accusers are also come. And he commanded him to be kept in Herod's judgment-hall.

CHAPTER XXIV.

1 Tertullus accuseth Paul; 10 he answereth for himself; 24 preacheth Christ to the governor and his wife; 27 is left in prison.

AND after five days, Ananias the high priest descended with the elders, and with a certain orator named Tertullus, who informed the governor against Paul.

2 And when he was called forth, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying, Seeing that by thee we enjoy great quietness, and that very worthy deeds are done unto this nation by thy providence,

3 We accept it always, and in all places, most noble Felix, with all thankfulness.

4 Notwithstanding, that I be not further tedious unto thee, I pray thee that thou wouldest hear us of thy clemency a few words.

5<sup>b</sup> For we have found this man a † pestilent fel- low, and a mover of sedition among all the Jews throughout the world, and a ringleader of the sect of the Nazarenes:

6 Who also hath gone about to profane the temple: whom we took, and would have judged according to our law.

7 But the chief captain Lysias came upon us, and with great violence took him away out of our hands,

8<sup>c</sup> Commanding his accusers to come unto thee: by examining of whom, thyself mayest take knowledge of all these things whereof we accuse him.

9 And the Jews also assented, saying that these things were so.

10 ¶ Then Paul, after that the governor had beckoned unto him to speak, answered, Forasmuch as I know that thou hast been of many years a judge unto this nation, I do the more cheerfully answer for myself: 11<sup>d</sup> Because that thou mayest understand, that there are yet but twelve days since I went up to Jerusalem for to worship.

12<sup>e</sup> And they neither found me in the temple disputing with any man, neither raising up the people, neither in the synagogues, nor in the city:

13 Neither can they prove the things whereof they now accuse me.

14<sup>f</sup> But this I confess unto thee, that after the way which they call heresy, so worship I the God of my fathers, believing all things which are written in the law and the prophets;

15<sup>g</sup> And have hope toward God, which they themselves also allow, that there shall be a resurrection of the dead, both of the just and unjust.

16<sup>h</sup> And herein do I exercise myself, to have always a conscience void of offence toward God and toward men.

17<sup>i</sup> Now after many years, I came to bring alms to my nation, and offerings.

18<sup>k</sup> Whereupon certain Jews from Asia found me purified in the temple, neither with multitude, nor with tumult:

19<sup>l</sup> Who ought to have been here before thee, and object, if they had aught against me.

20 Or else let these same here say, if they have found any evil-doing in me, while I stood before the council;

21<sup>m</sup> Except it be for this one voice, that I cried standing among them, Touching the resurrection of the dead, I am called in question by you this day.

22 ¶ And when Felix heard these things, having more perfect knowledge of that way, he deferred them, and said, When Lysias the chief captain shall come down, I will know the uttermost of your matter.

23<sup>n</sup> And he commanded a centurion to keep Paul, and to let him have liberty, and that he should forbid none of his acquaintance to minister or come unto him.

24 ¶ And after certain days, when Felix came with his wife Drusilla, which was a Jewess, he sent for Paul, and heard him concerning the faith in Christ.

25 And as he reasoned of righteousness, temperance, and judgment to come, Felix trembled, and answered, Go thy way for this time; when I have a convenient season, I will call for thee.

26 He hoped also that money should have been given him of Paul, that he might loose him: wherefore he sent for him the oftener, and communed with him.

27<sup>o</sup> But after two years, Porcius Festus came into Felix' room: and Felix, willing to shew the Jews a pleasure, left Paul bound.

CHAPTER XXV.

2 The Jews accuse Paul before Festus; 8 he answereth for himself, and appealeth unto Cesar, &c.

NOW when Festus was come into the province, after three days he ascended from Cesarea to Jerusalem.

2<sup>a</sup> Then the high priest and the chief of the Jews informed him against Paul, and besought him,

3<sup>b</sup> And desired favour against him, that he would send for him to Jerusalem, laying wait in the way to kill him.

4 But Festus answered, that Paul should be kept at Cesarea, and that he himself would depart shortly thither.

5 Let them therefore, said he, which among you are able, go down with me, and accuse this man, if there be any wickedness in him.

6 And when he had tarried among them more than ten days, he went down unto Cesarea; and the next day sitting in the judgment-seat, commanded Paul to be brought.

7 And when he was come, the Jews which came down from Jerusalem stood round about, and laid many and grievous complaints against Paul, which they could not prove ;

8 ° While he answered for himself, Neither against the law of the Jews, neither against the temple, nor yet against Cesar, have I offended any thing at all.

9 But Festus, willing to do the Jews a pleasure, answered Paul, and said, Wilt thou go up to Jerusalem, and there be judged of these things before me?

10 Then said Paul, I stand at Cesar's judgment-seat, where I ought to be judged : to the Jews have I done no wrong, as thou very well knowest.

11 ° For if I be an offender, or have committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to die ; but if there be none of these things whereof these accuse me, no man may deliver me unto them. I appeal unto Cesar.

12 ¶ Then Festus, when he had conferred with the council, answered, Hast thou appealed unto Cesar ? unto Cesar shalt thou go.

13 And after certain days, king Agrippa, and Bernice came unto Cesarea, to salute Festus.

14 ° And when they had been there many days, Festus declared Paul's cause unto the king, saying, There is a certain man left in bonds by Felix :

15 ° About whom, when I was at Jerusalem, the chief priests and the elders of the Jews informed me, desiring to have judgment against him.

16 ° To whom I answered, It is not the manner of the Romans to deliver any man to die, before that he which is accused have the accusers face to face, and have license to answer for himself concerning the crime laid against him.

17 Therefore when they were come hither, without any delay, on the morrow I sat on the judgment-seat, and commanded the man to be brought forth ;

18 Against whom, when the accusers stood up, they brought none accusation of such things as I supposed :

19 ° But had certain questions against him of their own superstition, and of one Jesus, which was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be alive.

20 And because I doubted of such manner of questions, I asked him whether he would go to Jerusalem, and there be judged of these matters.

21 But when Paul had appealed to be reserved unto the hearing of Augustus, I commanded him to be kept till I might send him to Cesar.

22 Then Agrippa said unto Festus, I would also hear the man myself. To-morrow, said he, thou shalt hear him.

23 ¶ And on the morrow, when Agrippa was come, and Bernice, with † great pomp, and was entered into the place of hearing, with the chief captains, and principal men of the city, at Festus' commandment Paul was brought forth.

24 ° And Festus said, King Agrippa, and all men which are here present with us, ye see this man, about whom all the multitude of the Jews have dealt with me, both at Jerusalem, and also here, crying that he ought not to live any longer.

25 ° But when I found that he had committed nothing worthy of death, and that he himself hath appealed to Augustus, I have determined to send him.

26 ° Of whom I have no certain thing to write unto † my lord. Wherefore I have brought him forth before you, and specially before thee, O king Agrippa, that, after examination had, I might have somewhat to write.

27 For it seemeth to me unreasonable, to send a prisoner, and not withal to signify the crimes laid against him.

CHAPTER XXVI.

1 Paul, before Agrippa, declareth his life, 12 and his wonderful conversion, &c.

THEN Agrippa said unto Paul, Thou art permitted to speak for thyself. Then Paul stretched forth the hand, and answered for himself :

2 I think myself happy, king Agrippa, because shall answer for myself this day before thee, touching all the things whereof I am accused of the Jews :

3 Especially, because I know thee to be † expert in all customs and questions which are among the Jews : wherefore I beseech thee to hear me patiently.

4 My manner of life from my youth, which was at the first among mine own nation at Jerusalem, know all the Jews ;

5 ° Which knew me from the beginning, if they would testify, that after the most straitest sect of our religion, I lived a Pharisee.

6 ° And now I stand and am judged for the hope of the promise made of God unto our fathers :

7 ° Unto which promise our twelve tribes, instantly serving God day and night, hope to come. For which hope's sake, king Agrippa, I am accused of the Jews.

8 Why should it be thought a thing incredible with you, that God should raise the dead ?

9 ° I verily thought with myself, that I ought to do many things contrary to the name of Jesus of Nazareth.

10 Which thing I also did in Jerusalem : and many of the saints did I shut up in prison, having received authority from the chief priests ; and when they were put to death, I gave my voice against them.

11 And I punished them oft in every synagogue, and compelled them to blaspheme ; and being exceedingly mad against them, I persecuted them even unto strange cities.

12 ° Whereupon as I went to Damascus, with authority and commission from the chief priests :

13 At mid-day, O king, I saw in the way a light from heaven, above the brightness of the sun, shining round about me and them which journeyed with me.

14 And when we were all fallen to the earth, I heard a voice speaking unto me, and saying in the Hebrew tongue, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me ? it is hard for thee to kick against the pricks.

15 And I said, Who art thou, Lord ? And he said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest.

16 ° But rise, and stand upon thy feet : for I have appeared unto thee for this purpose, to make thee a minister and a witness both of these things which thou hast seen, and of those things in the which I will appear unto thee ;

17 Delivering thee from the people, and from the Gentiles, unto whom now I send thee ;

18 ° To open their eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God ; that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and inheritance among them which are sanctified, by faith that is in me.

19 ° Whereupon, O king Agrippa, I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision.

20 ° But shewed first unto them of Damascus, and at Jerusalem, and throughout all the coasts of Judea, and then to the Gentiles, that they should repent and turn to God, and do works meet for repentance.

21 * For these causes the Jews caught me in the temple, and went about to kill me.

22 <sup>1</sup> Having therefore obtained help of God, I continue unto this day, witnessing both to small and great, saying none other things than those which the prophets and Moses did say should come :

23 <sup>m</sup> That Christ should suffer, and that he should be the first that should rise from the dead, and should shew light unto the people, and to the Gentiles.

24 <sup>l</sup> And as he thus spake for himself, Festus said with a loud voice, Paul, thou art beside thyself; much learning doth make thee mad.

25 But he said, I am not mad, most noble Festus, but speak forth the words of truth and soberness.

26 <sup>o</sup> For the king knoweth of these things, before whom also I speak freely: for I am persuaded that none of these things are hidden from him; for this thing was not done in a corner.

27 King Agrippa, believest thou the prophets? I know that thou believest.

28 Then Agrippa said unto Paul, Almost thou persuadest me to be a Christian.

29 <sup>p</sup> And Paul said, I would to God that not only thou, but also all that hear me this day, were both almost, and altogether such as I am, except these bonds.

30 <sup>q</sup> And when he had thus spoken, the king rose up, and the governor, and Bernice, and they that sat with them.

31 <sup>r</sup> And when they were gone aside, they talked between themselves, saying, This man doeth nothing worthy of death or of bonds

32 Then said Agrippa unto Festus, This man might have been set at liberty, if he had not appealed unto Cesar.

CHAPTER XXVII.

1 Paul, shipping towards Rome, foretelleth the danger of the voyage, but is not believed, &c.

<sup>a</sup> AND when it was determined that we should sail into Italy, they delivered Paul and certain other prisoners unto one named Julius, a centurion of Augustus' band.

2 <sup>b</sup> And entering into a ship of Adramyttium, we launched, meaning to sail by the coasts of Asia; one Aristarchus, a Macedonian of Thessalonica, being with us.

3 <sup>c</sup> And the next day we touched at Sidon. And Julius courteously entreated Paul, and gave him liberty to go unto his friends to refresh himself.

4 And when we had launched from thence, we sailed under Cyprus, because the winds were contrary.

5 And when we had sailed over the sea of Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came to Myra, a city of Lycia.

6 And there the centurion found a ship of Alexandria sailing into Italy; and he put us therein.

7 And when we had sailed slowly many days, and scarce were come over against Cnidus, the wind not suffering us, we sailed under Crete, over against Salmone;

8 And hardly passing it, came unto a place which is called, The Fair Havens; nigh whereunto was the city of Lasea.

9 <sup>l</sup> Now when much time was spent, and when sailing was now dangerous, because the fast was now already past, Paul admonished them;

10 And said unto them, Sirs, I perceive that this voyage will be with hurt and much damage, not only of the lading and ship, but also of our lives.

11 Nevertheless, the centurion believed the master and the owner of the ship, more than those things which were spoken by Paul.

12 And because the haven was not commodious to winter in, the more part advised to depart thence also, if by any means they might attain to Phenice, and there to winter; which is a haven of Crete, and lieth toward the south-west and north-west.

13 And when the south wind blew softly, supposing that they had obtained their purpose, loosing thence, they sailed close by Crete.

14 But not long after, there arose against it a tempestuous wind, called Euroclydon.

15 And when the ship was caught, and could not bear up into the wind, we let her drive.

16 And running under a certain island which is called Claudia, we had much work to come by the boat:

17 Which when they had taken up, they used helps, undergirding the ship; and fearing lest they should fall into the quicksands, strake sail, and so were driven.

18 And we being exceedingly tossed with a tempest, the next day they lightened the ship;

19 And the third day we cast out with our own hands the tackling of the ship.

20 And when neither sun nor stars in many days appeared, and no small tempest lay on us, all hope that we should be saved was then taken away.

21 <sup>l</sup> But after long abstinence, Paul stood forth in the midst of them, and said, Sirs, ye should have hearkened unto me, and not have loosed from Crete, and to have gained this harm and loss.

22 And now I exhort you to be of good cheer: for there shall be no loss of any man's life among you, but of the ship.

23 <sup>d</sup> For there stood by me this night the angel of God, whose I am, and whom I serve, 24 <sup>e</sup> Saying, Fear not, Paul; thou must be brought before Cesar: and, lo, God hath given thee all them that sail with thee.

25 <sup>f</sup> Wherefore, sirs, be of good cheer; for I believe God, that it shall be even as it was told me.

26 <sup>g</sup> Howbeit, we must be cast upon a certain island.

27 But when the fourteenth night was come, as we were driven up and down in Adria, about midnight the shipmen deemed that they drew near to some country:

28 And sounded, and found it twenty fathoms: and when they had gone a little further, they sounded again, and found it fifteen fathoms.

29 Then fearing lest we should have fallen upon rocks, they cast four anchors out of the stern, and wished for the day.

30 And as the shipmen were about to flee out of the ship, when they had let down the boat into the sea, under colour as though they would have cast anchors out of the foreship,

31 Paul said to the centurion and to the soldiers, Except these abide in the ship, ye cannot be saved.

32 Then the soldiers cut off the ropes of the boat, and let her fall off.

33 <sup>h</sup> And while the day was coming on, Paul besought them all to take meat, saying, This day is the fourteenth day that ye have tarried, and continued fasting, having taken nothing.

34 <sup>i</sup> Wherefore I pray you to take some meat; for this is for your health: for there shall not a hair fall from the head of any of you.

35 <sup>k</sup> And when he had thus spoken, he took bread, and gave thanks to God in presence of them all : and when he had broken it, he began to eat.

36 Then were they all of good cheer, and they also took some meat.

37 <sup>1</sup> And we were in all in the ship, two hundred threescore and sixteen souls.

38 And when they had eaten enough, they lightened the ship, and cast out the wheat into the sea.

39 <sup>m</sup> And when it was day, they knew not the land : but they discovered a certain creek with a shore, into the which they were minded, if it were possible, to thrust in the ship.

40 And when they had taken up the anchors, they committed themselves unto the sea, and loosed the rudder-bands, and hoised up the mainsail to the wind, and made toward shore.

41 <sup>n</sup> And falling into a place where two seas met, they ran the ship aground : and the fore part stuck fast, and remained unmoveable, but the hinder part was broken with the violence of the waves.

42 And the soldiers' counsel was to kill the prisoners, lest any of them should swim out, and escape.

43 But the centurion, willing to save Paul, kept them from their purpose ; and commanded that they which could swim should cast themselves first into the sea, and get to land :

44 And the rest, some on boards, and some on broken pieces of the ship. And so it came to pass, that they escaped all safe to land.

CHAPTER XXVIII.

1 Paul and company entertained by the barbarians : 8 he healeth many in the island, &c.

<sup>a</sup> AND when they were escaped, then they knew that the island was called Melita.

2 <sup>b</sup> And the barbarous people shewed us no little kindness : for they kindled a fire, and received us every one, because of the present rain, and because of the cold.

3 And when Paul had gathered a bundle of sticks, and laid them on the fire, there came a viper out of the heat, and fastened on his hand.

4 And when the barbarians saw the venomous beast hang on his hand, they said among themselves, No doubt this man is a murderer, whom, though he hath escaped the sea, yet vengeance suffereth not to live.

5 <sup>c</sup> And he shook off the beast into the fire, and felt no harm.

6 <sup>d</sup> Howbeit they looked when he should have swollen, or fallen down dead suddenly : but after they had looked a great while, and saw no harm come to him, they changed their minds, and said that he was a god.

7 In the same quarters were possessions of the chief man of the island, whose name was Publius ; who received us, and lodged us three days courteously.

8 <sup>e</sup> And it came to pass, that the father of Publius lay sick of a fever, and of a bloody flux : to whom Paul entered in, and prayed, and laid his hands on him, and healed him.

9 So when this was done, others also, which had diseases in the island, came, and were healed :

10 <sup>f</sup> Who also honoured us with many honours ; and when we departed, they laded us with such things as were necessary.

11 And after three months we departed in a ship of Alexandria, which had wintered in the isle, whose sign was † Castor and Pollux.

12 And landing at Syracuse, we tarried there three days.

13 And from thence we fetched a compass, and came to Rhegium : and after one day the south wind blew, and we came the next day to Puteoli :

14 Where we found brethren, and were desired to tarry with them seven days : and so we went toward Rome.

15 And from thence, when the brethren heard of us, they came to meet us as far as Appii Forum, and the Three Taverns : whom when Paul saw, he thanked God, and took courage.

16 <sup>g</sup> And when we came to Rome, the centurion delivered the prisoners to the captain of the guard : but Paul was suffered to dwell by himself, with a soldier that kept him.

17 <sup>h</sup> And it came to pass, that after three days Paul called the chief of the Jews together : and when they were come together, he said unto them, Men and brethren, though I have committed nothing against the people, or customs of our fathers, yet was I delivered prisoner from Jerusalem into the hands of the Romans :

18 <sup>i</sup> Who, when they had examined me, would have let me go, because there was no cause of death in me.

19 <sup>k</sup> But when the Jews spake against it, I was constrained to appeal unto Cesar ; not that I had aught to accuse my nation of.

20 <sup>l</sup> For this cause therefore have I called for you, to see you, and to speak with you : because that for the hope of Israel I am bound with this chain.

21 And they said unto him, We neither received letters out of Judea concerning thee, neither any of the brethren that came, shewed or spake any harm of thee.

22 <sup>m</sup> But we desire to hear of thee what thou thinkest : for as concerning this sect, we know that every where it is spoken against.

23 <sup>n</sup> And when they had appointed him a day, there came many to him into his lodging ; to whom he expounded and testified the kingdom of God, persuading them concerning Jesus, both out of the law of Moses, and out of the prophets, from morning till evening.

24 <sup>o</sup> And some believed the things which were spoken, and some believed not.

25 And when they agreed not among themselves, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one word ; Well spake the Holy Ghost by Esaias the prophet unto our fathers,

26 <sup>p</sup> Saying, Go unto this people, and say, Hearing ye shall hear, and shall not understand ; and seeing ye shall see, and not perceive :

27 For the heart of this people is waxed gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes have they closed ; lest they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should heal them.

28 <sup>q</sup> Be it known therefore unto you, that the salvation of God is sent unto the Gentiles, and that they will hear it.

29 And when he had said these words, the Jews departed, and had great reasoning among themselves.

30 ¶ And Paul dwelt two whole years in his own hired house, and received all that came in unto him,

31 Preaching the kingdom of God, and teaching those things which concern the Lord Jesus Christ, with all confidence, no man forbidding him.

¶ The Epistle of PAUL, the Apostle, to the ROMANS.

CHAPTER I.

1 Paul commendeth to the Romans his calling: 16 he sheweth that the gospel is for the justification of all men through faith.

PAUL, a servant of Jesus Christ, called to be an apostle, separated unto the gospel of God,

2<sup>b</sup> Which he had promised afore by his prophets in the holy scriptures,

3<sup>c</sup> Concerning his Son Jesus Christ our Lord, which was made of the seed of David according to the flesh;

4<sup>d</sup> And declared to be the Son of God with power, according to the Spirit of holiness, by the resurrection from the dead:

5<sup>e</sup> By whom we have received grace and apostleship for obedience to the faith among all nations, for his name:

6 Among whom are ye also the called of Jesus Christ:

7<sup>f</sup> To all that be in Rome, beloved of God, called to be saints: Grace to you, and peace, from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

8<sup>g</sup> First, I thank my God through Jesus Christ for you all, that your faith is spoken of throughout the whole world.

9<sup>h</sup> For God is my witness, whom I serve with my spirit in the gospel of his Son, that without ceasing I make mention of you always in my prayers;

10<sup>i</sup> Making request, if by any means now at length I might have a prosperous journey by the will of God, to come unto you.

11<sup>k</sup> For I long to see you, that I may impart unto you some spiritual gift, to the end ye may be established:

12<sup>l</sup> That is, that I may be comforted together with you by the mutual faith both of you and me.

13<sup>m</sup> Now I would not have you ignorant, brethren, that oftentimes I purposed to come unto you, (but was let hitherto,) that I might have some fruit among you also, even as among other Gentiles.

14<sup>n</sup> I am debtor both to the Greeks and to the Barbarians, both to the wise and to the unwise.

15 So, as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the gospel to you that are at Rome also.

16<sup>o</sup> For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek.

17<sup>p</sup> For therein is the righteousness of God revealed from faith to faith: as it is written, The just shall live by faith.

18<sup>q</sup> For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who hold the truth in unrighteousness:

19<sup>r</sup> Because that which may be known of God is manifest in them; for God hath shewed it unto them.

20<sup>s</sup> For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead: so that they are without excuse:

21<sup>t</sup> Because that, when they knew God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankful, but became vain in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened:

22<sup>u</sup> Professing themselves to be wise, they became fools,

23<sup>v</sup> And changed the glory of the incorruptible

God into an image made like to corruptible man, and to birds, and four-footed beasts, and creeping things.

24<sup>y</sup> Wherefore God also gave them up to uncleanness through the lusts of their own hearts, to dishonour their own bodies between themselves:

25<sup>z</sup> Who changed the truth of God into a lie, and worshipped and served the creature || more than the Creator, who is blessed for ever. Amen.

26<sup>a</sup> For this cause God gave them up unto vile affections: for even their women did change the natural use into that which is against nature:

27 And likewise also the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust one toward another; men with men working that which is unseemly, and receiving in themselves that recompense of their error which was meet.

28<sup>b</sup> And even as they did not like to retain God in their knowledge, God gave them over to a reprobate mind, to do those things which are not convenient;

29 Being filled with all unrighteousness, fornication, wickedness, covetousness, maliciousness; full of envy, murder, debate, deceit, malignity; whisperers,

30 Backbiters, haters of God, despitiful, proud, boasters, inventors of evil things, disobedient to parents,

31 Without understanding, covenant-breakers, without natural affection, implacable, unmerciful:

32<sup>c</sup> Who knowing the judgment of God, that they which commit such things are worthy of death, not only do the same, but have pleasure in them that do them.

CHAPTER II.

1 They who condemn sin in others, and do the like themselves, are inexcusable, whether Jews or Gentiles.

THEREFORE thou art inexcusable, O man, whosoever thou art that judgest; for wherein thou judgest another, thou condemnest thyself; for thou that judgest, doest the same things.

2 But we are sure that the judgment of God is according to truth, against them which commit such things.

3<sup>b</sup> And thinkest thou this, O man, that judgest them which do such things, and doest the same, that thou shalt escape the judgment of God?

4<sup>c</sup> Or despisest thou the riches of his goodness, and forbearance, and long-suffering; not knowing that the goodness of God leadeth thee to repentance?

5<sup>d</sup> But after thy hardness and impenitent heart, treasurest up unto thyself wrath against the day of wrath, and revelation of the righteous judgment of God;

6<sup>e</sup> Who will render to every man according to his deeds:

7 To them, who, by patient continuance in well-doing, seek for glory, and honour, and immortality; eternal life:

8<sup>f</sup> But unto them that are contentious, and do not obey the truth, but obey unrighteousness; indignation and wrath,

9 Tribulation and anguish, upon every soul of man that doeth evil; of the Jew first, and also of the Gentile;

10 But glory, honour, and peace, to every man that worketh good; to the Jew first, and also to the Gentile;

11<sup>g</sup> For there is no respect of persons with God.

12<sup>h</sup> For as many as have sinned without law, shall also perish without law: and as many as have sinned in the law, shall be judged by the law;

13<sup>i</sup> (For not the hearers of the law are just before God, but the doers of the law shall be justified.

14 For when the Gentiles, which have not the law, do by nature the things contained in the law, these, having not the law, are a law unto themselves:

15 Which shew the work of the law written in their hearts, their conscience also bearing witness, and their thoughts the mean while accusing, or else excusing one another;)

16<sup>k</sup> In the day when God shall judge the secrets of men, by Jesus Christ, according to my gospel.

17<sup>l</sup> Behold, thou art called a Jew, and retest in the law, and makest thy boast of God,

18<sup>m</sup> And knowest his will, and approvest the things that are more excellent, being instructed out of the law,

19<sup>n</sup> And art confident that thou thyself art a guide of the blind, a light of them which are in darkness,

20<sup>o</sup> An instructor of the foolish, a teacher of babes, which hast the form of knowledge and of the truth in the law:

21<sup>p</sup> Thou therefore which teachest another, teachest thou not thyself? thou that preachest, A man should not steal, dost thou steal?

22<sup>q</sup> Thou that sayest, A man should not commit adultery, dost thou commit adultery? thou that abhorrest idols, dost thou commit sacrilege?

23<sup>r</sup> Thou that makest thy boast of the law, through breaking the law dishonourest thou God?

24<sup>s</sup> For the name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles through you, as it is written.

25<sup>t</sup> For circumcision verily profiteth, if thou keep the law: but if thou be a breaker of the law, thy circumcision is made uncircumcision.

26<sup>u</sup> Therefore if the uncircumcision keep the righteousness of the law, shall not his uncircumcision be counted for circumcision?

27<sup>x</sup> And shall not uncircumcision which is by nature, if it fulfil the law, judge thee, who by the letter and circumcision dost transgress the law?

28<sup>y</sup> For he is not a Jew, which is one outwardly: neither is that circumcision which is outward in the flesh:

29<sup>z</sup> But he is a Jew, which is one inwardly; and circumcision is that of the heart, in the spirit, and not in the letter; whose praise is not of men, but of God.

CHAPTER III.

1 The Jews' prerogative not made void by the unbelief of some....20 None justified by the law, but all by God's grace through faith in Christ without difference, &c.

WHAT advantage then hath the Jew? or what profit is there of circumcision?

2<sup>b</sup> Much every way: chiefly, because that unto them were committed the oracles of God.

3<sup>c</sup> For what, if some did not believe? shall their unbelief make the faith of God without effect?

4<sup>d</sup> God forbid: yea, let God be true, but every man a liar; as it is written, That thou mightest be justified in thy sayings, and mightest overcome when thou art judged.

5<sup>e</sup> But if our unrighteousness commend the righteousness of God, what shall we say? Is God unrighteous who taketh vengeance? (I speak as a man,)

6<sup>f</sup> God forbid: for then how shall God judge the world?

7 For if the truth of God hath more abounded through my lie unto his glory, why yet am I also judged as a sinner?

8<sup>g</sup> And not rather (as we be slanderously reported, and as some affirm that we say) Let us do evil, that good may come? whose damnation is just.

9<sup>h</sup> What then? are we better than they? No, in no wise: for we have before proved both Jews and Gentiles, that they are all under sin;

10<sup>i</sup> As it is written, There is none righteous, no, not one:

11 There is none that understandeth, there is none that seeketh after God.

12 They are all gone out of the way, they are together become unprofitable; there is none that doeth good, no, not one.

13<sup>k</sup> Their throat is an open sepulchre: with their tongues they have used deceit; the poison of asps is under their lips.

14<sup>l</sup> Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness:

15<sup>m</sup> Their feet are swift to shed blood:

16 Destruction and misery are in their ways:

17 And the way of peace have they not known:

18<sup>n</sup> There is no fear of God before their eyes.

19<sup>o</sup> Now we know, that what things soever the law saith, it saith to them who are under the law; that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world may become guilty before God.

20<sup>p</sup> Therefore by the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight: for by the law is the knowledge of sin.

21<sup>q</sup> But now the righteousness of God without the law is manifested, being witnessed by the law and the prophets;

22<sup>r</sup> Even the righteousness of God, which is by faith of Jesus Christ, unto all and upon all them that believe; for there is no difference:

23<sup>s</sup> For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God;

24<sup>t</sup> Being justified freely by his grace, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus:

25<sup>u</sup> Whom God hath set forth to be a propitiation through faith in his blood, to declare his righteousness for the remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God;

26 To declare, I say, at this time, his righteousness: that he might be just, and the justifier of him which believeth in Jesus.

27<sup>x</sup> Where is boasting then? It is excluded. By what law? of works? Nay; but by the law of faith.

28<sup>y</sup> Therefore we conclude that a man is justified by faith without the deeds of the law.

29<sup>z</sup> Is he the God of the Jews only? is he not also of the Gentiles? Yes, of the Gentiles also:

30<sup>a</sup> Seeing it is one God, which shall justify the circumcision by faith, and uncircumcision through faith.

31<sup>b</sup> Do we then make void the law through faith? God forbid: yea, we establish the law.

CHAPTER IV.

1 Abraham justified by faith: 18 his faith recorded for the sake of those who believe.

WHAT shall we then say, that Abraham, our father, as pertaining to the flesh, hath found?

2<sup>b</sup> For if Abraham were justified by works, he hath whereof to glory: but not before God.

3<sup>c</sup> For what saith the scripture? Abraham believed God, and it was counted unto him for righteousness.

4<sup>d</sup> Now to him that worketh is the reward not reckoned of grace, but of debt.

5<sup>e</sup> But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteousness.

6<sup>f</sup> Even as David also describeth the blessedness of the man unto whom God imputeth righteousness without works,

7<sup>g</sup> Saying, Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose sins are covered.

8<sup>h</sup> Blessed is the man to whom the Lord will not impute sin.

9<sup>i</sup> Cometh this blessedness then upon the circumcision only, or upon the uncircumcision also? for we say that faith was reckoned to Abraham for righteousness.

10<sup>j</sup> How was it then reckoned? when he was in circumcision, or in uncircumcision? Not in circumcision, but in uncircumcision.

11<sup>k</sup> And he received the sign of circumcision; a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had, yet being uncircumcised; that he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be not circumcised; that righteousness might be imputed unto them also:

12<sup>l</sup> And the father of circumcision to them who are not of the circumcision only, but who also walk in the steps of that faith of our father Abraham, which he had, being yet uncircumcised.

13<sup>m</sup> For the promise, that he should be the heir of the world, was not to Abraham, or to his seed through the law, but through the righteousness of faith.

14<sup>n</sup> For if they which are of the law be heirs, faith is made void, and the promise made of none effect.

15<sup>o</sup> Because the law worketh wrath: for where no law is, there is no transgression.

16<sup>p</sup> Therefore it is of faith, that it might be by grace; to the end the promise might be sure to all the seed; not to that only which is of the law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham, who is the father of us all,

17<sup>q</sup> (As it is written, I have made thee a father of many nations,) before him whom he believed, even God, who quickeneth the dead, and calleth those things which be not as though they were.

18<sup>r</sup> Who against hope believed in hope, that he might become the father of many nations, according to that which was spoken, So shall thy seed be.

19<sup>s</sup> And being not weak in faith, he considered not his own body now dead, when he was about a hundred years old, neither yet the deadness of Sarah's womb:

20<sup>t</sup> He staggered not at the promise of God through unbelief; but was strong in faith, giving glory to God;

21<sup>u</sup> And being fully persuaded that what he had promised, he was able also to perform.

22<sup>v</sup> And therefore it was imputed to him for righteousness.

23<sup>w</sup> Now it was not written for his sake alone, that it was imputed to him;

24<sup>x</sup> But for us also, to whom it shall be imputed, if we believe on him that raised up Jesus our Lord from the dead;

25<sup>y</sup> Who was delivered for our offences, and was raised again for our justification.

CHAPTER V.

1 Being justified by faith, we have peace with God....12 Sin and death came by Adam, 17 righteousness and life by Jesus Christ.

THEREFORE, being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ:

2<sup>b</sup> By whom also we have access by faith into this grace wherein we stand, and rejoice in hope of the glory of God.

3<sup>c</sup> And not only so, but we glory in tribulations also; knowing that tribulation worketh patience;

4<sup>d</sup> And patience, experience; and experience, hope:

5<sup>e</sup> And hope maketh not ashamed; because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost which is given unto us.

6<sup>f</sup> For when we were yet without strength, in due time Christ died for the ungodly.

7<sup>g</sup> For scarcely for a righteous man will one die; yet peradventure for a good man some would even dare to die.

8<sup>h</sup> But God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us.

9<sup>i</sup> Much more then, being now justified by his blood, we shall be saved from wrath through him.

10<sup>j</sup> For if, when we were enemies, we were reconciled to God by the death of his Son, much more, being reconciled, we shall be saved by his life.

11<sup>k</sup> And not only so, but we also joy in God, through our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom we have now received the atonement.

12<sup>l</sup> Wherefore, as by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned:

13<sup>m</sup> (For until the law, sin was in the world: but sin is not imputed when there is no law.

14<sup>n</sup> Nevertheless, death reigned from Adam to Moses, even over them that had not sinned after the similitude of Adam's transgression, who is the figure of him that was to come.

15<sup>o</sup> But not as the offence, so also is the free gift. For if through the offence of one many be dead: much more the grace of God, and the gift by grace, which is by one man, Jesus Christ, hath abounded unto many.

16<sup>p</sup> And not as it was by one that sinned, so is the gift: for the judgment was by one to condemnation; but the free gift is of many offences unto justification.

17<sup>q</sup> For if by one man's offence death reigned by one; much more they which receive abundance of grace, and of the gift of righteousness, shall reign in life by one, Jesus Christ:)

18<sup>r</sup> Therefore, as by the offence of one judgment came upon all men to condemnation; even so by the righteousness of one the free gift came upon all men unto justification of life.

19<sup>s</sup> For as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners, so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous.

20<sup>t</sup> Moreover, the law entered, that the offence might abound. But where sin abounded, grace did much more abound:

21<sup>u</sup> That as sin hath reigned unto death, even so might grace reign through righteousness, unto eternal life, by Jesus Christ our Lord.

CHAPTER VI.

1 We must not live in sin, 2 for we are dead unto it; 12 nor let sin reign in us....21 The end and wages of sin is death, &c.

WHAT shall we say then? Shall we continue in sin, that grace may abound?

2<sup>b</sup> God forbid. How shall we, that are dead to sin, live any longer therein?

Mat. 5, 32

3<sup>e</sup> Know ye not, that so many of us as were baptized into Jesus Christ were baptized into his death?

4<sup>d</sup> Therefore we are buried with him by baptism into death; that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life.

5<sup>e</sup> For if we have been planted together in the likeness of his death, we shall be also in the likeness of his resurrection:

6<sup>f</sup> Knowing this, that our old man is crucified with him, that the body of sin might be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serve sin.

7<sup>g</sup> For he that is dead is freed from sin.

8<sup>h</sup> Now if we be dead with Christ, we believe that we shall also live with him:

9<sup>i</sup> Knowing that Christ, being raised from the dead, dieth no more; death hath no more dominion over him.

10<sup>k</sup> For in that he died, he died unto sin once: but in that he liveth, he liveth unto God.

11<sup>l</sup> Likewise reckon ye also yourselves to be dead indeed unto sin, but alive unto God through Jesus Christ our Lord.

12<sup>m</sup> Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal body, that ye should obey it in the lusts thereof.

13<sup>n</sup> Neither yield ye your members as instruments of unrighteousness unto sin: but yield yourselves unto God, as those that are alive from the dead, and your members as instruments of righteousness unto God.

14<sup>o</sup> For sin shall not have dominion over you: for ye are not under the law, but under grace.

15<sup>p</sup> What then? Shall we sin, because we are not under the law, but under grace? God forbid.

16<sup>q</sup> Know ye not, that to whom ye yield yourselves servants to obey, his servants ye are to whom ye obey; whether of sin unto death, or of obedience unto righteousness?

17<sup>r</sup> But God be thanked, that ye were the servants of sin: but ye have obeyed from the heart that form of doctrine which was delivered you.

18<sup>s</sup> Being then made free from sin, ye became the servants of righteousness.

19 I speak after the manner of men, because of the infirmity of your flesh: for as ye have yielded your members servants to uncleanness and to iniquity, unto iniquity; even so now yield your members servants to righteousness, unto holiness.

20<sup>t</sup> For when ye were the servants of sin, ye were free from righteousness.

21<sup>u</sup> What fruit had ye then in those things whereof ye are now ashamed? for the end of those things is death.

22<sup>x</sup> But now being made free from sin, and become servants to God, ye have your fruit unto holiness; and the end, everlasting life.

23<sup>y</sup> For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life, through Jesus Christ our Lord.

CHAPTER VII.

1 No law hath power over a man longer than he liveth....7 The law is not sin, 12 but holy, just, and good.

K NOW ye not, brethren, (for I speak to them that know the law,) how that the law hath dominion over a man as long as he liveth?

2<sup>b</sup> For the woman which hath a husband is bound by the law to her husband, so long as he liveth; but if the husband be dead, she is loosed from the law of her husband.

3<sup>c</sup> So then, if, while her husband liveth, she be married to another man, she shall be called an adulteress: but if her husband be dead, she is free from that law; so that she is no adulteress, though she be married to another man.

4<sup>d</sup> Wherefore, my brethren, ye also are become dead to the law by the body of Christ; that ye should be married to another, even to him who is raised from the dead, that we should bring forth fruit unto God.

5<sup>e</sup> For when we were in the flesh, the motions of sins, which were by the law, did work in our members, to bring forth fruit unto death.

6<sup>f</sup> But now we are delivered from the law, that being dead wherein we were held; that we should serve in newness of spirit, and not in the oldness of the letter.

7<sup>g</sup> What shall we say then? Is the law sin? God forbid. Nay, I had not known sin, but by the law: for I had not known lust, except the law had said, Thou shalt not covet.

8<sup>h</sup> But sin, taking occasion by the commandment, wrought in me all manner of concupiscence. For without the law, sin was dead.

9<sup>i</sup> For I was alive without the law once: but when the commandment came, sin revived, and I died.

10<sup>k</sup> And the commandment, which was ordained to life, I found to be unto death.

11<sup>l</sup> For sin, taking occasion by the commandment, deceived me, and by it slew me.

12<sup>m</sup> Wherefore the law is holy; and the commandment holy, and just, and good.

13<sup>n</sup> Was then that which is good made death unto me? God forbid. But sin, that it might appear sin, working death in me by that which is good; that sin by the commandment might become exceeding sinful.

14<sup>o</sup> For we know that the law is spiritual; but I am carnal, sold under sin.

15<sup>p</sup> For that which I do, I allow not: for what I would, that do I not; but what I hate, that do I.

16 If then I do that which I would not, I consent unto the law that it is good.

17 Now then it is no more I that do it, but sin that dwelleth in me.

18<sup>q</sup> For I know that in me (that is, in my flesh) dwelleth no good thing: for to will is present with me; but how to perform that which is good I find not.

19 For the good that I would, I do not: but the evil which I would not, that I do.

20 Now if I do that I would not, it is no more I that do it, but sin that dwelleth in me.

21 I find then a law, that, when I would do good, evil is present with me.

22<sup>r</sup> For I delight in the law of God after the inward man:

23<sup>s</sup> But I see another law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of sin which is in my members.

24 O wretched man that I am! who shall deliver me from the body of this death?

25<sup>t</sup> I thank God, through Jesus Christ our Lord. So then with the mind I myself serve the law of God, but with the flesh the law of sin.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 Who are free from condemnation....5, 13 What harm cometh of the flesh, 6, 14 and what good of the Spirit, 17 and what of being God's children....31 The christian's hope.

THERE is, therefore, now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

2<sup>b</sup> For the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death.

3<sup>c</sup> For what the law could not do, in that it was weak through the flesh, God sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh, and for sin, condemned sin in the flesh :

4 That the righteousness of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

5<sup>d</sup> For they that are after the flesh, do mind the things of the flesh ; but they that are after the Spirit, the things of the Spirit.

6<sup>e</sup> For to be carnally minded is death ; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace :

7<sup>f</sup> Because the carnal mind is enmity against God ; for it is not subject to the law of God, neither indeed can be.

8<sup>g</sup> So then they that are in the flesh cannot please God.

9<sup>h</sup> But ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you. Now if any man have not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of his.

10<sup>i</sup> And if Christ be in you, the body is dead because of sin ; but the Spirit is life because of righteousness.

11<sup>k</sup> But if the Spirit of him, that raised up Jesus from the dead, dwell in you, he that raised up Christ from the dead shall also quicken your mortal bodies by his Spirit that dwelleth in you.

12<sup>l</sup> Therefore, brethren, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live after the flesh.

13<sup>m</sup> For if ye live after the flesh, ye shall die : but if ye through the Spirit do mortify the deeds of the body, ye shall live.

14<sup>n</sup> For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God.

15<sup>o</sup> For ye have not received the spirit of bondage again to fear ; but ye have received the Spirit of adoption, whereby we cry, Abba, Father.

16<sup>p</sup> The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God :

17<sup>q</sup> And if children, then heirs ; heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ ; if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together.

18<sup>r</sup> For I reckon that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us.

19<sup>s</sup> For the earnest expectation of the creature waiteth for the manifestation of the sons of God.

20<sup>t</sup> For the creature was made subject to vanity, not willingly, but by reason of him who hath subjected the same in hope ;

21 Because the creature itself also shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption into the glorious liberty of the children of God.

22<sup>u</sup> For we know that the whole creation groaneth and travaileth in pain together until now.

23<sup>v</sup> And not only they, but ourselves also, which have the first-fruits of the Spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting for the adoption, to wit, the redemption of our body.

24<sup>w</sup> For we are saved by hope : but hope that is seen, is not hope : for what a man seeth, why doth he yet hope for ?

25<sup>x</sup> But if we hope for that we see not, then do we with patience wait for it.

26<sup>a</sup> Likewise the Spirit also helpeth our infirmities : for we know not what we should pray for as we ought :

but the Spirit itself maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered.

27<sup>b</sup> And he that searcheth the hearts knoweth what is the mind of the Spirit, because he maketh intercession for the saints according to the will of God.

28<sup>c</sup> And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose.

29<sup>d</sup> For whom he did foreknow, he also did predestinate to be conformed to the image of his Son, that he might be the first-born among many brethren.

30<sup>e</sup> Moreover, whom he did predestinate, them he also called : and whom he called, them he also justified : and whom he justified, them he also glorified.

31<sup>f</sup> What shall we then say to these things ? If God be for us, who can be against us ?

32<sup>g</sup> He that spared not his own Son, but delivered him up for us all, how shall he not with him also freely give us all things ?

33<sup>h</sup> Who shall lay any thing to the charge of God's elect ? It is God that justifieth.

34<sup>i</sup> Who is he that condemneth ? It is Christ that died, yea rather, that is risen again, who is even at the right hand of God, who also maketh intercession for us.

35<sup>k</sup> Who shall separate us from the love of Christ ? Shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword ?

36<sup>l</sup> As it is written, For thy sake we are killed all the day long ; we are accounted as sheep for the slaughter.

37<sup>m</sup> Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerors, through him that loved us.

38<sup>n</sup> For I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come,

39 Nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

CHAPTER IX.

1 Paul's sorrow for the Jews....7 All Abraham's seed were not the children of the promise....25 The calling of the Gentiles, and rejection of the Jews retold.

I SAY the truth in Christ, I lie not, my conscience also bearing me witness in the Holy Ghost,

2<sup>b</sup> That I have great heaviness and continual sorrow in my heart.

3<sup>c</sup> For I could wish that myself were accursed from Christ for my brethren, my kinsmen according to the flesh :

4<sup>d</sup> Who are Israelites ; to whom pertaineth the adoption, and the glory, and the covenants, and the giving of the law, and the service of God, and the promises ;

5<sup>e</sup> Whose are the fathers, and of whom, as concerning the flesh, Christ came, who is over all, God blessed for ever. Amen.

6<sup>f</sup> Not as though the word of God hath taken none effect. For they are not all Israel which are of Israel :

7<sup>g</sup> Neither, because they are the seed of Abraham, are they all children : but, In Isaac shall thy seed be called.

8<sup>h</sup> That is, they which are the children of the flesh, these are not the children of God : but the children of the promise are counted for the seed.

9<sup>i</sup> For this is the word of promise, At this time will I come, and Sarah shall have a son.

10<sup>k</sup> And not only this ; but when Rebecca also had conceived by one, even by our father Isaac ;

11 <sup>1</sup> (For the children being not yet born, neither having done any good or evil, that the purpose of God, according to election, might stand, not of works, but of him that calleth :) 12 <sup>m</sup> It was said unto her, The elder shall serve the younger : 13 <sup>n</sup> As it is written, Jacob have I loved, but Esau have I hated. 14 <sup>o</sup> What shall we say then? Is there unrighteousness with God? God forbid. 15 <sup>p</sup> For he saith to Moses, I will have mercy on whom I will have mercy, and I will have compassion on whom I will have compassion. 16 So then it is not of him that willeth, nor of him that runneth, but of God that sheweth mercy. 17 <sup>q</sup> For the scripture saith unto Pharaoh, Even for this same purpose have I raised thee up, that I might shew my power in thee, and that my name might be declared throughout all the earth. 18 Therefore hath he mercy on whom he will have mercy, and whom he will he hardeneth. 19 <sup>r</sup> Thou wilt say then unto me, Why doth he yet find fault? for who hath resisted his will? 20 <sup>s</sup> Nay but, O man, who art thou that repliest against God? Shall the thing formed say to him that formed it, Why hast thou made me thus? 21 <sup>t</sup> Hath not the potter power over the clay, of the same lump to make one vessel unto honour, and another unto dishonour? 22 <sup>u</sup> What if God, willing to shew his wrath, and to make his power known, endured with much longsuffering the vessels of wrath fitted to destruction; 23 <sup>x</sup> And that he might make known the riches of his glory on the vessels of mercy, which he had afore prepared unto glory, 24 <sup>y</sup> Even us, whom he hath called, not of the Jews only, but also of the Gentiles? 25 <sup>z</sup> As he saith also in Osee, I will call them my people, which were not my people; and her beloved, which was not beloved. 26 <sup>a</sup> And it shall come to pass, that in the place where it was said unto them, Ye are not my people; there shall they be called the children of the living God. 27 <sup>b</sup> Esaias also crieth concerning Israel, Though the number of the children of Israel be as the sand of the sea, a remnant shall be saved. 28 For he will finish the work, and cut it short in righteousness: because a short work will the Lord make upon the earth. 29 <sup>c</sup> And as Esaias said before, Except the Lord of Sabaoth had left us a seed, we had been as Sodoma, and been made like unto Gomorrha. 30 <sup>d</sup> What shall we say then? That the Gentiles, which followed not after righteousness, have attained to righteousness, even the righteousness which is of faith. 31 <sup>e</sup> But Israel which followed after the law of righteousness, hath not attained to the law of righteousness. 32 <sup>f</sup> Wherefore? Because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by the works of the law: for they stumbled at that stumbling-stone; 33 <sup>g</sup> As it is written, Behold, I lay in Sion a stumbling-stone and rock of offence: and whosoever believeth on him shall not be ashamed.

CHAPTER X.

1 Paul's prayer for Israel, who are misled by blind zeal.

BRETHREN, my heart's desire and prayer to God for Israel is, that they might be saved.

2 <sup>b</sup> For I bear them record, that they have a zeal of God, but not according to knowledge. 3 <sup>c</sup> For they being ignorant of God's righteousness, and going about to establish their own righteousness, have not submitted themselves unto the righteousness of God. 4 <sup>d</sup> For Christ is the end of the law for righteousness to every one that believeth. 5 <sup>e</sup> For Moses describeth the righteousness which is of the law, That the man which doeth those things shall live by them. 6 <sup>f</sup> But the righteousness which is of faith speaketh on this wise, Say not in thy heart, Who shall ascend into heaven? (that is, to bring Christ down from above :) 7 Or, Who shall descend into the deep? (that is, to bring up Christ again from the dead.) 8 <sup>g</sup> But what saith it? The word is nigh thee, even in thy mouth, and in thy heart: that is, the word of faith which we preach; 9 <sup>h</sup> That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thy heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved. 10 For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation. 11 <sup>i</sup> For the scripture saith, Whosoever believeth on him shall not be ashamed. 12 <sup>k</sup> For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek: for the same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon him. 13 <sup>l</sup> For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved. 14 <sup>m</sup> How then shall they call on him in whom they have not believed? and how shall they believe in him of whom they have not heard? and how shall they hear without a preacher? 15 <sup>n</sup> And how shall they preach, except they be sent? as it is written; How beautiful are the feet of them that preach the gospel of peace, and bring glad tidings of good things! 16 <sup>o</sup> But they have not all obeyed the gospel. For Esaias saith, Lord, who hath believed our report? 17 So then faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God. 18 <sup>p</sup> But I say, Have they not heard? Yes, verily, their sound went into all the earth, and their words unto the ends of the world. 19 <sup>q</sup> But I say, Did not Israel know? First Moses saith, I will provoke you to jealousy by them that are no people, and by a foolish nation I will anger you. 20 <sup>r</sup> But Esaias is very bold, and saith, I was found of them that sought me not; I was made manifest unto them that asked not after me. 21 <sup>s</sup> But to Israel he saith, All day long I have stretched forth my hands unto a disobedient and gainsaying people.

CHAPTER XI.

1 A remnant of Israel saved by grace: 7 the blindness of the rest prophesied of....17 The Gentiles may not boast against them.

ISAY then, Hath God cast away his people? God forbid. For I also am an Israelite, of the seed of Abraham, of the tribe of Benjamin. 2 <sup>b</sup> God hath not cast away his people which he foreknew. Wot ye not what the scripture saith of Elias? how he maketh intercession to God against Israel, saying, 3 <sup>c</sup> Lord, they have killed thy prophets, and digged down thine altars: and I am left alone, and they seek my life.

4<sup>d</sup> But what saith the answer of God unto him? I have reserved to myself seven thousand men, who have not bowed the knee to the image of Baal.

5<sup>e</sup> Even so then at this present time also there is a remnant according to the election of grace.

6<sup>f</sup> And if by grace, then is it no more of works: otherwise grace is no more grace. But if it be of works, then is it no more grace: otherwise work is no more work.

7<sup>g</sup> What then? Israel hath not obtained that which he seeketh for; but the election hath obtained it, and the rest were blinded,

8<sup>h</sup> (According as it is written, God hath given them the spirit of slumber, eyes that they should not see, and ears that they should not hear;) unto this day.

9<sup>i</sup> And David saith, Let their table be made a snare and a trap, and a stumbling-block, and a recompense unto them:

10 Let their eyes be darkened, that they may not see, and bow down their back always.

11<sup>k</sup> I say then, Have they stumbled that they should fall? God forbid: but rather through their fall salvation is come unto the Gentiles, for to provoke them to jealousy.

12 Now if the fall of them be the riches of the world, and the diminishing of them the riches of the Gentiles, how much more their fulness?

13<sup>l</sup> For I speak to you Gentiles, inasmuch as I am the apostle of the Gentiles, I magnify mine office;

14<sup>m</sup> If by any means I may provoke to emulation them which are my flesh, and might save some of them.

15<sup>n</sup> For if the casting away of them be the reconciling of the world, what shall the receiving of them be, but life from the dead?

16<sup>o</sup> For if the first-fruit be holy, the lump is also holy; and if the root be holy, so are the branches.

17<sup>p</sup> And if some of the branches be broken off, and thou, being a wild olive-tree, wert grafted in among them, and with them partakest of the root and fatness of the olive-tree;

18<sup>q</sup> Boast not against the branches. But if thou boast, thou bearest not the root, but the root thee.

19 Thou wilt say then, The branches were broken off, that I might be grafted in.

20<sup>r</sup> Well; because of unbelief they were broken off; and thou standest by faith. Be not high-minded, but fear:

21 For if God spared not the natural branches, take heed lest he also spare not thee.

22<sup>s</sup> Behold therefore the goodness and severity of God: on them which fell, severity; but toward thee, goodness; if thou continue in his goodness: otherwise thou also shalt be cut off.

23<sup>t</sup> And they also, if they abide not still in unbelief, shall be grafted in: for God is able to graft them in again.

24<sup>u</sup> For if thou wert cut out of the olive-tree which is wild by nature, and wert grafted contrary to nature into a good olive-tree; how much more shall these, which be the natural branches, be grafted into their own olive-tree?

25<sup>v</sup> For I would not, brethren, that ye should be ignorant of this mystery, lest ye should be wise in your own conceits: that blindness in part is happened to Israel, until the fulness of the Gentiles be come in.

26<sup>w</sup> And so all Israel shall be saved: as it is written, There shall come out of Sion the Deliverer, and shall turn away ungodliness from Jacob:

27<sup>x</sup> For this is my covenant unto them, when I shall take away their sins.

28<sup>y</sup> As concerning the gospel, they are enemies for your sake: but as touching the election, they are beloved for the fathers' sakes.

29<sup>z</sup> For the gifts and calling of God are without repentance.

30<sup>a</sup> For as ye in times past have not believed God, yet have now obtained mercy through their unbelief;

31 Even so have these also now not believed, that through your mercy they also may obtain mercy.

32<sup>b</sup> For God hath concluded them all in unbelief, that he might have mercy upon all.

33<sup>c</sup> O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out!

34<sup>d</sup> For who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been his counsellor?

35<sup>e</sup> Or who hath first given to him, and it shall be recompensed unto him again?

36<sup>f</sup> For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory for ever. Amen.

CHAPTER XII.

1 Holiness and conformity to God's will enjoined....6 Gifts to be used for the common benefit....9 Sundry practical duties recommended....19 Revenge specially forbidden.

I BESEECH you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service.

2<sup>b</sup> And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect will of God.

3<sup>c</sup> For I say, through the grace given unto me, to every man that is among you, not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think; but to think soberly, according as God hath dealt to every man the measure of faith.

4<sup>d</sup> For as we have many members in one body, and all members have not the same office;

5<sup>e</sup> So we, being many, are one body in Christ, and every one members one of another.

6<sup>f</sup> Having then gifts differing according to the grace that is given to us, whether prophecy, let us prophesy according to the proportion of faith;

7<sup>g</sup> Or ministry, let us wait on our ministering; or he that teacheth, on teaching;

8<sup>h</sup> Or he that exhorteth, on exhortation: he that giveth, let him do it with simplicity; he that ruleth, with diligence; he that sheweth mercy, with cheerfulness.

9<sup>i</sup> Let love be without dissimulation. Abhor that which is evil; cleave to that which is good.

10<sup>k</sup> Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love; in honour preferring one another;

11<sup>l</sup> Not slothful in business; fervent in spirit; serving the Lord;

12<sup>m</sup> Rejoicing in hope; patient in tribulation; continuing instant in prayer;

13<sup>n</sup> Distributing to the necessity of saints; given to hospitality.

14<sup>o</sup> Bless them which persecute you: bless, and curse not.

15<sup>p</sup> Rejoice with them that do rejoice, and weep with them that weep.

18<sup>s</sup> If it be possible, as much as lieth in you, live peaceably with all men.

21<sup>x</sup> Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 Of subjection to magistrates....8 Love is a debt we always owe, and virtually containeth the whole law....11 Against gluttony, &c.

LET every soul be subject unto the higher powers. For there is no power but of God: the powers that be are ordained of God.

2<sup>b</sup> Whosoever therefore resisteth the power, resisteth the ordinance of God: and they that resist shall receive to themselves damnation.

3<sup>c</sup> For rulers are not a terror to good works, but to the evil. Wilt thou then not be afraid of the power? do that which is good, and thou shalt have praise of the same:

4<sup>d</sup> For he is the minister of God to thee for good. But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid; for he beareth not the sword in vain: for he is the minister of God, a revenger to execute wrath upon him that doeth evil.

5<sup>e</sup> Wherefore ye must needs be subject, not only for wrath, but also for conscience' sake.

6 For, for this cause pay ye tribute also: for they are God's ministers, attending continually upon this very thing.

7<sup>f</sup> Render therefore to all their dues; tribute to whom tribute is due; custom to whom custom; fear to whom fear; honour to whom honour.

8<sup>g</sup> Owe no man any thing, but to love one another: for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law.

9<sup>h</sup> For this, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, Thou shalt not covet; and if there be any other commandment, it is briefly comprehended in this saying, namely, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

10<sup>i</sup> Love worketh no ill to his neighbour: therefore love is the fulfilling of the law.

11<sup>k</sup> And that, knowing the time, that now it is high time to awake out of sleep: for now is our salvation nearer than when we believed.

12<sup>l</sup> The night is far spent, the day is at hand: let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armour of light.

13<sup>m</sup> Let us walk honestly, as in the day; not in rioting and drunkenness, not in chambering and wantonness, not in strife and envying.

14<sup>n</sup> But put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make not provision for the flesh, to fulfil the lusts thereof.

CHAPTER XIV.

How to treat a weak brother, and not to censure one another for things indifferent, &c.

HIM that is weak in the faith receive ye, but not to doubtful disputations.

2<sup>b</sup> For one believeth that ne may eat all things: another, who is weak, eateth herbs.

3<sup>c</sup> Let not him that eateth despise him that eateth not; and let not him which eateth not judge him that eateth: for God hath received him.

4<sup>d</sup> Who art thou that judgest another man's servant? to his own master he standeth or falleth. Yea, he shall be holden up: for God is able to make him stand.

5<sup>e</sup> One man esteemeth one day above another: another esteemeth every day alike. Let every man be fully persuaded in his own mind.

6<sup>f</sup> He that regardeth the day, regardeth it unto the Lord; and he that regardeth not the day, to the Lord he doth not regard it. He that eateth, eateth to the Lord; for he giveth God thanks: and he that eateth not, to the Lord he eateth not; and giveth God thanks.

7<sup>g</sup> For none of us liveth to himself, and no man dieth to himself.

8 For whether we live, we live unto the Lord; and whether we die, we die unto the Lord: whether we live therefore, or die, we are the Lord's.

9<sup>h</sup> For to this end Christ both died, and rose, and revived, that he might be Lord both of the dead and living.

10<sup>i</sup> But why dost thou judge thy brother? or why dost thou set at nought thy brother? for we shall all stand before the judgment-seat of Christ.

11<sup>k</sup> For it is written, As I live, saith the Lord, every knee shall bow to me, and every tongue shall confess to God.

12<sup>l</sup> So then every one of us shall give account of himself to God.

13<sup>m</sup> Let us not therefore judge one another any more: but judge this rather, that no man put a stumbling-block or an occasion to fall in his brother's way.

14<sup>n</sup> I know, and am persuaded by the Lord Jesus, that there is nothing unclean of itself: but to him that esteemeth any thing to be unclean, to him it is unclean.

15<sup>o</sup> But if thy brother be grieved with thy meat, now walkest thou not charitably. Destroy not him with thy meat, for whom Christ died.

16<sup>p</sup> Let not then your good be evil spoken of:

17<sup>q</sup> For the kingdom of God is not meat and drink; but righteousness and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost.

18 For he that in these things serveth Christ, is acceptable to God, and approved of men.

19<sup>r</sup> Let us therefore follow after the things which make for peace, and things wherewith one may edify another.

20<sup>s</sup> For meat destroy not the work of God. All things indeed are pure; but it is evil for that man who eateth with offence.

21<sup>t</sup> It is good neither to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor any thing whereby thy brother stumbleth, or is offended, or is made weak.

22<sup>u</sup> Hast thou faith? have it to thyself before God. Happy is he that condemneth not himself in that thing which he alloweth.

23<sup>v</sup> And he that doubteth is damned if he eat, because he eateth not of faith: for whatsoever is not of faith is sin.

CHAPTER XV.

1 The strong ought to bear with the weak....2 We may not please ourselves, 7 but receive one another, as Christ also received us, &c.

WE then that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves,

2<sup>b</sup> Let every one of us please his neighbour for his good to edification.

3<sup>c</sup> For even Christ pleased not himself; but, as it is written, The reproaches of them that reproached thee fell on me.

4<sup>d</sup> For whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope.

5<sup>e</sup> Now the God of patience and consolation grant you to be like-minded one toward another, according to Christ Jesus;

6<sup>f</sup> That ye may with one mind and one mouth glorify God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ.

7<sup>g</sup> Wherefore receive ye one another, as Christ also received us, to the glory of God.

8<sup>h</sup> Now I say that Jesus Christ was a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, to confirm the promises made unto the fathers;

9<sup>i</sup> And that the Gentiles might glorify God for his mercy; as it is written, For this cause I will confess to thee among the Gentiles, and sing unto thy name.

10<sup>k</sup> And again he saith, Rejoice, ye Gentiles, with his people.

11<sup>l</sup> And again, Praise the Lord, all ye Gentiles; and laud him, all ye people.

12<sup>m</sup> And again, Esaias saith, There shall be a root of Jesse, and he that shall rise to reign over the Gentiles; in him shall the Gentiles trust.

13<sup>n</sup> Now the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace, in believing, that ye may abound in hope, through the power of the Holy Ghost.

14<sup>o</sup> And I myself also am persuaded of you, my brethren, that ye also are full of goodness, filled with all knowledge, able also to admonish one another.

15<sup>p</sup> Nevertheless, brethren, I have written the more boldly unto you in some sort, as putting you in mind, because of the grace that is given to me of God,

16<sup>q</sup> That I should be the minister of Jesus Christ to the Gentiles, ministering the gospel of God, that the offering up of the Gentiles might be acceptable, being sanctified by the Holy Ghost.

17 I have therefore whereof I may glory through Jesus Christ in those things which pertain to God.

18<sup>r</sup> For I will not dare to speak of any of those things which Christ hath not wrought by me, to make the Gentiles obedient, by word and deed,

19<sup>s</sup> Through mighty signs and wonders, by the power of the Spirit of God: so that from Jerusalem, and round about unto Illyricum, I have fully preached the gospel of Christ.

20<sup>t</sup> Yea, so have I strived to preach the gospel, not where Christ was named, lest I should build upon another man's foundation:

21<sup>u</sup> But, as it is written, To whom he was not spoken of, they shall see: and they that have not heard shall understand.

22<sup>v</sup> For which cause also I have been much hindered from coming to you.

23<sup>w</sup> But now having no more place in these parts, and having a great desire these many years to come unto you;

24 Whensoever I take my journey into Spain, I will come to you: for I trust to see you in my journey, and to be brought on my way thitherward by you, if first I be somewhat filled with your company.

25<sup>x</sup> But now I go unto Jerusalem, to minister unto the saints.

26<sup>y</sup> For it hath pleased them of Macedonia and Achaia to make a certain contribution for the poor saints which are at Jerusalem.

27<sup>b</sup> It hath pleased them, verily; and their debtors they are. For if the Gentiles have been made partakers of their spiritual things, their duty is also to minister unto them in carnal things.

28<sup>c</sup> When, therefore, I have performed this, and have sealed to them this fruit, I will come by you into Spain.

29<sup>d</sup> And I am sure that, when I come unto you, I shall come in the fulness of the blessing of the gospel of Christ.

30<sup>e</sup> Now I beseech you, brethren, for the Lord Jesus Christ's sake, and for the love of the Spirit, that ye strive together with me in your prayers to God for me;

31<sup>f</sup> That I may be delivered from them that do not believe in Judea; and that my service which I have for Jerusalem may be accepted of the saints;

32<sup>g</sup> That I may come unto you with joy by the will of God, and may with you be refreshed.

33<sup>h</sup> Now the God of peace be with you all. Amen.

CHAPTER XVI.

1 Paul sendeth salutations to many, 25 and endeth with praise and thanks to God.

I COMMEND unto you Phebe our sister, which is a servant of the church which is at Cenchrea: 2<sup>a</sup> That ye receive her in the Lord, as becometh saints, and that ye assist her in whatsoever business she hath need of you: for she hath been a succourer of many, and of myself also.

3<sup>b</sup> Greet Priscilla and Aquila, my helpers in Christ Jesus:

4<sup>c</sup> Who have for my life laid down their own necks: unto whom not only I give thanks, but also all the churches of the Gentiles.

5<sup>d</sup> Likewise greet the church that is in their house. Salute my well-beloved Epenetus, who is the first-fruits of Achaia unto Christ.

6 Greet Mary; who bestowed much labour on us.

7<sup>e</sup> Salute Andronicus and Junia, my kinsmen and my fellow-prisoners, who are of note among the apostles; who also were in Christ before me.

8 Greet Amplias, my beloved in the Lord.

9 Salute Urbane, our helper in Christ; and Stachys my beloved.

10<sup>f</sup> Salute Apelles, approved in Christ. Salute them which are of Aristobulus' household.

11 Salute Herodion my kinsman. Greet them that be of the household of Narcissus, which are in the Lord.

12 Salute Tryphena and Tryphosa, who labour in the Lord. Salute the beloved Persis, which laboured much in the Lord.

13<sup>g</sup> Salute Rufus, chosen in the Lord; and his mother and mine.

14 Salute Asyncritus, Phlegon, Hermas, Patrobas, Hermes, and the brethren which are with them.

15 Salute Philologus, and Julia, Nereus, and his sister, and Olympas, and all the saints which are with them.

16<sup>h</sup> Salute one another with a holy kiss. The churches of Christ salute you.

17<sup>i</sup> Now I beseech you, brethren, mark them which cause divisions and offences contrary to the doctrine which ye have learned; and avoid them.

18<sup>k</sup> For they that are such serve not our Lord Jesus Christ, but their own belly, and by good words and fair speeches deceive the hearts of the simple.

¶ The First Epistle of PAUL, the Apostle, to the CORINTHIANS.

CHAPTER I.

1 Paul, after salutation and thanksgiving, 10 exhorteth to unity, 11 and reproveth their dissensions....26 God, to take away boasting, rejecteth the wisdom of the wise.

PAUL, called to be an apostle of Jesus Christ through the will of God, and Sosthenes our brother,

2 <sup>b</sup> Unto the church of God which is at Corinth, to them that are sanctified in Christ Jesus, called to be saints, with all that in every place call upon the name of Jesus Christ our Lord, both theirs and ours:

3 <sup>c</sup> Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

4 <sup>d</sup> I thank my God always on your behalf, for the grace of God which is given you by Jesus Christ;

5 <sup>e</sup> That in every thing ye are enriched by him, in all utterance, and in all knowledge;

6 <sup>f</sup> Even as the testimony of Christ was confirmed in you:

7 <sup>g</sup> So that ye come behind in no gift; waiting for the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ:

8 <sup>h</sup> Who shall also confirm you unto the end, that ye may be blameless in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ.

9 <sup>i</sup> God is faithful, by whom ye were called unto the fellowship of his Son Jesus Christ our Lord.

10 <sup>k</sup> Now I beseech you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you; but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgment.

11 <sup>l</sup> For it hath been declared unto me of you, my brethren, by them which are of the house of Chloe, that there are contentions among you.

12 <sup>m</sup> Now this I say, that every one of you saith, I am of Paul; and I of Apollos; and I of Cephas; and I of Christ.

13 <sup>n</sup> Is Christ divided? was Paul crucified for you? or were ye baptized in the name of Paul?

14 <sup>o</sup> I thank God that I baptized none of you but Crispus and Gaius;

15 Lest any should say that I had baptized in mine own name.

16 <sup>p</sup> And I baptized also the household of Stephanas: besides, I know not whether I baptized any other.

17 <sup>q</sup> For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the gospel: not with wisdom of words, lest the cross of Christ should be made of none effect.

18 <sup>r</sup> For the preaching of the cross is to them that

24 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

25 <sup>p</sup> Now to him that is of power to establish you according to my gospel and the preaching of Jesus Christ, (according to the revelation of the mystery, which was kept secret since the world began,

26 <sup>q</sup> But now is made manifest, and by the scriptures of the prophets, according to the commandment of the everlasting God, made known to all nations for the obedience of faith;)

27 <sup>r</sup> To God only wise, be glory, through Jesus Christ, for ever. Amen.

perish foolishness; but unto us which are saved it is the power of God.

19 <sup>a</sup> For it is written, I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and will bring to nothing the understanding of the prudent.

20 <sup>b</sup> Where is the wise? where is the scribe? where is the disputer of this world? hath not God made foolish the wisdom of this world?

21 <sup>c</sup> For after that, in the wisdom of God, the world by wisdom knew not God, it pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe.

22 <sup>d</sup> For the Jews require a sign, and the Greeks seek after wisdom:

23 <sup>e</sup> But we preach Christ crucified, unto the Jews a stumbling-block, and unto the Greeks foolishness;

24 <sup>f</sup> But unto them which are called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ the power of God, and the wisdom of God.

25 Because the foolishness of God is wiser than men; and the weakness of God is stronger than men.

26 <sup>g</sup> For ye see your calling, brethren, how that not many wise men after the flesh, not many mighty, not many noble, are called:

27 <sup>h</sup> But God hath chosen the foolish things of the world, to confound the wise; and God hath chosen the weak things of the world, to confound the things which are mighty;

28 <sup>i</sup> And base things of the world, and things which are despised, hath God chosen, yea, and things which are not, to bring to nought things that are,

29 <sup>j</sup> That no flesh should glory in his presence.

30 <sup>k</sup> But of him are ye in Christ Jesus, who of God is made unto us wisdom, and righteousness, and sanctification, and redemption:

31 <sup>l</sup> That, according as it is written, He that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord.

CHAPTER II.

1 How Paul preached the gospel; 6 which is God's wise counsel for men's salvation.

AND I, brethren, when I came to you, came not with excellency of speech or of wisdom, declaring unto you the testimony of God:

2 <sup>b</sup> For I determined not to know any thing among you, save Jesus Christ, and him crucified.

3 <sup>c</sup> And I was with you in weakness, and in fear, and in much trembling.

4 <sup>d</sup> And my speech and my preaching was not with enticing words of man's wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power.

5<sup>e</sup> That your faith should not stand in the wisdom of men, but in the power of God.

6<sup>f</sup> Howbeit we speak wisdom among them that are perfect: yet not the wisdom of this world, nor of the princes of this world that come to nought:

7<sup>g</sup> But we speak the wisdom of God in a mystery, even the hidden wisdom, which God ordained before the world unto our glory:

8<sup>h</sup> Which none of the princes of this world knew: for had they known it, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory.

9<sup>i</sup> But, as it is written, Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him.

10<sup>k</sup> But God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God.

11<sup>l</sup> For what man knoweth the things of a man, save the spirit of man which is in him? even so the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God.

12<sup>m</sup> Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the Spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God.

13<sup>n</sup> Which things also we speak, not in the words which man's wisdom teacheth, but which the Holy Ghost teacheth; comparing spiritual things with spiritual.

14<sup>o</sup> But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishness unto him: neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned.

15<sup>p</sup> But he that is spiritual judgeth all things, yet he himself is judged of no man.

16<sup>q</sup> For who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he may instruct him? But we have the mind of Christ.

CHAPTER III.

1 How Paul dealt with weak believers....5 The most eminent preachers only instruments, &c.

AND I, brethren, could not speak unto you, as unto spiritual, but as unto carnal, even as unto babes in Christ.

2<sup>b</sup> I have fed you with milk, and not with meat: for hitherto ye were not able to bear it, neither yet now are ye able.

3<sup>c</sup> For ye are yet carnal: for whereas there is among you envying, and strife, and divisions, are ye not carnal, and walk as men?

4<sup>d</sup> For while one saith, I am of Paul; and another, I am of Apollos; are ye not carnal?

5<sup>e</sup> Who then is Paul, and who is Apollos, but ministers by whom ye believed, even as the Lord gave to every man?

6<sup>f</sup> I have planted, Apollos watered; but God gave the increase.

7<sup>g</sup> So then neither is he that planteth any thing, neither he that watereth; but God that giveth the increase.

8<sup>h</sup> Now he that planteth and he that watereth are one: and every man shall receive his own reward according to his own labour.

9<sup>i</sup> For we are labourers together with God: ye are God's husbandry, ye are God's building.

10<sup>k</sup> According to the grace of God which is given unto me, as a wise master-builder, I have laid the foundation, and another buildeth thereon. But let every man take heed how he buildeth thereupon.

11<sup>l</sup> For other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ.

12<sup>m</sup> Now if any man build upon this foundation, gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, stubble;

13<sup>n</sup> Every man's work shall be made manifest: for the day shall declare it, because it shall be revealed by fire; and the fire shall try every man's work, of what sort it is.

14<sup>o</sup> If any man's work abide which he hath built thereupon, he shall receive a reward.

15<sup>p</sup> If any man's work shall be burned, he shall suffer loss: but he himself shall be saved; yet so as by fire.

16<sup>q</sup> Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you?

17 If any man defile the temple of God, him shall God destroy; for the temple of God is holy, which temple ye are.

18<sup>r</sup> Let no man deceive himself. If any man among you seemeth to be wise in this world, let him become a fool, that he may be wise.

19<sup>s</sup> For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God: for it is written, He taketh the wise in their own craftiness.

20<sup>t</sup> And again, The Lord knoweth the thoughts of the wise, that they are vain.

21<sup>u</sup> Therefore let no man glory in men: for all things are yours:

22<sup>v</sup> Whether Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or the world, or life, or death, or things present, or things to come; all are yours:

23<sup>w</sup> And ye are Christ's; and Christ is God's.

CHAPTER IV.

1 How to account of Christ's ministers....8 To a self-sufficient vanity Paul opposeth his own afflicted state, &c.

LET a man so account of us, as of the ministers of Christ, and stewards of the mysteries of God.

2<sup>b</sup> Moreover, it is required in stewards, that a man be found faithful.

3<sup>c</sup> But with me it is a very small thing that I should be judged of you, or of man's judgment; yea, I judge not mine own self:

4<sup>d</sup> For I know nothing by myself; yet am I not hereby justified: but he that judgeth me is the Lord.

5<sup>e</sup> Therefore judge nothing before the time, until the Lord come, who both will bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and will make manifest the counsels of the hearts: and then shall every man have praise of God.

6<sup>f</sup> And these things, brethren, I have in a figure transferred to myself and to Apollos for your sakes; that ye might learn in us not to think of men above that which is written, that no one of you be puffed up for one against another.

7<sup>g</sup> For who maketh thee to differ from another? and what hast thou that thou didst not receive? Now if thou didst receive it, why dost thou glory as if thou hadst not received it?

8<sup>h</sup> Now ye are full, now ye are rich, ye have reigned as kings without us: and I would to God ye did reign; that we also might reign with you.

9<sup>i</sup> For I think that God hath set forth us the apostles last, as it were appointed to death: for we are made a spectacle unto the world, and to angels, and to men.

10<sup>k</sup> We are fools for Christ's sake, but ye are wise in Christ; we are weak, but ye are strong; ye are honourable, but we are despised.

i 1 Tim. 3, 7.

11 <sup>1</sup> Even unto this present hour we both hunger and thirst, and are naked, and are buffeted, and have no certain dwelling-place;

12 <sup>m</sup> And labour, working with our own hands: being reviled, we bless; being persecuted, we suffer it;

13 <sup>n</sup> Being defamed, we entreat: we are made as the filth of the world, and are the off-scouring of all things unto this day.

14 <sup>o</sup> I write not these things to shame you, but as my beloved sons I warn you.

15 <sup>p</sup> For though ye have ten thousand instructors in Christ, yet have ye not many fathers: for, in Christ Jesus, I have begotten you through the gospel.

16 <sup>q</sup> Wherefore, I beseech you, be ye followers of me.

17 <sup>r</sup> For this cause have I sent unto you Timotheus, who is my beloved son, and faithful in the Lord, who shall bring you into remembrance of my ways which be in Christ, as I teach every where in every church.

18 <sup>s</sup> Now some are puffed up, as though I would not come to you.

19 <sup>t</sup> But I will come to you shortly, if the Lord will; and will know, not the speech of them which are puffed up, but the power.

20 <sup>u</sup> For the kingdom of God is not in word, but in power.

21 <sup>x</sup> What will ye? shall I come unto you with a rod, or in love, and in the spirit of meekness?

CHAPTER V.

1 Of the incestuous person....6 Of necessity the old leaven must be purged out, &c.

IT is reported commonly that there is fornication among you, and such fornication as is not so much as named among the Gentiles, that one should have his father's wife.

2 <sup>b</sup> And ye are puffed up, and have not rather mourned, that he that hath done this deed might be taken away from among you.

3 <sup>c</sup> For I verily, as absent in body, but present in spirit, have judged already, as though I were present, concerning him that hath so done this deed;

4 <sup>d</sup> In the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, when ye are gathered together, and my spirit, with the power of our Lord Jesus Christ,

5 <sup>e</sup> To deliver such a one unto Satan for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Jesus.

6 <sup>f</sup> Your glorying is not good. Know ye not that a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump?

7 <sup>g</sup> Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened. For even Christ our passover is sacrificed for us:

8 <sup>h</sup> Therefore let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness, but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.

9 <sup>i</sup> I wrote unto you in an epistle, not to company with fornicators.

10 <sup>k</sup> Yet not altogether with the fornicators of this world, or with the covetous, or extortioners, or with idolaters; for then must ye needs go out of the world.

11 <sup>l</sup> But now I have written unto you not to keep company, if any man that is called a brother be a fornicator, or covetous, or an idolater, or a railer, or a drunkard, or an extortioner; with such a one no not to eat.

12 <sup>m</sup> For what have I to do to judge them also that are without? do not ye judge them that are within?

13 <sup>a</sup> But them that are without God judgeth. Therefore put away from among yourselves that wicked person.

CHAPTER VI.

1 Of bringing controversies before heathen judges....7 How lawsuits may be avoided.

DARE any of you, having a matter against another, go to law before the unjust, and not before the saints?

2 <sup>a</sup> Do ye not know that the saints shall judge the world? and if the world shall be judged by you, are ye unworthy to judge the smallest matters?

3 <sup>b</sup> Know ye not that we shall judge angels? how much more things that pertain to this life?

4 If then ye have judgments of things pertaining to this life, set them to judge who are least esteemed in the church.

5 I speak to your shame. Is it so, that there is not a wise man among you? no, not one that shall be able to judge between his brethren?

6 <sup>c</sup> But brother goeth to law with brother, and that before the unbelievers.

7 Now therefore there is utterly a fault among you, because ye go to law one with another. Why do ye not rather take wrong? why do ye not rather suffer yourselves to be defrauded?

8 Nay, ye do wrong, and defraud, and that your brethren.

9 <sup>d</sup> Know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived; neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with mankind,

10 Nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor extortioners, shall inherit the kingdom of God.

11 <sup>e</sup> And such were some of you: but ye are washed, but ye are sanctified, but ye are justified in the name of the Lord Jesus, and by the Spirit of our God.

12 <sup>f</sup> All things are lawful unto me, but all things are not expedient: all things are lawful for me, but I will not be brought under the power of any.

13 <sup>g</sup> Meats for the belly, and the belly for meats: but God shall destroy both it and them. Now the body is not for fornication, but for the Lord; and the Lord for the body.

14 <sup>h</sup> And God hath both raised up the Lord, and will also raise up us by his own power.

15 <sup>i</sup> Know ye not that your bodies are the members of Christ? shall I then take the members of Christ, and make them the members of a harlot? God forbid.

16 <sup>k</sup> What! know ye not that he which is joined to a harlot is one body? for two, saith he, shall be one flesh.

17 <sup>l</sup> But he that is joined unto the Lord is one spirit.

18 <sup>m</sup> Flee fornication. Every sin that a man doeth is without the body; but he that committeth fornication sinneth against his own body.

19 <sup>a</sup> What! know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own?

20 <sup>o</sup> For ye are bought with a price: therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God's.

CHAPTER VII.

2 Nevertheless, to avoid fornication, let every man have his own wife, and let every woman have her own husband.

3<sup>b</sup> Let the husband render unto the wife due benevolence: and likewise also the wife unto the husband.

4<sup>c</sup> The wife hath not power of her own body, but the husband: and likewise also the husband hath not power of his own body, but the wife.

5<sup>d</sup> Defraud ye not one the other, except it be with consent for a time, that ye may give yourselves to fasting and prayer; and come together again, that Satan tempt you not for your incontinency.

6<sup>e</sup> But I speak this by permission, and not of commandment.

7<sup>f</sup> For I would that all men were even as I myself. But every man hath his proper gift of God, one after this manner, and another after that.

8 I say therefore to the unmarried and widows, It is good for them if they abide even as I.

9<sup>g</sup> But if they cannot contain, let them marry: for it is better to marry than to burn.

10<sup>h</sup> And unto the married I command, yet not I, but the Lord, Let not the wife depart from her husband:

11 But and if she depart, let her remain unmarried, or be reconciled to her husband: and let not the husband put away his wife.

12 But to the rest speak I, not the Lord: If any brother hath a wife that believeth not, and she be pleased to dwell with him, let him not put her away.

13<sup>i</sup> And the woman which hath a husband that believeth not, and if he be pleased to dwell with her, let her not leave him.

14 For the unbelieving husband is sanctified by the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified by the husband: else were your children unclean; but now are they holy.

15<sup>k</sup> But if the unbelieving depart, let him depart. A brother or a sister is not under bondage in such cases: but God hath called us to peace.

16<sup>l</sup> For what knowest thou, O wife, whether thou shalt save thy husband? or how knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt save thy wife?

17 But as God hath distributed to every man, as the Lord hath called every one, so let him walk. And so ordain I in all churches.

18<sup>m</sup> Is any man called being circumcised? let him not become uncircumcised. Is any called in uncircumcision? let him not be circumcised.

19<sup>n</sup> Circumcision is nothing, and uncircumcision is nothing, but the keeping of the commandments of God.

20<sup>o</sup> Let every man abide in the same calling wherein he was called.

21<sup>p</sup> Art thou called being a servant? care not for it: but if thou mayest be made free, use it rather.

22<sup>q</sup> For he that is called in the Lord, being a servant, is the Lord's freeman: likewise also he that is called, being free, is Christ's servant.

23<sup>r</sup> Ye are bought with a price; be not ye the servants of men.

24 Brethren, let every man wherein he is called, therein abide with God.

25<sup>s</sup> Now concerning virgins I have no commandment of the Lord, yet I give my judgment, as one that hath obtained mercy of the Lord to be faithful.

26<sup>t</sup> I suppose therefore that this is good for the present distress; I say, that it is good for a man so to be.

27 Art thou bound unto a wife? seek not to be loosed. Art thou loosed from a wife? seek not a wife.

28<sup>u</sup> But and if thou marry, thou hast not sinned; and if a virgin marry, she hath not sinned. Nevertheless such shall have trouble in the flesh: but I spare you.

29<sup>v</sup> But this I say, brethren, the time is short: it remaineth, that both they that have wives be as though they had none;

30 And they that weep, as though they wept not; and they that rejoice, as though they rejoiced not; and they that buy, as though they possessed not;

31<sup>w</sup> And they that use this world, as not abusing it: for the fashion of this world passeth away.

32<sup>x</sup> But I would have you without carefulness. He that is unmarried careth for the things that belong to the Lord, how he may please the Lord:

33 But he that is married careth for the things that are of the world, how he may please his wife.

34<sup>y</sup> There is difference also between a wife and a virgin. The unmarried woman careth for the things of the Lord, that she may be holy both in body and in spirit: but she that is married careth for the things of the world, how she may please her husband.

35<sup>z</sup> And this I speak for your own profit; not that I may cast a snare upon you, but for that which is comely, and that ye may attend upon the Lord without distraction.

36 But if any man think that he behaveth himself uncomely toward his virgin, if she pass the flower of her age, and need so require, let him do what he will, he sinneth not: let them marry.

37 Nevertheless he that standeth steadfast in his heart, having no necessity, but hath power over his own will, and hath so decreed in his heart that he will keep his virgin, doeth well.

38<sup>a</sup> So then, he that giveth her in marriage doeth well; but he that giveth her not in marriage doeth better.

39<sup>b</sup> The wife is bound by the law as long as her husband liveth; but if her husband be dead, she is at liberty to be married to whom she will; only in the Lord.

40<sup>c</sup> But she is happier if she so abide, after my judgment: and I think also that I have the Spirit of God.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 Charity preferable to knowledge....4 An idol is nothing to those who rightly know God.

NOW as touching things offered unto idols, we know that we all have knowledge. Knowledge puffeth up, but charity edifieth.

2<sup>b</sup> And if any man think that he knoweth any thing, he knoweth nothing yet as he ought to know.

3<sup>c</sup> But if any man love God, the same is known of him.

4<sup>d</sup> As concerning therefore the eating of those things that are offered in sacrifice unto idols, we know that an idol is nothing in the world, and that there is none other God but one.

5<sup>e</sup> For though there be that are called gods, whether in heaven or in earth, (as there be gods many, and lords many,)

6<sup>f</sup> But to us there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we in him; and one Lord Jesus Christ, by whom are all things, and we by him.

7<sup>g</sup> Howbeit there is not in every man that knowledge : for some with conscience of the idol unto this hour, eat it as a thing offered unto an idol ; and their conscience being weak is defiled.

8<sup>h</sup> But meat commendeth us not to God : for neither, if we eat, are we the better ; neither, if we eat not, are we the worse.

9<sup>i</sup> But take heed lest by any means this liberty of yours become a stumbling-block to them that are weak.

10<sup>k</sup> For if any man see thee, which hast knowledge, sit at meat in the idol's temple, shall not the conscience of him which is weak be emboldened to eat those things which are offered to idols ;

11<sup>l</sup> And through thy knowledge shall the weak brother perish, for whom Christ died ?

12<sup>m</sup> But when ye sin so against the brethren, and wound their weak conscience, ye sin against Christ.

13<sup>n</sup> Wherefore, if meat make my brother to offend, I will eat no flesh while the world standeth, lest I make my brother to offend.

CHAPTER IX.

1 Paul asserteth his apostolical character, 3 and right to a maintenance : 24 he striveth to obtain an incorruptible crown.

AM I not an apostle ? am I not free ? have I not seen Jesus Christ our Lord ? are not ye my work in the Lord ?

2<sup>b</sup> If I be not an apostle unto others, yet doubtless I am to you : for the seal of mine apostleship are ye in the Lord.

3 Mine answer to them that do examine me is this ;

4<sup>c</sup> Have we not power to eat and to drink ?

5<sup>d</sup> Have we not power to lead about a sister, a wife, as well as other apostles, and as the brethren of the Lord, and Cephas ?

6<sup>e</sup> Or I only and Barnabas, have not we power to forbear working ?

7<sup>f</sup> Who goeth a warfare at any time at his own charges ? who planteth a vineyard, and eateth not of the fruit thereof ? or who feedeth a flock, and eateth not of the milk of the flock ?

8 Say I these things as a man ? or saith not the law the same also ?

9<sup>g</sup> For it is written in the law of Moses, Thou shalt not muzzle the mouth of the ox that treadeth out the corn. Doth God take care for oxen ?

10<sup>h</sup> Or saith he it altogether for our sakes ? For our sakes, no doubt, this is written : that he that ploweth should plow in hope ; and that he that thresheth in hope should be partaker of his hope.

11<sup>i</sup> If we have sown unto you spiritual things, is it a great thing if we shall reap your carnal things ?

12<sup>k</sup> If others be partakers of this power over you, are not we rather ? Nevertheless we have not used this power ; but suffer all things, lest we should hinder the gospel of Christ.

13<sup>l</sup> Do ye not know, that they which minister about holy things live of the things of the temple ? and they which wait at the altar are partakers with the altar ?

14<sup>m</sup> Even so hath the Lord ordained, that they which preach the gospel should live of the gospel.

15<sup>n</sup> But I have used none of these things : neither have I written these things, that it should be so done unto me : for it were better for me to die than that any man should make my glorying void.

16<sup>o</sup> For though I preach the gospel, I have nothing to glory of : for necessity is laid upon me ; yea, wo is unto me if I preach not the gospel !

17<sup>p</sup> For if I do this thing willingly, I have a reward : but if against my will, a dispensation of the gospel is committed unto me.

18<sup>q</sup> What is my reward then ? Verily that, when I preach the gospel, I may make the gospel of Christ without charge ; that I abuse not my power in the gospel.

19<sup>r</sup> For though I be free from all men, yet have I made myself servant unto all, that I might gain the more.

20<sup>s</sup> And unto the Jews I became as a Jew, that I might gain the Jews ; to them that are under the law, as under the law, that I might gain them that are under the law ;

21<sup>t</sup> To them that are without law, as without law, (being not without law to God, but under the law to Christ,) that I might gain them that are without law.

22<sup>u</sup> To the weak became I as weak, that I might gain the weak : I am made all things to all men, that I might by all means save some.

23 And this I do for the gospel's sake, that I may be partaker thereof with you.

24<sup>v</sup> Know ye not that they which run in a race run all, but one receiveth the prize ? So run, that ye may obtain.

25<sup>w</sup> And every man that striveth for the mastery is temperate in all things. Now they do it to obtain a corruptible crown ; but we an incorruptible.

26<sup>x</sup> I therefore so run, not as uncertainly ; so fight I, not as one that beateth the air :

27<sup>y</sup> But I keep under my body, and bring it into subjection ; lest that by any means, when I have preached to others, I myself should be a cast-away.

CHAPTER X.

1 The Jews had sacraments typical of ours...6 Christians must not lust after evil things : 7 they must avoid idolatry ; 13 God will in affliction make a way for them to escape, &c.

MOREOVER, brethren, I would not that ye should be ignorant, how that all our fathers were under the cloud, and all passed through the sea ;

2 And were all baptized unto Moses in the cloud and in the sea ;

3<sup>b</sup> And did all eat the same spiritual meat ;

4<sup>c</sup> And did all drink the same spiritual drink ; for they drank of that spiritual Rock that followed them : and that Rock was Christ.

5<sup>d</sup> But with many of them God was not well pleased ; for they were overthrown in the wilderness.

6<sup>e</sup> Now these things were our examples, to the intent we should not lust after evil things, as they also lusted.

7<sup>f</sup> Neither be ye idolaters, as were some of them ; as it is written, The people sat down to eat and drink, and rose up to play.

8<sup>g</sup> Neither let us commit fornication, as some of them committed, and fell in one day, three and twenty thousand.

9<sup>h</sup> Neither let us tempt Christ, as some of them also tempted, and were destroyed of serpents.

10<sup>i</sup> Neither murmur ye, as some of them also murmured, and were destroyed of the destroyer.

11<sup>j</sup> Now all these things happened unto them for ensamples : and they are written for our admonition, upon whom the ends of the world are come.

12<sup>k</sup> Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall.

13 <sup>m</sup> There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man : but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able ; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it.

14 <sup>n</sup> Wherefore, my dearly beloved, flee from idolatry.

15 <sup>o</sup> I speak as to wise men ; judge ye what I say.

16 <sup>p</sup> The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? the bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ?

17 <sup>q</sup> For we, being many, are one bread, and one body ; for we are all partakers of that one bread.

18 <sup>r</sup> Behold Israel after the flesh : are not they which eat of the sacrifices partakers of the altar ?

19 <sup>s</sup> What say I then ? that the idol is any thing ? or that which is offered in sacrifice to idols is any thing ?

20 <sup>t</sup> But I say, that the things which the Gentiles sacrifice, they sacrifice to devils, and not to God : and I would not that ye should have fellowship with devils.

21 <sup>u</sup> Ye cannot drink the cup of the Lord, and the cup of devils : ye cannot be partakers of the Lord's table, and of the table of devils.

22 <sup>x</sup> Do we provoke the Lord to jealousy ? are we stronger than he ?

23 <sup>y</sup> All things are lawful for me, but all things are not expedient : all things are lawful for me, but all things edify not.

24 <sup>z</sup> Let no man seek his own, but every man another's wealth.

25 <sup>a</sup> Whatsoever is sold in the shambles, that eat, asking no question for conscience' sake :

26 <sup>b</sup> For the earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof.

27 <sup>c</sup> If any of them that believe not bid you to a feast, and ye be disposed to go : whatsoever is set before you, eat, asking no question for conscience' sake.

28 <sup>d</sup> But if any man say unto you, This is offered in sacrifice unto idols ; eat not for his sake that shewed it, and for conscience' sake : for the earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof :

29 <sup>e</sup> Conscience, I say, not thine own, but of the other : for why is my liberty judged of another man's conscience ?

30 <sup>f</sup> For, if I by grace be a partaker, why am I evil spoken of, for that for which I give thanks ?

31 <sup>g</sup> Whether therefore ye eat or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God.

32 <sup>h</sup> Give none offence, neither to the Jews, nor to the Gentiles, nor to the church of God :

33 <sup>i</sup> Even as I please all men in all things, not seeking mine own profit, but the profit of many, that they may be saved.

CHAPTER XI.

<sup>j</sup> He exhorteth them, 3 and forbiddeth men to pray or prophesy with their heads covered, and women with their heads uncovered....23 Of the Lord's supper.

BE ye followers of me, even as I also am of Christ. 2 <sup>b</sup> Now I praise you, brethren, that ye remember me in all things, and keep the ordinances, as I delivered them to you.

3 <sup>c</sup> But I would have you know, that the head of every man is Christ ; and the head of the woman is the man, and the head of Christ is God.

4 <sup>d</sup> Every man praying or prophesying, having his head covered, dishonoureth his head.

5 <sup>e</sup> But every woman that prayeth or prophesieth with her head uncovered, dishonoureth her head : for that is even all one as if she were shaven.

6 <sup>f</sup> For if the woman be not covered, let her also be shorn : but if it be a shame for a woman to be shorn or shaven, let her be covered.

7 <sup>g</sup> For a man indeed ought not to cover his head, forasmuch as he is the image and glory of God : but the woman is the glory of the man.

8 <sup>h</sup> For the man is not of the woman ; but the woman of the man :

9 Neither was the man created for the woman, but the woman for the man.

10 <sup>i</sup> For this cause ought the woman to have power on her head because of the angels.

11 Nevertheless, neither is the man without the woman, neither the woman without the man, in the Lord.

12 <sup>k</sup> For as the woman is of the man, even so is the man also by the woman ; but all things of God.

13 Judge in yourselves : is it comely that a woman pray unto God uncovered ?

14 Doth not even nature itself teach you, that, if a man have long hair, it is a shame unto him ?

15 But if a woman have long hair, it is a glory to her : for her hair is given her for a covering.

16 <sup>l</sup> But if any man seem to be contentious, we have no such custom, neither the churches of God.

17 Now in this that I declare unto you I praise you not, that ye come together not for the better, but for the worse.

18 <sup>m</sup> For first of all, when ye come together in the church, I hear that there be divisions among you ; and I partly believe it.

19 <sup>n</sup> For there must be also heresies among you, that they which are approved may be made manifest among you.

20 When ye come together therefore into one place, this is not to eat the Lord's supper.

21 <sup>o</sup> For in eating, every one taketh before other his own supper : and one is hungry, and another is drunken.

22 <sup>p</sup> What ! have ye not houses to eat and to drink in ? or despise ye the church of God, and shame them that have not ? What shall I say to you ? shall I praise you in this ? I praise you not.

23 <sup>q</sup> For I have received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you, That the Lord Jesus, the same night in which he was betrayed, took bread :

24 And when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said, Take, eat ; this is my body, which is broken for you : this do in remembrance of me.

25 After the same manner also he took the cup, when he had supped, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood : this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me.

26 <sup>r</sup> For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do shew the Lord's death till he come.

27 <sup>s</sup> Wherefore, whosoever shall eat this bread, and drink this cup of the Lord, unworthily, shall be guilty of the body and blood of the Lord.

28 <sup>t</sup> But let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup.

29 <sup>u</sup> For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh damnation to himself, not discerning the Lord's body.

30 For this cause many are weak and sickly among you, and many sleep.

31 <sup>x</sup> For if we would judge ourselves, we should not be judged

34<sup>z</sup> And if any man hunger, let him eat at home; that ye come not together unto condemnation. And the rest will I set in order when I come.

CHAPTER XII.

1 Spiritual gifts are diverse, 7 yet to profit withal, 8 and to that end are all diversely bestowed of God for the general good.

NOW concerning spiritual gifts, brethren, I would not have you ignorant.

2<sup>b</sup> Ye know that ye were Gentiles, carried away unto these dumb idols, even as ye were led.

3<sup>c</sup> Wherefore I give you to understand, that no man speaking by the Spirit of God calleth Jesus accursed; and that no man can say that Jesus is the Lord, but by the Holy Ghost.

4<sup>d</sup> Now there are diversities of gifts, but the same Spirit.

5<sup>e</sup> And there are differences of administrations, but the same Lord.

6<sup>f</sup> And there are diversities of operations; but it is the same God which worketh all in all.

7<sup>g</sup> But the manifestation of the Spirit is given to every man to profit withal.

8<sup>h</sup> For to one is given, by the Spirit, the word of wisdom; to another the word of knowledge, by the same Spirit;

9<sup>i</sup> To another faith, by the same Spirit; to another the gifts of healing, by the same Spirit;

10<sup>k</sup> To another the working of miracles; to another prophecy; to another discerning of spirits; to another divers kinds of tongues; to another the interpretation of tongues:

11<sup>l</sup> But all these worketh that one and the self-same Spirit, dividing to every man severally as he will.

12<sup>m</sup> For as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of that one body, being many, are one body, so also is Christ.

13<sup>n</sup> For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free; and have been all made to drink into one Spirit.

14 For the body is not one member, but many.

15 If the foot shall say, Because I am not of the hand, I am not of the body; is it therefore not of the body?

16 And if the ear shall say, Because I am not the eye, I am not of the body; is it therefore not of the body?

17 If the whole body were an eye, where were the hearing? if the whole were hearing, where were the smelling?

18<sup>o</sup> But now hath God set the members, every one of them in the body, as it hath pleased him.

19 And if they were all one member, where were the body?

20 But now are they many members, yet but one body.

21 And the eye cannot say unto the hand, I have no need of thee: nor again, the head to the feet, I have no need of you.

22 Nay, much more, those members of the body which seem to be more feeble, are necessary;

23 And those members of the body which we think to be less honourable, upon these we bestow more abundant honour; and our uncomely parts have more abundant comeliness.

24 For our comely parts have no need: but God hath tempered the body together, having given more abundant honour to that part which lacked:

25 That there should be no schism in the body; but that the members should have the same care one for another.

26 And whether one member suffer, all the members suffer with it; or one member be honoured, all the members rejoice with it.

27<sup>p</sup> Now ye are the body of Christ, and members in particular.

28<sup>q</sup> And God hath set some in the church; first, apostles; secondarily, prophets; thirdly, teachers; after that, miracles; then gifts of healings, helps in governments, diversities of tongues.

29 Are all apostles? are all prophets? are all teachers? are all workers of miracles?

30 Have all the gifts of healing? do all speak with tongues? do all interpret?

31<sup>r</sup> But covet earnestly the best gifts: and yet shew I unto you a more excellent way.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 All gifts, however excellent, are nothing without charity; 4 the praise thereof.

THOUGH I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal.

2<sup>a</sup> And though I have the gift of prophecy, and understand all mysteries, and all knowledge; and though I have all faith, so that I could remove mountains, and have not charity, I am nothing.

3<sup>b</sup> And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing.

4<sup>c</sup> Charity suffereth long, and is kind; charity envieth not; charity vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up,

5<sup>d</sup> Doth not behave itself unseemly, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil;

6<sup>e</sup> Rejoiceth not in iniquity, but rejoiceth in the truth;

7<sup>f</sup> Beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

8<sup>g</sup> Charity never faileth: but whether there be prophecies, they shall fail; whether there be tongues, they shall cease; whether there be knowledge, it shall vanish away.

9 For we know in part, and we prophesy in part;

10 But when that which is perfect is come, then that which is in part shall be done away.

11 When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child; but when I became a man, I put away childish things.

12<sup>h</sup> For now we see through a glass, darkly; but then face to face: now I know in part; but then shall I know even as also I am known.

13 And now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity.

CHAPTER XIV.

FOLLOW after charity, and desire spiritual gifts; but rather that ye may prophesy.

speaketh not unto men, but unto God : for no man understandeth him ; howbeit in the spirit he speaketh mysteries.

3<sup>c</sup> But he that prophesieth speaketh unto men to edification, and exhortation, and comfort.

4 He that speaketh in an unknown tongue edifieth himself ; but he that prophesieth edifieth the church.

5 I would that ye all spake with tongues, but rather that ye prophesied : for greater is he that prophesieth than he that speaketh with tongues, except he interpret, that the church may receive edifying.

6<sup>d</sup> Now, brethren, if I come unto you speaking with tongues, what shall I profit you, except I shall speak to you either by revelation, or by knowledge, or by prophesying, or by doctrine ?

7 And even things without life giving sound, whether pipe or harp, except they give a distinction in the sounds, how shall it be known what is piped or harped ?

8 For if the trumpet give an uncertain sound, who shall prepare himself to the battle ?

9 So likewise ye, except ye utter by the tongue words easy to be understood, how shall it be known what is spoken ? for ye shall speak into the air.

10 There are, it may be, so many kinds of voices in the world, and none of them is without signification.

11 Therefore, if I know not the meaning of the voice, I shall be unto him that speaketh a barbarian ; and he that speaketh shall be a barbarian unto me.

12<sup>e</sup> Even so ye, forasmuch as ye are zealous of spiritual gifts, seek that ye may excel to the edifying of the church.

13<sup>f</sup> Wherefore, let him that speaketh in an unknown tongue, pray that he may interpret.

14<sup>g</sup> For if I pray in an unknown tongue, my spirit prayeth ; but my understanding is unfruitful.

15<sup>h</sup> What is it then ? I will pray with the spirit, and I will pray with the understanding also : I will sing with the spirit, and I will sing with the understanding also.

16<sup>i</sup> Else, when thou shalt bless with the spirit, how shall he that occupieth the room of the unlearned, say Amen at thy giving of thanks, seeing he understandeth not what thou sayest ?

17 For thou verily givest thanks well, but the other is not edified.

18<sup>k</sup> I thank my God, I speak with tongues more than ye all :

19 Yet in the church I had rather speak five words with my understanding, that by my voice I might teach others also, than ten thousand words in an unknown tongue.

20<sup>l</sup> Brethren, be not children in understanding : howbeit in malice be ye children ; but in understanding be men.

21<sup>m</sup> In the law it is written, With men of other tongues and other lips will I speak unto this people ; and yet for all that will they not hear me, saith the Lord.

22 Wherefore tongues are for a sign, not to them that believe, but to them that believe not : but prophesying serveth not for them that believe not, but for them which believe.

23 If therefore the whole church be come together into one place, and all speak with tongues, and there come in those that are unlearned or unbelievers, will they not say that ye are mad ?

24<sup>n</sup> But if all prophesy, and there come in one that believeth not, or one unlearned, he is convinced of all, he is judged of all :

25<sup>o</sup> And thus are the secrets of his heart made manifest ; and so, falling down on his face, he will worship God, and report that God is in you of a truth.

26<sup>p</sup> How is it then, brethren ? when ye come together, every one of you hath a psalm, hath a doctrine, hath a tongue, hath a revelation, hath an interpretation. Let all things be done unto edifying.

27 If any man speak in an unknown tongue, let it be by two, or at the most by three, and that by course ; and let one interpret.

28 But if there be no interpreter, let him keep silence in the church ; and let him speak to himself, and to God.

29<sup>q</sup> Let the prophets speak two or three, and let the other judge.

30 If any thing be revealed to another that sitteth by, let the first hold his peace.

31<sup>r</sup> For ye may all prophesy one by one, that all may learn, and all may be comforted.

32<sup>s</sup> And the || spirits of the prophets are subject to the prophets.

33<sup>t</sup> For God is not the author of confusion, but of peace, as in all churches of the saints.

34<sup>u</sup> Let your women keep silence in the churches : for it is not permitted unto them to speak ; but they are commanded to be under obedience, as also saith the law.

35 And if they will learn any thing, let them ask their husbands at home : for it is a shame for women to speak in the church.

36 What ! came the word of God out from you ? or came it unto you only ?

37<sup>v</sup> If any man think himself to be a prophet, or spiritual, let him acknowledge that the things that I write unto you are the commandments of the Lord.

38<sup>w</sup> But if any man be ignorant, let him be ignorant.

39<sup>x</sup> Wherefore, brethren, covet to prophesy, and forbid not to speak with tongues.

40<sup>y</sup> Let all things be done decently and in order.

CHAPTER XV.

3 By Christ's resurrection the apostle inferreth the necessity of our resurrection....23 Christ the first-fruits....35 The manner of the resurrection, &c.

<sup>a</sup> MOREOVER, brethren, I declare unto you the gospel which I preached unto you, which also ye have received, and wherein ye stand :

2<sup>b</sup> By which also ye are saved, if ye keep in memory what I preached unto you, unless ye have believed in vain.

3<sup>c</sup> For I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures ;

4<sup>d</sup> And that he was buried, and that he rose again the third day according to the scriptures :

5<sup>e</sup> And that he was seen of Cephas, then of the twelve :

6<sup>f</sup> After that, he was seen of above five hundred brethren at once ; of whom the greater part remain unto this present, but some are fallen asleep.

7<sup>g</sup> After that, he was seen of James ; then of all the apostles.

8<sup>h</sup> And last of all he was seen of me also, as of one born out of due time,

9<sup>i</sup> For I am the least of the apostles, that am not meet to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the church of God.

10 <sup>k</sup> But by the grace of God I am what I am . and his grace which was bestowed upon me was not in vain ; but I laboured more abundantly than they all : yet not I, but the grace of God which was with me.

11 Therefore whether it were I or they, so we preach, and so ye believed.

12 <sup>l</sup> Now if Christ be preached that he rose from the dead, how say some among you that there is no resurrection of the dead ?

13 <sup>m</sup> But if there be no resurrection of the dead, then is Christ not risen :

14 And if Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vain, and your faith is also vain.

15 <sup>n</sup> Yea, and we are found false witnesses of God ; because we have testified of God that he raised up Christ : whom he raised not up, if so be that the dead rise not.

16 For if the dead rise not, then is not Christ raised :

17 <sup>o</sup> And if Christ be not raised, your faith is vain ; ye are yet in your sins.

18 Then they also which are fallen asleep in Christ, are perished.

19 <sup>p</sup> If in this life only we have hope in Christ, we are of all men most miserable.

20 <sup>q</sup> But now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first-fruits of them that slept.

21 <sup>r</sup> For since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead.

22 For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive.

23 <sup>s</sup> But every man in his own order ; Christ the first-fruits ; afterward they that are Christ's, at his coming.

24 <sup>t</sup> Then cometh the end, when he shall have delivered up the kingdom to God, even the Father ; when he shall have put down all rule and all authority and power.

25 <sup>u</sup> For he must reign, till he hath put all enemies under his feet.

26 <sup>v</sup> The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death.

27 <sup>w</sup> For he hath put all things under his feet. But when he saith, All things are put under him ; it is manifest that he is excepted which did put all things under him.

28 <sup>x</sup> And when all things shall be subdued unto him, then shall the Son also himself be subject unto him that put all things under him, that God may be all in all.

29 Else what shall they do which are baptized for the dead, if the dead rise not at all ? why are they then baptized for the dead ?

30 <sup>y</sup> And why stand we in jeopardy every hour ?

31 <sup>z</sup> I protest by your rejoicing which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord, I die daily.

32 <sup>a</sup> If after the manner of men I have fought with beasts at Ephesus, what advantageth it me, if the dead rise not ? Let us eat and drink, for to-morrow we die.

33 Be not deceived : evil communications corrupt good manners.

34 <sup>b</sup> Awake to righteousness, and sin not ; for some have not the knowledge of God : I speak this to your shame.

35 <sup>c</sup> But some man will say, How are the dead raised up ? and with what body do they come ?

36 <sup>d</sup> Thou fool ! that which thou sowest is not quickened, except it die :

37 And that which thou sowest, thou sowest not that body that shall be, but bare grain, it may chance of wheat, or of some other grain :

38 But God giveth it a body as it hath pleased him, and to every seed his own body.

39 All flesh is not the same flesh : but there is one kind of flesh of men, another flesh of beasts, another of fishes, and another of birds.

40 There are also celestial bodies, and bodies terrestrial : but the glory of the celestial is one, and the glory of the terrestrial is another.

41 <sup>e</sup> There is one glory of the sun, and another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars : for one star differeth from another star in glory.

42 So also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption ; it is raised in incorruption :

43 It is sown in dishonour ; it is raised in glory : it is sown in weakness ; it is raised in power :

44 It is sown a natural body ; it is raised a spiritual body. There is a natural body, and there is a spiritual body.

45 <sup>f</sup> And so it is written, The first man Adam was made a living soul ; the last Adam was made a quickening spirit.

46 Howbeit that was not first which is spiritual, but that which is natural ; and afterward that which is spiritual.

47 <sup>g</sup> The first man is of the earth, earthy : the second man is the Lord from heaven.

48 <sup>h</sup> As is the earthy, such are they also that are earthy : and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly.

49 <sup>i</sup> And as we have borne the image of the earthy, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly.

50 <sup>j</sup> Now this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God ; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption.

51 <sup>k</sup> Behold, I shew you a mystery : We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed, 52 <sup>l</sup> In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump : for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed.

53 <sup>m</sup> For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality.

54 <sup>n</sup> So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory.

55 O death, where is thy sting ? O grave, where is thy victory ?

56 <sup>o</sup> The sting of death is sin ; and the strength of sin is the law.

57 <sup>p</sup> But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

58 <sup>q</sup> Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord.

prove by your letters, them will I send to bring your liberality unto Jerusalem.

4 And if it be meet that I go also, they shall go with me.

5 <sup>a</sup> Now I will come unto you, when I shall pass through Macedonia: for I do pass through Macedonia.

6 <sup>e</sup> And it may be that I will abide, yea, and winter with you, that ye may bring me on my journey whithersoever I go.

7 <sup>f</sup> For I will not see you now by the way; but I trust to tarry a while with you, if the Lord permit.

8 <sup>g</sup> But I will tarry at Ephesus until Pentecost.

9 <sup>h</sup> For a great door and effectual is opened unto me, and there are many adversaries.

10 <sup>i</sup> Now if Timotheus come, see that he may be with you without fear: for he worketh the work of the Lord, as I also do.

11 <sup>k</sup> Let no man therefore despise him: but conduct him forth in peace, that he may come unto me; for I look for him with the brethren.

12 <sup>l</sup> As touching our brother Apollos, I greatly desired him to come unto you with the brethren: but his will was not at all to come at this time; but he will come when he shall have convenient time.

13 <sup>m</sup> Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong.

¶ The Second Epistle of PAUL, the Apostle, to the CORINTHIANS.

CHAPTER. I.

3 The apostle encourageth against troubles, 12 sheweth the sincerity of his preaching, 15 and excuseth his not coming to them.

<sup>a</sup> PAUL, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, and Timothy our brother, unto the church of God which is at Corinth, with all the saints which are in all Achaia:

2 <sup>b</sup> Grace be to you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 <sup>c</sup> Blessed be God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies, and the God of all comfort;

4 <sup>d</sup> Who comforteth us in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort them which are in any trouble, by the comfort wherewith we ourselves are comforted of God.

5 <sup>e</sup> For as the sufferings of Christ abound in us, so our consolation also aboundeth by Christ.

6 <sup>f</sup> And whether we be afflicted, it is for your consolation and salvation, which is effectual in the enduring of the same sufferings which we also suffer: or whether we be comforted, it is for your consolation and salvation.

7 <sup>g</sup> And our hope of you is steadfast, knowing, that as ye are partakers of the sufferings, so shall ye be also of the consolation.

8 <sup>h</sup> For we would not, brethren, have you ignorant of our trouble which came to us in Asia, that we were pressed out of measure, above strength, inasmuch that we despaired even of life:

9 <sup>i</sup> But we had the sentence of death in ourselves, that we should not trust in ourselves, but in God which raiseth the dead:

10 <sup>k</sup> Who delivered us from so great a death, and doth deliver: in whom we trust that he will yet deliver us,

11 <sup>l</sup> Ye also helping together by prayer for us, that 14 <sup>a</sup> Let all your things be done with charity.

15 <sup>e</sup> I beseech you, brethren, (ye know the house of Stephanas, that it is the first-fruits of Achaia, and that they have addicted themselves to the ministry of the saints,)

16 <sup>f</sup> That ye submit yourselves unto such, and to every one that helpeth with us, and laboureth.

17 <sup>g</sup> I am glad of the coming of Stephanas and Fortunatus and Achaicus: for that which was lacking on your part they have supplied.

18 <sup>h</sup> For they have refreshed my spirit and yours: therefore acknowledge ye them that are such.

19 <sup>i</sup> The churches of Asia salute you. Aquila and Priscilla salute you much in the Lord, with the church that is in their house.

20 <sup>k</sup> All the brethren greet you. Greet ye one another with a holy kiss.

22 If any man love not the Lord Jesus Christ, let him be Anathema, Maran-atha.

23 <sup>m</sup> The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you.

24 My love be with you all in Christ Jesus. Amen.

¶ The first epistle to the Corinthians was written from Philippi by Stephanas, and Fortunatus, and Achaicus, and Timotheus.

for the gift bestowed upon us by the means of many persons, thanks may be given by many on our behalf.

12 <sup>m</sup> For our rejoicing is this, the testimony of our conscience, that in simplicity and godly sincerity, not with fleshly wisdom, but by the grace of God, we have had our conversation in the world, and more abundantly to you-ward.

13 For we write none other things unto you than what ye read or acknowledge; and I trust ye shall acknowledge even to the end;

14 <sup>a</sup> As also ye have acknowledged us in part, that we are your rejoicing, even as ye also are ours in the day of the Lord Jesus.

15 <sup>e</sup> And in this confidence I was minded to come unto you before, that ye might have a second benefit;

16 And to pass by you into Macedonia, and to come again out of Macedonia unto you, and of you to be brought on my way toward Judea.

17 <sup>f</sup> When I therefore was thus minded, did I use lightness? or the things that I purpose, do I purpose according to the flesh, that with me there should be yea, yea, and nay, nay?

18 <sup>g</sup> But as God is true, our word toward you was not yea and nay.

19 <sup>h</sup> For the Son of God, Jesus Christ, who was preached among you by us, even by me and Silvanus and Timotheus, was not yea and nay, but in him was yea.

20 For all the promises of God in him are yea, and in him Amen, unto the glory of God by us.

21 <sup>i</sup> Now he which establisheth us with you in Christ, and hath anointed us, is God;

22 <sup>k</sup> Who hath also sealed us, and given the earnest of the Spirit in our hearts.

23 <sup>l</sup> Moreover I call God for a record upon my soul, that, to spare you, I came not as yet unto Corinth.

24 <sup>m</sup> Not for that we have dominion over your faith, but are helpers of your joy: for by faith ye stand.

CHAPTER II.

1 The reasons of Paul's not coming unto them....6 Of the excommunicated person.

BUT I determined this with myself, that I would not come again to you in heaviness.

2<sup>b</sup> For if I make you sorry, who is he then that maketh me glad, but the same which is made sorry by me?

3 And I wrote this same unto you, lest, when I came, I should have sorrow from them of whom I ought to rejoice; having confidence in you all, that my joy is the joy of you all.

4<sup>c</sup> For out of much affliction and anguish of heart I wrote unto you with many tears; not that ye should be grieved, but that ye might know the love which I have more abundantly unto you.

5<sup>d</sup> But if any have caused grief, he hath not grieved me, but in part: that I may not overcharge you all.

6<sup>e</sup> Sufficient to such a man is this punishment, which was inflicted of many.

7<sup>f</sup> So that contrariwise ye ought rather to forgive him, and comfort him, lest perhaps such a one should be swallowed up with overmuch sorrow.

8 Wherefore I beseech you, that ye would confirm your love toward him.

9<sup>g</sup> For to this end also did I write, that I might know the proof of you, whether ye be obedient in all things.

10<sup>h</sup> To whom ye forgive any thing, I forgive also: for if I forgave any thing, to whom I forgave it, for your sakes forgave I it in the person of Christ;

11<sup>i</sup> Lest Satan should get an advantage of us: for we are not ignorant of his devices.

12<sup>k</sup> Furthermore, when I came to Troas to preach Christ's gospel, and a door was opened unto me of the Lord, 13<sup>l</sup> I had no rest in my spirit, because I found not Titus my brother: but taking my leave of them, I went from thence unto Macedonia.

14<sup>m</sup> Now thanks be unto God, which always causeth us to triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest the savour of his knowledge by us in every place.

15<sup>n</sup> For we are unto God a sweet savour of Christ, in them that are saved, and in them that perish:

16<sup>o</sup> To the one we are the savour of death unto death; and to the other the savour of life unto life. And who is sufficient for these things?

17<sup>p</sup> For we are not as many, which corrupt the word of God: but as of sincerity, but as of God, in the sight of God, speak we in Christ.

CHAPTER III.

He sheweth that their gifts and graces were a sufficient commendation of his ministry.

DO we begin again to commend ourselves? or need we, as some others, epistles of commendation to you, or letters of commendation from you?

2<sup>b</sup> Ye are our epistle written in our hearts, known and read of all men:

3<sup>c</sup> Forasmuch as ye are manifestly declared to be the epistle of Christ ministered by us, written not with ink, but with the Spirit of the living God: not in tables of stone, but in fleshly tables of the heart.

4<sup>d</sup> And such trust have we through Christ to Godward:

5<sup>e</sup> Not that we are sufficient of ourselves to think any thing as of ourselves; but our sufficiency is of God;

6<sup>f</sup> Who also hath made us able ministers of the new testament; not of the letter, but of the spirit: for the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life.

7<sup>g</sup> But if the ministration of death, written and engraven in stones, was glorious, so that the children of Israel could not steadfastly behold the face of Moses for the glory of his countenance; which glory was to be done away;

8 How shall not the ministration of the Spirit be rather glorious?

9<sup>h</sup> For if the ministration of condemnation be glory, much more doth the ministration of righteousness exceed in glory.

10 For even that which was made glorious had no glory in this respect, by reason of the glory that excelleth.

11 For if that which is done away was glorious, much more that which remaineth is glorious.

12<sup>i</sup> Seeing then that we have such hope, we use great plainness of speech:

13<sup>k</sup> And not as Moses, which put a vail over his face, that the children of Israel could not steadfastly look to the end of that which is abolished:

14<sup>l</sup> But their minds were blinded; for until this day remaineth the same vail untaken away in the reading of the old testament: which vail is done away in Christ.

15 But even unto this day, when Moses is read, the vail is upon their heart.

16<sup>m</sup> Nevertheless, when it shall turn to the Lord, the vail shall be taken away.

17<sup>n</sup> Now the Lord is that Spirit: and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty.

18<sup>o</sup> But we all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord.

CHAPTER IV.

1 Paul's unwearied diligence and zeal in preaching; 7 his troubles for the same.

THEREFORE, seeing we have this ministry, as we have received mercy, we faint not;

2<sup>b</sup> But have renounced the hidden things of dishonesty, not walking in craftiness, nor handling the word of God deceitfully; but by manifestation of the truth, commending ourselves to every man's conscience in the sight of God.

3<sup>c</sup> But if our gospel be hid, it is hid to them that are lost:

4<sup>d</sup> In whom the god of this world hath blinded the minds of them which believe not, lest the light of the glorious gospel of Christ, who is the image of God, should shine unto them.

5<sup>e</sup> For we preach not ourselves, but Christ Jesus the Lord; and ourselves your servants for Jesus' sake.

6<sup>f</sup> For God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ.

7<sup>g</sup> But we have this treasure in earthen vessels, that the excellency of the power may be of God, and not of us.

8<sup>h</sup> We are troubled on every side, yet not distressed; we are perplexed, but not in despair;

9<sup>i</sup> Persecuted, but not forsaken; cast down, but not destroyed;

10<sup>k</sup> Always bearing about in the body the dying of the Lord Jesus, that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our body.

11<sup>l</sup> For we which live are always delivered unto death for Jesus' sake, that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our mortal flesh.

12<sup>m</sup> So then death worketh in us, but life in you.

13<sup>n</sup> We having the same spirit of faith, according as it is written, I believed, and therefore have I spoken; we also believe, and therefore speak,

14<sup>o</sup> Knowing that he which raised up the Lord Jesus, shall raise up us also by Jesus, and shall present us with you.

15<sup>p</sup> For all things are for your sakes, that the abundant grace might, through the thanksgiving of many, redound to the glory of God.

16<sup>q</sup> For which cause we faint not; but though our outward man perish, yet the inward man is renewed day by day.

17<sup>r</sup> For our light affliction, which is but for a moment, worketh for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory;

18<sup>s</sup> While we look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen: for the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal.

CHAPTER V.

Paul, in assured hope of immortal glory, laboureth to approve himself to Christ, &c.

FOR we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.

2<sup>b</sup> For in this we groan, earnestly desiring to be clothed upon with our house which is from heaven:

3<sup>c</sup> If so be that being clothed we shall not be found naked.

4<sup>d</sup> For we that are in this tabernacle do groan, being burdened: not for that we would be unclothed, but clothed upon, that mortality might be swallowed up of life.

5<sup>e</sup> Now he that hath wrought us for the self-same thing is God, who also hath given unto us the earnest of the Spirit.

6<sup>f</sup> Therefore we are always confident, knowing that, whilst we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord;

7<sup>g</sup> (For we walk by faith, not by sight:)

8<sup>h</sup> We are confident, I say, and willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord.

9<sup>i</sup> Wherefore we labour, that, whether present or absent, we may be accepted of him.

10<sup>k</sup> For we must all appear before the judgment-seat of Christ; that every one may receive the things done in his body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad.

11<sup>l</sup> Knowing therefore the terror of the Lord, we persuade men; but we are made manifest unto God, and I trust also are made manifest in your consciences.

12<sup>m</sup> For we commend not ourselves again unto you, but give you occasion to glory on our behalf, that ye may have somewhat to answer them which glory in appearance, and not in heart.

13<sup>n</sup> For whether we be beside ourselves, it is to God: or whether we be sober, it is for your cause.

14 For the love of Christ constraineth us; because we thus judge, that if one died for all, then were all dead:

15<sup>o</sup> And that he died for all, that they which live should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto him which died for them, and rose again.

16<sup>p</sup> Wherefore henceforth know we no man after the flesh: yea, though we have known Christ after the flesh, yet now henceforth know we him no more.

17<sup>q</sup> Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new.

18<sup>r</sup> And all things are of God, who hath reconciled us to himself by Jesus Christ, and hath given to us the ministry of reconciliation;

19<sup>s</sup> To wit, that God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himself, not imputing their trespasses unto them; and hath committed unto us the word of reconciliation.

20<sup>t</sup> Now then we are ambassadors for Christ; as though God did beseech you by us, we pray you in Christ's stead, be ye reconciled to God.

21<sup>u</sup> For he hath made him to be sin for us, who knew no sin; that we might be made the righteousness of God in him.

CHAPTER VI.

1 Paul's sufferings and patience in the ministry.... 14 Exhortation to avoid idolaters, &c.

WE then, as workers together with him, beseech you also that ye receive not the grace of God in vain.

2<sup>b</sup> (For he saith, I have heard thee in a time accepted, and in the day of salvation have I succoured thee: behold, now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation.)

3<sup>c</sup> Giving no offence in any thing, that the ministry be not blamed:

4<sup>d</sup> But in all things approving ourselves, as the ministers of God, in much patience, in afflictions, in necessities, in distresses,

5<sup>e</sup> In stripes, in imprisonments, in tumults, in labours, in watchings, in fastings;

6<sup>f</sup> By pureness, by knowledge, by long-suffering, by kindness, by the Holy Ghost, by love unfeigned,

7<sup>g</sup> By the word of truth, by the power of God, by the armour of righteousness on the right hand and on the left,

8<sup>h</sup> By honour and dishonour, by evil report and good report: as deceivers, and yet true;

9<sup>i</sup> As unknown, and yet well known; as dying, and, behold, we live; as chastened, and not killed;

10<sup>k</sup> As sorrowful, yet always rejoicing; as poor, yet making many rich; as having nothing, and yet possessing all things.

11<sup>l</sup> O ye Corinthians, our mouth is open unto you, our heart is enlarged.

12<sup>m</sup> Ye are not straitened in us, but ye are straitened in your own bowels.

13<sup>n</sup> Now for a recompense in the same, (I speak as unto my children,) be ye also enlarged.

14<sup>o</sup> Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers: for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness?

15<sup>p</sup> And what concord hath Christ with Belial? or what part hath he that believeth with an infidel?

16<sup>q</sup> And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ye are the temple of the living God; as God hath said, I will dwell in them, and walk in them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people.

17<sup>r</sup> Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you;

18 * And will be a Father unto you, and ye shall be my sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty.

CHAPTER VII.

1 He exhorteth to purity of life, 3 and sheweth the source of his comfort in afflictions.

HAVING therefore these promises, dearly beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God.

2 <sup>b</sup> Receive us; we have wronged no man, we have corrupted no man, we have defrauded no man.

3 <sup>c</sup> I speak not this to condemn you; for I have said before, that ye are in our hearts to die and live with you.

4 <sup>d</sup> Great is my boldness of speech toward you, great is my glorying of you: I am filled with comfort, I am exceeding joyful in all our tribulation.

5 <sup>e</sup> For, when we were come into Macedonia, our flesh had no rest, but we were troubled on every side; without were fightings, within were fears.

6 <sup>f</sup> Nevertheless God that comforteth those that are cast down, comforted us by the coming of Titus;

7 And not by his coming only, but by the consolation wherewith he was comforted in you, when he told us your earnest desire, your mourning, your fervent mind toward me; so that I rejoiced the more.

8 <sup>g</sup> For though I made you sorry with a letter, I do not repent, though I did repent: for I perceive that the same epistle hath made you sorry, though it were but for a season.

9 <sup>h</sup> Now I rejoice, not that ye were made sorry, but that ye sorrowed to repentance, for ye were made sorry after a godly manner, that ye might receive damage by us in nothing.

10 <sup>i</sup> For godly sorrow worketh repentance to salvation not to be repented of: but the sorrow of the world worketh death.

11 <sup>k</sup> For behold this self-same thing, that ye sorrowed after a godly sort, what carefulness it wrought in you, yea, what clearing of yourselves, yea, what indignation, yea, what fear, yea, what vehement desire, yea, what zeal, yea, what revenge! In all things ye have approved yourselves to be clear in this matter.

12 <sup>l</sup> Wherefore, though I wrote unto you, I did it not for his cause that had done the wrong, nor for his cause that suffered wrong, but that our care for you in the sight of God might appear unto you.

13 Therefore we were comforted in your comfort: yea, and exceedingly the more joyed we for the joy of Titus, because his spirit was refreshed by you all.

14 <sup>m</sup> For if I have boasted any thing to him of you, I am not ashamed; but as we spake all things to you in truth, even so our boasting, which I made before Titus, is found a truth.

15 <sup>n</sup> And his inward affection is more abundant toward you, whilst he remembereth the obedience of you all, how with fear and trembling ye received him.

16 <sup>o</sup> I rejoice, therefore, that I have confidence in you in all things.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 He stirreth them up to contribute to the saints: 16 he commendeth Titus and others, &c.

MOREOVER, brethren, we do you to wit of the grace of God bestowed on the churches of Macedonia;

2 <sup>b</sup> How that, in a great trial of affliction, the abundance of their joy and their deep poverty abounded into the riches of their liberality.

3 For to their power (I bear record) yea, and beyond their power, they were willing of themselves;

4 <sup>c</sup> Praying us with much entreaty that we would receive the gift, and take upon us the fellowship of the ministering to the saints.

5 And this they did, not as we hoped, but first gave their own selves to the Lord, and unto us by the will of God:

6 <sup>d</sup> Insomuch that we desired Titus, that as he had begun, so he would also finish in you the same grace also.

7 <sup>e</sup> Therefore, as ye abound in every thing, in faith, and utterance, and knowledge, and in all diligence, and in your love to us, see that ye abound in this grace also.

8 <sup>f</sup> I speak not by commandment, but by occasion of the forwardness of others, and to prove the sincerity of your love.

9 <sup>g</sup> For ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that, though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, that ye through his poverty might be rich.

10 <sup>h</sup> And herein I give my advice: for this is expedient for you, who have begun before, not only to do, but also to be forward a year ago.

11 Now therefore perform the doing of it; that as there was a readiness to will, so there may be a performance also out of that which ye have.

12 <sup>i</sup> For if there be first a willing mind, it is accepted according to that a man hath, and not according to that he hath not.

13 <sup>k</sup> For I mean not that other men be eased, and you burdened:

14 But by an equality, that now at this time your abundance may be a supply for their want, that their abundance also may be a supply for your want, that there may be equality:

15 <sup>l</sup> As it is written, He that had gathered much had nothing over: and he that had gathered little had no lack.

16 But thanks be to God, which put the same earnest care into the heart of Titus for you.

17 <sup>m</sup> For indeed he accepted the exhortation; but being more forward, of his own accord he went unto you.

18 And we have sent with him the brother, whose praise is in the gospel throughout all the churches;

19 <sup>n</sup> And not that only, but who was also chosen of the churches to travel with us with this grace, which is administered by us to the glory of the same Lord, and declaration of your ready mind:

20 <sup>o</sup> Avoiding this, that no man should blame us in this abundance which is administered by us:

21 <sup>p</sup> Providing for honest things, not only in the sight of the Lord, but also in the sight of men.

22 And we have sent with them our brother, whom we have oftentimes proved diligent in many things, but now much more diligent, upon the great confidence which I have in you.

23 <sup>q</sup> Whether any do inquire of Titus, he is my partner and fellow-helper concerning you: or our brethren, be inquired of, they are the messengers of the churches, and the glory of Christ

24 <sup>r</sup> Wherefore shew ye to them, and before the churches, the proof of your love, and of our boasting on your behalf.

1 He sheweth why he sent the brethren, & and stirreth them up to give bountifully, as a likely means to increase their store, &c.

FOR as touching the ministering to the saints, it is superfluous for me to write to you :

2<sup>b</sup> For I know the forwardness of your mind, for which I boast of you to them of Macedonia, that Achaia was ready a year ago ; and your zeal hath provoked very many.

3<sup>c</sup> Yet have I sent the brethren, lest our boasting of you should be in vain in this behalf ; that, as I said, ye may be ready :

4<sup>d</sup> Lest haply if they of Macedonia come with me, and find you unprepared, we (that we say not, ye) should be ashamed in this same confident boasting.

5<sup>e</sup> Therefore I thought it necessary to exhort the brethren, that they would go before unto you, and make up beforehand your <sup>f</sup> bounty, whereof ye had notice before, that the same might be ready, as a matter of bounty, and not as of covetousness.

6<sup>f</sup> But this I say, He which soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly ; and he which soweth bountifully shall reap also bountifully.

7<sup>g</sup> Every man according as he purposeth in his heart, so let him give ; not grudgingly, or of necessity : for God loveth a cheerful giver.

8<sup>h</sup> And God is able to make all grace abound toward you ; that ye, always having all-sufficiency in all things, may abound to every good work .

9<sup>i</sup> (As it is written, He hath dispersed abroad ; he hath given to the poor : his righteousness remaineth for ever.

10<sup>k</sup> Now he that ministereth seed to the sower, both minister bread for your food, and multiply your seed sown, and increase the fruits of your righteousness ;)

11<sup>l</sup> Being enriched in every thing to all bountifulness, which causeth through us thanksgiving to God.

12<sup>m</sup> For the administration of this service not only supplieth the want of the saints, but is abundant also by many thanksgivings unto God ;

13<sup>n</sup> While by the experiment of this ministration they glorify God for your professed subjection unto the gospel of Christ, and for your liberal distribution unto them, and unto all men ;

14<sup>o</sup> And by their prayer for you, which long after you for the exceeding grace of God in you.

15 Thanks be unto God for his unspeakable gift.

CHAPTER X.

Paul wisheth for no cause to exert his spiritual power and authority, &c.

NOW I Paul myself beseech you by the meekness and gentleness of Christ, who in presence am base among you, but being absent am bold toward you :

2<sup>b</sup> But I beseech you, that I may not be bold when I am present with that confidence, wherewith I think to be bold against some, which think of us as if we walked according to the flesh.

3<sup>c</sup> For though we walk in the flesh, we do not war after the flesh :

4<sup>d</sup> (For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God to the pulling down of strong holds ;)

5<sup>e</sup> Casting down imaginations, and every high thing that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ ;

6<sup>f</sup> And having in a readiness to revenge all disobedience, when your obedience is fulfilled.

7<sup>g</sup> Do ye look on things after the outward appearance ? If any man trust to himself that he is Christ's, let him of himself think this again, that, as he is Christ's, even so are we Christ's.

8<sup>h</sup> For though I should boast somewhat more of our authority, which the Lord hath given us for edification, and not for your destruction, I should not be ashamed :

9<sup>i</sup> That I may not seem as if I would terrify you by letters.

10<sup>k</sup> For his letters, say they, are weighty and powerful ; but his bodily presence is weak, and his speech contemptible.

11<sup>l</sup> Let such a one think this, that, such as we are in word by letters when we are absent, such will we be also indeed when we are present.

12<sup>m</sup> For we dare not make ourselves of the number, or compare ourselves with some that commend themselves : but they measuring themselves by themselves, and comparing themselves among themselves, are not wise.

13<sup>n</sup> But we will not boast of things without our measure, but according to the measure of the rule which God hath distributed to us, a measure to reach even unto you.

14<sup>o</sup> For we stretch not ourselves beyond our measure, as though we reached not unto you : for we are come as far as to you also in preaching the gospel of Christ :

15<sup>p</sup> Not boasting of things without our measure, that is, of other men's labours ; but having hope, when your faith is increased, that we shall be enlarged by you according to our rule abundantly,

16 To preach the gospel in the regions beyond you, and not to boast in another man's line of things made ready to our hand.

17<sup>q</sup> But he that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord.

18<sup>r</sup> For not he that commendeth himself is approved, but whom the Lord commendeth.

CHAPTER XI.

1 Paul unwillingly entereth into a commendation of himself with the other apostles ; 7 he declineth being chargeable ; 23 he sheweth his sufferings for the gospel.

WOULD to God ye could bear with me a little in my folly : and indeed bear with me.

2<sup>b</sup> For I am jealous over you with godly jealousy : for I have espoused you to one husband, that I may present you as a chaste virgin to Christ.

3<sup>c</sup> But I fear, lest by any means, as the serpent beguiled Eve through his subtilty, so your minds should be corrupted from the simplicity that is in Christ.

4<sup>d</sup> For if he that cometh preacheth another Jesus, whom we have not preached, or if ye receive another spirit, which ye have not received, or another gospel, which ye have not accepted, ye might well bear with him.

5<sup>e</sup> For I suppose I was not a whit behind the very chiefest apostles.

6<sup>f</sup> But though I be rude in speech, yet not in knowledge ; but we have been thoroughly made manifest among you in all things.

7<sup>g</sup> Have I committed an offence in abasing myself that ye might be exalted, because I have preached to you the gospel of God freely ?

8 <sup>a</sup> I robbed other churches, taking wages of them, to do you service.

9 And when I was present with you, and wanted, I was chargeable to no man : for that which was lacking to me, the brethren which came from Macedonia supplied : and in all things I have kept myself from being burdensome unto you, and so will I keep myself.

10 <sup>a</sup> As the truth of Christ is in me, no man shall stop me of this boasting in the regions of Achaia.

11 <sup>k</sup> Wherefore ? because I love you not ? God knoweth.

12 <sup>l</sup> But what I do, that I will do, that I may cut off occasion from them which desire occasion ; that wherein they glory, they may be found even as we.

13 <sup>m</sup> For such are false apostles, deceitful workers, transforming themselves into the apostles of Christ.

14 And no marvel ; for Satan himself is transformed into an angel of light.

15 <sup>n</sup> Therefore it is no great thing if his ministers also be transformed as the ministers of righteousness ; whose end shall be according to their works.

16 <sup>o</sup> I say again, Let no man think me a fool ; if otherwise, yet as a fool receive me, that I may boast myself a little.

17 <sup>p</sup> That which I speak, I speak it not after the Lord, but as it were foolishly, in this confidence of boasting.

18 <sup>q</sup> Seeing that many glory after the flesh, I will glory also.

19 <sup>r</sup> For ye suffer fools gladly, seeing ye yourselves are wise.

20 <sup>s</sup> For ye suffer, if a man bring you into bondage, if a man devour you, if a man take of you, if a man exalt himself, if a man smite you on the face.

21 <sup>t</sup> I speak as concerning reproach, as though we had been weak. Howbeit whereinsoever any is bold, (I speak foolishly,) I am bold also.

22 <sup>u</sup> Are they Hebrews ? so am I. Are they Israelites ? so am I. Are they the seed of Abraham ? so am I.

23 <sup>x</sup> Are they ministers of Christ ? (I speak as a fool) I am more ; in labours more abundant, in stripes above measure, in prisons more frequent, in deaths oft.

24 <sup>y</sup> Of the Jews five times received I forty stripes save one.

25 <sup>z</sup> Thrice was I beaten with rods, once was I stoned, thrice I suffered shipwreck, a night and a day I have been in the deep ;

26 In journeyings often, in perils of waters, in perils of robbers, in perils by mine own countrymen, in perils by the heathen, in perils in the city, in perils in the wilderness, in perils in the sea, in perils among false brethren ;

27 <sup>a</sup> In weariness and painfulness, in watchings often, in hunger and thirst, in fastings often, in cold and nakedness.

28 <sup>b</sup> Besides those things that are without, that which cometh upon me daily, the care of all the churches.

29 <sup>c</sup> Who is weak, and I am not weak ? who is offended, and I burn not ?

30 <sup>d</sup> If I must needs glory, I will glory of the things which concern mine infirmities.

31 <sup>e</sup> The God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which is blessed for evermore, knoweth that I lie not.

32 <sup>f</sup> In Damascus the governor under Aretas the king kept the city of the Damascenes with a garrison, desirous to apprehend me :

33 And through a window in a basket was I let down by the wall, and escaped his hands.

CHAPTER XII.

1 He chooseth to commend his apostleship, not by revelations, but by his infirmities, blaming them for forcing his boasting.

<sup>a</sup> It is not expedient for me doubtless to glory. I will come to visions and revelations of the Lord

2 <sup>b</sup> I knew a man in Christ above fourteen years ago, (whether in the body I cannot tell ; or whether out of the body, I cannot tell : God knoweth ; ) such a one caught up to the third heaven.

3 And I knew such a man, (whether in the body, or out of the body, I cannot tell : God knoweth ; )

4 How that he was caught up into paradise, and heard unspeakable words, which it is not lawful for a man to utter.

5 <sup>c</sup> Of such a one will I glory : yet of myself I will not glory, but in mine infirmities.

6 <sup>d</sup> For though I would desire to glory, I shall not be a fool ; for I will say the truth : but now I forbear, lest any man should think of me above that which he seeth me to be, or that he heareth of me.

7 <sup>e</sup> And lest I should be exalted above measure through the abundance of the revelations, there was given to me a thorn in the flesh, the messenger of Satan, to buffet me, lest I should be exalted above measure.

8 <sup>f</sup> For this thing I besought the Lord thrice, that it might depart from me.

9 <sup>g</sup> And he said unto me, My grace is sufficient for thee : for my strength is made perfect in weakness. Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in mine infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me.

10 <sup>h</sup> Therefore I take pleasure in infirmities, in reproaches, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses for Christ's sake : for when I am weak, then am I strong.

11 <sup>i</sup> I am become a fool in glorying ; ye have compelled me : for I ought to have been commended of you : for in nothing am I behind the very chiefest apostles, though I be nothing.

12 <sup>k</sup> Truly the signs of an apostle were wrought among you in all patience, in signs, and wonders, and mighty deeds.

13 <sup>l</sup> For what is it wherein ye were inferior to other churches, except it be that I myself was not burdensome to you ? forgive me this wrong.

14 <sup>m</sup> Behold, the third time I am ready to come to you ; and I will not be burdensome to you : for I seek not yours, but you : for the children ought not to lay up for the parents, but the parents for the children.

15 <sup>n</sup> And I will very gladly spend and be spent for you ; though the more abundantly I love you, the less I be loved.

16 But be it so, I did not burden you ; nevertheless, being crafty, I caught you with guile.

17 <sup>o</sup> Did I make a gain of you by any of them whom I sent unto you ?

18 <sup>p</sup> I desired Titus, and with him I sent a brother : did Titus make a gain of you ? walked we not in the same spirit ? walked we not in the same steps ?

19 <sup>q</sup> Again, think ye that we excuse ourselves unto you ? we speak before God in Christ : but we do all things, dearly beloved, for your edifying.

20 <sup>r</sup> For I fear, lest, when I come, I shall not find you such as I would, and that I shall be found unto you such as ye would not : lest there be debates, envyings, wraths, strifes, backbitings, whisperings, swellings, tumults :

CHAPTER XIII.

1 He threateneth obstinate sinners: 5 He adviseth them to a trial of their faith.

<sup>a</sup> THIS is the third time I am coming to you. In the mouth of two or three witnesses shall every word be established.

2 <sup>b</sup> I told you before, and foretell you, as if I were present, the second time; and being absent, now I write to them which heretofore have sinned, and to all other, that, if I come again, I will not spare:

3 <sup>c</sup> Since ye seek a proof of Christ speaking in me, which to you-ward is not weak, but is mighty in you.

4 <sup>d</sup> For though he was crucified through weakness, yet he liveth by the power of God. For we also are weak in him, but we shall live with him by the power of God toward you.

5 <sup>e</sup> Examine yourselves, whether ye be in the faith; prove your own selves. Know ye not your own selves, how that Jesus Christ is in you, except ye be reprobates?

¶ The Epistle of PAUL, the Apostle, to the GALATIANS.

CHAPTER I.

1 Paul's salutation: 6 he wonders that they had so soon left the truth of the gospel, &c.

<sup>a</sup> PAUL, an apostle, (not of men, neither by man, but by Jesus Christ, and God the Father, who raised him from the dead;)

2 And all the brethren which are with me, unto the churches of Galatia:

3 <sup>b</sup> Grace be to you, and peace, from God the Father, and from our Lord Jesus Christ,

4 <sup>c</sup> Who gave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us from this present evil world, according to the will of God and our Father:

5 To whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

6 <sup>d</sup> I marvel that ye are so soon removed from him that called you into the grace of Christ unto another gospel:

7 <sup>e</sup> Which is not another; but there be some that trouble you, and would pervert the gospel of Christ.

8 <sup>f</sup> But though we, or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed.

9 <sup>g</sup> As we said before, so say I now again, If any man preach any other gospel unto you than that ye have received, let him be accursed.

10 <sup>h</sup> For do I now persuade men, or God? or do I seek to please men? for if I yet pleased men, I should not be the servant of Christ.

11 <sup>i</sup> But I certify you, brethren, that the gospel which was preached of me is not after man.

12 <sup>k</sup> For I neither received it of man, neither was I taught it, but by the revelation of Jesus Christ.

13 <sup>l</sup> For ye have heard of my conversation in time past in the Jews' religion, how that beyond measure I persecuted the church of God, and wasted it;

14 And profited in the Jews' religion above many my equals in mine own nation, being more exceedingly zealous of the traditions of my fathers.

15 <sup>m</sup> But when it pleased God, who separated me

6 But I trust that ye shall know that we are not reprobates.

7 <sup>n</sup> Now I pray to God that ye do no evil; not that we should appear approved, but that ye should do that which is honest, though we be as reprobates.

8 <sup>o</sup> For we can do nothing against the truth but for the truth.

9 <sup>p</sup> For we are glad, when we are weak, and ye are strong: and this also we wish, even your perfection.

10 <sup>q</sup> Therefore I write these things being absent, lest being present I should use sharpness, according to the power which the Lord hath given me to edification, and not to destruction.

11 <sup>r</sup> Finally, brethren, farewell. Be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace; and the God of love and peace shall be with you.

12 <sup>s</sup> Greet one another with a holy kiss.

13 All the saints salute you.

14 The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the communion of the Holy Ghost, be with you all. Amen.

¶ The second epistle to the Corinthians was written from Philippi, a city of Macedonia, by Titus and Lucas.

from my mother's womb, and called me by his grace, 16 <sup>n</sup> To reveal his Son in me, that I might preach him among the heathen; immediately I conferred not with flesh and blood:

17 Neither went I up to Jerusalem to them which were apostles before me; but I went into Arabia, and returned again unto Damascus.

18 <sup>o</sup> Then after three years I went up to Jerusalem to see Peter, and abode with him fifteen days.

19 <sup>p</sup> But other of the apostles saw I none, save James the Lord's brother.

20 <sup>q</sup> Now the things which I write unto you, behold, before God, I lie not.

21 <sup>r</sup> Afterwards I came into the regions of Syria and Cilicia;

22 And was unknown by face unto the churches of Judea which were in Christ:

23 But they had heard only, That he which persecuted us in times past, now preacheth the faith which once he destroyed.

24 And they glorified God in me.

CHAPTER II.

1 He sheweth when and for what purpose he went up to Jerusalem.... 14 Of justification by faith, and not by works: 20 they that are so justified live not in sin.

<sup>a</sup> THEN, || fourteen years after, I went up again to Jerusalem with Barnabas, and took Titus with me also.

2 <sup>b</sup> And I went up by revelation, and communicated unto them that gospel which I preach among the Gentiles; but privately to them which were of reputation, lest by any means I should run, or had run, in vain.

3 <sup>c</sup> But neither Titus, who was with me, being a Greek, was compelled to be circumcised:

4 <sup>d</sup> And that because of false brethren unawares brought in, who came in privily to spy out our liberty which we have in Christ Jesus, that they might bring us into bondage:

5<sup>e</sup> To whom we gave place by subjection, no, not for an hour; that the truth of the gospel might continue with you.

6<sup>f</sup> But of those who † seemed to be somewhat, whatsoever they were, it maketh no matter to me: God accepteth no man's person: for they who seemed to be somewhat, in conference added nothing to me:

7<sup>g</sup> But contrariwise, when they saw that the gospel of the uncircumcision was committed unto me, as the gospel of the circumcision was unto Peter;

8<sup>h</sup> (For he that wrought effectually in Peter to the apostleship of the circumcision, the same was mighty in me toward the Gentiles;)

9<sup>i</sup> And when James, Cephas, and John, who seemed to be pillars, perceived the grace that was given unto me, they gave to me and Barnabas the right hands of fellowship; that we should go unto the heathen, and they unto the circumcision.

10 Only they would that we should remember the poor; the same which I also was forward to do.

11<sup>k</sup> But when Peter was come to Antioch, I withstood him to the face, because he was to be blamed.

12<sup>l</sup> For before that certain came from James, he did eat with the Gentiles: but when they were come, he withdrew and separated himself, fearing them which were of the circumcision.

13 And the other Jews dissembled likewise with him; insomuch that Barnabas also was carried away with their dissimulation.

14<sup>m</sup> But when I saw that they || walked not uprightly, according to the truth of the gospel, I said unto Peter before them all, If thou, being a Jew, livest after the manner of Gentiles, and not as do the Jews, why compellest thou the Gentiles to live as do the Jews?

15<sup>n</sup> We who are Jews by nature, and not sinners of the Gentiles,

16<sup>o</sup> Knowing that a man is not justified by the works of the law, but by the faith of Jesus Christ, even we have believed in Jesus Christ, that we might be justified by the faith of Christ, and not by the works of the law: for by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified.

17<sup>p</sup> But if, while we seek to be justified by Christ, we ourselves also are found sinners, is therefore Christ the minister of sin? God forbid.

18 For if I build again the things which I † destroyed, I make myself a transgressor.

19<sup>q</sup> For I through the law am dead to the law, that I might live unto God.

20<sup>r</sup> I am crucified with Christ: nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me: and the life which I now live in the flesh, I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me.

21<sup>s</sup> I do not frustrate the grace of God: for if righteousness come by the law, then Christ is dead in vain.

CHAPTER III.

1 He asketh what moved them to depend on the law, having received the Spirit through faith....6 Abraham being justified by faith, so they who are of faith inherit his blessing.

O FOOLISH Galatians, who hath bewitched you, that ye should not obey the truth, before whose eyes Jesus Christ hath been evidently set forth, crucified among you?

2<sup>b</sup> This only would I learn of you, Received ye the Spirit by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith?

3<sup>c</sup> Are ye so foolish? having begun in the Spirit, are ye now made perfect by the flesh?

4<sup>d</sup> Have ye suffered so many things in vain? if it be yet in vain.

5<sup>e</sup> He therefore that ministereth to you the Spirit, and worketh miracles among you, doeth he it by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith?

6<sup>f</sup> Even as Abraham believed God, and it was accounted to him for righteousness.

7<sup>g</sup> Know ye therefore, that they which are of faith, the same are the children of Abraham.

8<sup>h</sup> And the scripture, foreseeing that God would justify the heathen through faith, preached before the gospel unto Abraham, saying, In thee shall all nations be blessed.

9 So then they which be of faith are blessed with faithful Abraham.

10<sup>i</sup> For as many as are of the works of the law, are under the curse: for it is written, Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the book of the law to do them.

11<sup>k</sup> But that no man is justified by the law in the sight of God, it is evident: for, The just shall live by faith.

12<sup>l</sup> And the law is not of faith: but, The man that doeth them shall live in them.

13<sup>m</sup> Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the law, being made a curse for us: for it is written, Cursed is every one that hangeth on a tree:

14<sup>n</sup> That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Jesus Christ; that we might receive the promise of the Spirit through faith.

15<sup>o</sup> Brethren, I speak after the manner of men; Though it be but a man's covenant: yet if it be confirmed, no man disannulleth, or addeth thereto.

16<sup>p</sup> Now to Abraham and his seed were the promises made. He saith not, And to seeds, as of many; but as of one, And to thy seed, which is Christ.

17<sup>q</sup> And this I say, That the covenant, that was confirmed before of God in Christ, the law, which was four hundred and thirty years after, cannot disannul, that it should make the promise of none effect.

18<sup>r</sup> For if the inheritance be of the law, it is no more of promise: but God gave it to Abraham by promise.

19<sup>s</sup> Wherefore then serveth the law? It was added because of transgressions, till the seed should come to whom the promise was made; and it was ordained by angels in the hand of a mediator.

20 Now a mediator is not a mediator of one; but God is one.

21 Is the law then against the promises of God? God forbid: for if there had been a law given which could have given life, verily righteousness should have been by the law.

22<sup>t</sup> But the scripture hath concluded all under sin, that the promise by faith of Jesus Christ might be given to them that believe.

23 But before faith came, we were kept under the law, shut up unto the faith which should afterwards be revealed.

24<sup>u</sup> Wherefore the law was our schoolmaster to bring us unto Christ, that we might be justified by faith.

25 But after that faith is come, we are no longer under a schoolmaster.

26<sup>v</sup> For ye are all the children of God by faith in Christ Jesus.

27 <sup>y</sup> For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ, have put on Christ.

28 <sup>a</sup> There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Jesus.

29 <sup>a</sup> And if ye be Christ's, then are ye Abraham's seed, and heirs according to the promise.

CHAPTER IV.

1 The Jews were for a while under the law, 4 but Christ came to redeem, and to give both to Jews and Gentiles the adoption of sons....11 Paul's tender regard for them.

NOW I say, That the heir, as long as he is a child, differeth nothing from a servant, though he be lord of all;

2 But is under tutors and governors, until the time appointed of the father.

3 <sup>b</sup> Even so we, when we were children, were in bondage under the elements of the world:

4 <sup>c</sup> But when the fulness of the time was come, God sent forth his Son, made of a woman, made under the law,

5 <sup>d</sup> To redeem them that were under the law, that we might receive the adoption of sons.

6 <sup>e</sup> And because ye are sons, God hath sent forth the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying, Abba, Father.

7 <sup>f</sup> Wherefore thou art no more a servant, but a son; and if a son, then an heir of God through Christ.

8 <sup>g</sup> Howbeit, then when ye knew not God, ye did service unto them which by nature are no gods.

9 <sup>h</sup> But now, after that ye have known God, or rather are known of God, how turn ye again to the weak and beggarly elements, whereunto ye desire again to be in bondage?

10 <sup>i</sup> Ye observe days, and months, and times, and years.

11 <sup>k</sup> I am afraid of you, lest I have bestowed upon you labour in vain.

12 <sup>l</sup> Brethren, I beseech you, be as I am; for I am as ye are: ye have not injured me at all.

13 <sup>m</sup> Ye know how through infirmity of the flesh I preached the gospel unto you at the first:

14 <sup>n</sup> And my temptation which was in my flesh ye despised not, nor rejected: but received me as an angel of God, even as Christ Jesus.

15 Where is then the blessedness ye spake of? for I bear you record, that, if it had been possible, ye would have plucked out your own eyes, and have given them to me.

16 <sup>o</sup> Am I therefore become your enemy, because I tell you the truth?

17 <sup>p</sup> They zealously affect you, but not well; yea, they would exclude you, that ye might affect them.

18 But it is good to be zealously affected always in a good thing, and not only when I am present with you.

19 <sup>q</sup> My little children, of whom I travail in birth again until Christ be formed in you,

20 I desire to be present with you now, and to change my voice; for I stand in doubt of you.

21 Tell me, ye that desired to be under the law, do ye not hear the law?

22 <sup>r</sup> For it is written, That Abraham had two sons; the one by a bond-maid, the other by a free-woman.

23 <sup>s</sup> But he who was of the bond-woman was born after the flesh; but he of the free-woman was by promise.

24 <sup>t</sup> Which things are an allegory: for these are the two covenants; the one from the mount Sinai, which gendereth to bondage, which is Agar.

25 For this Agar is mount Sinai in Arabia, and answereth to Jerusalem which now is, and is in bondage with her children.

26 <sup>u</sup> But Jerusalem which is above is free, which is the mother of us all.

27 <sup>v</sup> For it is written, Rejoice, thou barren that bearest not; break forth and cry, thou that travailest not; for the desolate hath many more children than she which hath a husband.

28 <sup>w</sup> Now we, brethren, as Isaac was, are the children of promise.

29 <sup>x</sup> But as then he that was born after the flesh, persecuted him that was born after the Spirit, even so it is now.

30 <sup>y</sup> Nevertheless what saith the scripture? Cast out the bond-woman and her son: for the son of the bond-woman shall not be heir with the son of the free-woman.

31 <sup>z</sup> So then, brethren, we are not children of the bond-woman, but of the free.

CHAPTER V.

1 He moveth them to maintain their Christian liberty, 3 and not to observe circumcision, 13 but rather love....19 The works of the flesh; 22 the fruits of the Spirit.

STAND fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage.

2 <sup>a</sup> Behold, I Paul say unto you, that if ye be circumcised, Christ shall profit you nothing.

3 <sup>b</sup> For I testify again to every man that is circumcised, that he is a debtor to do the whole law.

4 <sup>c</sup> Christ is become of no effect unto you, whosoever of you are justified by the law: ye are fallen from grace.

5 <sup>d</sup> For we through the Spirit wait for the hope of righteousness by faith.

6 <sup>e</sup> For in Jesus Christ neither circumcision availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision; but faith which worketh by love.

7 <sup>f</sup> Ye did run well; who did hinder you, that ye should not obey the truth?

8 <sup>g</sup> This persuasion cometh not of him that calleth you.

9 <sup>h</sup> A little leaven leaveneth the whole lump.

10 <sup>i</sup> I have confidence in you through the Lord, that ye will be none otherwise minded; but he that troubleth you shall bear his judgment, whosoever he be.

11 <sup>j</sup> And I, brethren, if I yet preach circumcision, why do I yet suffer persecution? then is the offence of the cross ceased.

12 <sup>k</sup> I would they were even cut off which trouble you.

13 <sup>l</sup> For, brethren, ye have been called unto liberty; only use not liberty for an occasion to the flesh, but by love serve one another.

14 <sup>m</sup> For all the law is fulfilled in one word, even in this, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

15 <sup>n</sup> But if ye bite and devour one another, take heed that ye be not consumed one of another.

16 <sup>o</sup> This I say then, Walk in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfil the lust of the flesh.

17 <sup>p</sup> For the flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh: and these are contrary the one to the other; so that ye cannot do the things that ye would.

18 <sup>q</sup> But if ye be led by the Spirit, ye are not under the law.

19 <sup>r</sup> Now the works of the flesh are manifest; which are these; Adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness,

20 Idolatry, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulations, wrath, strife, seditions, heresies,

21 " Envyings, murders, drunkenness, revellings, and such like: of the which I tell you before, as I have also told you in time past, that they which do such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God.

22 * But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, 23 " Meekness, temperance: against such there is no law.

24 * And they that are Christ's have been crucified with the affections and lusts.

25 * If we live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit.

26 " Let us not be desirous of vain glory, provoking one another, envying one another.

CHAPTER VI.

1 He willeth them to reform the faulty with gentleness, and to bear one another's burdens; 6 to be liberal to their teachers, 9 and not to be weary in well-doing.

a BRETHREN, if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye which are spiritual restore such a one in the spirit of meekness; considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted.

2 " Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ.

3 " For if a man think himself to be something, when he is nothing, he deceiveth himself.

4 " But let every man prove his own work, and then shall he have rejoicing in himself alone, and not in another:

5 " For every man shall bear his own burden.

6 " Let him that is taught in the word communicate unto him that teacheth in all good things.

7 " Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap.

8 " For he that soweth to his flesh, shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit, shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting.

9 " And let us not be weary in well-doing; for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not.

10 " As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith.

11 Ye see how large a letter I have written unto you with mine own hand.

12 " As many as desire to make a fair shew in the flesh, they constrain you to be circumcised, only lest they should suffer persecution for the cross of Christ.

13 " For neither they themselves who are circumcised keep the law; but desire to have you circumcised, that they may glory in your flesh.

14 " But God forbid that I should glory, save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom the world is crucified unto me, and I unto the world.

15 " For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision, but a new creature.

16 " And as many as walk according to this rule, peace be on them, and mercy, and upon the Israel of God.

17 " From henceforth let no man trouble me; for I bear in my body the marks of the Lord Jesus.

18 " Brethren, the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen.

¶ The Epistle of PAUL, the Apostle, to the EPHESIANS.

CHAPTER I.

1 Paul blesseth God for spiritual blessings.... 4 Of election, 5 and adoption, 11 which is the proper fountain of man's salvation, &amp;c.

a PAUL, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, to the saints which are at Ephesus, and to the faithful in Christ Jesus:

2 " Grace be to you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 " Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who hath blessed us with all spiritual blessings in heavenly places in Christ:

4 " According as he hath chosen us in him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy, and without blame before him in love:

5 " Having predestinated us unto the adoption of children by Jesus Christ to himself, according to the good pleasure of his will,

6 " To the praise of the glory of his grace, wherein he hath made us accepted in the Beloved:

7 " In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace;

8 " Wherein he hath abounded toward us in all wisdom and prudence;

9 " Having made known unto us the mystery of his will, according to his good pleasure which he hath purposed in himself:

10 " That in the dispensation of the fulness of times, he might gather together in one all things in Christ, both which are in heaven and which are on earth; even in him:

11 " In whom also we have obtained an inheritance, being predestinated according to the purpose of him who worketh all things after the counsel of his own will:

12 " That we should be to the praise of his glory, who first trusted in Christ.

13 " In whom ye also trusted, after that ye heard the word of truth, the gospel of your salvation: in whom also, after that ye believed, ye were sealed with that Holy Spirit of promise, 14 " Which is the earnest of our inheritance, until the redemption of the purchased possession, unto the praise of his glory.

15 " Wherefore I also, after I heard of your faith in the Lord Jesus, and love unto all the saints,

16 Cease not to give thanks for you, making mention of you in my prayers;

17 " That the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, may give unto you the spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of him:

18 " The eyes of your understanding being enlightened; that ye may know what is the hope of his calling, and what the riches of the glory of his inheritance in the saints,

19 " And what is the exceeding greatness of his power to us-ward who believe, according to the working of his mighty power,

20 " Which he wrought in Christ, when he raised

CHAPTER II.

1 What the Ephesians' state was, God's mercy in their deliverance....8 Though saved by grace, yet created unto good works.

<sup>a</sup> AND you hath he quickened, who were dead in trespasses and sins;

2 <sup>b</sup> Wherein in time past ye walked according to the course of this world, according to the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that now worketh in the children of disobedience:

3 <sup>c</sup> Among whom also we all had our conversation in times past in the lusts of our flesh, fulfilling the desires of the flesh and of the mind; and were by nature the children of wrath, even as others.

4 <sup>d</sup> But God, who is rich in mercy, for his great love wherewith he loved us,

5 <sup>e</sup> Even when we were dead in sins, hath quickened us together with Christ, (by grace ye are saved:)

6 <sup>f</sup> And hath raised us up together, and made us sit together in heavenly places in Christ Jesus;

7 <sup>g</sup> That in the ages to come he might shew the exceeding riches of his grace, in his kindness toward us through Christ Jesus.

8 <sup>h</sup> For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves; it is the gift of God:

9 <sup>i</sup> Not of works, lest any man should boast.

10 <sup>k</sup> For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them.

11 <sup>l</sup> Wherefore remember, that ye being in time past Gentiles in the flesh, who are called Uncircumcision by that which is called the Circumcision in the flesh made by hands;

12 <sup>m</sup> That at that time ye were without Christ, being aliens from the commonwealth of Israel, and strangers from the covenants of promise, having no hope, and without God in the world:

13 <sup>n</sup> But now, in Christ Jesus, ye who sometimes were far off, are made nigh by the blood of Christ.

14 <sup>o</sup> For he is our peace, who hath made both one, and hath broken down the middle wall of partition between us;

15 <sup>p</sup> Having abolished in his flesh the enmity, even the law of commandments contained in ordinances; for to make in himself of twain one new man, so making peace;

16 <sup>q</sup> And that he might reconcile both unto God in one body by the cross, having slain the enmity thereby;

17 <sup>r</sup> And came and preached peace to you which were afar off, and to them that were nigh.

18 <sup>s</sup> For through him we both have an access by one Spirit unto the Father.

19 <sup>t</sup> Now therefore ye are no more strangers and foreigners, but fellow-citizens with the saints, and of the household of God;

20 <sup>u</sup> And are built upon the foundation of the aposles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner-stone;

21 <sup>x</sup> In whom all the building, fitly framed together, groweth unto a holy temple in the Lord:

22 <sup>y</sup> In whom ye also are builded together for a habitation of God through the Spirit.

CHAPTER III

1 The hidden mystery of their calling had been revealed unto him; 14 he prayeth that their faith may be strengthened.

<sup>a</sup> FOR this cause I Paul, the prisoner of Jesus Christ for you Gentiles,

2 <sup>b</sup> If ye have heard of the dispensation of the grace of God, which is given me to you-ward:

3 <sup>c</sup> How that by revelation he made known unto me the mystery; as I wrote afore in few words,

4 Whereby, when ye read, ye may understand my knowledge in the mystery of Christ;

5 <sup>d</sup> Which in other ages was not made known unto the sons of men, as it is now revealed unto his holy apostles and prophets by the Spirit;

6 <sup>e</sup> That the Gentiles should be fellow-heirs, and of the same body, and partakers of his promise in Christ by the gospel;

7 <sup>f</sup> Whereof I was made a minister, according to the gift of the grace of God given unto me by the effectual working of his power.

8 <sup>g</sup> Unto me, who am less than the least of all saints, is this grace given, that I should preach among the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ;

9 <sup>h</sup> And to make all men see, what is the fellowship of the mystery, which from the beginning of the world hath been hid in God, who created all things by Jesus Christ:

10 <sup>i</sup> To the intent that now unto the principalities and powers in heavenly places might be known, by the church, the manifold wisdom of God,

11 <sup>k</sup> According to the eternal purpose which he purposed in Christ Jesus our Lord:

12 <sup>l</sup> In whom we have boldness and access with confidence by the faith of him.

13 <sup>m</sup> Wherefore I desire that ye faint not at my tribulations for you, which is your glory.

14 For this cause I bow my knees unto the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ,

15 <sup>n</sup> Of whom the whole family in heaven and earth is named,

16 <sup>o</sup> That he would grant you, according to the riches of his glory, to be strengthened with might by his Spirit in the inner man;

17 <sup>p</sup> That Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith; that ye, being rooted and grounded in love,

18 <sup>q</sup> May be able to comprehend with all saints, what is the breadth, and length, and depth, and height;

19 <sup>r</sup> And to know the love of Christ, which passeth knowledge, that ye might be filled with all the fulness of God.

20 <sup>s</sup> Now unto him that is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think; according to the power that worketh in us,

21 <sup>t</sup> Unto him be glory in the church by Christ Jesus, throughout all ages, world without end. Amen.

CHAPTER IV.

1 He exhorteth to unity; 24 to put on the new man; 25 to cast off lying, 29 corrupt communication, 31 and all bitterness, &c.

<sup>a</sup> I THEREFORE, the prisoner of the Lord, beseech you that ye walk worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called.

2<sup>b</sup> With all lowliness and meekness, with long-suffering, forbearing one another in love ;
3<sup>c</sup> Endeavouring to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace.
4<sup>d</sup> There is one body and one Spirit, even as ye are called in one hope of your calling ;
5<sup>e</sup> One Lord, one faith, one baptism,
6<sup>f</sup> One God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all.
7<sup>g</sup> But unto every one of us is given grace according to the measure of the gift of Christ.
8<sup>h</sup> Wherefore he saith, When he ascended up on high, he led captivity captive, and gave gifts unto men.
9<sup>i</sup> (Now, that he ascended, what is it but that he also descended first into the lower parts of the earth ?
10<sup>k</sup> He that descended is the same also that ascended up far above all heavens, that he might fill all things.)
11<sup>l</sup> And he gave some, apostles ; and some, prophets ; and some, evangelists ; and some, pastors and teachers ;
12<sup>m</sup> For the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ :
13<sup>n</sup> Till we all come in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ :
14<sup>o</sup> That we henceforth be no more children, tossed to and fro, and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the sleight of men, and cunning craftiness, whereby they lie in wait to deceive ;
15<sup>p</sup> But, speaking the truth in love, may grow up into him in all things, which is the head, even Christ :
16<sup>q</sup> From whom the whole body fitly joined together, and compacted by that which every joint supplieth, according to the effectual working in the measure of every part, maketh increase of the body unto the edifying of itself in love.
17<sup>r</sup> This I say therefore, and testify in the Lord, that ye henceforth walk not as other Gentiles walk, in the vanity of their mind,
18<sup>s</sup> Having the understanding darkened, being alienated from the life of God through the ignorance that is in them, because of the blindness of their heart ;
19<sup>t</sup> Who being past feeling, have given themselves over unto lasciviousness, to work all uncleanness with greediness.
20 But ye have not so learned Christ ;
21<sup>u</sup> If so be that ye have heard him, and have been taught by him, as the truth is in Jesus :
22<sup>v</sup> That ye put off, concerning the former conversation, the old man, which is corrupt, according to the deceitful lusts ;
23<sup>w</sup> And be renewed in the spirit of your mind ;
24 And that ye put on the new man, which after God is created in righteousness and true holiness.
25<sup>x</sup> Wherefore putting away lying, speak every man truth with his neighbour : for we are members one of another.
26<sup>y</sup> Be ye angry and sin not ; let not the sun go down upon your wrath :
27<sup>z</sup> Neither give place to the devil.
28<sup>a</sup> Let him that stole steal no more : but rather let him labour, working with his hands the thing which is good, that he may have to give to him that needeth.
29<sup>b</sup> Let no corrupt communication proceed out of your mouth, but that which is good to the use of edifying, that it may minister grace unto the hearers.

30<sup>c</sup> And grieve not the Holy Spirit of God, whereby ye are sealed unto the day of redemption.

31<sup>d</sup> Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and evil-speaking, be put away from you, with all malice :

32<sup>e</sup> And be ye kind one to another, tender-hearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you.

CHAPTER V.

2 He exhorteth to love ; 3 to flee fornication ; 15 to walk with prudence... 22 The duty of wives, 25 and of husbands.

BE ye therefore followers of God, as dear children ;
2<sup>b</sup> And walk in love, as Christ also hath loved us, and hath given himself for us, an offering and a sacrifice to God for a sweet-smelling savour.

3<sup>c</sup> But fornication, and all uncleanness, or covetousness, let it not be once named among you, as becometh saints ;

4<sup>d</sup> Neither filthiness, nor foolish talking, nor jesting, which are not convenient ; but rather giving of thanks.

5<sup>e</sup> For this ye know, that no whoremonger, nor unclean person, nor covetous man, who is an idolater, hath any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and of God.

6<sup>f</sup> Let no man deceive you with vain words : for because of these things cometh the wrath of God upon the children of disobedience.

7 Be not ye therefore partakers with them :

8<sup>g</sup> For ye were sometimes darkness, but now are ye light in the Lord : walk as children of light ;

9<sup>h</sup> (For the fruit of the Spirit is in all goodness and righteousness and truth ;)

10<sup>i</sup> Proving what is acceptable unto the Lord.

11<sup>k</sup> And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove them.

12<sup>l</sup> For it is a shame even to speak of those things which are done of them in secret.

13<sup>m</sup> But all things that are reprov'd are made manifest by the light : for whatsoever doth make manifest is light.

14<sup>n</sup> Wherefore he saith, Awake, thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light.

15<sup>o</sup> See then that ye walk circumspectly, not as fools, but as wise, 16 Redeeming the time, because the days are evil.

17<sup>p</sup> Wherefore be ye not unwise, but understanding what the will of the Lord is.

18<sup>q</sup> And be not drunk with wine, wherein is excess ; but be filled with the Spirit ;

19<sup>r</sup> Speaking to yourselves in psalms and hymns, and spiritual songs, singing and making melody in your heart to the Lord ;

20<sup>s</sup> Giving thanks always for all things unto God and the Father, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ ;

21<sup>t</sup> Submitting yourselves one to another in the fear of God.

22<sup>u</sup> Wives, submit yourselves unto your own husbands, as unto the Lord.

23<sup>v</sup> For the husband is the head of the wife, even as Christ is the head of the church : and he is the Saviour of the body.

24 Therefore, as the church is subject unto Christ, so let the wives be to their own husbands in every thing.

25<sup>w</sup> Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the church, and gave himself for it

26 <sup>a</sup> That he might sanctify and cleanse it with the washing of water by the word :

27 <sup>a</sup> That he might present it to himself a glorious church, not having spot, or wrinkle, or any such thing; but that it should be holy and without blemish.

28 So ought men to love their wives as their own bodies : he that loveth his wife loveth himself.

29 For no man ever yet hated his own flesh ; but nourisheth and cherisheth it, even as the Lord the church :

30 <sup>b</sup> For we are members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones.

31 <sup>c</sup> For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall be joined unto his wife, and they two shall be one flesh.

32 This is a great mystery : but I speak concerning Christ and the church.

33 <sup>d</sup> Nevertheless, let every one of you in particular so love his wife even as himself ; and the wife see that she reverence her husband.

CHAPTER VI.

1 The relative duties of children ; 4 of parents ; 5 of servants ; 9 of masters.... 13 He exhorteth to resist spiritual enemies by putting on the Christian armour.

2 <sup>b</sup> Honour thy father and mother, (which is the first commandment with promise,)

3 That it may be well with thee, and thou mayest live long on the earth.

4 <sup>c</sup> And, ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath : but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord.

5 <sup>d</sup> Servants, be obedient to them that are your masters, according to the flesh, with fear and trembling, in singleness of your heart, as unto Christ ;

6 <sup>e</sup> Not with eye-service, as men-pleasers ; but as the servants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart ;

7 With good will doing service, as to the Lord, and not to men :

8 <sup>f</sup> Knowing that whatsoever good thing any man doeth, the same shall he receive of the Lord, whether he be bond or free.

9 <sup>g</sup> And, ye masters, do the same things unto them, forbearing threatening : knowing that your Master also is in heaven ; neither is there respect of persons with him.

10 <sup>h</sup> Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might.

11 <sup>i</sup> Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil.

12 <sup>k</sup> For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places.

13 <sup>l</sup> Wherefore take unto you the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand.

14 <sup>m</sup> Stand therefore, having your loins girt about with truth, and having on the breastplate of righteousness ;

15 <sup>n</sup> And your feet shod, with the preparation of the gospel of peace ;

16 <sup>o</sup> Above all, taking the shield of faith, whereby ye shall be able to quench all the fiery darts of the wicked.

17 <sup>p</sup> And take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God :

18 <sup>q</sup> Praying always with all prayer and supplication in the Spirit, and watching thereunto with all perseverance and supplication for all saints ;

19 <sup>r</sup> And for me, that utterance may be given unto me, that I may open my mouth boldly, to make known the mystery of the gospel,

20 <sup>s</sup> For which I am an ambassador in bonds ; that therein I may speak boldly, as I ought to speak.

21 <sup>t</sup> But that ye also may know my affairs, and how I do, Tychicus, a beloved brother and faithful minister in the Lord, shall make known to you all things :

22 <sup>u</sup> Whom I have sent unto you for the same purpose, that ye might know our affairs, and that he might comfort your hearts.

23 Peace be to the brethren, and love with faith, from God the Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

24 Grace be with all them that love our Lord Jesus Christ in sincerity. Amen.

¶ The Epistle of PAUL, the Apostle, to the PHILIPPIANS.

CHAPTER I.

3 Paul's thankfulness and prayer to God for them : 21 his readiness to suffer : 27 he exhorteth them to walk worthily.

<sup>a</sup> PAUL and Timotheus, the servants of Jesus Christ, to all the saints in Christ Jesus which are at Philippi, with the bishops and deacons :

2 <sup>b</sup> Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 <sup>c</sup> I thank my God upon every remembrance of you,

4 (Always in every prayer of mine for you all making request with joy,)

5 <sup>d</sup> For your fellowship in the gospel, from the first day until now ;

6 <sup>e</sup> Being confident of this very thing, that he which hath begun a good work in you will perform it until the day of Jesus Christ :

7 <sup>f</sup> Even as it is meet for me to think this of you all, because I have you in my heart ; inasmuch as both in my bonds, and in the defence and confirmation of the gospel, ye all are partakers of my grace.

8 <sup>g</sup> For God is my record, how greatly I long after you all in the bowels of Jesus Christ.

9 <sup>h</sup> And this I pray, that your love may abound yet more and more in knowledge and in all judgment ;

10 <sup>i</sup> That ye may approve things that are excellent ; that ye may be sincere and without offence till the day of Christ ;

11 <sup>k</sup> Being filled with the fruits of righteousness, which are by Jesus Christ unto the glory and praise of God.

12 But I would ye should understand, brethren, that the things which happened unto me have fallen out rather unto the furtherance of the gospel :

13 <sup>l</sup> So that my bonds in Christ are manifest in all the palace, and in all other places ;

14 <sup>m</sup> And many of the brethren in the Lord, waxing confident by my bonds, are much more bold to speak the word without fear.

15<sup>a</sup> Some indeed preach Christ even of envy and strife, and some also of good will.

16 The one preach Christ of contention, not sincerely, supposing to add affliction to my bonds;

17<sup>o</sup> But the other of love, knowing that I am set for the defence of the gospel.

18 What then? notwithstanding every way, whether in pretence or in truth, Christ is preached; and I therein do rejoice, yea, and will rejoice.

19<sup>p</sup> For I know that this shall turn to my salvation through your prayer, and the supply of the Spirit of Jesus Christ,

20<sup>q</sup> According to my earnest expectation and my hope, that in nothing I shall be ashamed, but that with all boldness, as always, so now also, Christ shall be magnified in my body, whether it be by life or by death.

21<sup>r</sup> For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain.

22<sup>s</sup> But if I live in the flesh, this is the fruit of my labour: yet what I shall choose I wot not.

23<sup>t</sup> For I am in a strait betwixt two, having a desire to depart, and to be with Christ; which is far better:

24 Nevertheless to abide in the flesh is more needful for you.

25<sup>u</sup> And having this confidence, I know that I shall abide and continue with you all, for your furtherance and joy of faith;

26<sup>x</sup> That your rejoicing may be more abundant in Jesus Christ for me, by my coming to you again.

27<sup>y</sup> Only let your conversation be as it becometh the gospel of Christ; that, whether I come and see you, or else be absent, I may hear of your affairs, that ye stand fast in one spirit, with one mind, striving together for the faith of the gospel;

28<sup>z</sup> And in nothing terrified by your adversaries: which is to them an evident token of perdition, but to you of salvation, and that of God.

29<sup>a</sup> For unto you it is given in the behalf of Christ, not only to believe on him, but also to suffer for his sake;

30<sup>b</sup> Having the same conflict which ye saw in me, and now hear to be in me.

CHAPTER II.

1 Love and unity recommended; 3 humility; 12 to be diligent in the way of salvation; 14 and cheerfully to submit to God's will.

IF there be therefore any consolation in Christ, if any comfort of love, if any fellowship of the Spirit, if any bowels and mercies,

2<sup>b</sup> Fulfil ye my joy, that ye be like-minded, having the same love, being of one accord, of one mind.

3<sup>c</sup> Let nothing be done through strife or vain glory; but in lowliness of mind let each esteem other better than themselves.

4<sup>d</sup> Look not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of others.

5<sup>e</sup> Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus:

6<sup>f</sup> Who, being in the form of God, thought it not robbery to be equal with God;

7<sup>g</sup> But made himself of no reputation, and took upon him the form of a servant, and was made in the likeness of men:

8<sup>h</sup> And being found in fashion as a man, he humbled himself, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross.

9<sup>i</sup> Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and given him a name which is above every name;

10<sup>k</sup> That at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth;

11<sup>l</sup> And that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

12<sup>m</sup> Wherefore, my beloved, as ye have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling:

13<sup>n</sup> For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of his good pleasure.

14<sup>o</sup> Do all things without murmurings and disputings,

15<sup>p</sup> That ye may be blameless and harmless, the sons of God without rebuke, in the midst of a crooked and perverse nation, among whom ye shine as lights in the world;

16<sup>q</sup> Holding forth the word of life; that I may rejoice in the day of Christ, that I have not run in vain, neither laboured in vain.

17<sup>r</sup> Yea, and if I be offered upon the sacrifice and service of your faith, I joy, and rejoice with you all.

18<sup>s</sup> For the same cause also do ye joy, and rejoice with me.

19<sup>t</sup> But I trust in the Lord Jesus to send Timotheus shortly unto you, that I also may be of good comfort, when I know your state.

20<sup>u</sup> For I have no man like-minded, who will naturally care for your state.

21<sup>x</sup> For all seek their own, not the things which are Jesus Christ's.

22<sup>y</sup> But ye know the proof of him, that, as a son with the father, he hath served with me in the gospel.

23 Him therefore I hope to send presently, so soon as I shall see how it will go with me.

24<sup>z</sup> But I trust in the Lord that I also myself shall come shortly.

25<sup>a</sup> Yet I supposed it necessary to send to you Epaphroditus, my brother, and companion in labour, and fellow-soldier, but your messenger, and he that ministered to my wants.

26 For he longed after you all, and was full of heaviness, because that ye had heard that he had been sick.

27 For indeed he was sick nigh unto death: but God had mercy on him; and not on him only, but on me also, lest I should have sorrow upon sorrow.

28 I sent him therefore the more carefully, that, when ye see him again, ye may rejoice, and that I may be the less sorrowful.

29<sup>b</sup> Receive him therefore in the Lord with all gladness; and hold such in reputation.

30<sup>c</sup> Because for the work of Christ he was nigh unto death, not regarding his life, to supply your lack of service toward me.

CHAPTER III.

2 To beware of false teachers; 4 his grounds of confidence, 7 but that he disclaimed them all; 12 his anxiety for the heavenly prize.

FINALLY, my brethren, rejoice in the Lord. To write the same things to you, to me indeed is not grievous, but for you it is safe.

2<sup>b</sup> Beware of dogs, beware of evil workers, beware of the concision.

1 Pet. 5, 12.

God in the Spirit, and rejoice in Christ Jesus, and have no confidence in the flesh :

4<sup>d</sup> Though I might also have confidence in the flesh. If any other man thinketh that he hath whereof he might trust in the flesh, I more :

5 Circumcised the eighth day, of the stock of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, a Hebrew of the Hebrews ; as touching the law, a Pharisee ;

6<sup>e</sup> Concerning zeal, persecuting the church ; touching the righteousness which is in the law, blameless.

7<sup>f</sup> But what things were gain to me, those I counted loss for Christ.

8<sup>g</sup> Yea doubtless, and I count all things but loss for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord : for whom I have suffered the loss of all things, and do count them but dung, that I may win Christ,

9<sup>h</sup> And be found in him, not having mine own righteousness, which is of the law, but that which is through the faith of Christ, the righteousness which is of God by faith :

10<sup>i</sup> That I may know him, and the power of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his sufferings, being made conformable unto his death ;

11<sup>k</sup> If by any means I might attain unto the resurrection of the dead.

12<sup>l</sup> Not as though I had already attained, either were already perfect : but I follow after, if that I may apprehend that for which also I am apprehended of Christ Jesus.

13 Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended : but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before,

14<sup>m</sup> I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.

15<sup>n</sup> Let us therefore, as many as be perfect, be thus minded : and if in any thing ye be otherwise minded, God shall reveal even this unto you.

16<sup>o</sup> Nevertheless, whereto we have already attained, let us walk by the same rule, let us mind the same thing.

17<sup>p</sup> Brethren, be followers together of me, and mark them which walk so, as ye have us for an ensample.

18<sup>q</sup> (For many walk, of whom I have told you often, and now tell you even weeping, that they are the enemies of the cross of Christ :

19<sup>r</sup> Whose end is destruction, whose God is their belly, and whose glory is in their shame, who mind earthly things.)

20<sup>s</sup> For our conversation is in heaven ; from whence also we look for the Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ :

21<sup>t</sup> Who shall change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like unto his glorious body, according to the working whereby he is able even to subdue all things unto himself.

CHAPTER IV.

4 General exhortations ; 10 his joy for their liberality toward him, and God's grace in them.

THEREFORE, my brethren dearly beloved and longed for, my joy and crown, so stand fast in the Lord, my dearly beloved

2<sup>b</sup> I beseech Euodias, and beseech Syntyche, that they be of the same mind in the Lord.

3<sup>c</sup> And I entreat thee also, true yoke-fellow, help those women which laboured with me in the gospel, with Clement also, and with other my fellow-labourers, whose names are in the book of life.

4<sup>d</sup> Rejoice in the Lord always : and again I say, Rejoice.

5<sup>e</sup> Let your moderation be known unto all men : The Lord is at hand.

6<sup>f</sup> Be careful for nothing ; but in every thing by prayer and supplication, with thanksgiving, let your request be made known unto God :

7<sup>g</sup> And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus.

8<sup>h</sup> Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report ; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things.

9<sup>i</sup> Those things, which ye have both learned, and received, and heard, and seen in me, do : and the God of peace shall be with you.

10<sup>k</sup> But I rejoiced in the Lord greatly, that now at the last your care of me hath flourished again ; wherein ye were also careful, but ye lacked opportunity.

11<sup>l</sup> Not that I speak in respect of want : for I have learned, in whatsoever state I am, therewith to be content.

12<sup>m</sup> I know both how to be abased, and I know how to abound : every where, and in all things, I am instructed, both to be full and to be hungry, both to abound and to suffer need.

13<sup>n</sup> I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me.

14<sup>o</sup> Notwithstanding, ye have well done that ye did communicate with my affliction.

15<sup>p</sup> Now, ye Philippians, know also, that in the beginning of the gospel, when I departed from Macedonia, no church communicated with me as concerning giving and receiving, but ye only.

16 For even in Thessalonica ye sent once and again unto my necessity.

17<sup>q</sup> Not because I desire a gift ; but I desire fruit that may abound to your account.

18<sup>r</sup> But I have all, and abound : I am full, having received of Epaphroditus the things which were sent from you, an odour of a sweet smell, a sacrifice acceptable, well-pleasing to God.

19<sup>s</sup> But my God shall supply all your need, according to his riches in glory by Christ Jesus.

20 Now unto God and our Father be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

21 Salute every saint in Christ Jesus. The brethren which are with me greet you.

22<sup>t</sup> All the saints salute you, chiefly they that are of Cesar's household.

23 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

The Epistle of PAUL, the Apostle, to the COLOSSIANS.

CHAPTER I.

1 Paul thanketh God for their faith, 9 prayeth for their increase in grace, 15 and describeth the exalted nature and office of Christ.

PAUL, an apostle of Jesus Christ, by the will of God, and Timotheus our brother,

2 To the saints and faithful brethren in Christ which are at Colosse: Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 We give thanks to God and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, praying always for you,

4 Since we heard of your faith in Christ Jesus, and of the love which ye have to all the saints;

5 For the hope which is laid up for you in heaven, whereof ye heard before in the word of the truth of the gospel;

6 Which is come unto you, as it is in all the world; and bringeth forth fruit, as it doth also in you, since the day ye heard of it, and knew the grace of God in truth:

7 As ye also learned of Epaphras our dear fellow-servant, who is for you a faithful minister of Christ;

8 Who also declared unto us your love in the Spirit.

9 For this cause we also, since the day we heard it, do not cease to pray for you, and to desire that ye might be filled with the knowledge of his will, in all wisdom and spiritual understanding;

10 That ye might walk worthy of the Lord unto all pleasing, being fruitful in every good work, and increasing in the knowledge of God;

11 Strengthened with all might, according to his glorious power, unto all patience and long-suffering with joyfulness;

12 Giving thanks unto the Father, which hath made us meet to be partakers of the inheritance of the saints in light:

13 Who hath delivered us from the power of darkness, and hath translated us into the kingdom of his dear Son:

14 In whom we have redemption through his blood, even the forgiveness of sins;

15 Who is the image of the invisible God, the first-born of every creature:

16 For by him were all things created, that are in heaven, and that are in earth, visible and invisible, whether they be thrones, or dominions, or principalities, or powers: all things were created by him, and for him:

17 And he is before all things, and by him all things consist:

18 And he is the head of the body, the church; who is the beginning, the first-born from the dead; that in all things he might have the pre-eminence:

19 For it pleased the Father that in him should all fulness dwell;

20 And, having made peace through the blood of his cross, by him to reconcile all things unto himself; by him, I say, whether they be things in earth, or things in heaven.

21 And you, that were sometime alienated, and enemies in your mind by wicked works, yet now hath he reconciled,

22 In the body of his flesh through death, to present you holy, and unblameable, and unproveable in his sight;

23 If ye continue in the faith grounded and settled, and be not moved away from the hope of the gospel, which ye have heard, and which was preached to every creature which is under heaven; whereof I Paul am made a minister;

24 Who now rejoice in my sufferings for you, and fill up that which is behind of the afflictions of Christ in my flesh for his body's sake, which is the church;

25 Whereof I am made a minister, according to the dispensation of God which is given to me for you, to fulfil the word of God;

26 Even the mystery which hath been hid from ages and from generations, but now is made manifest to his saints:

27 To whom God would make known what is the riches of the glory of this mystery among the Gentiles; which is Christ in you, the hope of glory:

28 Whom we preach, warning every man, and teaching every man in all wisdom; that we may present every man perfect in Christ Jesus:

29 Whereunto I also labour, striving according to his working, which worketh in me mightily.

CHAPTER II.

1 He exhorteth them to constancy in Christ, 8 to beware of philosophy and human traditions, 16 not to submit to legal ordinances, worshipping of angels, &c.

FOR I would that ye knew what great conflict I have for you, and for them at Laodicea, and for as many as have not seen my face in the flesh;

2 That their hearts might be comforted, being knit together in love, and unto all riches of the full assurance of understanding, to the acknowledgment of the mystery of God, and of the Father, and of Christ;

3 In whom are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge.

4 And this I say, lest any man should beguile you with enticing words.

5 For though I be absent in the flesh, yet am I with you in the spirit, joying and beholding your order, and the steadfastness of your faith in Christ.

6 As ye have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in him:

7 Rooted and built up in him, and established in the faith, as ye have been taught, abounding therein with thanksgiving.

8 Beware lest any man spoil you through philosophy and vain deceit, after the tradition of men, after the rudiments of the world, and not after Christ:

9 For in him dwelleth all the fulness of the God-head bodily.

10 And ye are complete in him, which is the head of all principality and power;

11 In whom also ye are circumcised with the circumcision made without hands, in putting off the body of the sins of the flesh by the circumcision of Christ;

12 Buried with him in baptism, wherein also ye are risen with him through the faith of the operation of God, who hath raised him from the dead.

13 And you, being dead in your sins, and the uncircumcision of your flesh, hath he quickened together with him, having forgiven you all trespasses;

14 Blotting out the hand-writing of ordinances that was against us, which was contrary to us, and took it out of the way, nailing it to his cross;

15 And having spoiled principalities and powers, he made a shew of them openly, triumphing over them in it.

i John 3, 23.

16<sup>a</sup> Let no man therefore judge you in meat, or in drink, or in respect of a holy-day, or of the new moon, or of the sabbath-days;

17<sup>r</sup> Which are a shadow of things to come; but the body is of Christ.

18<sup>s</sup> Let no man beguile you of your reward, in a voluntary humility and worshipping of angels, intruding into those things which he hath not seen, vainly puffed up by his fleshly mind;

19<sup>t</sup> And not holding the head, from which all the body by joints and bands having nourishment ministered, and knit together, increaseth with the increase of God.

20<sup>u</sup> Wherefore, if ye be dead with Christ from the rudiments of the world, why, as though living in the world, are ye subject to ordinances,

21 (Touch not; taste not; handle not;

22<sup>x</sup> Which all are to perish with the using,) after the commandments and doctrines of men?

23<sup>y</sup> Which things have indeed a shew of wisdom in will-worship, and humility, and neglecting of the body; not in any honour to the satisfying of the flesh.

CHAPTER III.

1 He exhorteth to be heavenly minded; 5 to mortify corrupt lusts, and all malice; 12 to put on kindness, charity, &c.

18 Sundry other relative duties.

IF ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God.

2<sup>b</sup> Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth.

3<sup>c</sup> For ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God.

4<sup>d</sup> When Christ, who is our life, shall appear, then shall ye also appear with him in glory.

5<sup>e</sup> Mortify therefore your members which are upon the earth; fornication, uncleanness, inordinate affection, evil concupiscence, and covetousness, which is idolatry:

6<sup>f</sup> For which things' sake the wrath of God cometh on the children of disobedience:

7<sup>g</sup> In the which ye also walked sometime, when ye lived in them.

8<sup>h</sup> But now ye also put off all these; anger, wrath, malice, blasphemy, filthy communication out of your mouth.

9<sup>i</sup> Lie not one to another, seeing that ye have put off the old man with his deeds;

10<sup>k</sup> And have put on the new man, which is renewed in knowledge after the image of him that created him:

11<sup>l</sup> Where there is neither Greek nor Jew, circumcision nor uncircumcision, Barbarian, Scythian, bond nor free: but Christ is all, and in all.

12<sup>m</sup> Put on therefore, as the elect of God, holy and beloved, bowels of mercies, kindness, humbleness of mind, meekness, long-suffering;

13<sup>n</sup> Forbearing one another, and forgiving one another, if any man have a quarrel against any: even as Christ forgave you, so also do ye.

14<sup>o</sup> And above all these things put on charity, which is the bond of perfectness.

15<sup>p</sup> And let the peace of God rule in your hearts, to the which also ye are called in one body; and be ye thankful.

16<sup>q</sup> Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom; teaching and admonishing one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord.

17<sup>r</sup> And whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God and the Father by him.

18<sup>s</sup> Wives, submit yourselves unto your own husbands, as it is fit in the Lord.

19<sup>t</sup> Husbands, love your wives, and be not bitter against them.

20<sup>u</sup> Children, obey your parents in all things: for this is well-pleasing unto the Lord.

21<sup>x</sup> Fathers, provoke not your children to anger, lest they be discouraged.

22<sup>y</sup> Servants, obey in all things your masters according to the flesh; not with eye-service, as men-pleasers; but in singleness of heart, fearing God:

23 And whatsoever ye do, do it heartily, as to the Lord, and not unto men;

24<sup>z</sup> Knowing, that of the Lord ye shall receive the reward of the inheritance: for ye serve the Lord Christ.

25<sup>a</sup> But he that doeth wrong shall receive for the wrong which he hath done: and there is no respect of persons.

CHAPTER IV.

1 He exhorteth to be fervent in prayer, 5 to walk wisely, 6 and with well-ordered speech; 7 he commendeth Tychicus and Onesimus....10 Sundry salutations.

MASTERS, give unto your servants that which is just and equal; knowing that ye also have a Master in heaven.

2<sup>b</sup> Continue in prayer, and watch in the same with thanksgiving;

3<sup>c</sup> Withal, praying also for us, that God would open unto us a door of utterance, to speak the mystery of Christ, for which I am also in bonds:

4<sup>d</sup> That I may make it manifest, as I ought to speak.

5<sup>e</sup> Walk in wisdom toward them that are without, redeeming the time.

6<sup>f</sup> Let your speech be always with grace, seasoned with salt, that ye may know how ye ought to answer every man.

7<sup>g</sup> All my state shall Tychicus declare unto you, who is a beloved brother, and a faithful minister and fellow-servant in the Lord;

8 Whom I have sent unto you for the same purpose, that he might know your estate, and comfort your hearts;

9<sup>h</sup> With Onesimus, a faithful and beloved brother, who is one of you. They shall make known unto you all things which are done here.

10<sup>i</sup> Aristarchus my fellow-prisoner saluteth you; and Marcus, sister's son to Barnabas, (touching whom ye received commandments; if he come unto you, receive him;)

11 And Jesus, which is called Justus; who are of the circumcision. These only are my fellow-workers unto the kingdom of God, which have been a comfort unto me.

12<sup>k</sup> Epaphras, who is one of you, a servant of Christ, saluteth you, always labouring fervently for you in prayers, that ye may stand perfect and complete in all the will of God.

13 For I bear him record, that he hath a great zeal for you, and them that are in Laodicea, and them in Hierapolis.

14<sup>l</sup> Luke, the beloved physician, and Demas, greet you.

15<sup>m</sup> Salute the brethren which are in Laodicea,

¶ The First Epistle of PAUL, the Apostle, to the THESSALONIANS.

CHAPTER I.

2 Paul sheweth his remembrance of them in thanksgiving and prayer, 5 and approveth their exemplary reception of the gospel.

PAUL, and Silvanus, and Timotheus, unto the church of the Thessalonians, which is in God the Father, and in the Lord Jesus Christ: Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

2<sup>b</sup> We give thanks to God always for you all, making mention of you in our prayers;

3<sup>c</sup> Remembering without ceasing your work of faith, and labour of love, and patience of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ, in the sight of God and our Father;

4<sup>d</sup> Knowing, brethren beloved, your election of God.

5<sup>e</sup> For our gospel came not unto you in word only, but also in power, and in the Holy Ghost, and in much assurance; as ye know what manner of men we were among you for your sake.

6<sup>f</sup> And ye became followers of us, and of the Lord, having received the word in much affliction, with joy of the Holy Ghost;

7 So that ye were ensamples to all that believe in Macedonia and Achaia.

8<sup>g</sup> For from you sounded out the word of the Lord not only in Macedonia and Achaia, but also in every place your faith to God-ward is spread abroad; so that we need not to speak any thing.

9<sup>h</sup> For they themselves shew of us what manner of entering in we had unto you, and how ye turned to God from idols, to serve the living and true God;

10<sup>i</sup> And to wait for his Son from heaven, whom he raised from the dead, even Jesus, which delivered us from the wrath to come.

CHAPTER II.

1 In what manner the gospel was preached unto them, and how they received it; 17 he sheweth his desire of coming to them, &c.

FOR yourselves, brethren, know our entrance in unto you, that it was not in vain:

2<sup>b</sup> But even after that we had suffered before, and were shamefully entreated, as ye know, at Philippi, we were bold in our God to speak unto you the gospel of God with much contention.

3<sup>c</sup> For our exhortation was not of deceit, nor of uncleanness, nor in guile:

4<sup>d</sup> But as we were allowed of God to be put in trust with the gospel, even so we speak; not as pleasing men, but God, which trieth our hearts.

5<sup>e</sup> For neither at any time used we flattering words, as ye know, nor a cloak of covetousness; God is witness:

6<sup>f</sup> Nor of men sought we glory, neither of you, nor yet of others, when we might have been burdensome, as the apostles of Christ.

7<sup>g</sup> But we were gentle among you, even as a nurse cherisheth her children:

8<sup>h</sup> So, being affectionately desirous of you, we were willing to have imparted unto you, not the gospel of God only, but also our own souls, because ye were dear unto us.

9<sup>i</sup> For ye remember, brethren, our labour and travail: for labouring night and day, because we would not be chargeable unto any of you, we preached unto you the gospel of God.

10 Ye are witnesses, and God also, how holily and justly and unblameably we behaved ourselves among you that believe:

11<sup>k</sup> As ye know how we exhorted and comforted and charged every one of you, as a father doth his children,

12<sup>l</sup> That ye would walk worthy of God, who hath called you unto his kingdom and glory.

13<sup>m</sup> For this cause also thank we God without ceasing, because, when ye received the word of God which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but, as it is in truth, the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that believe.

14<sup>n</sup> For ye, brethren, became followers of the churches of God which in Judea are in Christ Jesus: for ye also have suffered like things of your own countrymen, even as they have of the Jews;

15<sup>o</sup> Who both killed the Lord Jesus and their own prophets, and have persecuted us; and they please not God, and are contrary to all men;

16<sup>p</sup> Forbidding us to speak to the Gentiles, that they might be saved, to fill up their sins always; for the wrath is come upon them to the uttermost.

17 But we, brethren, being taken from you for a short time in presence, not in heart, endeavoured the more abundantly to see your face with great desire.

18<sup>q</sup> Wherefore we would have come unto you, even I Paul, once and again; but Satan hindered us.

19<sup>r</sup> For what is our hope, or joy, or crown of rejoicing? Are not even ye in the presence of our Lord Jesus Christ at his coming?

20 For ye are our glory and joy.

CHAPTER III.

1 Why Paul sent Timothy to them; 6 his good report a consolation to him.

WHEREFORE, when we could no longer forbear, we thought it good to be left at Athens alone;

2<sup>a</sup> And sent Timotheus, our brother, and minister of God, and our fellow-labourer in the gospel of Christ, to establish you, and to comfort you concerning your faith;

3<sup>b</sup> That no man should be moved by these afflictions: for yourselves know that we are appointed thereunto.

4 For verily, when we were with you, we told you before that we should suffer tribulation; even as it came to pass, and ye know.

5<sup>c</sup> For this cause, when I could no longer forbear, I sent to know your faith, lest by some means the tempter have tempted you, and our labour be in vain.

6<sup>d</sup> But now, when Timotheus came from you unto us, and brought us good tidings of your faith and charity, and that ye have good remembrance of us always, desiring greatly to see us, as we also to see you;

7<sup>e</sup> Therefore, brethren, we were comforted over you, in all our affliction and distress, by your faith:

8 For now we live, if ye stand fast in the Lord.

9 For what thanks can we render to God again for you, for all the joy wherewith we joy for your sakes before our God;

10<sup>f</sup> Night and day praying exceedingly that we might see your face, and might perfect that which is lacking in your faith?

11 Now God himself and our Father, and our Lord Jesus Christ, direct our way unto you.

12<sup>g</sup> And the Lord make you to increase and abound in love one toward another, and toward all men, even as we do toward you:

13<sup>h</sup> To the end he may establish your hearts unblameable in holiness before God, even our Father, at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ with all his saints.

CHAPTER IV.

1 He exhorteth to go on in godliness, 7 to holiness, 9 to love, 11 to quietness.... 15 The saints' resurrection, and Christ's second coming.

FURTHERMORE then we beseech you, brethren, and exhort you by the Lord Jesus, that as ye have received of us how ye ought to walk and to please God, so ye would abound more and more.

2 For ye know what commandments we gave you by the Lord Jesus.

3<sup>b</sup> For this is the will of God, even your sanctification, that ye should abstain from fornication:

4<sup>c</sup> That every one of you should know how to possess his vessel in sanctification and honour;

5<sup>d</sup> Not in the lust of concupiscence, even as the Gentiles which know not God:

6<sup>e</sup> That no man go beyond and defraud his brother in any matter; because that the Lord is the avenger of all such, as we also have forewarned you and testified.

7<sup>f</sup> For God hath not called us unto uncleanness, but unto holiness.

8<sup>g</sup> He therefore that despiseth, despiseth not man, but God, who hath also given unto us his Holy Spirit.

9<sup>h</sup> But as touching brotherly love, ye need not that I write unto you; for ye yourselves are taught of God to love one another.

10<sup>i</sup> And indeed ye do it toward all the brethren which are in all Macedonia: but we beseech you, brethren, that ye increase more and more:

11<sup>k</sup> And that ye study to be quiet, and to do your own business, and to work with your own hands, as we commanded you;

12<sup>l</sup> That ye may walk honestly toward them that are without, and that ye may have lack of nothing.

13<sup>m</sup> But I would not have you to be ignorant, brethren, concerning them which are asleep, that ye sorrow not, even as others which have no hope.

14<sup>n</sup> For if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so them also which sleep in Jesus will God bring with him.

15<sup>o</sup> For this we say unto you by the word of the Lord, that we which are alive, and remain unto the coming of the Lord shall not prevent them which are asleep.

16<sup>p</sup> For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God: and the dead in Christ shall rise first:

17<sup>q</sup> Then we which are alive and remain, shall be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air: and so shall we ever be with the Lord.

18<sup>r</sup> Wherefore comfort one another with these words.

CHAPTER V.

1 He sheweth that Christ's second coming will be sudden, and exhorteth to watch; 14 he giveth divers precepts, &c.

BUT of the times and the seasons, brethren, ye have no need that I write unto you.

2<sup>b</sup> For yourselves know perfectly that the day of the Lord so cometh as a thief in the night.

3<sup>c</sup> For when they shall say, Peace and safety; then sudden destruction cometh upon them, as travail upon a woman with child; and they shall not escape.

4<sup>d</sup> But ye, brethren, are not in darkness, that that day should overtake you as a thief.

5<sup>e</sup> Ye are all the children of light, and the children of the day: we are not of the night, nor of darkness.

6<sup>f</sup> Therefore let us not sleep, as do others; but let us watch and be sober.

7<sup>g</sup> For they that sleep, sleep in the night; and they that be drunken, are drunken in the night.

8<sup>h</sup> But let us who are of the day, be sober, putting on the breastplate of faith and love; and for a helmet, the hope of salvation.

9<sup>i</sup> For God hath not appointed us to wrath, but to obtain salvation by our Lord Jesus Christ,

10<sup>k</sup> Who died for us, that, whether we wake or sleep, we should live together with him.

11<sup>l</sup> Wherefore comfort yourselves together, and edify one another, even as also ye do.

12<sup>m</sup> And we beseech you, brethren, to know them which labour among you, and are over you in the Lord, and admonish you;

13 And to esteem them very highly in love for their work's sake. And be at peace among yourselves.

14<sup>n</sup> Now we exhort you, brethren, warn them that are unruly, comfort the feeble-minded, support the weak, be patient toward all men.

15<sup>o</sup> See that none render evil for evil unto any man; but ever follow that which is good, both among yourselves, and to all men.

17<sup>q</sup> Pray without ceasing.

18<sup>r</sup> In every thing give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you.

19<sup>s</sup> Quench not the Spirit.

20<sup>t</sup> Despise not prophesyings.

21<sup>u</sup> Prove all things; hold fast that which is good.

22<sup>v</sup> Abstain from all appearance of evil.

23<sup>w</sup> And the very God of peace sanctify you wholly: and I pray God your whole spirit and soul and body be preserved blameless unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ.

24<sup>x</sup> Faithful is he that calleth you, who also will do it.

25<sup>y</sup> Brethren, pray for us.

26<sup>z</sup> Greet all the brethren with a holy kiss.

27<sup>a</sup> I charge you by the Lord, that this epistle be read unto all the holy brethren.

28<sup>b</sup> The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. Amen.

¶ The Second Epistle of PAUL, the Apostle, to the THESSALONIANS.

CHAPTER I.

Anno DOMINI 54. 1 Paul's good opinion of their faith, love, and patience; 6 of God's punishing their enemies, and recompensing their sufferings.

a 1 Thes. 1, 1. PAUL, and Silvanus, and Timotheus, unto the church of the Thessalonians in God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ:

2<sup>b</sup> Grace unto you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3<sup>c</sup> We are bound to thank God always for you, brethren, as it is meet, because that your faith groweth exceedingly, and the charity of every one of you all toward each other aboundeth:

4<sup>d</sup> So that we ourselves glory in you in the churches of God, for your patience and faith in all your persecutions and tribulations that ye endure;

5<sup>e</sup> Which is a manifest token of the righteous judgment of God, that ye may be counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for which ye also suffer:

6<sup>f</sup> Seeing it is a righteous thing with God to recompense tribulation to them that trouble you;

7<sup>g</sup> And to you who are troubled, rest with us; when the Lord Jesus shall be revealed from heaven with his mighty angels,

8<sup>h</sup> In flaming fire, taking vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ:

9<sup>i</sup> Who shall be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord, and from the glory of his power;

10<sup>k</sup> When he shall come to be glorified in his saints, and to be admired in all them that believe (because our testimony among you was believed) in that day.

11<sup>l</sup> Wherefore also we pray always for you, that our God would count you worthy of this calling, and fulfil all the good pleasure of his goodness, and the work of faith with power;

12 That the name of our Lord Jesus Christ may be glorified in you, and ye in him, according to the grace of our God and the Lord Jesus Christ.

CHAPTER II.

1 He willeth them to continue steadfast in the truth received; 3 sheweth that there shall be a departure from the faith, 8 and a discovery of antichrist, &c.

a NOW we beseech you, brethren, by the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, and by our gathering together unto him,

2<sup>b</sup> That ye be not soon shaken in mind, or be troubled, neither by spirit, nor by word, nor by letter, as from us, as that the day of Christ is at hand.

3<sup>c</sup> Let no man deceive you by any means: for that day shall not come, except there come a falling away first, and that man of sin be revealed, the son of perdition;

4<sup>d</sup> Who opposeth and exalteth himself above all that is called God, or that is worshipped; so that he, as God, sitteth in the temple of God, shewing himself that he is God.

5 Remember ye not, that, when I was yet with you, I told you these things?

6 And now ye know what withholdeth, that he might be revealed in his time.

7<sup>e</sup> For the mystery of iniquity doth already work:

only he who now letteth, will let, until he be taken out of the way.

8<sup>f</sup> And then shall that Wicked be revealed, whom the Lord shall consume with the spirit of his mouth, and shall destroy with the brightness of his coming:

9<sup>g</sup> Even him, whose coming is after the working of Satan, with all power and signs and lying wonders,

10<sup>h</sup> And with all deceivableness of unrighteousness in them that perish; because they received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved.

11<sup>i</sup> And for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe a lie:

12<sup>k</sup> That they all might be damned who believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness.

13<sup>l</sup> But we are bound to give thanks always to God for you, brethren beloved of the Lord, because God hath from the beginning chosen you to salvation through sanctification of the Spirit and belief of the truth;

14 Whereunto he called you by our gospel, to the obtaining of the glory of the Lord Jesus Christ.

15<sup>m</sup> Therefore, brethren, stand fast, and hold the traditions which ye have been taught, whether by word, or our epistle.

16<sup>n</sup> Now our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God, even our Father, which hath loved us, and hath given us everlasting consolation and good hope through grace, 17<sup>o</sup> Comfort your hearts, and establish you in every good word and work.

CHAPTER III.

1 He craveth their prayers; 3 he testifieth his confidence in them, praying God to direct them; 6 he giveth them divers precepts, &c.

a FINALLY, brethren, pray for us, that the word of the Lord may have free course, and be glorified, even as it is with you:

2<sup>b</sup> And that we may be delivered from unreasonable and wicked men: for all men have not faith.

3<sup>c</sup> But the Lord is faithful, who shall establish you, and keep you from evil.

4<sup>d</sup> And we have confidence in the Lord touching you, that ye both do and will do the things which we command you.

5<sup>e</sup> And the Lord direct your hearts into the love of God, and into the patient waiting for Christ.

6<sup>f</sup> Now we command you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye withdraw yourselves from every brother that walketh disorderly, and not after the tradition which he received of us.

7<sup>g</sup> For yourselves know how ye ought to follow us: for we behaved not ourselves disorderly among you;

8<sup>h</sup> Neither did we eat any man's bread for nought; but wrought with labour and travail night and day, that we might not be chargeable to any of you:

9<sup>i</sup> Not because we have not power, but to make ourselves an ensample unto you to follow us.

10<sup>k</sup> For even when we were with you, this we commanded you, that if any would not work, neither should he eat.

11<sup>l</sup> For we hear that there are some which walk among you disorderly, working not at all, but are busybodies.

12<sup>m</sup> Now them that are such we command and exhort by our Lord Jesus Christ, that with quietness they work, and eat their own bread.

13<sup>a</sup> But ye, brethren, be not weary in well-doing.

15<sup>a</sup> Yet count him not as an enemy, but admonish him as a brother.

¶ The First Epistle of PAUL, the Apostle, to TIMOTHY.

CHAPTER I.

3 Paul remindeth Timothy of his charge....5 The end of the commandment is charity....8 The scope of the law was to condemn wickedness, which is also the design of the gospel.

PAUL, an apostle of Jesus Christ, by the commandment of God our Saviour, and Lord Jesus Christ, which is our hope;

2<sup>b</sup> Unto Timothy, my own son in the faith: Grace, mercy, and peace, from God our Father and Jesus Christ our Lord.

3<sup>c</sup> As I besought thee to abide still at Ephesus, when I went into Macedonia, that thou mightest charge some that they teach no other doctrine,

4<sup>d</sup> Neither give heed to fables and endless genealogies, which minister questions, rather than godly edifying, which is in faith; so do.

5<sup>e</sup> Now the end of the commandment is charity, out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith unfeigned:

6<sup>f</sup> From which some having swerved, have turned aside unto vain jangling;

7<sup>g</sup> Desiring to be teachers of the law; understanding neither what they say, nor whereof they affirm.

8<sup>h</sup> But we know that the law is good, if a man use it lawfully;

9<sup>i</sup> Knowing this, that the law is not made for a righteous man, but for the lawless and disobedient, for the ungodly and for sinners, for unholy and profane, for murderers of fathers, and murderers of mothers, for manslayers,

10<sup>k</sup> For whoremongers, for them that defile themselves with mankind, for men-stealers, for liars, for perjured persons, and if there be any other thing that is contrary to sound doctrine;

11<sup>l</sup> According to the glorious gospel of the blessed God, which was committed to my trust.

12<sup>m</sup> And I thank Christ Jesus our Lord, who hath enabled me, for that he counted me faithful, putting me into the ministry;

13<sup>n</sup> Who was before a blasphemer, and a persecutor, and injurious: but I obtained mercy, because I did it ignorantly in unbelief:

14 And the grace of our Lord was exceeding abundant with faith and love which is in Christ Jesus.

15<sup>o</sup> This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptation, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners; of whom I am chief.

16 Howbeit for this cause I obtained mercy, that in me first Jesus Christ might shew forth all long-suffering, for a pattern to them which should hereafter believe on him to life everlasting.

17<sup>p</sup> Now unto the King eternal, immortal, invisible, the only wise God, be honour and glory for ever and ever. Amen.

18<sup>q</sup> This charge I commit unto thee, son Timothy, according to the prophecies which went before on 16<sup>a</sup> Now the Lord of peace himself give you peace always by all means. The Lord be with you all.

17<sup>r</sup> The salutation of Paul with mine own hand, which is the token in every epistle: so I write.

18 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

¶ The second epistle to the Thessalonians was written from Athens.

thee, that thou by them mightest war a good warfare;

19<sup>r</sup> Holding faith, and a good conscience; which some having put away, concerning faith have made shipwreck:

20<sup>s</sup> Of whom is Hymeneus and Alexander; whom I have delivered unto Satan, that they may learn not to blaspheme.

CHAPTER II.

1 He exhorteth to pray and give thanks for all men, 4 for God willett the salvation of all men; 7 his commission to the Gentiles....9 How women ought to be attired, &c.

EXHORT therefore, that, first of all, supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks, be made for all men:

2<sup>a</sup> For kings, and for all that are in authority; that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and honesty.

3<sup>b</sup> For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour;

4<sup>c</sup> Who will have all men to be saved, and to come unto the knowledge of the truth.

5<sup>d</sup> For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus;

6<sup>e</sup> Who gave himself a ransom for all, to be testified in due time.

7<sup>f</sup> Whereunto I am ordained a preacher, and an apostle, (I speak the truth in Christ, and lie not,) a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and verity.

8<sup>g</sup> I will therefore that men pray every where, lifting up holy hands, without wrath and doubting.

9<sup>h</sup> In like manner also, that women adorn themselves in modest apparel, with shamefacedness and sobriety; not with broidered hair, or gold, or pearls, or costly array;

10 But (which becometh women professing godliness) with good works.

11<sup>i</sup> Let the woman learn in silence with all subjection.

12 But I suffer not a woman to teach, nor to usurp authority over the man, but to be in silence.

13<sup>k</sup> For Adam was first formed, then Eve.

14<sup>l</sup> And Adam was not deceived; but the woman being deceived, was in the transgression.

15<sup>m</sup> Notwithstanding she shall be saved in child-bearing, if they continue in faith, and charity, and holiness, with sobriety.

CHAPTER III.

1 How bishops and deacons, and their wives, should be qualified; 14 and to what end St. Paul wrote to Timothy of these things....16 The important truths of the Christian revelation.

THIS is a true saying, If a man desire the office of a bishop, he desireth a good work.

2<sup>a</sup> A bishop then must be blameless, the husband of one wife, vigilant, sober, of good behaviour, given to hospitality, apt to teach,

3<sup>e</sup> Not given to wine, not striker, not greedy of filthy lucre; but patient, not a brawler, not covetous;
4 One that ruleth well his own house, having his children in subjection with all gravity;
5 (For if a man know not how to rule his own house, how shall he take care of the church of God?)
6 Not a novice, lest being lifted up with pride, he fall into the condemnation of the devil.
7<sup>d</sup> Moreover he must have a good report of them which are without; lest he fall into reproach, and the snare of the devil.
8<sup>e</sup> Likewise must the deacons be grave, not double-tongued, not given to much wine, not greedy of filthy lucre;
9<sup>f</sup> Holding the mystery of the faith in a pure conscience.
10 And let these also first be proved; then let them use the office of a deacon, being found blameless.
11 Even so must their wives be grave, not slanderers, sober, faithful in all things.
12 Let the deacons be the husbands of one wife, ruling their children and their own houses well.
13<sup>g</sup> For they that have used the office of a deacon well, purchase to themselves a good degree, and great boldness in the faith which is in Christ Jesus.
14<sup>h</sup> These things write I unto thee, hoping to come unto thee shortly:
15<sup>i</sup> But if I tarry long, that thou mayest know how thou oughtest to behave thyself in the house of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and ground of the truth.
16<sup>k</sup> And, without controversy, great is the mystery of godliness: God was manifest in the flesh, justified in the Spirit, seen of angels, preached unto the Gentiles, believed on in the world, received up into glory.

CHAPTER IV.
1 He foretelleth and describeth a great apostacy....6 Directions to Timothy.

NOW the Spirit speaketh expressly, that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits, and doctrines of devils;
2<sup>b</sup> Speaking lies in hypocrisy; having their conscience seared with a hot iron:
3<sup>c</sup> Forbidding to marry, and commanding to abstain from meats, which God hath created to be received with thanksgiving of them which believe and know the truth.
4<sup>d</sup> For every creature of God is good, and nothing to be refused, if it be received with thanksgiving:
5 For it is sanctified by the word of God and prayer.
6<sup>e</sup> If thou put the brethren in remembrance of these things, thou shalt be a good minister of Jesus Christ, nourished up in the words of faith, and of good doctrine, whereunto thou hast attained.
7<sup>f</sup> But refuse profane and old wives' fables, and exercise thyself rather unto godliness.
8<sup>g</sup> For bodily exercise profiteth little; but godliness is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come.
9<sup>h</sup> This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptance.
10<sup>i</sup> For therefore we both labour and suffer reproach, because we trust in the living God, who is the Saviour of all men, especially of those that believe.
11 These things command and teach.
12<sup>k</sup> Let no man despise thy youth; but be thou an example of the believers, in word, in conversation in charity, in spirit, in faith, in purity.

13<sup>l</sup> Till I come, give attendance to reading, to exhortation, to doctrine.
14<sup>m</sup> Neglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee by prophecy, with the laying on of the hands of the presbytery.
15 Meditate upon these things; give thyself wholly to them: that thy profiting may appear to all.
16<sup>n</sup> Take heed unto thyself, and unto the doctrine; continue in them: for in doing this thou shalt both save thyself, and them that hear thee.

CHAPTER V.
1 Rules to be observed in reprovng....3 Of widows and elders.
23 A precept for Timothy's health.

REBUKE not an elder, but entreat him as a father; and the younger men as brethren;
2<sup>b</sup> The elder women as mothers; the younger as sisters, with all purity.
3<sup>c</sup> Honour widows that are widows indeed.
4<sup>d</sup> But if any widow have children or nephews, let them learn first to shew piety at home, and to requite their parents: for that is good and acceptable before God.
5<sup>e</sup> Now she that is a widow indeed, and desolate, trusteth in God, and continueth in supplications and prayers night and day.
6 But she that liveth in pleasure is dead while she liveth.
7<sup>f</sup> And these things give in charge, that they may be blameless.
8<sup>g</sup> But if any provide not for his own, and especially for those of his own house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel.
9 Let not a widow be taken into the number under threescore years old, having been the wife of one man,
10<sup>h</sup> Well reported of for good works; if she have brought up children, if she have lodged strangers, if she have washed the saints' feet, if she have relieved the afflicted, if she have diligently followed every good work.
11 But the younger widows refuse: for when they have begun to wax wanton against Christ, they will marry:
12 Having damnation, because they have cast off their first faith.
13<sup>i</sup> And withal they learn to be idle, wandering about from house to house; and not only idle, but tattlers also, and busybodies, speaking things which they ought not.
14<sup>k</sup> I will therefore that the younger women marry, bear children, guide the house, give none occasion to the adversary to speak reproachfully.
15 For some are already turned aside after Satan.
16<sup>l</sup> If any man or woman that believeth have widows, let them relieve them, and let not the church be charged; that it may relieve them that are widows indeed.
17<sup>m</sup> Let the elders that rule well be counted worthy of double honour, especially they who labour in the word and doctrine.
18<sup>n</sup> For the scripture saith, Thou shalt not muzzle the ox that treadeth out the corn: and, The labourer is worthy of his reward.
19<sup>o</sup> Against an elder receive not an accusation, but before two or three witnesses.
20<sup>p</sup> Them that sin rebuke before all, that others also may fear.

21 <sup>a</sup> I charge thee before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, and the elect angels, that thou observe these things without preferring one before another, doing nothing by partiality.

22 <sup>r</sup> Lay hands suddenly on no man, neither be partaker of other men's sins: keep thyself pure.

23 <sup>s</sup> Drink no longer water, but use a little wine for thy stomach's sake, and thine often infirmities.

24 <sup>t</sup> Some men's sins are open beforehand, going before to judgment; and some men they follow after.

25 Likewise also the good works of some are manifest beforehand; and they that are otherwise cannot be hid.

CHAPTER VI.

1 The duty of servants....3 To avoid corrupt teachers....6 The gain of godliness.

LET as many servants as are under the yoke count their own masters worthy of all honour, that the name of God and his doctrine be not blasphemed.

2 And they that have believing masters, let them not despise them, because they are brethren; but rather do them service, because they are faithful and beloved, partakers of the benefit. These things teach and exhort.

3 <sup>b</sup> If any man teach otherwise, and consent not to wholesome words, even the words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to the doctrine which is according to godliness,

4 <sup>c</sup> He is proud, knowing nothing, but doting about questions and strifes of words, whereof cometh envy, strife, railings, evil surmisings,

5 <sup>d</sup> Perverse disputings of men of corrupt minds, and destitute of the truth, supposing that gain is godliness: from such withdraw thyself.

6 <sup>e</sup> But godliness with contentment is great gain.

7 <sup>f</sup> For we brought nothing into this world, and it is certain we can carry nothing out.

8 <sup>g</sup> And having food and raiment, let us be therewith content.

9 <sup>h</sup> But they that will be rich, fall into temptation and a snare, and into many foolish and hurtful lusts, which drown men in destruction and perdition.

10 <sup>i</sup> For the love of money is the root of all evil; which while some coveted after, they have erred from the faith, and pierced themselves through with many sorrows.

11 <sup>k</sup> But thou, O man of God, flee these things; and follow after righteousness, godliness, faith, love, patience, meekness.

12 <sup>l</sup> Fight the good fight of faith, lay hold on eternal life, whereunto thou art also called, and hast professed a good profession before many witnesses.

13 <sup>m</sup> I give thee charge in the sight of God, who quickeneth all things, and before Christ Jesus, who before Pontius Pilate witnessed a good confession;

14 <sup>n</sup> That thou keep this commandment without spot, unrebukable, until the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ:

15 <sup>o</sup> Which in his times he shall shew, who is the blessed and only Potentate, the King of kings, and Lord of lords;

16 <sup>p</sup> Who only hath immortality, dwelling in the light which no man can approach unto; whom no man hath seen nor can see: to whom be honour and power everlasting. Amen.

17 <sup>q</sup> Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not high-minded, nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy;

18 <sup>r</sup> That they do good, that they be rich in good works, ready to distribute, willing to communicate;

19 <sup>s</sup> Laying up in store for themselves a good foundation against the time to come, that they may lay hold on eternal life.

20 <sup>t</sup> O Timothy, keep that which is committed to thy trust, avoiding profane and vain babblings, and oppositions of science falsely so called:

21 <sup>u</sup> Which some professing, have erred concerning the faith. Grace be with thee. Amen.

¶ The Second Epistle of PAUL, the Apostle, to TIMOTHY.

CHAPTER I.

1 Paul's love to Timothy: 6 he exhorteth him to stir up the gift of God, 8 and not to be ashamed of the gospel of Christ.

PAUL, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, according to the promise of life which is in Christ Jesus,

2 <sup>a</sup> To Timothy, my dearly beloved son: Grace, mercy, and peace, from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

3 <sup>b</sup> I thank God, whom I serve from my forefathers with pure conscience, that without ceasing I have remembrance of thee in my prayers night and day;

4 <sup>c</sup> Greatly desiring to see thee, being mindful of thy tears, that I may be filled with joy;

5 <sup>d</sup> When I call to remembrance the unfeigned faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and thy mother Eunice; and I am persuaded that in thee also.

6 <sup>e</sup> Wherefore I put thee in remembrance that thou stir up the gift of God, which is in thee by the putting on of my hands.

7 <sup>f</sup> For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind.

8 <sup>g</sup> Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner: but be thou partaker of the afflictions of the gospel according to the power of God:

9 <sup>h</sup> Who hath saved us, and called us with a holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus before the world began;

10 <sup>i</sup> But is now made manifest by the appearing of our Saviour Jesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortality to light through the gospel;

11 <sup>k</sup> Whereunto I am appointed a preacher, and an apostle, and a teacher of the Gentiles.

12 <sup>l</sup> For the which cause I also suffer these things: nevertheless I am not ashamed: for I know whom I have believed, and I am persuaded that he is able to keep that which I have committed unto him against that day.

13 <sup>m</sup> Hold fast the form of sound words, which thou hast heard of me, in faith and love which is in Christ Jesus.

14 <sup>a</sup> That good thing which was committed unto thee, keep by the Holy Ghost which dwelleth in us.

15 <sup>o</sup> This thou knowest, that all they which are in Asia be turned away from me; of whom are Phygellus and Hermogenes.

16 <sup>p</sup> The Lord give mercy unto the house of Onesiphorus; for he oft refreshed me, and was not ashamed of my chain:

17 <sup>q</sup> But when he was in Rome, he sought me out very diligently, and found me.

18 <sup>r</sup> The Lord grant unto him that he may find mercy of the Lord in that day: and in how many things he ministered unto me at Ephesus, thou knowest very well.

CHAPTER II.

1 Timothy exhorted to constancy and perseverance, 15 and to shew himself approved.

<sup>a</sup> THOU therefore, my son, be strong in the grace that is in Christ Jesus.

2 <sup>b</sup> And the things that thou hast heard of me among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also.

3 <sup>c</sup> Thou therefore endure hardness, as a good soldier of Jesus Christ.

4 <sup>d</sup> No man that warreth entangleth himself with the affairs of this life; that he may please him who hath chosen him to be a soldier.

5 And if a man also strive for masteries, yet is he not crowned, except he strive lawfully.

6 <sup>e</sup> The husbandman that laboureth must be first partaker of the fruits.

7 Consider what I say; and the Lord give thee understanding in all things.

8 <sup>f</sup> Remember that Jesus Christ, of the seed of David, was raised from the dead according to my gospel:

9 <sup>g</sup> Wherein I suffer trouble, as an evil-doer, even unto bonds; but the word of God is not bound.

10 <sup>h</sup> Therefore I endure all things for the elect's sake, that they may also obtain the salvation which is in Christ Jesus with eternal glory.

11 <sup>i</sup> It is a faithful saying: For if we be dead with him, we shall also live with him:

12 <sup>k</sup> If we suffer, we shall also reign with him: If we deny him, he also will deny us:

13 <sup>l</sup> If we believe not, yet he abideth faithful; he cannot deny himself.

14 <sup>m</sup> Of these things put them in remembrance, charging them before the Lord that they strive not about words to no profit, but to the subverting of the hearers.

15 <sup>n</sup> Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth.

16 <sup>o</sup> But shun profane and vain babblings; for they will increase unto more ungodliness:

17 <sup>p</sup> And their word will eat as doth a canker: of whom is Hymeneus and Philetus;

18 <sup>q</sup> Who concerning the truth have erred, saying that the resurrection is past already; and overthrow the faith of some.

19 <sup>r</sup> Nevertheless the foundation of God standeth sure, having this seal, The Lord knoweth them that are his. And, Let every one that nameth the name of Christ depart from iniquity.

20 <sup>s</sup> But in a great house there are not only vessels of gold and of silver, but also of wood and of earth; and some to honour, and some to dishonour.

21 <sup>t</sup> If a man therefore purge himself from these, he shall be a vessel unto honour, sanctified, and meet for the master's use, and prepared unto every good work.

22 <sup>u</sup> Flee also youthful lusts; but follow righteousness, faith, charity, peace, with them that call on the Lord out of a pure heart.

23 <sup>v</sup> But foolish and unlearned questions avoid, knowing that they do gender strifes.

24 <sup>w</sup> And the servant of the Lord must not strive; but be gentle unto all men, apt to teach, patient;

25 <sup>x</sup> In meekness instructing those that oppose themselves: if God peradventure will give them repentance to the acknowledging of the truth;

26 <sup>y</sup> And that they may recover themselves out of the snare of the devil, who are taken captive by him at his will.

CHAPTER III.

1 He foretelleth the wickedness in the last days, 6 describeth the enemies of the truth, 16 and commendeth the holy scriptures.

<sup>a</sup> THIS know also, that in the last days perilous times shall come.

2 <sup>b</sup> For men shall be lovers of their own selves, covetous, boasters, proud, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholy,

3 <sup>c</sup> Without natural affection, truce-breakers, false accusers, incontinent, fierce, despisers of those that are good,

4 <sup>d</sup> Traitors, heady, high-minded, lovers of pleasures more than lovers of God;

5 <sup>e</sup> Having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof: from such turn away.

6 <sup>f</sup> For of this sort are they which creep into houses, and lead captive silly women laden with sins, led away with divers lusts;

7 Ever learning, and never able to come to the knowledge of the truth.

8 <sup>g</sup> Now as Jannes and Jambres withstood Moses, so do these also resist the truth: men of corrupt minds, reprobate concerning the faith.

9 <sup>h</sup> But they shall proceed no further: for their folly shall be manifest unto all men, as theirs also was.

10 <sup>i</sup> But thou hast fully known my doctrine, manner of life, purpose, faith, long-suffering, charity, patience, 11 <sup>k</sup> Persecutions, afflictions, which came unto me at Antioch, at Iconium, at Lystra; what persecutions I endured: but out of them all the Lord delivered me.

12 <sup>l</sup> Yea, and all that will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution.

13 <sup>m</sup> But evil men and seducers shall wax worse and worse, deceiving, and being deceived.

14 <sup>n</sup> But continue thou in the things which thou hast learned and hast been assured of, knowing of whom thou hast learned them;

15 <sup>o</sup> And that from a child thou hast known the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus.

16 <sup>p</sup> All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness:

17 <sup>q</sup> That the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works.

CHAPTER IV.

1 Paul's solemn charge to Timothy; 9 he willeth him to come to him, and to bring Mark with him and certain other things.

<sup>a</sup> I CHARGE thee therefore before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, who shall judge the quick and the dead at his appearing and his kingdom;

6<sup>f</sup> For I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my departure is at hand.

7<sup>g</sup> I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith:

8<sup>h</sup> Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous Judge, shall give me at that day: and not to me only, but unto all them also that love his appearing.

9<sup>i</sup> Do thy diligence to come shortly unto me:

10<sup>k</sup> For Demas hath forsaken me, having loved this present world, and is departed unto Thessalonica; Crescens to Galatia, Titus unto Dalmatia.

11<sup>l</sup> Only Luke is with me. Take Mark, and bring him with thee; for he is profitable to me for the ministry.

12<sup>m</sup> And Tychicus have I sent to Ephesus.

13 The cloak that I left at Troas with Carpus, when thou comest, bring with thee, and the books, but especially the parchments.

14<sup>n</sup> Alexander the coppersmith did me much evil: the Lord reward him according to his works:

15 Of whom be thou ware also; for he hath greatly withstood our words.

16<sup>o</sup> At my first answer no man stood with me, but all men forsook me: I pray God that it may not be laid to their charge.

17<sup>p</sup> Notwithstanding the Lord stood with me, and strengthened me: that by me the preaching might be fully known, and that all the Gentiles might hear: and I was delivered out of the mouth of the lion.

18<sup>q</sup> And the Lord shall deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom; to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

19<sup>r</sup> Salute Prisca and Aquila, and the household of Onesiphorus.

21<sup>t</sup> Do thy diligence to come before winter. Eubulus greeteth thee, and Pudens, and Linus, and Claudia, and all the brethren.

22<sup>u</sup> The Lord Jesus Christ be with thy spirit. Grace be with you. Amen.

¶ The Epistle of PAUL, to TITUS.

CHAPTER I.

5 Why Titus was left at Crete....10 Of evil-doers.

PAUL, a servant of God, and an apostle of Jesus Christ, according to the faith of God's elect, and the acknowledging of the truth which is after godliness;

2<sup>a</sup> In hope of eternal life, which God, that cannot lie, promised before the world began;

3<sup>b</sup> But hath in due time manifested his word through preaching, which is committed unto me, according to the commandment of God our Saviour;

4<sup>c</sup> To Titus, mine own son after the common faith: Grace, mercy, and peace, from God the Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ our Saviour.

5<sup>d</sup> For this cause left I thee in Crete, that thou shouldest set in order the things that are wanting, and ordain elders in every city, as I had appointed thee:

6<sup>e</sup> If any be blameless, the husband of one wife, having faithful children, not accused of riot, or unruly.

7<sup>f</sup> For a bishop must be blameless, as the steward of God; not self-willed, not soon angry, not given to wine, no striker, not given to filthy lucre;

8<sup>g</sup> But a lover of hospitality, a lover of good men, sober, just, holy, temperate:

9<sup>h</sup> Holding fast the faithful word, as he hath been taught, that he may be able by sound doctrine both to exhort and to convince the gainsayers.

10<sup>i</sup> For there are many unruly and vain talkers and deceivers, especially they of the circumcision:

11<sup>j</sup> Whose mouths must be stopped; who subvert whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, for filthy lucre's sake.

12 One of themselves, even a prophet of their own, said, The Cretians are always liars, evil beasts, slow bellies.

13<sup>m</sup> This witness is true. Wherefore rebuke them sharply; that they may be sound in the faith:

14<sup>n</sup> Not giving heed to Jewish fables, and commandments of men that turn from the truth.

15<sup>o</sup> Unto the pure all things are pure; but unto them that are defiled and unbelieving is nothing pure; but even their mind and conscience is defiled.

16<sup>p</sup> They profess that they know God; but in works they deny him, being abominable, and disobedient, and unto every good work reprobate.

CHAPTER II.

1 Directions given unto Titus both for his doctrine and life.

9 Of the duty of servants, &c.

BUT speak thou the things which become sound doctrine:

2 That the aged men be sober, grave, temperate, sound in faith, in charity, in patience;

3<sup>b</sup> The aged women likewise, that they be in behaviour as becometh holiness, not false accusers, not given to much wine, teachers of good things;

4 That they may teach the young women to be sober, to love their husbands, to love their children, 5<sup>c</sup> To be discreet, chaste, keepers at home, good, obedient to their own husbands, that the word of God be not blasphemed.

6 Young men likewise exhort to be sober-minded.

7<sup>d</sup> In all things shewing thyself a pattern of good works; in doctrine shewing uncorruptness, gravity, sincerity,

8<sup>e</sup> Sound speech that cannot be condemned; that he that is of the contrary part may be ashamed, having no evil thing to say of you.

9<sup>f</sup> Exhort servants to be obedient unto their own masters, and to please them well in all things; not answering again;

10<sup>e</sup> Not purloining, but shewing all good fidelity ; that they may adorn the doctrine of God our Saviour in all things.

11<sup>h</sup> For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men,

12<sup>i</sup> Teaching us, that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly, in this present world :

13<sup>k</sup> Looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ ;

14<sup>l</sup> Who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify unto himself a peculiar people, zealous of good works.

15<sup>m</sup> These things speak, and exhort ; and rebuke with all authority. Let no man despise thee.

CHAPTER III.

Titus is yet further directed by Paul, both concerning the things he should teach, and not teach, &c.

PUT them in mind to be subject to principalities and powers, to obey magistrates, to be ready to every good work,

2<sup>b</sup> To speak evil of no man, to be no brawlers, but gentle, shewing all meekness unto all men.

3<sup>c</sup> For we ourselves also were sometimes foolish, disobedient, deceived, serving divers lusts and pleasures, living in malice and envy, hateful, and hating one another.

4<sup>d</sup> But after that the kindness and love of God our Saviour toward man appeared,

5<sup>e</sup> Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost ;

6<sup>f</sup> Which he shed on us abundantly through Jesus Christ our Saviour ;

7<sup>g</sup> That, being justified by his grace, we should be made heirs according to the hope of eternal life.

8<sup>h</sup> This is a faithful saying ; and these things I will that thou affirm constantly ; that they which have believed in God might be careful to † maintain good works. These things are good and profitable unto men.

9<sup>i</sup> But avoid foolish questions, and genealogies, and contentions, and strivings about the law ; for they are unprofitable and vain.

10<sup>k</sup> A man that is a heretic, after the first and second admonition, reject ;

11 Knowing that he that is such, is subverted, and sinneth, being condemned of himself.

12<sup>l</sup> When I shall send Artemas unto thee, or Tychicus, be diligent to come unto me to Nicopolis : for I have determined there to winter.

13<sup>m</sup> Bring Zenas the lawyer, and Apollos on their journey diligently, that nothing be wanting unto them.

14<sup>n</sup> And let ours also learn to maintain good works for necessary uses, that they be not unfruitful.

15 All that are with me salute thee. Greet them that love us in the faith. Grace be with you all. Amen.

¶ The Epistle of PAUL to PHILEMON.

1 Paul's joy in hearing of the faith and love of Philemon. 10 Onesimus entreated for.

PAUL, a prisoner of Jesus Christ, and Timothy our brother, unto Philemon our dearly beloved, and fellow-labourer,

2<sup>b</sup> And to our beloved Apphia, and Archippus our fellow-soldier, and to the church in thy house :

3 Grace to you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

4<sup>c</sup> I thank my God, making mention of thee always in my prayers,

5<sup>d</sup> Hearing of thy love and faith, which thou hast toward the Lord Jesus, and toward all saints ;

6<sup>e</sup> That the communication of thy faith may become effectual by the acknowledging of every good thing which is in you in Christ Jesus.

7<sup>f</sup> For we have great joy and consolation in thy love, because the bowels of the saints are refreshed by thee, brother.

8<sup>g</sup> Wherefore, though I might be much bold in Christ to enjoin thee that which is convenient,

9 Yet for love's sake I rather beseech thee, being such a one as Paul the aged, and now also a prisoner of Jesus Christ.

10<sup>h</sup> I beseech thee for my son Onesimus, whom I have begotten in my bonds :

11 Which in time past was to thee unprofitable, but now profitable to thee and to me :

12 Whom I have sent again : thou therefore receive him, that is mine own bowels :

13<sup>i</sup> Whom I would have retained with me, that in thy stead he might have ministered unto me in the bonds of the gospel :

14<sup>k</sup> But without thy mind would I do nothing ; that thy benefit should not be as it were of necessity, but willingly.

15<sup>l</sup> For perhaps he therefore departed for a season, that thou shouldest receive him for ever ;

16<sup>m</sup> Not now as a servant, but above a servant, a brother beloved, especially to me, but how much more unto thee, both in the flesh and in the Lord ?

17 If thou count me therefore a partner, receive him as myself.

18 If he hath wronged thee, or oweth thee aught, put that on mine account ;

19 I Paul have written it with mine own hand, I will repay it : albeit I do not say to thee how thou owest unto me even thine own self besides.

20 Yea, brother, let me have joy of thee in the Lord : refresh my bowels in the Lord.

21<sup>n</sup> Having confidence in thy obedience, I wrote unto thee, knowing that thou wilt also do more than I say.

22<sup>o</sup> But withal prepare me also a lodging : for I trust that through your prayers I shall be given unto you.

23<sup>p</sup> There salute thee Epaphras, my fellow-prisoner in Christ Jesus ;

24<sup>q</sup> Marcus, Aristarchus, Demas, Lucas, my fellow-labourers.

25 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen.

1 The essential dignity of the Son, by whom God hath revealed himself in these last days : 4 his pre-eminence above the angels in office.

GOD, who at sundry times and in divers manners spake in time past unto the fathers by the prophets,

2 Hath in these last days spoken unto us by his Son, whom he hath appointed heir of all things, by whom also he made the worlds ;

3 Who being the brightness of his glory, and the express image of his person, and upholding all things by the word of his power, when he had by himself purged our sins, sat down on the right hand of the Majesty on high ;

4 Being made so much better than the angels, as he hath by inheritance obtained a more excellent name than they.

5 For unto which of the angels said he at any time, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee ? And again, I will be to him a Father, and he shall be to me a Son ?

6 And again, when he bringeth in the first-begotten into the world, he saith, And let all the angels of God worship him.

7 And of the angels he saith, Who maketh his angels spirits, and his ministers a flame of fire.

8 But unto the Son he saith, Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever : a sceptre of righteousness is the sceptre of thy kingdom :

9 Thou hast loved righteousness, and hated iniquity ; therefore God, even thy God, hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy fellows.

10 And, Thou, Lord, in the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth ; and the heavens are the works of thy hands :

11 They shall perish, but thou remainest ; and they all shall wax old as doth a garment ;

12 And as a vesture shalt thou fold them up, and they shall be changed : but thou art the same, and thy years shall not fail

13 But to which of the angels said he at any time, Sit on my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool ?

14 Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for them who shall be heirs of salvation ?

CHAPTER II.

1 Our obligation to give earnest heed to the gospel.... 5 The dominion of the world not granted to angels, but to the Son, &c.

THEREFORE we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things which we have heard, lest at any time we should let them slip.

2 For if the word spoken by angels was steadfast, and every transgression and disobedience received a just recompense of reward ;

3 How shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation ; which at the first began to be spoken by the Lord, and was confirmed unto us by them that heard him ;

4 God also bearing them witness, both with signs and wonders, and with divers miracles, and gifts of the Holy Ghost, according to his own will ?

5 For unto the angels hath he not put in subjection the world to come, whereof we speak.

6 But one in a certain place testified, saying,

What is man, that thou art mindful of him ? or the son of man, that thou visitest him ?

7 Thou madest him a little lower than the angels ; thou crownedst him with glory and honour, and didst set him over the works of thy hands ;

8 Thou hast put all things in subjection under his feet. For in that he put all in subjection under him, he left nothing that is not put under him. But now we see not yet all things put under him :

9 But we see Jesus, who was made a little lower than the angels, for the suffering of death, crowned with glory and honour ; that he by the grace of God should taste death for every man.

10 For it became him, for whom are all things, and by whom are all things, in bringing many sons unto glory, to make the Captain of their salvation perfect through sufferings.

11 For both he that sanctifieth and they who are sanctified are all of one : for which cause he is not ashamed to call them brethren ;

12 Saying, I will declare thy name unto my brethren ; in the midst of the church will I sing praise unto thee.

13 And again, I will put my trust in him. And again, Behold, I, and the children which God hath given me.

14 Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he also himself likewise took part of the same ; that through death he might destroy him that had the power of death, that is, the devil ;

15 And deliver them who through fear of death were all their life-time subject to bondage.

16 For verily he took not on him the nature of angels ; but he took on him the seed of Abraham.

17 Wherefore in all things it behoved him to be made like unto his brethren, that he might be a merciful and faithful High Priest in things pertaining to God, to make reconciliation for the sins of the people :

18 For in that he himself hath suffered, being tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted.

CHAPTER III.

1 Christ is shewed to be more worthy than Moses : 7 therefore we must be careful not to follow the example of the obstinate and unbelieving Israelites, &c.

WHEREFORE, holy brethren, partakers of the heavenly calling, consider the Apostle and High Priest of our profession, Christ Jesus ;

2 Who was faithful to him that appointed him, as also Moses was faithful in all his house.

3 For this man was counted worthy of more glory than Moses, inasmuch as he who hath builded the house hath more honour than the house.

4 For every house is builded by some man ; but he that built all things is God.

5 And Moses verily was faithful in all his house, as a servant, for a testimony of those things which were to be spoken after :

6 But Christ as a Son over his own house ; whose house are we, if we hold fast the confidence and the rejoicing of the hope firm unto the end.

7 Wherefore (as the Holy Ghost saith, To-day, if ye will hear his voice,

8 Harden not your hearts, as in the provocation, in the day of temptation in the wilderness ;

9 When your fathers tempted me, proved me, and saw my works forty years.

11<sup>k</sup> So I swear in my wrath, They shall not enter into my rest.)

12<sup>l</sup> Take heed, brethren, lest there be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief, in departing from the living God.

13<sup>m</sup> But exhort one another daily, while it is called To-day; lest any of you be hardened through the deceitfulness of sin.

14<sup>n</sup> For we are made partakers of Christ, if we hold the beginning of our confidence steadfast unto the end;

15<sup>o</sup> While it is said, To-day, if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts, as in the provocation.

16<sup>p</sup> For some, when they had heard, did provoke: howbeit not all that came out of Egypt by Moses.

17<sup>q</sup> But with whom was he grieved forty years? was it not with them that had sinned, whose carcases fell in the wilderness?

18<sup>r</sup> And to whom swore he that they should not enter into his rest, but to them that believed not?

19<sup>s</sup> So we see that they could not enter in because of unbelief.

CHAPTER IV.

1 The Christian's rest to be attained by faith....12 The power of God's word, &c.

LET us therefore fear, lest a promise being left us of entering into his rest, any of you should seem to come short of it.

2<sup>b</sup> For unto us was the gospel preached, as well as unto them: but the word preached did not profit them, not being mixed with faith in them that heard it.

3<sup>c</sup> For we which have believed do enter into rest; as he said, As I have sworn in my wrath, if they shall enter into my rest: although the works were finished from the foundation of the world.

4<sup>d</sup> For he spake in a certain place of the seventh day on this wise, And God did rest the seventh day from all his works.

5 And in this place again, If they shall enter into my rest.

6<sup>e</sup> Seeing therefore it remaineth that some must enter therein, and they to whom it was first preached entered not in because of unbelief:

7<sup>f</sup> Again, he limiteth a certain day, saying in David, To-day, after so long a time; (as it is said) To-day, if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts.

8 For if Jesus had given them rest, then would he not afterward have spoken of another day.

9<sup>g</sup> There remaineth therefore a rest to the people of God.

10<sup>h</sup> For he that is entered into his rest, he also hath ceased from his own works, as God did from his.

11<sup>i</sup> Let us labour therefore to enter into that rest, lest any man fall after the same example of unbelief.

12<sup>k</sup> For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discernor of the thoughts and intents of the heart.

13<sup>l</sup> Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in his sight: but all things are naked and opened unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do.

14<sup>m</sup> Seeing then that we have a great High Priest, that is passed into the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold fast our profession.

15<sup>n</sup> For we have not a high priest which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin.

16<sup>o</sup> Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need.

CHAPTER V.

Of the high priests taken from among men; wherewith Christ's priesthood is compared, and its privileges set forth.

FOR every high priest taken from among men is ordained for men in things pertaining to God, that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins:

2<sup>b</sup> Who can have compassion on the ignorant, and on them that are out of the way; for that he himself also is compassed with infirmity.

3<sup>c</sup> And by reason hereof he ought, as for the people, so also for himself, to offer for sins.

4<sup>d</sup> And no man taketh this honour unto himself, but he that is called of God, as was Aaron.

5<sup>e</sup> So also Christ glorified not himself to be made a high priest; but he that said unto him, Thou art my Son, to-day have I begotten thee.

6<sup>f</sup> As he saith also in another place, Thou art a priest for ever, after the order of Melchisedec.

7<sup>g</sup> Who in the days of his flesh, when he had offered up prayers and supplications, with strong crying and tears, unto him that was able to save him from death, and was heard in that he feared;

8<sup>h</sup> Though he were a Son, yet learned he obedience by the things which he suffered;

9<sup>i</sup> And being made perfect, he became the author of eternal salvation unto all them that obey him;

10<sup>k</sup> Called of God a high priest, after the order of Melchisedec.

11<sup>l</sup> Of whom we have many things to say, and hard to be uttered, seeing ye are dull of hearing.

12<sup>m</sup> For when for the time ye ought to be teachers, ye have need that one teach you again which be the first principles of the oracles of God; and are become such as have need of milk, and not of strong meat.

13<sup>n</sup> For every one that useth milk is unskilful in the word of righteousness: for he is a babe.

14 But strong meat belongeth to them that are of full age, even those who by reason of use, have their senses exercised to discern both good and evil.

CHAPTER VI.

1 The higher doctrines of Christianity proposed to be treated of....10 Of charitable deeds, &c.

THEREFORE, leaving the principles of the doctrine of Christ, let us go on unto perfection; not laying again the foundation of repentance from dead works, and of faith toward God,

2<sup>b</sup> Of the doctrine of baptisms, and of laying on of hands, and of resurrection of the dead, and of eternal judgment.

3<sup>c</sup> And this will we do, if God permit.

4<sup>d</sup> For it is impossible for those who were once enlightened, and have tasted of the heavenly gift, and were made partakers of the Holy Ghost,

5<sup>e</sup> And have tasted the good word of God, and the powers of the world to come,

6<sup>f</sup> If they shall fall away, to renew them again unto repentance; seeing they crucify to themselves the Son of God afresh, and put him to an open shame.

cometh oft upon it, and bringeth forth herbs meet for them by whom it is dressed, receiveth blessing from God :

8<sup>g</sup> But that which beareth thorns and briers is rejected, and is nigh unto cursing ; whose end is to be burned.

9 But, beloved, we are persuaded better things of you, and things that accompany salvation, though we thus speak.

10<sup>h</sup> For God is not unrighteous, to forget your work and labour of love, which ye have shewed toward his name, in that ye have ministered to the saints, and do minister.

11<sup>i</sup> And we desire that every one of you do shew the same diligence to the full assurance of hope unto the end :

12<sup>k</sup> That ye be not slothful, but followers of them who through faith and patience inherit the promises.

13<sup>l</sup> For when God made promise to Abraham, because he could swear by no greater, he sware by himself,

14 Saying, Surely blessing I will bless thee, and multiplying I will multiply thee.

15<sup>m</sup> And so, after he had patiently endured, he obtained the promise.

16<sup>n</sup> For men verily swear by the greater : and an oath for confirmation is to them an end of all strife.

17<sup>o</sup> Wherein God, willing more abundantly to shew unto the heirs of promise the immutability of his counsel, confirmed it by an oath ;

18<sup>p</sup> That by two immutable things, in which it was impossible for God to lie, we might have a strong consolation, who have fled for refuge to lay hold upon the hope set before us :

19<sup>q</sup> Which hope we have as an anchor of the soul, both sure and steadfast, and which entereth into that within the vail ;

20<sup>r</sup> Whither the forerunner is for us entered, even Jesus, made a high priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec.

CHAPTER VII.

1 Christ, a priest after the order of Melchisedec, 11 is proved to be far more excellent than the priests of Aaron's order.

FOR this Melchisedec, king of Salem, priest of the most high God, who met Abraham returning from the slaughter of the kings, and blessed him :

2 To whom also Abraham gave a tenth part of all : first being, by interpretation, King of righteousness, and after that also, King of Salem, which is, King of peace ;

3 Without father, without mother, without descent, having neither beginning of days, nor end of life ; but, made like unto the Son of God, abideth a priest continually.

4<sup>b</sup> Now consider how great this man was, unto whom even the patriarch Abraham gave the tenth of the spoils.

5<sup>c</sup> And verily they that are of the sons of Levi, who receive the office of the priesthood, have a commandment to take tithes of the people according to the law, that is, of their brethren, though they come out of the loins of Abraham :

6<sup>d</sup> But he, whose descent is not counted from them, received tithes of Abraham, and blessed him that had the promises.

7<sup>e</sup> And without all contradiction the less is blessed of the better.

8<sup>f</sup> And here men that die receive tithes ; but there he receiveth them, of whom it is witnessed that he liveth.

9 And as I may so say, Levi also, who receiveth tithes, paid tithes in Abraham.

10<sup>g</sup> For he was yet in the loins of his father, when Melchisedec met him.

11<sup>h</sup> If therefore perfection were by the Levitical priesthood, (for under it the people received the law,) what further need was there that another priest should rise after the order of Melchisedec, and not be called after the order of Aaron ?

12 For the priesthood being changed, there is made of necessity, a change also of the law.

13 For he of whom these things are spoken, pertaineth to another tribe, of which no man gave attendance at the altar.

14<sup>i</sup> For it is evident that our Lord sprang out of Juda ; of which tribe Moses spake nothing concerning priesthood.

15<sup>k</sup> And it is yet far more evident . for that after the similitude of Melchisedec there ariseth another priest, 16 Who is made, not after the law of a carnal commandment, but after the power of an endless life.

17<sup>l</sup> For he testifieth, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec.

18<sup>m</sup> For there is verily a disannulling of the commandment going before, for the weakness and unprofitableness thereof :

19<sup>n</sup> For the law made nothing perfect ; but the bringing in of a better hope did ; by the which we draw nigh unto God.

20 And inasmuch as not without an oath he was made priest ;

21<sup>o</sup> (For those priests were made without an oath ; but this with an oath, by him that said unto him, The Lord sware, and will not repent, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec ;)

22<sup>p</sup> By so much was Jesus made a surety of a better testament.

23<sup>q</sup> And they truly were many priests, because they were not suffered to continue by reason of death .

24 But this man, because he continueth ever hath an unchangeable priesthood.

25<sup>r</sup> Wherefore he is able also to save them to the uttermost that come unto God by him, seeing he ever liveth to make intercession for them.

26<sup>s</sup> For such a high priest became us, who is holy, harmless, undefiled, separate from sinners, and made higher than the heavens ;

27<sup>t</sup> Who needeth not daily, as those high priests, to offer up sacrifice, first for his own sins, and then for the people's : for this he did once, when he offered up himself.

28<sup>u</sup> For the law maketh men high priests which have infirmity ; but the word of the oath, which was since the law, maketh the Son, who is consecrated for evermore.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 The excellency of Christ's ministry, 6 being the mediator of a better covenant.

NOW of the things which we have spoken this is the sum : We have such a high priest, who is set on the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens ;

2<sup>b</sup> A minister of the sanctuary, and of the true tabernacle, which the Lord pitched, and not man.

3<sup>c</sup> For every high priest is ordained to offer gifts and sacrifices : wherefore it is of necessity that this man have somewhat also to offer.

6<sup>f</sup> But now hath he obtained a more excellent ministry, by how much also he is the mediator of a better covenant, which was established upon better promises.

7<sup>g</sup> For if that first covenant had been faultless, then should no place have been sought for the second.

8<sup>h</sup> For finding fault with them, he saith, Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah;

9 Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers, in the day when I took them by the hand to lead them out of the land of Egypt: because they continued not in my covenant, and I regarded them not, saith the Lord.

10<sup>i</sup> For this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, saith the Lord; I will put my laws into their mind, and write them in their hearts; and I will be to them a God, and they shall be to me a people:

11<sup>k</sup> And they shall not teach every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for all shall know me, from the least to the greatest.

12<sup>l</sup> For I will be merciful to their unrighteousness, and their sins and their iniquities will I remember no more.

13 In that he saith, A new covenant, he hath made the first old. Now that which decayeth and waxeth old, is ready to vanish away.

CHAPTER IX.

1 By the imperfection of the legal sacrifices, 11 he sheweth the efficacy of the blood of Christ....16 The necessity of Christ's death.

THEN verily the first covenant had also ordinances of divine service, and a worldly sanctuary.

2<sup>b</sup> For there was a tabernacle made; the first, wherein was the candlestick, and the table, and the shew-bread, which is called the Sanctuary:

3<sup>c</sup> And, after the second vail, the tabernacle, which is called the Holiest of all;

4<sup>d</sup> Which had the golden censer, and the ark of the covenant overlaid round about with gold, wherein was the golden pot that had manna, and Aaron's rod that budded, and the tables of the covenant;

5<sup>e</sup> And over it the cherubims of glory shadowing the mercy-seat: of which we cannot now speak particularly.

6<sup>f</sup> Now when these things were thus ordained, the priests went always into the first tabernacle, accomplishing the service of God:

7<sup>g</sup> But into the second went the high priest alone once every year, not without blood, which he offered for himself, and for the errors of the people:

8<sup>h</sup> The Holy Ghost this signifying, That the way into the holiest of all was not yet made manifest, while as the first tabernacle was yet standing:

9<sup>i</sup> Which was a figure for the time then present, in which were offered both gifts and sacrifices, that could not make him that did the service perfect as pertaining to the conscience;

10<sup>k</sup> Which stood only in meats and drinks, and divers washings, and carnal ordinances, imposed on them until the time of reformation.

11<sup>l</sup> But Christ being come a high priest of good things to come, by a greater and more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this building;

12<sup>m</sup> Neither by the blood of goats and calves, but by his own blood, he entered in once into the holy place, having obtained eternal redemption for us.

13<sup>n</sup> For if the blood of bulls and of goats, and the ashes of a heifer sprinkling the unclean, sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh;

14<sup>o</sup> How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God?

15<sup>p</sup> And for this cause he is the Mediator of the new testament, that by means of death, for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first testament, they which are called might receive the promise of eternal inheritance.

16 For where a testament is, there must also of necessity be the death of the testator.

17<sup>q</sup> For a testament is of force after men are dead: otherwise it is of no strength at all while the testator liveth.

18 Whereupon neither the first testament was dedicated without blood.

19<sup>r</sup> For when Moses had spoken every precept to all the people according to the law, he took the blood of calves and of goats, with water and scarlet wool, and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book and all the people,

20<sup>s</sup> Saying, This is the blood of the testament which God hath enjoined unto you.

21<sup>t</sup> Moreover, he sprinkled likewise with blood both the tabernacle and all the vessels of the ministry.

22<sup>u</sup> And almost all things are by the law purged with blood; and without shedding of blood is no remission.

23<sup>v</sup> It was therefore necessary that the patterns of things in the heavens should be purified with these; but the heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices than these.

24<sup>w</sup> For Christ is not entered into the holy places made with hands, which are the figures of the true; but into heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God for us:

25<sup>x</sup> Nor yet that he should offer himself often, as the high priest entereth into the holy place every year with blood of others;

26<sup>y</sup> For then must he often have suffered since the foundation of the world: but now once, in the end of the world, hath he appeared, to put away sin by the sacrifice of himself.

27<sup>z</sup> And as it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment;

28<sup>a</sup> So Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many; and unto them that look for him shall he appear the second time, without sin, unto salvation.

CHAPTER X.

1 The law-sacrifices ineffectual to take away sins....10 By the offering of Christ's body once we obtain perfect remission, &c.

by year continually make the comers thereunto perfect.

2 For then would they not have ceased to be offered? because that the worshippers once purged should have had no more conscience of sins.

3 But in those sacrifices there is a remembrance again made of sins every year.

4 For it is not possible that the blood of bulls and of goats should take away sins.

5 Wherefore, when he cometh into the world, he saith, Sacrifice and offering thou wouldest not, but a body hast thou prepared me:

6 In burnt-offerings and sacrifices for sin thou hast had no pleasure:

7 Then said I, Lo, I come (in the volume of the book it is written of me) to do thy will, O God.

8 Above, when he said, Sacrifice, and offering, and burnt-offerings, and offering for sin, thou wouldest not, neither hadst pleasure therein; which are offered by the law;

9 Then said he, Lo, I come to do thy will, O God. He taketh away the first that he may establish the second.

10 By the which will we are sanctified, through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all.

11 And every priest standeth daily ministering, and offering oftentimes the same sacrifices, which can never take away sins:

12 But this man, after he had offered one sacrifice for sins, for ever sat down on the right hand of God;

13 From henceforth expecting till his enemies be made his footstool.

14 For by one offering he hath perfected for ever them that are sanctified.

15 Whereof the Holy Ghost also is a witness to us: for after that he had said before,

16 This is the covenant that I will make with them after those days, saith the Lord; I will put my laws into their hearts, and in their minds will I write them;

17 And their sins and iniquities will I remember no more.

18 Now where remission of these is, there is no more offering for sin.

19 Having therefore, brethren, boldness to enter into the holiest by the blood of Jesus,

20 By a new and living way which he hath consecrated for us, through the vail, that is to say, his flesh;

21 And having a high priest over the house of God;

22 Let us draw near with a true heart, in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our bodies washed with pure water.

23 Let us hold fast the profession of our faith without wavering; (for he is faithful that promised;)

24 And let us consider one another, to provoke unto love, and to good works:

25 Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another: and so much the more as ye see the day approaching.

26 For if we sin wilfully after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins,

27 But a certain fearful looking for of judgment, and fiery indignation, which shall devour the adversaries.

28 He that despised Moses' law died without mercy under two or three witnesses:

29 Of how much sorer punishment, suppose ye, shall he be thought worthy, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath counted the blood of the covenant, wherewith he was sanctified, an unholy thing, and hath done despite unto the Spirit of grace?

30 For we know him that hath said, Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense, saith the Lord. And again, The Lord shall judge his people.

31 It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.

32 But call to remembrance the former days, in which, after ye were illuminated, ye endured a great fight of afflictions;

33 Partly, whilst ye were made a gazing-stock, both by reproaches and afflictions: and partly, whilst ye became companions of them that were so used.

34 For ye had compassion of me in my bonds, and took joyfully the spoiling of your goods, knowing in yourselves that ye have in heaven a better and an enduring substance.

35 Cast not away therefore your confidence, which hath great recompense of reward.

36 For ye have need of patience; that, after ye have done the will of God, ye might receive the promise.

37 For yet a little while, and he that shall come will come, and will not tarry.

38 Now the just shall live by faith: but if any man draw back, my soul shall have no pleasure in him.

39 But we are not of them who draw back unto perdition, but of them that believe to the saving of the soul.

CHAPTER XI.

1 The nature of faith....6 Without faith we cannot please God: the fruits of faith.

NOW faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen.

2 For by it the elders obtained a good report.

3 Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear.

4 By faith Abel offered unto God a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, by which he obtained witness that he was righteous, God testifying of his gifts: and by it he, being dead, yet speaketh.

5 By faith Enoch was translated that he should not see death; and was not found, because God had translated him: for before his translation he had this testimony, that he pleased God.

6 But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him.

7 By faith Noah, being warned of God of things not seen as yet, moved with fear, prepared an ark to the saving of his house; by the which he condemned the world, and became heir of the righteousness which is by faith.

8 By faith Abraham, when he was called to go out into a place which he should after receive for an inheritance, obeyed; and he went out, not knowing whither he went.

9 By faith he sojourned in the land of promise, as in a strange country, dwelling in tabernacles with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs with him of the same promise:

10 For he looked for a city which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God.

11 <sup>k</sup> Through faith also Sarah herself received strength to conceive seed, and was delivered of a child when she was past age, because she judged him faithful who had promised.

12 <sup>l</sup> Therefore sprang there even of one, and him as good as dead, so many as the stars of the sky in multitude, and as the sand which is by the sea shore innumerable.

13 <sup>m</sup> These all died in faith, not having received the promises, but having seen them afar off, and were persuaded of them, and embraced them, and confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth.

14 For they that say such things, declare plainly that they seek a country.

15 And truly if they had been mindful of that country from whence they came out, they might have had opportunity to have returned :

16 <sup>n</sup> But now they desire a better country, that is, a heavenly : wherefore God is not ashamed to be called their God ; for he hath prepared for them a city.

17 <sup>o</sup> By faith Abraham, when he was tried, offered up Isaac ; and he that had received the promises, offered up his only-begotten son,

18 <sup>p</sup> Of whom it was said, That in Isaac shall thy seed be called :

19 <sup>q</sup> Accounting that God was able to raise him up, even from the dead ; from whence also he received him in a figure.

20 <sup>r</sup> By faith Isaac blessed Jacob and Esau concerning things to come.

21 <sup>s</sup> By faith Jacob, when he was a dying, blessed both the sons of Joseph ; and worshipped, leaning upon the top of his staff.

22 <sup>t</sup> By faith Joseph, when he died, made mention of the departing of the children of Israel ; and gave commandment concerning his bones.

23 <sup>u</sup> By faith Moses, when he was born, was hid three months of his parents, because they saw he was a proper child ; and they were not afraid of the king's commandment.

24 <sup>v</sup> By faith Moses, when he was come to years, refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter :

25 Choosing rather to suffer affliction with the people of God, than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season ;

26 <sup>w</sup> Esteeming the reproach of Christ greater riches than the treasures of Egypt : for he had respect unto the recompense of the reward.

27 <sup>x</sup> By faith he forsook Egypt, not fearing the wrath of the king : for he endured, as seeing him who is invisible.

28 <sup>y</sup> Through faith he kept the passover, and the sprinkling of blood, lest he that destroyed the first-born should touch them.

29 <sup>z</sup> By faith they passed through the Red Sea as by dry land : which the Egyptians assaying to do, were drowned.

30 <sup>a</sup> By faith the walls of Jericho fell down, after they were compassed about seven days.

31 <sup>b</sup> By faith the harlot Rahab perished not with them that believed not, when she had received the spies with peace.

32 <sup>c</sup> And what shall I more say ? for the time would fail me to tell of Gedeon, and of Barak, and of Samson, and of Jephthae ; of David also, and Samuel, and of the prophets ;

33 <sup>d</sup> Who through faith subdued kingdoms, wrought righteousness, obtained promises, stopped the mouths of lions,

34 <sup>e</sup> Quenched the violence of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, out of weakness were made strong, waxed valiant in fight, turned to flight the armies of the aliens.

35 <sup>f</sup> Women received their dead raised to life again : and others were tortured, not accepting deliverance ; that they might obtain a better resurrection :

36 <sup>g</sup> And others had trial of cruel mockings and scourgings, yea, moreover, of bonds and imprisonment :

37 <sup>h</sup> They were stoned, they were sawn asunder, were tempted, were slain with the sword : they wandered about in sheep-skins and goat-skins ; being destitute, afflicted, tormented ;

38 <sup>i</sup> (Of whom the world was not worthy :) they wandered in deserts, and in mountains, and in dens and caves of the earth.

39 <sup>j</sup> And these all, having obtained a good report through faith, received not the promise ;

40 <sup>k</sup> God having provided some better thing for us, that they without us should not be made perfect.

CHAPTER XII.

1 An exhortation to patience and constancy ; 14 to follow peace and holiness....25 The danger of refusing the word.

WHEREFORE, seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us,

2 <sup>b</sup> Looking unto Jesus, the author and finisher of our faith ; who, for the joy that was set before him, endured the cross, despising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God.

3 <sup>c</sup> For consider him that endured such contradiction of sinners against himself, lest ye be wearied and faint in your minds.

4 <sup>d</sup> Ye have not yet resisted unto blood, striving against sin.

5 <sup>e</sup> And ye have forgotten the exhortation, which speaketh unto you as unto children, My son, despise not thou the chastening of the Lord, nor faint when thou art rebuked of him :

6 <sup>f</sup> For whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth, and scourgeth every son whom he receiveth.

7 <sup>g</sup> If ye endure chastening, God dealeth with you as with sons, for what son is he whom the father chasteneth not ?

8 <sup>h</sup> But if ye be without chastisement, whereof all are partakers, then are ye bastards, and not sons.

9 <sup>i</sup> Furthermore, we have had fathers of our flesh, which corrected us ; and we gave them reverence : shall we not much rather be in subjection unto the Father of spirits, and live ?

10 <sup>k</sup> For they verily for a few days chastened us after their own pleasure ; but he for our profit, that we might be partakers of his holiness.

11 <sup>l</sup> Now no chastening for the present seemeth to be joyous, but grievous : nevertheless, afterward it yieldeth the peaceable fruit of righteousness unto them which are exercised thereby.

12 <sup>m</sup> Wherefore lift up the hands which hang down, and the feeble knees :

13 <sup>n</sup> And make straight paths for your feet, lest that which is lame be turned out of the way ; but let it rather be healed.

14 <sup>o</sup> Follow peace with all men, and holiness, without which no man shall see the Lord :

15 <sup>p</sup> Looking diligently, lest any man fail of the grace of God; lest any root of bitterness springing up trouble you, and thereby many be defiled;

16<sup>a</sup> Lest there be any fornicator, or profane person, as Esau, who for one morsel of meat sold his birthright.

17<sup>a</sup> For ye know how that afterward, when he would have inherited the blessing, he was rejected: for he found no place of repentance, though he sought it carefully with tears.

18<sup>a</sup> For ye are not come unto the mount that might be touched, and that burned with fire, nor unto blackness, and darkness, and tempest,

19<sup>a</sup> And the sound of a trumpet, and the voice of words; which voice they that heard, entreated that the word should not be spoken to them any more:

20<sup>a</sup> (For they could not endure that which was commanded, And if so much as a beast touch the mountain, it shall be stoned, or thrust through with a dart.

21 And so terrible was the sight, that Moses said, I exceedingly fear and quake:)

22<sup>a</sup> But ye are come unto mount Sion, and unto the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to an innumerable company of angels,

23<sup>a</sup> To the general assembly and church of the first-born, which are written in heaven, and to God the Judge of all, and to the spirits of just men made perfect,

24<sup>a</sup> And to Jesus the mediator of the new covenant, and to the blood of sprinkling, that speaketh better things than that of Abel.

25<sup>a</sup> See that ye refuse not him that speaketh. For if they escaped not who refused him that spake on earth, much more shall not we escape if we turn away from him that speaketh from heaven:

26<sup>a</sup> Whose voice then shook the earth: but now he hath promised, saying, Yet once more I shake not the earth only, but also heaven.

27<sup>a</sup> And this word, Yet once more, signifieth the removing of those things that are shaken, as of things that are made, that those things which cannot be shaken may remain.

28<sup>a</sup> Wherefore we receiving a kingdom which cannot be moved, let us have grace, whereby we may serve God acceptably with reverence and godly fear:

29<sup>a</sup> For our God is a consuming fire.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 Exhortations to charity, 2 to hospitality, 3 pity to the afflicted, 4 chastity, 5 contentment, 7 to regard God's preachers, 9 to avoid strange doctrines, &c.

LET brotherly love continue.

2<sup>b</sup> Be not forgetful to entertain strangers. for thereby some have entertained angels unawares.

3<sup>c</sup> Remember them that are in bonds, as bound with them; and them which suffer adversity, as being yourselves also in the body.

4<sup>d</sup> Marriage is honourable in all, and the bed undefiled: but whoremongers and adulterers God will judge.

5<sup>e</sup> Let your conversation be without covetousness; and be content with such things as ye have: for he hath said, I will never leave thee nor forsake thee.

6<sup>f</sup> So that we may boldly say, The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me.

7<sup>g</sup> Remember them which have the rule over you, who have spoken unto you the word of God: whose faith follow, considering the end of their conversation:

8<sup>h</sup> Jesus Christ the same yesterday, and to-day, and for ever.

9<sup>i</sup> Be not carried about with divers and strange doctrines: for it is a good thing that the heart be established with grace; not with meats, which have not profited them that have been occupied therein.

10<sup>k</sup> We have an altar, whereof they have no right to eat which serve the tabernacle.

11<sup>l</sup> For the bodies of those beasts, whose blood is brought into the sanctuary by the high priest for sin, are burned without the camp.

12<sup>m</sup> Wherefore Jesus also that he might sanctify the people with his own blood, suffered without the gate.

13<sup>n</sup> Let us go forth therefore unto him, without the camp, bearing his reproach:

14<sup>o</sup> For here have we no continuing city, but we seek one to come.

15<sup>p</sup> By him therefore let us offer the sacrifice of praise to God continually, that is, the fruit of our lips, giving thanks to his name.

16<sup>q</sup> But to do good, and to communicate, forget not: for with such sacrifices God is well pleased.

17<sup>r</sup> Obey them that have the rule over you, and submit yourselves: for they watch for your souls, as they that must give account; that they may do it with joy, and not with grief: for that is unprofitable for you.

18<sup>s</sup> Pray for us: for we trust we have a good conscience, in all things willing to live honestly.

19<sup>t</sup> But I beseech you the rather to do this, that I may be restored to you the sooner.

20<sup>u</sup> Now the God of peace, that brought again from the dead our Lord Jesus, that great Shepherd of the sheep, through the blood of the everlasting covenant,

21<sup>v</sup> Make you perfect in every good work to do his will, working in you that which is well-pleasing in his sight, through Jesus Christ; to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

22 And I beseech you, brethren, suffer the word of exhortation: for I have written a letter unto you in few words.

23<sup>w</sup> Know ye that our brother Timothy is set at liberty; with whom, if he come shortly, I will see you.

24 Salute all them that have the rule over you, and all the saints. They of Italy salute you.

25 Grace be with you all. Amen.

1 The Apostle's address: he exhorteth to patience in affliction, 6 to pray in faith....14 Our lusts tempt us to sin.

JAMES, a servant of God and of the Lord Jesus Christ, to the twelve tribes which are scattered abroad, greeting.

2<sup>b</sup> My brethren, count it all joy when ye fall into divers temptations

3<sup>c</sup> Knowing this, that the trying of your faith worketh patience.

4 But let patience have her perfect work, that ye may be perfect and entire, wanting nothing.

5<sup>d</sup> If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him.

6 But let him ask in faith, nothing wavering: For he that wavereth is like a wave of the sea driven with the wind and tossed.

7 For let not that man think that he shall receive any thing of the Lord.

8 A double-minded man is unstable in all his ways.

9 ° Let the brother of low degree rejoice in that he is exalted ;

10 ° But the rich in that he is made low : because as the flower of the grass he shall pass away.

11 For the sun is no sooner risen with a burning heat, but it withereth the grass, and the flower thereof falleth, and the grace of the fashion of it perisheth : so also shall the rich man fade away in his ways.

12 ° Blessed is the man that endureth temptation : for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him.

13 ° Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God : for God cannot be tempted with evil, neither tempteth he any man

14 But every man is tempted, when he is drawn away of his own lust, and enticed.

15 ° Then when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sin ; and sin, when it is finished, bringeth forth death.

16 Do not err, my beloved brethren.

17 ° Every good gift, and every perfect gift, is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning.

18 ° Of his own will begat he us with the word of truth, that we should be a kind of first-fruits of his creatures.

19 ° Wherefore, my beloved brethren, let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, slow to wrath :

20 ° For the wrath of man worketh not the righteousness of God.

21 ° Wherefore lay apart all filthiness and superfluity of naughtiness, and receive with meekness the engrafted word, which is able to save your souls.

22 ° But be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves.

23 ° For if any be a hearer of the word, and not a doer, he is like unto a man beholding his natural face in a glass :

24 For he beholdeth himself and goeth his way, and straightway forgetteth what manner of man he was.

25 ° But whoso looketh into the perfect law of liberty, and continueth therein, he being not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work, this man shall be blessed in his deed.

26 ° If any man among you seem to be religious, and bridleth not his tongue, but deceiveth his own heart, this man's religion is vain.

27 ° Pure religion, and undefiled before God and the Father, is this, To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world.

CHAPTER II.

1 We must not regard the rich, and despise the poor....10 The guilt of any one breach of the law....17 Faith without works is dead.

° MY brethren, have not the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Lord of glory, with respect of persons.

2 For if there come unto your assembly a man with a gold ring, in goodly apparel ; and there come in also a poor man in vile raiment ;

3 ° And ye have respect to him that weareth the gay clothing, and say unto him, Sit thou here in a good place ; and say to the poor, Stand thou there, or sit here under my footstool

4 ° Are ye not then partial in yourselves, and are become judges of evil thoughts ?

5 ° Hearken, my beloved brethren, Hath not God chosen the poor of this world, rich in faith, and heirs of the kingdom which he hath promised to them that love him ?

6 ° But ye have despised the poor. Do not rich men oppress you, and draw you before the judgment-seats ?

7 Do not they blaspheme that worthy name by the which ye are called ?

8 ° If ye fulfil the royal law, according to the scripture, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself, ye do well :

9 ° But if ye have respect to persons, ye commit sin, and are convinced of the law as transgressors.

10 ° For whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet offend in one point, he is guilty of all.

11 ° For he that said, Do not commit adultery, said also, Do not kill. Now if thou commit no adultery, yet if thou kill, thou art become a transgressor of the law.

12 ° So speak ye, and so do, as they that shall be judged by the law of liberty.

13 ° For he shall have judgment without mercy, that hath shewed no mercy, and mercy rejoiceth against judgment.

14 ° What doth it profit, my brethren, though a man say he hath faith, and have not works ? Can faith save him ?

15 ° If a brother or sister be naked, and destitute of daily food,

16 And one of you say unto them, Depart in peace, be ye warmed and filled ; notwithstanding ye give them not those things which are needful to the body ; what doth it profit ?

17 Even so faith, if it hath not works, is dead, being alone.

18 Yea, a man may say, Thou hast faith, and I have works : shew me thy faith without thy works, and I will shew thee my faith by my works.

19 ° Thou believest that there is one God ; thou doest well : the devils also believe, and tremble.

20 But wilt thou know, O vain man, that faith without works is dead ?

21 ° Was not Abraham our father justified by works, when he had offered Isaac his son upon the altar ?

22 ° Seest thou how faith wrought with his works, and by works was faith made perfect ?

23 ° And the scripture was fulfilled, which saith, Abraham believed God, and it was imputed unto him for righteousness : and he was called the Friend of God.

24 Ye see then how that by works a man is justified, and not by faith only.

25 ° Likewise also was not Rahab the harlot justified by works, when she had received the messengers, and had sent them out another way ?

26 For as the body without the spirit is dead, so faith without works is dead also.

CHAPTER III.

1 We must not rashly or arrogantly reprove others....2 The importance of governing the tongue....13 How true wisdom will manifest itself, in opposition to strife and envy.

° MY brethren, be not many masters, knowing that we shall receive the greater condemnation.

2 ° For in many things we offend all. If any man offend not in word, the same is a perfect man, and able also to bridle the whole body.

3<sup>c</sup> Behold, we put bits in the horses' mouths, that they may obey us; and we turn about their whole body.

4<sup>d</sup> Behold also the ships, which though they be so great, and are driven of fierce winds, yet are they turned about with a very small helm, whithersoever the governor listeth.

5 Even so the tongue is a little member, and boasteth great things. Behold, how great a matter a little fire kindleth!

6<sup>e</sup> And the tongue is a fire, a world of iniquity: so is the tongue among our members, that it defileth the whole body, and setteth on fire the course of nature; and it is set on fire of hell.

7 For every kind of beasts, and of birds, and of serpents, and things in the sea, is tamed, and hath been tamed of mankind:

8<sup>f</sup> But the tongue can no man tame; it is an unruly evil, full of deadly poison.

9<sup>g</sup> Therewith bless we God, even the Father; and therewith curse we men, which are made after the similitude of God.

10 Out of the same mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing. My brethren, these things ought not so to be.

11 Doth a fountain send forth at the same † place sweet water and bitter?

12 Can the fig-tree, my brethren, bear olive-berries? either a vine, figs? so can no fountain both yield salt water and fresh.

13<sup>h</sup> Who is a wise man, and endued with knowledge among you? let him shew out of a good conversation his works with meekness of wisdom.

14<sup>i</sup> But if ye have bitter envying and strife in your hearts, glory not, and lie not against the truth.

15<sup>k</sup> This wisdom descendeth not from above, but is earthly, sensual, devilish.

16<sup>l</sup> For where envying and strife is, there is confusion and every evil work.

17<sup>m</sup> But the wisdom that is from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, and easy to be entreated, full of mercy and good fruits, without partiality, and without hypocrisy.

18<sup>n</sup> And the fruit of righteousness is sown in peace of them that make peace.

CHAPTER IV.

1 Our evil lusts cause contention: 7 how we may overcome them, and gain God's favour.

FROM whence come wars and fightings among you? come they not hence, even of your lusts that war in your members?

2<sup>b</sup> Ye lust, and have not: ye kill, and desire to have, and cannot obtain: ye fight and war, yet ye have not, because ye ask not.

3<sup>c</sup> Ye ask, and receive not, because ye ask amiss, that ye may consume it upon your lusts.

4<sup>d</sup> Ye adulterers and adulteresses, know ye not that the friendship of the world is enmity with God? whosoever therefore will be a friend of the world, is the enemy of God.

5<sup>e</sup> Do ye think that the scripture saith in vain, The spirit that dwelleth in us lusteth to envy?

6<sup>f</sup> But he giveth more grace: wherefore he saith, God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace unto the humble.

7<sup>g</sup> Submit yourselves therefore to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you.

8<sup>h</sup> Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you.

Cleanse your hands, ye sinners: and purify your hearts, ye double-minded.

9<sup>i</sup> Be afflicted, and mourn, and weep: let your laughter be turned to mourning, and your joy to heaviness.

10<sup>k</sup> Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall lift you up.

11<sup>l</sup> Speak not evil one of another, brethren. He that speaketh evil of his brother, and judgeth his brother, speaketh evil of the law, and judgeth the law: but if thou judge the law, thou art not a doer of the law, but a judge.

12<sup>m</sup> There is one Lawgiver, who is able to save and to destroy: who art thou that judgest another?

13<sup>n</sup> Go to now, ye that say, To-day or to-morrow we will go into such a city, and continue there a year, and buy and sell, and get gain:

14<sup>o</sup> Whereas ye know not what shall be on the morrow: for what is your life? It is even a vapour, that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away.

15<sup>p</sup> For that ye ought to say, If the Lord will, we shall live, and do this, or that.

16<sup>q</sup> But now ye rejoice in your boastings: all such rejoicing is evil.

17<sup>r</sup> Therefore to him that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin.

CHAPTER V.

1 Wicked rich men warned of God's judgments....7 Of patience. 13 To pray in adversity.

GO to now, ye rich men, weep and howl for your miseries that shall come upon you.

2<sup>b</sup> Your riches are corrupted, and your garments are moth-eaten.

3<sup>c</sup> Your gold and silver is cankered; and the rust of them shall be a witness against you, and shall eat your flesh as it were fire. Ye have heaped treasure together for the last days.

4<sup>d</sup> Behold, the hire of the labourers which have reaped down your fields, which is of you kept back by fraud, crieth: and the cries of them which have reaped are entered into the ears of the Lord of Sabaoth.

5<sup>e</sup> Ye have lived in pleasure on the earth, and been wanton; ye have nourished your hearts, as in a day of slaughter.

6<sup>f</sup> Ye have condemned and killed the just: and he doth not resist you.

7<sup>g</sup> Be patient therefore, brethren, unto the coming of the Lord. Behold, the husbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, and hath long patience for it, until he receive the early and latter rain.

8<sup>h</sup> Be ye also patient; establish your hearts: for the coming of the Lord draweth nigh.

9<sup>i</sup> Grudge not one against another, brethren, lest ye be condemned: behold, the Judge standeth before the door.

10<sup>k</sup> Take, my brethren, the prophets, who have spoken in the name of the Lord, for an example of suffering affliction, and of patience.

11<sup>l</sup> Behold, we count them happy which endure. Ye have heard of the patience of Job, and have seen the end of the Lord; that the Lord is very pitiful, and of tender mercy.

12<sup>m</sup> But above all things, my brethren, swear not, neither by heaven, neither by the earth, neither by any other oath: but let your yea be yea, and your nay, nay; lest ye fall into condemnation

¶ The First Epistle General of PETER.

CHAPTER I.

1 The apostle's address: 3 he bleseth God for their hope of a blessed immortality: 10 he sheweth that their salvation in Christ had been foretold by the prophets of old, &c.

PETER, an apostle of Jesus Christ, to the strangers scattered throughout Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bythia,

2<sup>b</sup> Elect according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, through sanctification of the Spirit, unto obedience and sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ: Grace unto you and peace be multiplied.

3<sup>c</sup> Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead,

4<sup>d</sup> To an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you,

5<sup>e</sup> Who are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation, ready to be revealed in the last time:

6<sup>f</sup> Wherein ye greatly rejoice, though now for a season, if need be, ye are in heaviness through manifold temptations:

7<sup>g</sup> That the trial of your faith, being much more precious than of gold that perisheth, though it be tried with fire, might be found unto praise, and honour, and glory, at the appearing of Jesus Christ:

8<sup>h</sup> Whom having not seen, ye love; in whom, though now ye see him not, yet believing, ye rejoice with joy unspeakable and full of glory:

9<sup>i</sup> Receiving the end of your faith, even the salvation of your souls.

10<sup>k</sup> Of which salvation the prophets have inquired and searched diligently, who prophesied of the grace that should come unto you:

11<sup>l</sup> Searching what, or what manner of time the Spirit of Christ which was in them did signify, when it testified beforehand the sufferings of Christ, and the glory that should follow.

12<sup>m</sup> Unto whom it was revealed, that not unto themselves, but unto us, they did minister the things which are now reported unto you by them that have preached the gospel unto you, with the Holy Ghost sent down from heaven; which things the angels desire to look into.

13<sup>n</sup> Wherefore gird up the loins of your mind, be sober, and hope to the end for the grace that is to be brought unto you at the revelation of Jesus Christ;

14<sup>o</sup> As obedient children, not fashioning yourselves according to the former lusts in your ignorance:

15<sup>p</sup> But as he which hath called you is holy, so be ye holy in all manner of conversation;

16<sup>q</sup> Because it is written, Be ye holy; for I am holy.

17<sup>r</sup> And if ye call on the Father, who without

17<sup>r</sup> Elias was a man subject to like passions as we are, and he prayed earnestly that it might not rain; and it rained not on the earth by the space of three years and six months.

18<sup>s</sup> And he prayed again, and the heaven gave rain, and the earth brought forth her fruit.

19<sup>t</sup> Brethren, if any of you do err from the truth, and one convert him, respect of persons judgeth according to every man's work, pass the time of your sojourning here in fear:

18<sup>v</sup> Forasmuch as ye know that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold, from your vain conversation received by tradition from your fathers;

19<sup>w</sup> But with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot:

20<sup>x</sup> Who verily was fore-ordained before the foundation of the world, but was manifest in these last times for you;

21<sup>y</sup> Who by him do believe in God, that raised him up from the dead, and gave him glory, that your faith and hope might be in God.

22<sup>z</sup> Seeing ye have purified your souls in obeying the truth through the Spirit unto unfeigned love of the brethren, see that ye love one another with a pure heart fervently:

23<sup>a</sup> Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of God, which liveth and abideth for ever.

24<sup>b</sup> For all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of grass. The grass withereth, and the flower thereof falleth away:

25 But the word of the Lord endureth for ever. And this is the word which by the gospel is preached unto you.

CHAPTER II.

1 He inciteth them against uncharitableness; 4 he sheweth their privileges through Christ the chief corner-stone: 11 he beseecheth them to abstain from fleshly lusts, &c.

WHEREFORE, laying aside all malice, and all guile, and hypocrisies, and envies, and all evil speakings,

2 As new-born babes, desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby:

3<sup>b</sup> If so be ye have tasted that the Lord is gracious;

4<sup>c</sup> To whom coming, as unto a living stone, disallowed indeed of men, but chosen of God, and precious,

5<sup>d</sup> Ye also, as lively stones, are built up a spiritual house, a holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ.

6<sup>e</sup> Wherefore also it is contained in the scripture, Behold, I lay in Sion a chief corner-stone, elect, precious: and he that believeth on him shall not be confounded:

7<sup>f</sup> Unto you therefore which believe, he is precious: but unto them which be disobedient, the stone which the builders disallowed, the same is made the head of the corner,

8<sup>g</sup> And a stone of stumbling, and a rock of offence, even to them which stumble at the word, being disobedient: whereunto also they were appointed.

9<sup>h</sup> But ye are a chosen generation a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should shew forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvellous light:

10<sup>i</sup> Which in time past were not a people, but are now the people of God: which had not obtained mercy, but now have obtained mercy.

11<sup>k</sup> Dearly beloved, I beseech you as strangers and pilgrims, abstain from fleshly lusts, which war against the soul;

12<sup>l</sup> Having your conversation honest among the Gentiles: that whereas they speak against you as evil doers, they may by your good works, which they shall behold, glorify God in the day of visitation.

13<sup>m</sup> Submit yourselves to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake; whether it be to the king, as supreme;

14<sup>n</sup> Or unto governors, as unto them that are sent by him for the punishment of evil doers, and for the praise of them that do well.

15<sup>o</sup> For so is the will of God, that with well-doing ye may put to silence the ignorance of foolish men;

16<sup>p</sup> As free, and not using your liberty for a cloak of maliciousness, but as the servants of God.

17<sup>q</sup> Honour all men. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honour the king.

18<sup>r</sup> Servants, be subject to your masters with all fear; not only to the good and gentle, but also to the froward.

19<sup>s</sup> For this is thank-worthy, if a man for conscience toward God endure grief, suffering wrongfully.

20<sup>t</sup> For what glory is it, if, when ye be buffeted for your faults, ye shall take it patiently? but if, when ye do well, and suffer for it, ye take it patiently, this is acceptable with God.

21<sup>u</sup> For even hereunto were ye called: because Christ also suffered for us, leaving us an example, that ye should follow his steps:

22<sup>x</sup> Who did no sin, neither was guile found in his mouth:

23<sup>y</sup> Who, when he was reviled, reviled not again; when he suffered, he threatened not; but committed himself to him that judgeth righteously:

24<sup>z</sup> Who his own self bare our sins in his own body on the tree, that we, being dead to sins, should live unto righteousness: by whose stripes ye were healed.

25<sup>a</sup> For ye were as sheep going astray; but are now returned unto the Shepherd and Bishop of your souls.

CHAPTER III.

1 He teacheth the duty of wives and husbands, 8 exhorting all men to unity and love, 14 and to suffer boldly for righteousness' sake.

LIKewise, ye wives, be in subjection to your own husbands; that if any obey not the word, they also may without the word be won by the conversation of the wives;

2 While they behold your chaste conversation coupled with fear.

3<sup>b</sup> Whose adorning, let it not be that outward adorning of plaiting the hair, and of wearing of gold, or of putting on of apparel;

4<sup>c</sup> But let it be the hidden man of the heart, in that which is not corruptible, even the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of great price.

5 For after this manner, in the old time, the holy women also, who trusted in God, adorned themselves, being in subjection unto their own husbands.

6<sup>d</sup> Even as Sarah obeyed Abraham, calling him lord: whose daughters ye are, as long as ye do well, and are not afraid with any amazement.

7<sup>e</sup> Likewise, ye husbands, dwell with them according to knowledge, giving honour unto the wife, as unto the weaker vessel, and as being heirs together of the grace of life; that your prayers be not hindered.

8<sup>f</sup> Finally, beye all of one mind, having compassion one of another; love as brethren, be pitiful, be courteous:

9<sup>g</sup> Not rendering evil for evil, or railing for railing; but contrariwise blessing; knowing that ye are thereunto called, that ye should inherit a blessing.

10<sup>h</sup> For he that will love life, and see good days, let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips that they speak no guile:

11<sup>i</sup> Let him eschew evil, and do good; let him seek peace, and ensue it.

12<sup>k</sup> For the eyes of the Lord are over the righteous, and his ears are open unto their prayers: but the face of the Lord is against them that do evil.

13<sup>l</sup> And who is he that will harm you, if ye be followers of that which is good?

14<sup>m</sup> But and if ye suffer for righteousness' sake, happy are ye: and be not afraid of their terror, neither be troubled;

15<sup>n</sup> But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts; and be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear:

16<sup>o</sup> Having a good conscience; that, whereas they speak evil of you, as of evil doers, they may be ashamed that falsely accuse your good conversation in Christ.

17 For it is better, if the will of God be so, that ye suffer for well-doing than for evil-doing.

18<sup>p</sup> For Christ also hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh, but quickened by the Spirit:

19<sup>q</sup> By which also he went and preached unto the spirits in prison;

20<sup>r</sup> Which sometime were disobedient, when once the long-suffering of God waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was a preparing, wherein few, that is eight souls, were saved by water.

21<sup>s</sup> The like figure whereunto, even baptism, doth also now save us (not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but the answer of a good conscience toward God,) by the resurrection of Jesus Christ:

22<sup>t</sup> Who is gone into heaven, and is on the right hand of God; angels, and authorities, and powers being made subject unto him.

CHAPTER IV.

1 He exhorteth them to cease from sin by the example of Christ....7 By the approaching end of all things he exhorteth them to sobriety, charity, &c.

FORASMUCH then as Christ hath suffered for us in the flesh, arm yourselves likewise with the same mind: for he that hath suffered in the flesh, hath ceased from sin;

2<sup>b</sup> That he no longer should live the rest of his time in the flesh to the lusts of men, but to the will of God.

3<sup>c</sup> For the time past of our life may suffice us to have wrought the will of the Gentiles, when we walked in lasciviousness, lusts, excess of wine, revelings, banquetings, and abominable idolatries:

4<sup>d</sup> Wherein they think it strange that ye run not with them to the same excess of riot, speaking evil of you:

5 ° Who shall give account to him that is ready to judge the quick and the dead.

6 ° For, for this cause was the gospel preached also to them that are dead, that they might be judged according to men in the flesh, but live according to God in the spirit.

7 ° But the end of all things is at hand: be ye therefore sober, and watch unto prayer.

8 ° And above all things have fervent charity among yourselves: for charity shall cover the multitude of sins.

9 ° Use hospitality one to another, without grudging.

10 ° As every man hath received the gift, even so minister the same one to another, as good stewards of the manifold grace of God.

11 ° If any man speak, let him speak as the oracles of God; if any man minister, let him do it as of the ability which God giveth: that God in all things may be glorified through Jesus Christ; to whom be praise and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

12 ° Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened unto you:

13 ° But rejoice, inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christ's sufferings; that, when his glory shall be revealed, ye may be glad also with exceeding joy.

14 ° If ye be reproached for the name of Christ, happy are ye; for the spirit of glory and of God resteth upon you: on their part he is evil spoken of, but on your part he is glorified.

15 ° But let none of you suffer as a murderer, or as a thief, or as an evil-doer, or as a busybody in other men's matters.

16 ° Yet if any man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed; but let him glorify God on this behalf.

17 ° For the time is come that judgment must begin at the house of God: and if it first begin at us, what shall the end be of them that obey not the gospel of God?

18 ° And if the righteous scarcely be saved, where shall the ungodly and the sinner appear?

19 ° Wherefore, let them that suffer according to the will of God, commit the keeping of their souls to him in well-doing, as unto a faithful Creator.

¶ The Second Epistle general of PETER.

CHAPTER I.

Peter, saluting the Christians, admonisheth them of the gifts and promises of the gospel, &c.

SIMON Peter, a servant and an apostle of Jesus Christ, to them that have obtained like precious faith with us through the righteousness of God and our Saviour Jesus Christ:

2 ° Grace and peace be multiplied unto you through the knowledge of God, and of Jesus our Lord,

3 ° According as his divine power hath given unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness, through the knowledge of him that hath called us to glory and virtue:

4 ° Whereby are given unto us exceeding great and precious promises; that by these ye might be partakers of the divine nature, having escaped the corruption that is in the world through lust.

5 ° And besides this, giving all diligence, add to your faith virtue; and to virtue knowledge;

6 And to knowledge temperance; and to temperance patience; and to patience godliness,

CHAPTER V.

1 The elders exhorted to feed the flock of Christ; 5 the younger to obey the elder; 8 and all to be sober, watchful, and steadfast in the faith, resisting the devil, &c.

THE elders which are among you I exhort, who am also an elder and a witness of the sufferings of Christ, and also a partaker of the glory that shall be revealed:

2 ° Feed the flock of God which is among you, taking the oversight thereof, not by constraint, but willingly; not for filthy lucre, but of a ready mind;

3 ° Neither as being lords over God's heritage, but being ensamples to the flock.

4 ° And when the chief Shepherd shall appear, ye shall receive a crown of glory that fadeth not away.

5 ° Likewise, ye younger, submit yourselves unto the elder: yea, all of you be subject one to another, and be clothed with humility: for God resisteth the proud, and giveth grace to the humble.

6 ° Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time:

7 ° Casting all your care upon him; for he careth for you.

8 ° Be sober, be vigilant; because your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about seeking whom he may devour:

9 ° Whom resist, steadfast in the faith, knowing that the same afflictions are accomplished in your brethren that are in the world.

10 ° But the God of all grace, who hath called us unto his eternal glory by Christ Jesus, after that ye have suffered a while, make you perfect, stablish, strengthen, settle you:

11 ° To him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

12 ° By Silvanus, a faithful brother unto you, as I suppose, I have written briefly, exhorting, and testifying that this is the true grace of God wherein ye stand.

13 ° The church that is at Babylon, elected together with you, saluteth you; and so doth Marcus my son.

14 ° Greet ye one another with a kiss of charity. Peace be with you all that are in Christ Jesus. Amen.

7 ° And to godliness brotherly kindness; and to brotherly kindness charity.

8 ° For if these things be in you, and abound, they make you that ye shall neither be barren nor unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.

9 ° But he that lacketh these things is blind, and cannot see afar off, and hath forgotten that he was purged from his old sins.

10 ° Wherefore the rather, brethren, give diligence to make your calling and election sure: for if ye do these things, ye shall never fall:

11 For so an entrance shall be ministered unto you abundantly into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

12 ° Wherefore I will not be negligent to put you always in remembrance of these things, though ye know them, and be established in the present truth.

13 ° Yea, I think it meet, as long as I am in this tabernacle, to stir you up, by putting you in remembrance;

14 ° Knowing that shortly I must put off this my tabernacle, even as our Lord Jesus Christ hath shewed me.

15 <sup>a</sup> Moreover, I will endeavour that ye may be able after my decease to have these things always in remembrance.

16 <sup>o</sup> For we have not followed cunningly devised fables, when we made known unto you the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but were eye-witnesses of his majesty.

17 <sup>p</sup> For he received from God the Father honour and glory, when there came such a voice to him from the excellent glory, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

18 <sup>q</sup> And this voice which came from heaven we heard, when we were with him in the holy mount.

19 <sup>r</sup> We have also a more sure word of prophecy: whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a light that shineth in a dark place, until the day dawn, and the day-star arise in your hearts:

20 <sup>s</sup> Knowing this first, that no prophecy of the scripture is of any private interpretation.

21 <sup>t</sup> For the prophecy came not in old time by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost.

CHAPTER II.

He foretelleth them of false teachers, shewing the impiety and punishment of them and their followers, &c.

BUT there were false prophets also among the people, even as there shall be false teachers among you, who privily shall bring in damnable heresies, even denying the Lord that bought them, and bring upon themselves swift destruction.

2 And many shall follow their pernicious ways; by reason of whom the way of truth shall be evil spoken of.

3 <sup>b</sup> And through covetousness shall they with feigned words make merchandise of you: whose judgment now of a long time lingereth not, and their damnation slumbereth not.

4 <sup>c</sup> For if God spared not the angels that sinned, but cast them down to hell, and delivered them into chains of darkness, to be reserved unto judgment;

5 <sup>d</sup> And spared not the old world, but saved Noah the eighth person, a preacher of righteousness, bringing in the flood upon the world of the ungodly;

6 <sup>e</sup> And turning the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah into ashes, condemned them with an overthrow, making them an ensample unto those that after should live ungodly;

7 <sup>f</sup> And delivered just Lot, vexed with the filthy conversation of the wicked:

8 <sup>g</sup> (For that righteous man dwelling among them, in seeing and hearing, vexed his righteous soul from day to day with their unlawful deeds:)

9 <sup>h</sup> The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished:

10 <sup>i</sup> But chiefly them that walk after the flesh in the lust of uncleanness, and despise government: presumptuous are they, self-willed; they are not afraid to speak evil of dignities.

11 <sup>k</sup> Whereas angels, which are greater in power and might, bring not railing accusation against them before the Lord.

12 <sup>l</sup> But these, as natural brute beasts, made to be taken and destroyed, speak evil of the things that they understand not; and shall utterly perish in their own corruption:

13 <sup>m</sup> And shall receive the reward of unrighteousness, as they that count it pleasure to riot in the day-time. Spots they are and blemishes, sporting themselves with their own deceivings, while they feast with you;

14 <sup>n</sup> Having eyes full of adultery, and that cannot cease from sin; beguiling unstable souls: a heart they have exercised with covetous practices; cursed children:

15 <sup>o</sup> Which have forsaken the right way, and are gone astray, following the way of Balaam the son of Bosor, who loved the wages of unrighteousness;

16 But was rebuked for his iniquity: the dumb ass, speaking with man's voice, forbade the madness of the prophet.

17 <sup>p</sup> These are wells without water, clouds that are carried with a tempest; to whom the mist of darkness is reserved for ever.

18 <sup>q</sup> For when they speak great swelling words of vanity, they allure through the lusts of the flesh, through much wantonness, those that were clean escaped from them who live in error.

19 <sup>r</sup> While they promise them liberty, they themselves are the servants of corruption: for of whom a man is overcome, of the same is he brought in bondage.

20 <sup>s</sup> For if after they have escaped the pollutions of the world, through the knowledge of the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, they are again entangled therein and overcome, the latter end is worse with them than the beginning.

21 <sup>t</sup> For it had been better for them not to have known the way of righteousness, than, after they have known it, to turn from the holy commandment delivered unto them.

22 <sup>u</sup> But it is happened unto them according to the true proverb, The dog is turned to his own vomit again; and, The sow that was washed, to her wallowing in the mire.

CHAPTER III.

1 The certainty of Christ's coming to judgment.... 11 An exhortation to godliness.

THIS second epistle, beloved, I now write unto you; in both which I stir up your pure minds by way of remembrance:

2 <sup>b</sup> That ye may be mindful of the words which were spoken before by the holy prophets, and of the commandment of us the apostles of the Lord and Saviour:

3 <sup>c</sup> Knowing this first, that there shall come in the last days scoffers, walking after their own lusts,

4 <sup>d</sup> And saying, Where is the promise of his coming? for since the fathers fell asleep, all things continue as they were from the beginning of the creation.

5 <sup>e</sup> For this they willingly are ignorant of, that by the word of God the heavens were of old, and the earth standing out of the water and in the water:

6 <sup>f</sup> Whereby the world that then was, being overflowed with water, perished:

7 <sup>g</sup> But the heavens and the earth, which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserved unto fire against the day of judgment and perdition of ungodly men.

8 <sup>h</sup> But, beloved, be not ignorant of this one thing, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day.

9 <sup>i</sup> The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, as some men count slackness; but is long-suffering to us-ward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance.

10<sup>k</sup> But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night; in the which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat; the earth also, and the works that are therein, shall be burned up.

11 Seeing then that all these things shall be dissolved, what manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy conversation and godliness;

12<sup>l</sup> Looking for and hasting unto the coming of the day of God, wherein the heavens, being on fire, shall be dissolved, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat?

13<sup>m</sup> Nevertheless we, according to his promise, look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness.

14<sup>n</sup> Wherefore, beloved, seeing that ye look for such things, be diligent that ye may be found of him in peace, without spot, and blameless:

15<sup>o</sup> And account that the long-suffering of our Lord is salvation; even as our beloved brother Paul also, according to the wisdom given unto him, hath written unto you;

16<sup>p</sup> As also in all his epistles, speaking in them of these things; in which are some things hard to be understood, which they that are unlearned and unstable wrest, as they do also the other scriptures, unto their own destruction.

17<sup>q</sup> Ye therefore, beloved, seeing ye know these things before, beware lest ye also, being led away with the error of the wicked, fall from your own steadfastness:

18<sup>r</sup> But grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. To him be glory, both now and for ever. Amen.

¶ The First Epistle general of JOHN.

CHAPTER I.

1 He declareth what he had seen and known of the Word of life....5 The necessity of holiness, in order to fellowship with God.

THAT which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we have looked upon, and our hands have handled, of the Word of life;

2<sup>b</sup> (For the Life was manifested, and we have seen it, and bear witness, and shew unto you that eternal Life, which was with the Father, and was manifested unto us;)

3<sup>c</sup> That which we have seen and heard declare we unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us: and truly our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ.

4<sup>d</sup> And these things write we unto you, that your joy may be full.

5<sup>e</sup> This then is the message which we have heard of him, and declare unto you, that God is light, and in him is no darkness at all.

6<sup>f</sup> If we say that we have fellowship with him, and walk in darkness, we lie, and do not the truth:

7<sup>g</sup> But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin.

8<sup>h</sup> If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us.

9<sup>i</sup> If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.

10 If we say that we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

CHAPTER II.

1 Christ our advocate and propitiation....3 To know God aright is to keep his commandments, and love our brethren....18 To beware of seducers.

MY little children, these things write I unto you, that ye sin not. And if any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous:

2<sup>b</sup> And he is the propitiation for our sins: and not for ours only, but also for the sins of the whole world.

3 And hereby we do know that we know him, if we keep his commandments.

4<sup>c</sup> He that saith, I know him, and keepeth not his commandments, is a liar, and the truth is not in him.

5<sup>d</sup> But whoso keepeth his word, in him verily is the love of God perfected: hereby know we that we are in him.

6<sup>e</sup> He that saith he abideth in him, ought himself also so to walk, even as he walked.

7<sup>f</sup> Brethren, I write no new commandment unto you, but an old commandment, which ye had from the beginning. The old commandment is the word which ye have heard from the beginning.

8<sup>g</sup> Again, a new commandment I write unto you; which thing is true in him and in you: because the darkness is past, and the true light now shineth.

9<sup>h</sup> He that saith he is in the light, and hateth his brother, is in darkness even until now.

10<sup>i</sup> He that loveth his brother abideth in the light, and there is none occasion of stumbling in him.

11<sup>k</sup> But he that hateth his brother, is in darkness, and walketh in darkness, and knoweth not whither he goeth, because that darkness hath blinded his eyes.

12<sup>l</sup> I write unto you, little children, because your sins are forgiven you for his name's sake.

13<sup>m</sup> I write unto you, fathers, because ye have known him that is from the beginning. I write unto you, young men, because ye have overcome the wicked one. I write unto you, little children, because ye have known the Father.

14<sup>n</sup> I have written unto you, fathers, because ye have known him that is from the beginning. I have written unto you, young men, because ye are strong, and the word of God abideth in you, and ye have overcome the wicked one.

15<sup>o</sup> Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him.

16 For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world.

17<sup>p</sup> And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever.

18<sup>q</sup> Little children, it is the last time and as ye have heard that antichrist shall come, even now are there many antichrists; whereby we know that it is the last time.

19<sup>r</sup> They went out from us, but they were not of us; for if they had been of us, they would no doubt have continued with us: but they went out, that they might be made manifest that they were not all of us.

20<sup>s</sup> But ye have an unction from the Holy One, and ye know all things.

21 I have not written unto you because ye know not the truth, but because ye know it, and that no lie is of the truth.

22<sup>t</sup> Who is a liar, but he that denieth that Jesus is the Christ? He is antichrist, that denieth the Father and the Son.

23<sup>u</sup> Whosoever denieth the Son, the same hath not the Father: [but he that acknowledgeth the Son, hath the Father also.]

24<sup>x</sup> Let that therefore abide in you which ye have heard from the beginning. If that which ye have heard from the beginning shall remain in you, ye also shall continue in the Son, and in the Father.

25 And this is the promise that he hath promised us, even eternal life.

26<sup>y</sup> These things have I written unto you concerning them that seduce you.

27<sup>z</sup> But the anointing which ye have received of him abideth in you: and ye need not that any man teach you: but as the same anointing teacheth you of all things, and is truth, and is no lie, and even as it hath taught you, ye shall abide in him.

28<sup>a</sup> And now, little children, abide in him; that, when he shall appear, we may have confidence, and not be ashamed before him at his coming.

29<sup>b</sup> If ye know that he is righteous, ye know that every one that doeth righteousness is born of him.

CHAPTER III.

1 He declareth the singular love of God toward us in making us his sons; 3 we therefore ought obediently to keep his commandments, &c.

BEHOOLD, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God! therefore the world knoweth us not, because it knew him not.

2<sup>b</sup> Beloved, now are we the sons of God; and it doth not yet appear what we shall be: but we know that, when he shall appear, we shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is.

3<sup>c</sup> And every man that hath this hope in him, purifieth himself, even as he is pure.

4<sup>d</sup> Whosoever committeth sin transgresseth also the law: for sin is the transgression of the law.

5<sup>e</sup> And ye know that he was manifested to take away our sins; and in him is no sin.

6<sup>f</sup> Whosoever abideth in him sinneth not: whosoever sinneth, hath not seen him, neither known him.

7<sup>g</sup> Little children, let no man deceive you: he that doeth righteousness, is righteous even as he is righteous.

8<sup>h</sup> He that committeth sin, is of the devil; for the devil sinneth from the beginning. For this purpose the Son of God was manifested, that he might destroy the works of the devil.

9<sup>i</sup> Whosoever is born of God doth not commit sin; for his seed remaineth in him; and he cannot sin, because he is born of God.

10<sup>k</sup> In this the children of God are manifest, and the children of the devil: whosoever doeth not righteousness, is not of God, neither he that loveth not his brother

11<sup>l</sup> For this is the message that ye heard from the beginning, that we should love one another.

12<sup>m</sup> Not as Cain, who was of that wicked one, and slew his brother. And wherefore slew he him? Because his own works were evil, and his brother's righteous.

13<sup>n</sup> Marvel not, my brethren, if the world hate you.

14<sup>o</sup> We know that we have passed from death unto life, because we love the brethren. He that loveth not his brother, abideth in death.

15<sup>p</sup> Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer: and ye know that no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him.

16<sup>q</sup> Hereby perceive we the love of God, because he laid down his life for us: and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren.

17<sup>r</sup> But whoso hath this world's good, and seeth his brother have need, and shutteth up his bowels of compassion from him, how dwelleth the love of God in him?

18<sup>s</sup> My little children, let us not love in word, neither in tongue; but in deed and in truth.

19<sup>t</sup> And hereby we know that we are of the truth, and shall assure our hearts before him.

20 For if our heart condemn us, God is greater than our heart, and knoweth all things.

21<sup>u</sup> Beloved, if our heart condemn us not, then have we confidence toward God:

22<sup>x</sup> And whatsoever we ask, we receive of him, because we keep his commandments, and do those things that are pleasing in his sight.

23<sup>y</sup> And this is his commandment, That we should believe on the name of his Son Jesus Christ, and love one another, as he gave us commandment.

24<sup>z</sup> And he that keepeth his commandments dwelleth in him, and he in him. And hereby we know that he abideth in us, by the Spirit which he hath given us.

CHAPTER IV.

1 He warneth them not to believe all teachers who boast of the Spirit, but to try them by the rules of the catholic faith; 7 and by many reasons exhorteth to brotherly love.

BELOVED, believe not every spirit, but try the spirits whether they are of God; because many false prophets are gone out into the world.

2<sup>b</sup> Hereby know ye the Spirit of God: Every spirit that confesseth that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh, is of God:

3<sup>c</sup> And every spirit that confesseth not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh, is not of God: and this is that spirit of antichrist, whereof ye have heard that it should come; and even now already is it in the world.

4<sup>d</sup> Ye are of God, little children, and have overcome them: because greater is he that is in you, than he that is in the world.

5<sup>e</sup> They are of the world: therefore speak they of the world, and the world heareth them.

6<sup>f</sup> We are of God: he that knoweth God, heareth us; he that is not of God, heareth not us. Hereby know we the spirit of truth, and the spirit of error.

7<sup>g</sup> Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth, is born of God, and knoweth God.

8<sup>h</sup> He that loveth not, knoweth not God; for God is love.

9<sup>i</sup> In this was manifested the love of God toward us, because that God sent his only begotten Son into the world, that we might live through him.

10<sup>k</sup> Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins.

11<sup>i</sup> Beloved, if God so loved us, we ought also to love one another.

12<sup>m</sup> No man hath seen God at any time. If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his love is perfected in us.

13<sup>n</sup> Hereby know we that we dwell in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit.

14<sup>o</sup> And we have seen, and do testify, that the Father sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world.

15<sup>p</sup> Whosoever shall confess that Jesus is the Son of God, God dwelleth in him, and he in God.

16<sup>q</sup> And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him.

17<sup>r</sup> Herein is our love made perfect, that we may have boldness in the day of judgment: because as he is, so are we in this world.

18<sup>s</sup> There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear; because fear hath torment. He that feareth, is not made perfect in love.

19<sup>t</sup> We love him, because he first loved us.

20<sup>u</sup> If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar: for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen?

21<sup>v</sup> And this commandment have we from him, That he who loveth God love his brother also.

CHAPTER V.

1 He that loveth God loveth his children, and keepeth his commandments....4 True faith will overcome the world....11 Believers have eternal life through Christ; 18 they are distinguished from the world by abstaining from sin, and by a right knowledge of God.

WHOSOEVER believeth that Jesus is the Christ, is born of God: and every one that loveth him that begat, loveth him also that is begotten of him.

2<sup>b</sup> By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God, and keep his commandments.

3<sup>c</sup> For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments: and his commandments are not grievous.

4<sup>d</sup> For whatsoever is born of God overcometh the world: and this is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith.

1 He testifieth his regard for a certain pious matron and her children; 5 he exhorteth them to persevere in Christian love and belief, that they lose not their full reward; 10 and to have nothing to do with seducers.

THE elder unto the elect lady and her children, whom I love in the truth; and not I only, but also all they that have known the truth;

2<sup>b</sup> For the truth's sake which dwelleth in us, and shall be with us for ever.

3<sup>c</sup> Grace be with you, mercy, and peace, from God the Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father, in truth and love.

5<sup>e</sup> Who is he that overcometh the world, but he that believeth that Jesus is the Son of God?

6<sup>f</sup> This is he that came by water and blood, even Jesus Christ; not by water only, but by water and blood. And it is the Spirit that beareth witness, because the Spirit is truth.

7<sup>g</sup> For there are three that bear record in heaven, the Father, the Word, and the Holy Ghost: and these three are one.

8<sup>h</sup> And there are three that bear witness in earth, the spirit, and the water, and the blood: and these three agree in one.

9<sup>i</sup> If we receive the witness of men, the witness of God is greater: for this is the witness of God, which he hath testified of his Son.

10<sup>k</sup> He that believeth on the Son of God hath the witness in himself: he that believeth not God, hath made him a liar; because he believeth not the record that God gave of his Son.

11<sup>l</sup> And this is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is in his Son.

12<sup>m</sup> He that hath the Son, hath life; and he that hath not the Son of God, hath not life.

13<sup>n</sup> These things have I written unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God; that ye may know that ye have eternal life, and that ye may believe on the name of the Son of God.

14<sup>o</sup> And this is the confidence that we have in him, that, if we ask any thing according to his will, he heareth us:

15 And if we know that he hear us, whatsoever we ask, we know that we have the petitions that we desired of him.

16<sup>p</sup> If any man see his brother sin a sin which is not unto death, he shall ask, and he shall give him life for them that sin not unto death. There is a sin unto death: I do not say that he shall pray for it.

17<sup>q</sup> All unrighteousness is sin: and there is a sin not unto death.

18<sup>r</sup> We know that whosoever is born of God sinneth not; but he that is begotten of God keepeth himself, and that wicked one toucheth him not.

19<sup>s</sup> And we know that we are of God, and the whole world lieth in wickedness.

20<sup>t</sup> And we know that the Son of God is come, and hath given us an understanding, that we may know him that is true: and we are in him that is true, even in his Son Jesus Christ. This is the true God, and eternal life.

21<sup>u</sup> Little children, keep yourselves from idols. Amen.

¶ The Second Epistle of JOHN.

4<sup>d</sup> I rejoiced greatly that I found of thy children walking in truth, as we have received a commandment from the Father.

5<sup>e</sup> And now I beseech thee, lady, not as though I wrote a new commandment unto thee, but that which we had from the beginning, that we love one another.

6<sup>f</sup> And this is love, that we walk after his commandments. This is the commandment, That (as ye have heard from the beginning) ye should walk in it.

¶ The Third Epistle of JOHN.

1 He commendeth Gaius for his piety, 5 and hospitality to true preachers; 9 he censureth Diotrephes, and threateneth him for his ambitious opposition, 11 whose evil example is not to be followed.

THE elder unto the well-beloved Gaius, whom I love in the truth.

2 Beloved, I wish above all things that thou mayest prosper and be in health, even as thy soul prospereth.

3<sup>b</sup> For I rejoiced greatly when the brethren came and testified of the truth that is in thee, even as thou walkest in the truth.

4<sup>c</sup> I have no greater joy than to hear that my children walk in truth.

5 Beloved, thou doest faithfully whatsoever thou doest to the brethren and to strangers;

6 Which have borne witness of thy charity before the church: whom if thou bring forward on their journey after a godly sort, thou shalt do well:

7<sup>d</sup> Because that for his name's sake they went forth, taking nothing of the Gentiles.

8<sup>e</sup> We therefore ought to receive such, that we might be fellow-helpers to the truth.

9 I wrote unto the church: but Diotrephes, who loveth to have the pre-eminence among them, receiveth us not.

10 Wherefore, if I come, I will remember his deeds which he doeth, prating against us with malicious words: and not content therewith, neither doth he himself receive the brethren, and forbiddeth them that would, and casteth them out of the church.

11<sup>f</sup> Beloved, follow not that which is evil, but that which is good. He that doeth good is of God: but he that doeth evil hath not seen God.

12<sup>g</sup> Demetrius hath good report of all men, and of the truth itself. yea, and we also bear record; and ye know that our record is true.

13<sup>h</sup> I had many things to write, but I will not with ink and pen write unto thee:

14 But I trust I shall shortly see thee, and we shall speak face to face. Peace be to thee. Our friends salute thee. Greet the friends by name.

¶ The General Epistle of JUDE.

1 Jude exhorteth Christians to constancy in the received faith; 4 he foretellet the punishment of certain false teachers, &c.

JUDE, the servant of Jesus Christ, and brother of James, to them that are sanctified by God the Father, and preserved in Jesus Christ, and called:

2 Mercy unto you, and peace, and love, be multiplied.

3<sup>b</sup> Beloved, when I gave all diligence to write unto you of the common salvation, it was needful for me to write unto you, and exhort you that ye should earnestly contend for the faith which was once delivered unto the saints.

4<sup>c</sup> For there are certain men crept in unawares, who were before of old ordained to this condemnation; ungodly men, turning the grace of our God into lasciviousness, and denying the only Lord God, and our Lord Jesus Christ.

5<sup>d</sup> I will therefore put you in remembrance, though ye once knew this, how that the Lord, having saved the people out of the land of Egypt, afterward destroyed them that believed not.

6<sup>e</sup> And the angels which kept not their first estate, but left their own habitation, he hath reserved in everlasting chains, under darkness, unto the judgment of the great day.

7<sup>f</sup> Even as Sodom and Gomorrah, and the cities about them, in like manner giving themselves over to fornication, and going after strange flesh, are set forth for an example, suffering the vengeance of eternal fire.

8<sup>g</sup> Likewise also these filthy dreamers defile the flesh, despise dominion, and speak evil of dignities.

9<sup>h</sup> Yet Michael the archangel, when contending with the devil, he disputed about the body of Moses, durst not bring against him a railing accusation, but said, The Lord rebuke thee.

10<sup>i</sup> But these speak evil of those things which they know not: but what they know naturally, as brute beasts, in those things they corrupt themselves.

11<sup>k</sup> Wo unto them! for they have gone in the way of Cain, and ran greedily after the error of Balaam for reward, and perished in the gainsaying of Core.

12<sup>l</sup> These are spots in your feasts of charity, when they feast with you, feeding themselves without fear: clouds they are without water, carried about of winds; trees whose fruit withereth, without fruit, twice dead, plucked up by the roots;

13<sup>m</sup> Raging waves of the sea, foaming out their own shame; wandering stars, to whom is reserved the blackness of darkness for ever.

14<sup>n</sup> And Enoch also, the seventh from Adam, prophesied of these, saying, Behold, the Lord cometh with ten thousand of his saints,

15<sup>o</sup> To execute judgment upon all; and to convince all that are ungodly among them of all their ungodly deeds which they have ungodly committed, and of all their hard speeches which ungodly sinners have spoken against him.

16 <sup>p</sup> These are murmurers, complainers, walking after their own lusts; and their mouth speaketh great swelling words, having men's persons in admiration because of advantage.

17 <sup>q</sup> But, beloved, remember ye the words which were spoken before of the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ;

18 <sup>r</sup> How that they told you there should be mockers in the last time, who should walk after their own ungodly lusts.

19 <sup>s</sup> These be they who separate themselves, sensual, having not the Spirit.

¶ The REVELATION of St. JOHN the Divine.

CHAPTER I.

4 John's salutation to the seven churches....7 The coming of Christ; 14 his glorious power and majesty.

THE Revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave unto him, to shew unto his servants things which must shortly come to pass; and he sent and signified it by his angel unto his servant John:

2 <sup>b</sup> Who bare record of the word of God, and of the testimony of Jesus Christ, and of all things that he saw.

3 <sup>c</sup> Blessed is he that readeth, and they that hear the words of this prophecy, and keep those things which are written therein: for the time is at hand.

4 <sup>d</sup> JOHN to the seven churches in Asia: Grace be unto you, and peace, from him which is, and which was, and which is to come; and from the seven Spirits which are before his throne:

5 <sup>e</sup> And from Jesus Christ, who is the faithful witness, and the first-begotten of the dead, and the Prince of the kings of the earth. Unto him that loved us, and washed us from our sins in his own blood,

6 <sup>f</sup> And hath made us kings and priests unto God and his Father; to him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

7 <sup>g</sup> Behold, he cometh with clouds; and every eye shall see him, and they also which pierced him: and all kindreds of the earth shall wail because of him. Even so, Amen.

8 <sup>h</sup> I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, saith the Lord, which is, and which was, and which is to come, the Almighty.

9 <sup>i</sup> I John, who also am your brother, and companion in tribulation, and in the kingdom and patience of Jesus Christ, was in the isle that is called Patmos, for the word of God, and for the testimony of Jesus Christ.

10 <sup>k</sup> I was in the Spirit on the Lord's day, and heard behind me a great voice, as of a trumpet,

11 <sup>l</sup> Saying, I am Alpha and Omega, the first and the last: and, What thou seest, write in a book, and send it unto the seven churches which are in Asia; unto Ephesus, and unto Smyrna, and unto Pergamos, and unto Thyatira, and unto Sardis, and Philadelpia, and unto Laodicea.

12 <sup>m</sup> And I turned to see the voice that spake with me. And being turned, I saw seven golden candlesticks;

13 <sup>n</sup> And in the midst of the seven candlesticks one like unto the Son of man, clothed with a garment down to the foot, and girt about the paps with a golden girdle.

20 <sup>o</sup> But ye, beloved, building up yourselves on your most holy faith, praying in the Holy Ghost,

21 Keep yourselves in the love of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ unto eternal life.

22 And of some have compassion, making a difference:

23 <sup>p</sup> And others save with fear, pulling them out of the fire; hating even the garment spotted by the flesh.

24 <sup>q</sup> Now unto him that is able to keep you from falling, and to present you faultless before the presence of his glory with exceeding joy,

25 <sup>r</sup> To the only wise God our Saviour, be glory and majesty, dominion and power, both now and ever. Amen.

14 <sup>o</sup> His head and his hairs were white like wool, as white as snow; and his eyes were as a flame of fire;

15 <sup>p</sup> And his feet like unto fine brass, as if they burned in a furnace; and his voice as the sound of many waters.

16 <sup>q</sup> And he had in his right hand seven stars; and out of his mouth went a sharp two-edged sword: and his countenance was as the sun shineth in his strength.

17 <sup>r</sup> And when I saw him, I fell at his feet as dead. And he laid his right hand upon me, saying unto me, Fear not; I am the first and the last:

18 <sup>s</sup> I am he that liveth, and was dead; and, behold, I am alive for evermore, Amen; and have the keys of hell and of death.

19 <sup>t</sup> Write the things which thou hast seen, and the things which are, and the things which shall be hereafter;

20 <sup>u</sup> The mystery of the seven stars which thou sawest in my right hand, and the seven golden candlesticks. The seven stars are the angels of the seven churches: and the seven candlesticks which thou sawest, are the seven churches.

CHAPTER II.

1 What John was commanded to write to the angels of the churches of Ephesus, 8 Smyrna, 12 Pergamos, 18 and Thyatira.

UNTO the angel of the church of Ephesus write; These things saith he that holdeth the seven stars in his right hand, who walketh in the midst of the seven golden candlesticks;

2 <sup>b</sup> I know thy works, and thy labour, and thy patience, and how thou canst not bear them which are evil: and thou hast tried them which say they are apostles, and are not, and hast found them liars:

3 <sup>c</sup> And hast borne, and hast patience, and for my name's sake hast laboured, and hast not fainted.

4 Nevertheless I have somewhat against thee, because thou hast left thy first love.

5 <sup>d</sup> Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen; and repent, and do the first works; or else I will come unto thee quickly, and will remove thy candlestick out of his place, except thou repent.

6 But this thou hast, that thou hatest the deeds of the Nicolaitanes, which I also hate.

7 <sup>e</sup> He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the tree of life, which is in the midst of the paradise of God.

8 <sup>f</sup> And unto the angel of the church in Smyrna write; These things saith the first and the last, which was dead, and is alive;

9<sup>g</sup> I know thy works, and tribulation, and poverty, (but thou art rich,) and I know the blasphemy of them which say they are Jews, and are not, but are the synagogue of Satan.

10<sup>b</sup> Fear none of those things which thou shalt suffer: behold, the devil shall cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried: and ye shall have tribulation ten days: be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life.

11<sup>i</sup> He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; He that overcometh shall not be hurt of the second death.

12<sup>k</sup> And to the angel of the church in Pergamos write; These things saith he which hath the sharp sword with two edges;

13<sup>l</sup> I know thy works, and where thou dwellest, even where Satan's seat is: and thou holdest fast my name, and hast not denied my faith, even in those days wherein Antipas was my faithful martyr, who was slain among you, where Satan dwelleth

14<sup>m</sup> But I have a few things against thee, because thou hast there them that hold the doctrine of Balaam, who taught Balak to cast a stumbling-block before the children of Israel, to eat things sacrificed unto idols, and to commit fornication.

15<sup>n</sup> So hast thou also them that hold the doctrine of the Nicolaitanes, which thing I hate.

16<sup>o</sup> Repent; or else I will come unto thee quickly, and will fight against them with the sword of my mouth.

17<sup>p</sup> He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the hidden manna, and will give him a white stone, and in the stone a new name written, which no man knoweth saving he that receiveth it.

18<sup>q</sup> And unto the angel of the church in Thyatira write; These things saith the Son of God, who hath his eyes like unto a flame of fire, and his feet are like fine brass;

19<sup>r</sup> I know thy works, and charity, and service, and faith, and thy patience, and thy works; and the last to be more than the first.

20<sup>s</sup> Notwithstanding, I have a few things against thee, because thou sufferest that woman Jezebel, which calleth herself a prophetess, to teach and to seduce my servants to commit fornication, and to eat things sacrificed unto idols.

21 And I gave her space to repent of her fornication; and she repented not.

22 Behold, I will cast her into a bed, and them that commit adultery with her into great tribulation, except they repent of their deeds.

23<sup>t</sup> And I will kill her children with death; and all the churches shall know that I am he which searcheth the reins and hearts; and I will give unto every one of you according to your works.

24 But unto you I say, and unto the rest in Thyatira, as many as have not this doctrine, and which have not known the depths of Satan, as they speak; I will put upon you none other burden:

25<sup>u</sup> But that which ye have already, hold fast till I come.

26<sup>x</sup> And he that overcometh, and keepeth my works unto the end, to him will I give power over the nations:

27<sup>y</sup> (And he shall rule them with a rod of iron; as the vessels of a potter shall they be broken to shivers:;) even as I received of my Father.

28<sup>z</sup> And I will give him the morning star.

29<sup>a</sup> He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

CHAPTER III.

1 What John was commanded to write to the angels of the churches of Sardis, 7 Philadelphia, 14 and Laodicea.

AND unto the angel of the church in Sardis write; These things saith he that hath the seven Spirits of God, and the seven stars; I know thy works, that thou hast a name that thou livest, and art dead.

2<sup>b</sup> Be watchful, and strengthen the things which remain, that are ready to die: for I have not found thy works perfect before God.

3 Remember therefore how thou hast received and heard; and hold fast, and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come on thee as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee.

4<sup>c</sup> Thou hast a few names even in Sardis which have not defiled their garments; and they shall walk with me in white: for they are worthy.

5<sup>d</sup> He that overcometh, the same shall be clothed in white raiment; and I will not blot out his name out of the book of life, but I will confess his name before my Father, and before his angels.

6 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

7<sup>e</sup> And to the angel of the church in Philadelphia write; These things saith he that is holy, he that is true, he that hath the key of David, he that openeth, and no man shutteth; and shutteth, and no man openeth;

8<sup>f</sup> I know thy works: behold, I have set before thee an open door, and no man can shut it: for thou hast a little strength, and hast kept my word, and hast not denied my name.

9<sup>g</sup> Behold, I will make them of the synagogue of Satan, which say they are Jews, and are not, but do lie; behold, I will make them to come and worship before thy feet, and to know that I have loved thee.

10<sup>h</sup> Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, I also will keep thee from the hour of temptation, which shall come upon all the world, to try them that dwell upon the earth.

11<sup>i</sup> Behold, I come quickly: hold that fast which thou hast, that no man take thy crown.

12<sup>k</sup> Him that overcometh will I make a pillar in the temple of my God; and he shall go no more out: and I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, which is new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God: and I will write upon him my new name.

13 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

14<sup>l</sup> And unto the angel of the church of the Laodiceans write; These things saith the Amen, the faithful and true Witness, the beginning of the creation of God:

15<sup>m</sup> I know thy works, that thou art neither cold nor hot: I would thou wert cold or hot.

16 So then, because thou art lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot, I will spue thee out of my mouth.

17<sup>n</sup> Because thou sayest, I am rich, and increased with goods, and have need of nothing; and knowest not that thou art wretched, and miserable, and poor, and blind, and naked.

18 ° I counsel thee to buy of me gold tried in the fire, that thou mayest be rich; and white raiment, that thou mayest be clothed, and that the shame of thy nakedness do not appear; and anoint thine eyes with eye-salve, that thou mayest see.

19 ° As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten: be zealous therefore, and repent.

20 ° Behold, I stand at the door, and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me.

21 ° To him that overcometh will I grant to sit with me in my throne, even as I also overcame, and am set down with my Father in his throne.

22 ° He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

CHAPTER IV.

1 John seeth the throne of God in heaven....4 The four and twenty elders....6 The four beasts full of eyes before and behind, &c.

AFTER this I looked, and, behold, a door was opened in heaven; and the first voice which I heard was as it were of a trumpet talking with me; which said, Come up hither, and I will shew thee things which must be hereafter.

2 ° And immediately I was in the Spirit: and, behold, a throne was set in heaven, and one sat on the throne.

3 ° And he that sat was to look upon like a jasper and a sardine-stone: and there was a rainbow round about the throne, in sight like unto an emerald.

4 And round about the throne were four and twenty seats: and upon the seats I saw four and twenty elders sitting, clothed in white raiment; and they had on their heads crowns of gold.

5 ° And out of the throne proceeded lightnings, and thunderings, and voices: and there were seven lamps of fire burning before the throne, which are the seven Spirits of God.

6 ° And before the throne there was a sea of glass, like unto crystal: and in the midst of the throne, and round about the throne, were four beasts, full of eyes before and behind.

7 ° And the first beast was like a lion, and the second beast like a calf, and the third beast had a face as a man, and the fourth beast was like a flying eagle.

8 ° And the four beasts had each of them six wings about him; and they were full of eyes within: and they rest not day and night, saying, Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, which was, and is, and is to come.

9 And when those beasts give glory, and honour, and thanks, to him that sat on the throne, who liveth for ever and ever,

10 ° The four and twenty elders fall down before him that sat on the throne, and worship him that liveth for ever and ever, and cast their crowns before the throne, saying,

11 ° Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory, and honour, and power: for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created.

CHAPTER V.

1 The book sealed with seven seals, which no man is worthy to open: 6 the Lamb openeth the book: the beasts and elders praise him.

AND I saw in the right hand of him that sat on the throne a book written within and on the back side, sealed with seven seals.

2 ° And I saw a strong angel proclaiming with a loud voice, Who is worthy to open the book, and to loose the seals thereof?

3 ° And no man in heaven, nor in earth, neither under the earth, was able to open the book, neither to look thereon.

4 ° And I wept much, because no man was found worthy to open and to read the book, neither to look thereon.

5 And one of the elders saith unto me, Weep not: behold, the Lion of the tribe of Juda, the Root of David, hath prevailed to open the book, and to loose the seven seals thereof.

6 ° And I beheld, and lo, in the midst of the throne, and of the four beasts, and in the midst of the elders, stood a Lamb, as it had been slain, having seven horns, and seven eyes, which are the seven Spirits of God sent forth into all the earth.

7 And he came and took the book out of the right hand of him that sat upon the throne.

8 ° And when he had taken the book, the four beasts and four and twenty elders fell down before the Lamb, having every one of them harps, and golden vials full of odours, which are the prayers of saints.

9 ° And they sung a new song, saying, Thou art worthy to take the book, and to open the seals thereof: for thou wast slain, and hast redeemed us to God by thy blood, out of every kindred, and tongue, and people, and nation;

10 ° And hast made us unto our God kings and priests: and we shall reign on the earth.

11 ° And I beheld, and I heard the voice of many angels round about the throne, and the beasts, and the elders: and the number of them was ten thousand times ten thousand, and thousands of thousands;

12 ° Saying with a loud voice, Worthy is the Lamb that was slain to receive power, and riches, and wisdom, and strength, and honour, and glory, and blessing.

13 ° And every creature which is in heaven, and on the earth, and under the earth, and such as are in the sea, and all that are in them, heard I saying, Blessing, honour, glory, and power, be unto him that sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb for ever and ever.

14 ° And the four beasts said, Amen. And the four and twenty elders fell down and worshipped him that liveth for ever and ever.

CHAPTER VI.

The opening of six of the seals in order, and what followed thereupon.

AND I saw when the Lamb opened one of the seals; and I heard, as it were the noise of thunder, one of the four beasts, saying, Come and see.

2 ° And I saw, and behold a white horse; and he that sat on him had a bow; and a crown was given unto him: and he went forth conquering, and to conquer.

3 And when he had opened the second seal, I heard the second beast say, Come and see.

4 And there went out another horse that was red and power was given to him that sat thereon to take peace from the earth, and that they should kill one another: and there was given unto him a great sword.

5 And when he had opened the third seal, I heard the third beast say, Come and see. And I beheld, and lo, a black horse; and he that sat on him had a pair of balances in his hand.

6 ° And I heard a voice in the midst of the four beasts say, A measure of wheat for a penny, and three measures of barley for a penny; and see thou hurt not the oil and the wine.

7 And when he had opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth beast say, Come and see.

8 ° And I looked, and behold, a pale horse; and his name that sat on him was Death, and hell followed with him. and power was given unto them over the fourth part of the earth, to kill with sword, and with hunger, and with death, and with the beasts of the earth.

9 ° And when he had opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of them that were slain for the word of God, and for the testimony which they held:

10 ° And they cried with a loud voice, saying, How long, O Lord, holy and true, dost thou not judge and avenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth?

11 ° And white robes were given unto every one of them; and it was said unto them, that they should rest yet for a little season, until their fellow-servants also, and their brethren, that should be killed as they were, should be fulfilled.

12 ° And I beheld when he had opened the sixth seal, and, lo, there was a great earthquake; and the sun became black as sackcloth of hair, and the moon became as blood;

13 And the stars of heaven fell unto the earth, even as a fig-tree casteth her untimely figs, when she is shaken of a mighty wind:

14 ° And the heaven departed as a scroll when it is rolled together; and every mountain and island were moved out of their places:

15 ° And the kings of the earth, and the great men, and the rich men, and the chief captains, and the mighty men, and every bondman, and every freeman, hid themselves in the dens and in the rocks of the mountains;

16 ° And said to the mountains and rocks, Fall on us, and hide us from the face of him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb:

17 For the great day of his wrath is come; and who shall be able to stand?

CHAPTER VII.

2 An angel cometh to seal the servants of God in their foreheads: 4 the number of them that were sealed out of each of the tribes of Israel, &c.

AND after these things I saw four angels standing on the four corners of the earth, holding the four winds of the earth, that the wind should not blow on the earth, nor on the sea, nor on any tree.

2 And I saw another angel ascending from the east, having the seal of the living God: and he cried with a loud voice to the four angels, to whom it was given to hurt the earth and the sea,

3 ° Saying, Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, till we have sealed the servants of our God in their foreheads.

4 And I heard the number of them which were sealed: and there were sealed a hundred and forty and four thousand of all the tribes of the children of Israel.

5 Of the tribe of Juda were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Reuben were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Gad were sealed twelve thousand.

6 Of the tribe of Aser were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Nephthalim were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Manasses were sealed twelve thousand.

7 Of the tribe of Simeon were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Levi were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Issachar were sealed twelve thousand.

8 Of the tribe of Zabulon were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Joseph were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Benjamin were sealed twelve thousand.

9 ° After this I beheld, and lo, a great multitude, which no man could number, of all nations, and kindreds, and people, and tongues, stood before the throne, and before the Lamb, clothed with white robes, and palms in their hands;

10 ° And cried with a loud voice, saying, Salvation to our God which sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb.

11 And all the angels stood round about the throne, and about the elders and the four beasts, and fell before the throne on their faces, and worshipped God,

12 Saying, Amen: Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honour and power, and might, be unto our God for ever and ever. Amen.

13 And one of the elders answered, saying unto me, What are these which are arrayed in white robes? and whence came they?

14 ° And I said unto him, Sir, thou knowest. And he said to me, These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lamb.

15 ° Therefore are they before the throne of God, and serve him day and night in his temple: and he that sitteth on the throne shall dwell among them.

16 ° They shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more: neither shall the sun light on them, nor any heat.

17 ° For the Lamb, which is in the midst of the throne, shall feed them, and shall lead them unto living fountains of waters: and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 At the opening of the seventh seal, 2 seven angels have seven trumpets given them....6 Four of them sound their trumpets, and great plagues follow, &c.

AND when he had opened the seventh seal, there was silence in heaven about the space of half an hour.

2 ° And I saw the seven angels which stood before God; and to them were given seven trumpets.

3 ° And another angel came and stood at the altar, having a golden censer; and there was given unto him much incense, that he should offer it with the prayers of all saints upon the golden altar which was before the throne.

4 ° And the smoke of the incense, which came with the prayers of the saints, ascended up before God out of the angel's hand.

5 ° And the angel took the censer, and filled it with fire of the altar, and cast it into the earth: and there were voices, and thunderings, and lightnings, and an earthquake.

6 And the seven angels which had the seven trumpets prepared themselves to sound.

7 The first angel sounded, and there followed hail and fire mingled with blood, and they were cast upon the earth: and the third part of trees was burnt up, and all green grass was burnt up

8 And the second angel sounded, and as it were a great mountain burning with fire was cast into the sea : and the third part of the sea became blood ;

9 And the third part of the creatures which were in the sea, and had life, died ; and the third part of the ships were destroyed.

10 And the third angel sounded, and there fell a great star from heaven, burning as it were a lamp, and it fell upon the third part of the rivers, and upon the fountains of waters ;

11 And the name of the star is called Wormwood ; and the third part of the waters became wormwood ; and many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter.

12 And the fourth angel sounded, and the third part of the sun was smitten, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of the stars ; so as the third part of them was darkened, and the day shone not for a third part of it, and the night likewise.

13 And I beheld, and heard an angel flying through the midst of heaven, saying with a loud voice, Wo, wo, wo to the inhabitants of the earth by reason of the other voices of the trumpet of the three angels, which are yet to sound.

CHAPTER IX.

1 At the sounding of the fifth angel, a star falleth from heaven, to whom is given the key of the bottomless pit : 2 he openeth the pit, and there come forth locusts like scorpions : 12 the first wo is past, &c.

AND the fifth angel sounded, and I saw a star fall from heaven unto the earth : and to him was given the key of the bottomless pit.

2 And he opened the bottomless pit ; and there arose a smoke out of the pit, as the smoke of a great furnace ; and the sun and the air were darkened by reason of the smoke of the pit.

3 And there came out of the smoke locusts upon the earth : and unto them was given power, as the scorpions of the earth have power.

13 And the sixth angel sounded, and I heard a voice from the four horns of the golden altar which is before God,

14 <sup>i</sup> Saying to the sixth angel which had the trumpet, Loose the four angels which are bound in the great river Euphrates.

15 And the four angels were || loosed, which were prepared for an hour, and a day, and a month, and a year, for to slay the third part of men.

16 <sup>k</sup> And the number of the army of the horsemen were two hundred thousand thousand : and I heard the number of them.

17 And thus I saw the horses in the vision, and them that sat on them, having breastplates of fire, and of jacinth, and brimstone : and the heads of the horses were as the heads of lions : and out of their mouths issued fire, and smoke, and brimstone.

18 By these three was the third part of men killed, by the fire, and by the smoke, and by the brimstone, which issued out of their mouths.

21 Neither repented they of their murders, nor of their sorceries, nor of their fornication, nor of their thefts.

CHAPTER X.

1 A mighty strong angel appeareth with a book open in his hand : 6 he sweareth by him that liveth for ever, that there shall be no more time....9 John is commanded to take and eat the book.

AND I saw another mighty angel come down from heaven, clothed with a cloud ; and a rainbow was upon his head, and his face was as it were the sun, and his feet as pillars of fire :

2 And he had in his hand a little book open : and he set his right foot upon the sea, and his left foot on the earth,

3 And cried with a loud voice, as when a lion roareth : and when he had cried, seven thunders uttered their voices.

4 <sup>b</sup> And when the seven thunders had uttered their voices, I was about to write : and I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, Seal up those things which the seven thunders uttered, and write them not.

5 <sup>c</sup> And the angel which I saw stand upon the sea and upon the earth, lifted up his hand to heaven,

6 <sup>d</sup> And swore by him that liveth for ever and ever, who created heaven, and the things that therein are, and the earth, and the things that therein are, and the sea, and the things which are therein, that there should be time no longer :

7 <sup>e</sup> But in the days of the voice of the seventh angel, when he shall begin to sound, the mystery of God should be finished, as he hath declared to his servants the prophets.

11 And he said unto me, Thou must prophesy again before many peoples, and nations, and tongues, and kings.

CHAPTER XI.

3 The two witnesses prophesy....6 They have power to shut heaven, that it rain not....7 The beast shall fight against them, and kill them, &c.

AND there was given me a reed like unto a rod: and the angel stood, saying, Rise, and measure the temple of God, and the altar, and them that worship therein.

2 But the court which is without the temple leave out, and measure it not; for it is given unto the Gentiles: and the holy city shall they tread under foot forty and two months.

3 And I will give power unto my two witnesses, and they shall prophesy a thousand two hundred and threescore days, clothed in sackcloth.

4 These are the two olive-trees, and the two candlesticks standing before the God of the earth.

5 And if any man will hurt them, fire proceedeth out of their mouth, and devoureth their enemies; and if any man will hurt them, he must in this manner be killed.

6 These have power to shut heaven, that it rain not in the days of their prophecy: and have power over waters to turn them to blood, and to smite the earth with all plagues, as often as they will.

7 And when they shall have finished their testimony, the beast that ascendeth out of the bottomless pit shall make war against them, and shall overcome them, and kill them.

8 And their dead bodies shall lie in the street of the great city, which spiritually is called Sodom and Egypt, where also our Lord was crucified.

9 And they of the people, and kindreds, and tongues, and nations, shall see their dead bodies three days and a half, and shall not suffer their dead bodies to be put in graves.

10 And they that dwell upon the earth shall rejoice over them, and make merry, and shall send gifts one to another; because these two prophets tormented them that dwelt on the earth.

11 And after three days and a half the spirit of life from God entered into them, and they stood upon their feet; and great fear fell upon them which saw them.

12 And they heard a great voice from heaven saying unto them, Come up hither. And they ascended up to heaven in a cloud; and their enemies beheld them.

13 And the same hour was there a great earthquake and the tenth part of the city fell, and in the earthquake were slain of men seven thousand; and the remnant were affrighted, and gave glory to the God of heaven.

14 The second wo is past; and, behold, the third wo cometh quickly.

15 And the seventh angel sounded: and there were great voices in heaven, saying, The kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of his Christ; and he shall reign for ever and ever.

16 And the four and twenty elders, which sat before God on their seats, fell upon their faces, and worshipped God.

17 Saying, We give thee thanks, O Lord God Almighty, which art, and wast, and art to come; because thou hast taken to thee thy great power, and hast reigned.

18 And the nations were angry, and thy wrath is come, and the time of the dead, that they should be judged, and that thou shouldest give reward unto thy servants the prophets, and to the saints, and them that fear thy name, small and great; and shouldest destroy them which destroy the earth.

19 And the temple of God was opened in heaven, and there was seen in his temple the ark of his testament: and there were lightnings, and voices, and thunderings, and an earthquake, and great hail.

CHAPTER XII.

1 A woman clothed with the sun travaileth: 4 the great red dragon standeth before her, ready to devour her child: 5 she is delivered, and fleeth into the wilderness, &c.

AND there appeared a great wonder in heaven; a woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and upon her head a crown of twelve stars:

2 And she being with child cried, travelling in birth, and pained to be delivered.

3 And there appeared another wonder in heaven; and behold a great red dragon, having seven heads and ten horns, and seven crowns upon his heads:

4 And his tail drew the third part of the stars of heaven, and did cast them to the earth; and the dragon stood before the woman which was ready to be delivered, for to devour her child as soon as it was born.

5 And she brought forth a man-child, who was to rule all nations with a rod of iron: and her child was caught up unto God, and to his throne.

6 And the woman fled into the wilderness, where she hath a place prepared of God, that they should feed her there a thousand two hundred and threescore days.

7 And there was war in heaven: Michael and his angels fought against the dragon; and the dragon fought and his angels,

8 And prevailed not; neither was their place found any more in heaven.

9 And the great dragon was cast out, that old serpent, called the Devil, and Satan, which deceiveth the whole world: he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.

10 And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, which accused them before our God day and night.

11 And they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb, and by the word of their testimony: and they loved not their lives unto the death.

12 Therefore rejoice, ye heavens, and ye that dwell in them. Wo to the inhabitants of the earth and of the sea! for the devil is come down unto you, having great wrath, because he knoweth that he hath but a short time.

13 And when the dragon saw that he was cast unto the earth, he persecuted the woman which brought forth the man-child.

14 And to the woman were given two wings of a great eagle, that she might flee into the wilderness, into her place, where she is nourished for a time, and times, and half a time, from the face of the serpent.

15 And the serpent cast out of his mouth water as a flood after the woman, that he might cause her to be carried away of the flood.

16 And the earth helped the woman, and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed up the flood which the dragon cast out of his mouth.

17 <sup>1</sup> And the dragon was wroth with the woman, and went to make war with the remnant of her seed, which keep the commandments of God, <sup>m</sup> and have the testimony of Jesus Christ.

CHAPTER XIII.

1 A beast riseth out of the sea with seven heads and ten horns.
11 Another beast cometh up out of the earth, which supporteth the worship of the former beast.

<sup>a</sup> AND I stood upon the sand of the sea, and saw a beast rise up out of the sea, having seven heads and ten horns, and upon his horns ten crowns, and upon his heads the name of blasphemy.

2 <sup>b</sup> And the beast which I saw was like unto a leopard, and his feet were as the feet of a bear, and his mouth as the mouth of a lion: and the dragon gave him his power, and his seat, and great authority.

3 <sup>c</sup> And I saw one of his heads as it were wounded to death; and his deadly wound was healed: and all the world wondered after the beast.

4 <sup>d</sup> And they worshipped the dragon which gave power unto the beast: and they worshipped the beast, saying, Who is like unto the beast? who is able to make war with him?

5 <sup>e</sup> And there was given unto him a mouth speaking great things and blasphemies; and power was given unto him to continue forty and two months.

6 And he opened his mouth in blasphemy against God, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heaven.

7 <sup>f</sup> And it was given unto him to make war with the saints, and to overcome them: and power was given him over all kindreds, and tongues, and nations.

8 <sup>g</sup> And all that dwell upon the earth shall worship him, whose names are not written in the book of life of the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world.

9 <sup>h</sup> If any man have an ear, let him hear.

10 <sup>i</sup> He that leadeth into captivity, shall go into captivity: he that killeth with the sword, must be killed with the sword. Here is the patience and the faith of the saints.

11 <sup>k</sup> And I beheld another beast coming up out of the earth; and he had two horns like a lamb, and he spake as a dragon.

12 <sup>l</sup> And he exerciseth all the power of the first beast before him, and causeth the earth and them which dwell therein to worship the first beast, whose deadly wound was healed.

13 <sup>m</sup> And he doeth great wonders, so that he maketh fire come down from heaven on the earth in the sight of men,

14 <sup>n</sup> And deceiveth them that dwell on the earth by the means of those miracles which he had power to do in the sight of the beast; saying to them that dwell on the earth, that they should make an image to the beast, which had the wound by a sword, and did live.

15 And he had power to give life unto the image of the beast, that the image of the beast should both speak, and cause that as many as would not worship the image of the beast should be killed

16 <sup>o</sup> And he causeth all, both small and great, rich and poor, free and bond, to receive a mark in their right hand, or in their foreheads:

17 <sup>p</sup> And that no man might buy or sell, save he that had the mark, or the name of the beast, or the number of his name.

18 <sup>q</sup> Here is wisdom. Let him that hath understanding count the number of the beast: for it is the number of a man; and his number is six hundred threescore and six.

CHAPTER XIV.

1 The Lamb standing on mount Sion with his company, 6 an angel preacheth the gospel; 8 another proclaimeth the fall of Babylon, 15 the harvest of the world, &c.

AND I looked, and lo, a Lamb stood on the mount Sion, and with him a hundred forty and four thousand, having his Father's name written in their foreheads.

2 <sup>b</sup> And I heard a voice from heaven, as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of a great thunder: and I heard the voice of harpers harping with their harps:

3 <sup>c</sup> And they sung as it were a new song before the throne, and before the four beasts, and the elders: and no man could learn that song but the hundred and forty and four thousand, which were redeemed from the earth.

4 <sup>d</sup> These are they which were not defiled with women; for they are virgins. These are they which follow the Lamb whithersoever he goeth. These were redeemed from among men, being the first-fruits unto God and to the Lamb.

5 <sup>e</sup> And in their mouth was found no guile: for they are without fault before the throne of God.

6 And I saw another angel fly in the midst of heaven, having the everlasting gospel to preach unto them that dwell on the earth, and to every nation, and kindred, and tongue, and people,

7 <sup>f</sup> Saying with a loud voice, Fear God, and give glory to him; for the hour of his judgment is come: and worship him that made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and the fountains of waters.

8 <sup>g</sup> And there followed another angel, saying, Babylon is fallen, is fallen, that great city, because she made all nations drink of the wine of the wrath of her fornication.

9 <sup>h</sup> And the third angel followed them, saying with a loud voice, If any man worship the beast and his image, and receive his mark in his forehead, or in his hand,

10 <sup>i</sup> The same shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God which is poured out without mixture into the cup of his indignation; and he shall be tormented with fire and brimstone in the presence of the holy angels, and in the presence of the Lamb:

11 <sup>k</sup> And the smoke of their torment ascendeth up for ever and ever: and they have no rest day nor night, who worship the beast and his image, and whosoever receiveth the mark of his name.

12 <sup>l</sup> Here is the patience of the saints; here are they that keep the commandments of God, and the faith of Jesus.

13 <sup>m</sup> And I heard a voice from heaven, saying unto me, Write, Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth: Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours; and their works do follow them.

14 <sup>n</sup> And I looked, and behold a white cloud, and 17 And another angel came out of the temple which is in heaven, he also having a sharp sickle.

18<sup>p</sup> And another angel came out from the altar, which had power over fire : and cried with a loud cry to him that had the sharp sickle, saying, Thrust in thy sharp sickle, and gather the clusters of the vine of the earth ; for her grapes are fully ripe.

19<sup>q</sup> And the angel thrust in his sickle into the earth, and gathered the vine of the earth, and cast it into the great wine-press of the wrath of God.

20<sup>r</sup> And the wine-press was trodden without the city, and blood came out of the wine-press, even unto the horse-bridles, by the space of a thousand and six hundred furlongs.

CHAPTER XV.

1 The seven angels with the seven last plagues....3 The song of them that overcome the beast....7 The seven vials full of the wrath of God.

AND I saw another sign in heaven, great and marvellous, seven angels having the seven last plagues : for in them is filled up the wrath of God.

2<sup>b</sup> And I saw as it were a sea of glass mingled with fire ; and them that had gotten the victory over the beast, and over his image, and over his mark, and over the number of his name, stand on the sea of glass, having the harps of God.

3<sup>c</sup> And they sing the song of Moses the servant of God, and the song of the Lamb, saying, Great and marvellous are thy works, Lord God Almighty : just and true are thy ways, thou King of saints.

4<sup>d</sup> Who shall not fear thee, O Lord, and glorify thy name ? for thou only art holy : for all nations shall come and worship before thee ; for thy judgments are made manifest.

5<sup>e</sup> And after that I looked, and, behold, the temple of the tabernacle of the testimony in heaven was opened :

6<sup>f</sup> And the seven angels came out of the temple, having the seven plagues, clothed in pure and white linen, and having their breasts girded with golden girdles.

7<sup>g</sup> And one of the four beasts gave unto the seven angels seven golden vials, full of the wrath of God who liveth for ever and ever.

8<sup>h</sup> And the temple was filled with smoke from the glory of God, and from his power ; and no man was able to enter into the temple, till the seven plagues of the seven angels were fulfilled.

CHAPTER XVI.

1 Seven angels commanded to pour out their vials on the earth : 2 great plagues follow thereupon....15 Christ cometh suddenly.

AND I heard a great voice out of the temple, saying to the seven angels, Go your ways, and pour out the vials of the wrath of God upon the earth.

2<sup>a</sup> And the first went, and poured out his vial upon the earth ; and there fell a noisome and grievous sore upon the men which had the mark of the beast, and upon them which worshipped his image.

3<sup>b</sup> And the second angel poured out his vial upon the sea ; and it became as the blood of a dead man : and every living soul died in the sea.

4 And the third angel poured out his vial upon the rivers and fountains of waters ; and they became blood.

5<sup>c</sup> And I heard the angel of the waters say, Thou art righteous, O Lord, which art, and wast, and shalt be, because thou hast judged thus.

6<sup>d</sup> For they have shed the blood of saints and prophets, and thou hast given them blood to drink ; for they are worthy.

7<sup>e</sup> And I heard another out of the altar say, Even so, Lord God Almighty, true and righteous are thy judgments.

8 And the fourth angel poured out his vial upon the sun ; and power was given unto him to scorch men with fire.

9<sup>f</sup> And men were scorched with great heat, and blasphemed the name of God, which hath power over these plagues : and they repented not to give him glory.

10 And the fifth angel poured out his vial upon the seat of the beast ; and his kingdom was full of darkness ; and they gnawed their tongues for pain,

11 And blasphemed the God of heaven because of their pains and their sores, and repented not of their deeds.

12<sup>g</sup> And the sixth angel poured out his vial upon the great river Euphrates ; and the water thereof was dried up, that the way of the kings of the east might be prepared.

13<sup>h</sup> And I saw three unclean spirits like frogs come out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophet.

14<sup>i</sup> For they are the spirits of devils, working miracles, which go forth unto the kings of the earth and of the whole world, to gather them to the battle of that great day of God Almighty.

15<sup>k</sup> Behold, I come as a thief. Blessed is he that watcheth, and keepeth his garments, lest he walk naked, and they see his shame.

16 And he gathered them together into a place called in the Hebrew tongue Armageddon.

17<sup>l</sup> And the seventh angel poured out his vial into the air ; and there came a great voice out of the temple of heaven, from the throne, saying, It is done.

18<sup>m</sup> And there were voices, and thunders, and lightnings ; and there was a great earthquake, such as was not since men were upon the earth, so mighty an earthquake, and so great.

19 And the great city was divided into three parts, and the cities of the nations fell : and great Babylon came in remembrance before God, to give unto her the cup of the wine of the fierceness of his wrath.

20<sup>n</sup> And every island fled away, and the mountains were not found.

21<sup>o</sup> And there fell upon men a great hail out of heaven, every stone about the weight of a talent : and men blasphemed God because of the plague of the hail ; for the plague thereof was exceeding great.

p Ezek. 43,

unto me, Come hither; I will shew unto thee the judgment of the great whore that sitteth upon many waters:

2<sup>b</sup> With whom the kings of the earth have committed fornication, and the inhabitants of the earth have been made drunk with the wine of her fornication.

3<sup>c</sup> So he carried me away in the spirit into the wilderness: and I saw a woman sit upon a scarlet-coloured beast, full of names of blasphemy, having seven heads and ten horns.

4<sup>d</sup> And the woman was arrayed in purple and scarlet-colour, and decked with gold, and precious stones, and pearls, having a golden cup in her hand full of abominations and filthiness of her fornication:

5<sup>e</sup> And upon her forehead was a name written, MYSTERY, BABYLON THE GREAT, THE MOTHER OF HARLOTS AND ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH.

6<sup>f</sup> And I saw the woman drunken with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of the martyrs of Jesus: and when I saw her, I wondered with great admiration.

7 And the angel said unto me, Wherefore didst thou marvel? I will tell thee the mystery of the woman, and of the beast that carrieth her, which hath the seven heads and ten horns.

8<sup>g</sup> The beast that thou sawest was, and is not; and shall ascend out of the bottomless pit, and go into perdition: and they that dwell on the earth shall wonder, (whose names were not written in the book of life from the foundation of the world,) when they behold the beast that was, and is not, and yet is.

9<sup>h</sup> And here is the mind which hath wisdom. The seven heads are seven mountains, on which the woman sitteth.

10 And there are seven kings: five are fallen, and one is, and the other is not yet come; and when he cometh, he must continue a short space.

11 And the beast that was, and is not, even he is the eighth, and is of the seven, and goeth into perdition.

12<sup>i</sup> And the ten horns which thou sawest are ten || kings, which have received no kingdom as yet; but receive power as kings one hour with the beast.

13 These have one mind, and shall give their power and strength unto the beast.

14<sup>k</sup> These shall make war with the Lamb, and the Lamb shall overcome them: for he is Lord of lords, and King of kings: and they that are with him are called, and chosen, and faithful.

15<sup>l</sup> And he saith unto me, The waters which thou sawest, where the whore sitteth, are peoples, and multitudes, and nations, and tongues.

16<sup>m</sup> And the ten horns which thou sawest upon the beast, these shall hate the whore, and shall make her desolate and naked, and shall eat her flesh, and burn her with fire.

17 For God hath put in their hearts to fulfil his will, and to agree, and give their kingdom unto the beast, until the words of God shall be fulfilled

18<sup>n</sup> And the woman which thou sawest is that great city, which reigneth over the kings of the earth.

CHAPTER XVIII.

2<sup>o</sup> The fall of Babylon: 4 God's people commanded to go out of her, &c.

<sup>p</sup> AND after these things I saw another angel come down from heaven, having great power; and the earth was lightened with his glory.

2<sup>b</sup> And he cried mightily with a strong voice, saying, Babylon the great is fallen, is fallen, and is become the habitation of devils, and the hold of every foul spirit, and a cage of every unclean and hateful bird.

3<sup>c</sup> For all nations have drunk of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, and the kings of the earth have committed fornication with her, and the merchants of the earth are waxed rich through the abundance of her delicacies.

4<sup>d</sup> And I heard another voice from heaven, saying, Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues.

5<sup>e</sup> For her sins have reached unto heaven, and God hath remembered her iniquities.

6<sup>f</sup> Reward her even as she rewarded you, and double unto her double according to her works: in the cup which she hath filled, fill to her double.

7<sup>g</sup> How much she hath glorified herself, and lived deliciously, so much torment and sorrow give her: for she saith in her heart, I sit a queen, and am no widow, and shall see no sorrow.

8<sup>h</sup> Therefore shall her plagues come in one day, death, and mourning, and famine; and she shall be utterly burned with fire: for strong is the Lord God who judgeth her.

9<sup>i</sup> And the kings of the earth who have committed fornication and lived deliciously with her, shall bewail her, and lament for her, when they shall see the smoke of her burning,

10<sup>k</sup> Standing afar off for the fear of her torment, saying, Alas, alas, that great city Babylon, that mighty city! for in one hour is thy judgment come.

11<sup>l</sup> And the merchants of the earth shall weep and mourn over her; for no man buyeth their merchandise any more:

12 The merchandise of gold, and silver, and precious stones, and of pearls, and fine linen, and purple, and silk, and scarlet, and all thyine wood, and all manner of vessels of ivory, and all manner of vessels of most precious wood, and of brass, and iron, and marble,

13<sup>m</sup> And cinnamon, and odours, and ointments, and frankincense, and wine, and oil, and fine flour, and wheat, and beasts, and sheep, and horses, and chariots, and slaves, and souls of men.

14<sup>n</sup> And the fruits that thy soul lusted after are departed from thee, and all things which were dainty and goodly are departed from thee, and thou shalt find them no more at all.

15 The merchants of these things, which were made rich by her, shall stand afar off for the fear of her torment, weeping and wailing,

16<sup>o</sup> And saying, Alas, alas, that great city, that was clothed in fine linen, and purple, and scarlet, and decked with gold, and precious stones, and pearls!

17<sup>p</sup> For in one hour so great riches is come to nought. And every ship-master, and all the company in ships, and sailors, and as many as trade by sea, stood afar off, 18<sup>q</sup> And cried when they saw the smoke of her burning, saying, What city is like unto this great city!

19<sup>r</sup> And they cast dust on their heads, and cried, weeping and wailing, saying, Alas, alas, that great city, wherein were made rich all that had ships in the sea by reason of her costliness! for in one hour is she made desolate.

22<sup>a</sup> And the voice of harpers, and musicians, and of pipers, and trumpeters, shall be heard no more at all in thee; and no craftsman, of whatsoever craft he be, shall be found any more in thee; and the sound of a millstone shall be heard no more at all in thee;

23<sup>a</sup> And the light of a candle shall shine no more at all in thee; and the voice of the bridegroom and of the bride shall be heard no more at all in thee: for thy merchants were the great men of the earth; for by thy sorceries were all nations deceived.

24<sup>a</sup> And in her was found the blood of prophets, and of saints, and of all that were slain upon the earth.

CHAPTER XIX.

1 God is praised in heaven for judging the great whore, and avenging the blood of his saints....7 The marriage of the Lamb....10 The angel will not be worshipped....17 The fowls called to the great slaughter.

AND after these things I heard a great voice of much people in heaven, saying, Alleluia; Salvation, and glory, and honour, and power, unto the Lord our God:

2<sup>b</sup> For true and righteous are his judgments: for he hath judged the great whore, which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, and hath avenged the blood of his servants at her hand.

3<sup>c</sup> And again they said, Alleluia. And her smoke rose up for ever and ever.

4<sup>d</sup> And the four and twenty elders and the four beasts fell down and worshipped God that sat on the throne, saying, Amen; Alleluia.

5<sup>e</sup> And a voice came out of the throne, saying, Praise our God, all ye his servants, and ye that fear him, both small and great.

6<sup>f</sup> And I heard as it were the voice of a great multitude, and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of mighty thunderings, saying, Alleluia; for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth.

7<sup>g</sup> Let us be glad and rejoice, and give honour to him: for the marriage of the Lamb is come, and his wife hath made herself ready.

8<sup>h</sup> And to her was granted that she should be arrayed in fine linen, clean and white: for the fine linen is the righteousness of saints.

9<sup>i</sup> And he saith unto me, Write, Blessed are they which are called unto the marriage-supper of the Lamb. And he saith unto me, These are the true sayings of God.

10<sup>k</sup> And I fell at his feet to worship-him. And he said unto me, See thou do it not: I am thy fellow-servant, and of thy brethren that have the testimony of Jesus: worship God: for the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.

11<sup>l</sup> And I saw heaven opened, and behold, a white horse; and he that sat upon him was called Faithful and True; and in righteousness he doth judge and make war.

12<sup>m</sup> His eyes were as a flame of fire, and on his head were many crowns; and he had a name written, that no man knew but he himself

13<sup>a</sup> And he was clothed with a vesture dipped in blood: and his name is called The Word of God.

14<sup>a</sup> And the armies which were in heaven followed him upon white horses, clothed in fine linen, white and clean.

15<sup>b</sup> And out of his mouth goeth a sharp sword, that with it he should smite the nations: and he shall rule them with a rod of iron; and he treadeth the wine-press and the fierceness and wrath of Almighty God.

16<sup>a</sup> And he hath on his vesture and on his thigh a name written, KING OF KINGS, AND LORD OF LORDS.

17<sup>c</sup> And I saw an angel standing in the sun; and he cried with a loud voice, saying to all the fowls that fly in the midst of heaven, Come and gather yourselves together unto the supper of the great God;

18 That ye may eat the flesh of kings, and the flesh of captains, and the flesh of mighty men, and the flesh of horses, and of them that sit on them, and the flesh of all men, both free and bond, both small and great.

19 And I saw the beast, and the kings of the earth, and their armies, gathered together to make war against him that sat on the horse, and against his army.

20<sup>a</sup> And the beast was taken, and with him the false prophet that wrought miracles before him, with which he deceived them that had received the mark of the beast, and them that worshipped his image. These both were cast alive into a lake of fire burning with brimstone.

21 And the remnant were slain with the sword of him that sat upon the horse, which sword proceeded out of his mouth: and all the fowls were filled with their flesh.

CHAPTER XX.

2 Satan bound for a thousand years....5 The first resurrection: 6 they blessed that have part therein....7 Satan let loose again....10 The devil cast into the lake of fire and brimstone. 11 The general resurrection.

AND I saw an angel come down from heaven, having the key of the bottomless pit, and a great chain in his hand.

2<sup>b</sup> And he laid hold on the dragon, that old serpent, which is the Devil, and Satan, and bound him a thousand years,

3<sup>c</sup> And cast him into the bottomless pit, and shut him up, and set a seal upon him, that he should deceive the nations no more, till the thousand years should be fulfilled: and after that he must be loosed a little season.

4<sup>d</sup> And I saw thrones, and they sat upon them, and judgment was given unto them: and I saw the souls of them that were beheaded for the witness of Jesus, and for the word of God, and which had not worshipped the beast, neither his image, neither had received his mark upon their foreheads, or in their hands; and they lived and reigned with Christ a thousand years.

5 But the rest of the dead lived not again until the thousand years were finished. This is the first resurrection.

6<sup>e</sup> Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection: on such the second death hath no power, but they shall be priests of God and of Christ, and shall reign with him a thousand years.

7 And when the thousand years are expired, Satan shall be loosed out of his prison,

8 <sup>f</sup> And shall go out to deceive the nations which are in the four quarters of the earth, Gog and Magog, to gather them together to battle: the number of whom is as the sand of the sea.

9 And they went up on the breadth of the earth, and compassed the camp of the saints about, and the beloved city: and fire came down from God out of heaven, and devoured them..

10 <sup>g</sup> And the devil that deceived them was cast into the lake of fire and brimstone, where the beast and the false prophet are, and shall be tormented day and night for ever and ever.

11 <sup>h</sup> And I saw a great white throne, and him that sat on it, from whose face the earth and the heaven fled away; and there was found no place for them.

12 <sup>i</sup> And I saw the dead, small and great, stand before God: and the books were opened: and another book was opened, which is the book of life: and the dead were judged out of those things which were written in the books, according to their works.

13 And the sea gave up the dead which were in it; and death and hell delivered up the dead which were in them: and they were judged every man according to their works.

14 <sup>k</sup> And death and hell were cast into the lake of fire. This is the second death.

15 And whosoever was not found written in the book of life was cast into the lake of fire.

CHAPTER XXI.

1 A new heaven and a new earth....3 The blessedness of God's people....8 The judgment of the wicked....10 A description of the heavenly Jerusalem.

<sup>a</sup> AND I saw a new heaven and a new earth: for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away, and there was no more sea.

2 <sup>b</sup> And I John saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband.

3 <sup>c</sup> And I heard a great voice out of heaven, saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God.

4 <sup>d</sup> And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away.

5 <sup>e</sup> And he that sat upon the throne said, Behold, I make all things new. And he said unto me, Write; for these words are true and faithful.

6 <sup>f</sup> And he said unto me, It is done. I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end. I will give unto him that is athirst, of the fountain of the water of life freely.

7 <sup>g</sup> He that overcometh shall inherit all things; and I will be his God, and he shall be my son.

8 <sup>h</sup> But the fearful, and unbelieving, and the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is the second death.

9 <sup>i</sup> And there came unto me one of the seven angels which had the seven vials full of the seven last plagues, and talked with me, saying, Come hither, I will shew thee the bride, the Lamb's wife.

10 <sup>k</sup> And he carried me away in the spirit to a great and high mountain, and shewed me that great city, the holy Jerusalem, descending out of heaven from God,

11 Having the glory of God: and her light was like unto a stone most precious, even like a jasper stone, clear as crystal;

12 <sup>l</sup> And had a wall great and high, and had twelve gates, and at the gates twelve angels, and names written thereon, which are the names of the twelve tribes of the children of Israel:

13 On the east three gates; on the north three gates; on the south three gates; and on the west three gates.

14 <sup>m</sup> And the wall of the city had twelve foundations, and in them the names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb.

15 <sup>n</sup> And he that talked with me had a golden reed to measure the city, and the gates thereof, and the wall thereof.

16 <sup>o</sup> And the city lieth four-square, and the length is as large as the breadth; and he measured the city with the reed, || twelve thousand furlongs. The length, and the breadth, and the height of it are equal.

17 And he measured the wall thereof, a hundred and forty and four cubits, according to the measure of a man, that is, of the angel.

18 And the building of the wall of it was of jasper; and the city was pure gold, like unto clear glass.

19 <sup>p</sup> And the foundations of the wall of the city were garnished with all manner of precious stones. The first foundation was jasper; the second, sapphire; the third, a chalcedony; the fourth, an emerald;

20 The fifth, sardonyx; the sixth, sardius; the seventh, chrysolite; the eighth, beryl; the ninth, a topaz; the tenth, a chrysoprasus; the eleventh, a jacinth; the twelfth, an amethyst.

21 And the twelve gates were twelve pearls; every several gate was of one pearl; and the street of the city was pure gold, as it were transparent glass.

22 And I saw no temple therein: for the Lord God Almighty, and the Lamb, are the temple of it.

23 <sup>q</sup> And the city had no need of the sun, neither of the moon, to shine in it: for the glory of God did lighten it, and the Lamb is the light thereof.

24 <sup>r</sup> And the nations of them which are saved shall walk in the light of it: and the kings of the earth do bring their glory and honour into it.

25 <sup>s</sup> And the gates of it shall not be shut at all by day: for there shall be no night there.

26 And they shall bring the glory and honour of the nations into it.

27 <sup>t</sup> And there shall in no wise enter into it any thing that defileth, neither whatsoever worketh abomination, or maketh a lie: but they which are written in the Lamb's book of life.

CHAPTER XXII.

1 The river of the water of life....2 The tree of life....5 The light of the city of God is himself....9 The angel will not be worshipped....18 Nothing may be added to the word of God, nor taken therefrom.

<sup>a</sup> AND he shewed me a pure river of water of life, clear as crystal, proceeding out of the throne of God and of the Lamb.

2 <sup>b</sup> In the midst of the street of it, and on either side of the river, was there the tree of life, which bare twelve manner of fruits, and yielded her fruit every month: and the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations:

Numbers XI. 31. XII. XIII. XIV.	Levi dieth in Egypt, aged 137 years; he was grandfather to Moses and Aaron. Here begins the bondage of the children of Israel, when a king rose up in Egypt, who knew not Joseph. Aaron born three years before his brother Moses, 83 years before the departure of the children of Israel out of Egypt. Pharaoh having in vain commanded the Hebrew midwives to destroy all the males of the Israelites, sets forth an edict, charging that they be all cast into the river. Moses is born, who, being hid in the flags by the river's side, is found by Pharaoh's daughter; and becomes her adopted son. Moses, in the 40th year of his age, having slain an Egyptian, whom he saw contending with a Hebrew, fleeth into Midian, where he marrieth Zipporah the daughter of Jethro, a priest, and liveth with him forty years. Caleb, the son of Jephunneh, born. Whilst Moses keeps his father-in-law's sheep at mount Horeb, God appeareth to him in a burning bush, and sendeth him to deliver Israel. Moses and Aaron having declared to Pharaoh the message on which they are sent unto him from God, are charged by him as heads of a mutiny, and sent away with many bad words; and more grievous labours are forthwith laid upon the Israelites. Moses being now 80, and Aaron 83 years of age, urged thereunto by God, return again unto Pharaoh, where the magicians by their sorcery, imitating the miracles of Aaron's rod turned into a serpent, make Pharaoh more obstinate than he was before. Wherefore God by the hand of Moses lays ten plagues upon the Egyptians.  The fourth Age of the World. U PON the fourteenth day of the first month, (which was May the fourth, upon Monday with us) in the evening, the passover is instituted. Upon the fifteenth of the same month, at midnight, the first-born of Egypt being all slain, Pharaoh and his servants make haste to send away the Israelites; and they, the self-same day wherein they were let go out of bondage, being the complete term of 430 years from the first pilgrimage of their ancestors, reckoning from Abraham's departure out of Charran, take their journey, and march away, being 600,000 men, besides children, and come to Rameses, from whence by several encampings they come to the Red Sea, the Lord conducting them in a pillar of a cloud by day, and in a pillar of fire by night. They carry Joseph's bones with them. At the Red Sea Pharaoh with his host overtakes them; Moses divides the waters with his rod, and the children of Israel pass through on dry ground unto the desert of Etham; whom, when Pharaoh and his army would needs follow, they are all overwhelmed by the waters coming together at the dawning of the day, whereby the Israelites are wholly freed from the bondage of the Egyptians; whose carcases when they see floating all the sea over, and cast upon the shore, they sing a song of praise and thanksgiving unto God. Upon the fifteenth of the second month, (our June the 4th, being Thursday ) the Israelites come to the wilderness of Zin, which lieth between Elyma and Sinai, where, for want of food, they murmur against God and their leaders; about the even-tide God sends them quails, and the next morning rains upon them manna from heaven; and upon that kind of bread they lived afterward by the space of forty years, even till they came to the borders of the land of promise. An omer of it is preserved for a memorial. At Kephidim, which was the eleventh place of their encamping, the people murmur for want of water; Moses gives them water by striking the hard rock in Horeb with his rod. The Amalekites falling upon the rear of the Israelites are discomfited by Joshua, whilst Moses holds up his hands to God in prayer. God publisheth his Law, contained in the Ten Commandments, with a terrible voice from mount Sinai. The people being in great fear, God gives them sundry other laws, all which being written in the book of the covenant, Moses propoeth them to the people: which done, rising early in the morning, he builds an altar at the foot of the mountain, and sets up 12 statues, according to the 12 tribes of Israel, and sends 12 young men of the first-born, (whom the Lord hath consecrated to himself as ministers of those holy things, before the Levitical priesthood was ordained) which offer sacrifice, first for sin, and then for thanksgiving, to the Lord: and when Moses had read the book of the covenant, he takes the blood of the calves and goats so offered, and with water, scarlet wool, and hyssop, sprinkles the book therewith, and all the people, or those 12 statues representing them; and so performs a solemn covenant between God and his people. Moses and Aaron, Nadab and Abihu, and 70 men of the elders of Israel, go up into the mount, and there behold the glory of God: the rest returning, Moses with his servant Joshua abides there still, and waits six days, and upon the seventh day God speaks unto him, and there he continues 40 days and 40 nights (reckoning those six days which he waited for the appearance of the Lord) eating no meat all that while, nor drinking water; ( Deut. ix. 9 ); where he receives God's command touching the frame of the tabernacle, the priests' garments, their consecration, sacrifices, and other things comprised in this and the six following chapters. At the end of 40 days God gives Moses the two tables of the Law in stone, made by God's own hand, and written with his own finger; bidding him withal quickly to get him down, for that the people had already made to themselves a molten calf to worship. Moses by prayer pacifieth God, and goes down from the mount, and seeing the people keeping a festival in honour of their idol in the camp, he breaks the tables of the law at the foot of the mount: for which the Jews keep a solemn fast unto this day. Moses, having burnt and defaced the idol, puts 3000 of the idolaters to death by the hands of the Levites. God commands Moses to frame new tables of stone, and to bring them with him into the mount: Moses brings them the next morning, and while he stands in the cleft of a rock, God passeth by, and sheweth him a glimpse of his glory. God renews his covenant with his people, and upon certain conditions gives them his laws again. In the first six months of this year, the tabernacle, the ark of the covenant, the altar, the table of shew-bread, the priests' garments, the holy ornaments, the candlestick, and other utensils and vessels belonging to the sacrifices, are finished in the desert at mount Sinai, and are brought unto Moses. The tabernacle is set up and anointed with holy oil. Aaron and his sons are consecrated for the priesthood. Nadab and Abihu, for offering strange fire, are struck dead in the place by fire from heaven. The princes of the tribes present their offerings toward the dedication of the tabernacle. God speaketh to Moses from the mercy-seat. The second passover is instituted. Jethro, who is also called Hobab, brings his daughter Zipporah, with her two sons, Gershom and Eliezer, which were left with him, to his son-in-law Moses; and having congratulated his and the whole people of Israel's deliverance out of bondage, he openly declares his faith and devotion toward the true God. By his advice Moses imparts the government of the people to some others, and ordains magistrates for the deciding of lesser causes. Moses complains to God of the overgreat burden of his government; God, to ease him of his charge, gives him for assistance the court of 70 elders. The people lust for flesh. God gives them quails in wrath; and sends withal a most grievous plague among them. God rebukes the sedition of Miriam and Aaron, and maintaineth Moses his right. From the wilderness of Paran, near Kadesh-barnea, 12 men are sent (among whom are Caleb and Joshua) to discover the land of Canaan. Returning, they bring with them a branch of a vine, with a cluster of grapes upon it; ten of the twelve so sent speak ill of the country, declare it barren, and magnify the cities for their strength, and the giant stature of the inhabitants. The people, terrified with this relation, are about to return into Egypt, from which Caleb and Joshua endeavouring to dissuade them are like to bestoned At this God is so provoked, that he threatens to destroy them; but is prevailed upon by Moses his prayers to spare them. Nevertheless he denounceth that all who are now 20 years old and upward (except Caleb and Joshua) shall die in the wilderness. The men who raised the evil report are all destroyed by sudden death. Some, endeavouring to enter upon the promised land, contrary to the command of God, are smitten by the Amalekites and Canaanites.

In this place, viz. Kadesh-barnea, the Israelites continue many days; but that in some places they continued many years, appeareth, for that in the space of 37 years, there are but 17 encampings mentioned.

To their long continuance in Kadesh, and the encampings from thence, all that we find delivered in the 27th and four next ensuing chapters of Numbers, seems to refer; as how Korah, Dathan, and Abiram, for raising a mutiny against Moses and Aaron, were swallowed alive into the earth, and 250 of their associates; and how the people, murmuring against Moses and Aaron for the calamity which had befallen their brethren, were destroyed by God to the number of 14,700 men; and how 12 rods being brought by 12 princes, and laid in the sanctuary, Aaron's rod only budded, and brought forth almonds, and was laid up before the ark, for a memorial to those who should afterward be given to rebellion.

In these 37 years, the Israelites, by 17 encampings, having compassed the hill country of Seir and Edom, they come to the wilderness of Zin in the first month of the 40th year after their departure out of Egypt.

Here Miriam, the sister of Moses and Aaron, dieth.

The people again for want of water murmur against Moses and Aaron, whom when God had commanded to call water out of the rock only by speaking to it, Moses, being moved in his mind through impatience and diffidence of the thing, speaks something, whatever it was, unadvisedly with his lips, and strikes the rock thrice with Aaron's rod, and thereby draws water from it; but for transgressing God's command, they are both debarred from entering into the land of Canaan.

In the fifth month of this year Aaron dieth at Mosera, on the top of mount Hor, at the age of 123 years, leaving his son Eleazar his successor in the high priesthood.

The people murmuring are plagued with fiery serpents, whereof many die, upon their repentance God commands that a brazen serpent be made and lifted up upon a pole, that as many as look on it may live.

About the latter end of this year, all those who at Kadesh-barnea mutinied against God, being wholly extinct and dead, the Israelites pass over Zared, and come to the borders of Moab at Ar, and at length they arrive at Damoth, a valley in the country of the Moabites, and pitch at mount Pisgah.

Sihon, king of the Amorites, refusing them passage through his country, is slain, and the Israelites possess his land.

Og, the king of Bashan, coming out against Israel, is destroyed with all his people, not one left alive, and his country possessed by the Israelites.

After these victories the Israelites set forward, and encamp in the plains of Moab.

Balak, king of Moab, considering what the Israelites had done to the Amorites, fears, lest, under pretence of passing through his country, they should possess themselves of his whole kingdom, takes counsel with the princes of the Midianites his neighbours, and sends for Balaam a soothsayer out of Mesopotamia to come and curse the Israelites, promising him great rewards for his labour, purposing afterward to make war upon them.

Balaam, forewarned of God, refuseth at first to come; but being sent for a second time, he importuneth God to let him go, and goes with a purpose indeed to curse Israel; but God, offended thereat, makes the dumb ass of this wizard, on which he rode, speaking in a man's voice, to reprove his folly.

Balaam twice offers sacrifice, and would fain have cursed Israel, to gratify Balak therein; but being forced thereto by the Spirit of God, instead of cursing, he bleaseth them altogether; foretelling what felicity attended them, and what calamities should befall their enemies.

By his advice the women of Moab and Midian are set on work to turn the Israelites away to idolatry. Wherefore God commands Moses first to take all the ring-leaders of this disorder, and to hang them up before the sun, and then gives order to the judges to put to death all such as had joined themselves to Baal-peor. Last of all, God sends a plague upon the people, whereof die 23,000 men in one day; which, added to them which were hanged and killed with the sword, amount in all to 24,000.

Phinehas, the son of Eleazar, by killing Zimri, the chief of his father's family and Cozbi the daughter of Zur, a prince of the Midianites, appeaseth the wrath of God, and the plague ceaseth. God therefore setteth the high priesthood for ever upon the house of Phinehas, and commands that war be made upon the Midianites.

Moses and Eleazar, by God's command, in the plain of Moab, near unto Jordan, over against Jericho, number the people from twenty years old and upwards, and find them to be 601,730 men, besides the Levites, whose number, reckoning them from one month old and upwards, comes to 23,000; and then Moses receives command for the parting of the land of promise among the Israelites.

The daughters of Zelophehad have their father's land parted among them, for want of issue male; this occasions the law for succession in heritages to be made.

God signifies to Moses that he shall die, and Joshua is thereupon declared to be his successor; upon whom Moses lays his hands, and gives him instructions. Several laws are made.

Twelve thousand of the Israelites under the command of Phinehas vanquish the Midianites, and put to the sword all the males among them, with their five princes, and among them Zur, the father of Cozbi, and Balaam the wizard; but they save the women alive; at which Moses is wroth, and commands that every male child, and all the women, except such as be virgins, be killed.

The lands which belonged to Sihon and Og, namely, all from the river Arnon to mount Hermon, Moses divides and gives to the tribes of Reuben and Gad, and the half-tribe of Manasseh; so that their possessions lay on this side Jordan; nevertheless, they assist the rest of the tribes in all their wars, till they have subdued the Canaanites, and possessed the promised land.

Moses commands the people, that in their passage over Jordan they shall set up great stones, and engrave the Ten Commandments on them, with the form of blessing upon mount Gerizim, and of cursing on mount Ebal; exhorting them to observe the law of God, by setting before their eyes the benefits that would ensue thereon.

He also renews the covenant made by God with them and their children on mount Horeb, and again persuades them to keep that covenant by all the blessings and curses which would undoubtedly follow the keepers or breakers of it; yet with a promise of pardon and deliverance, if at any time, having broken it, they shall repent them of their sin; and tells them further, that God had therefore thus declared his will unto them, to the end that none hereafter offending shall pretend ignorance.

Moses, having written this law, delivers it to the priests the sons of Levi, and the elders of the people, to be kept; the same day also he writes his most excellent song, and teaches the same to the children of Israel to be sung; and having finished the book of the law, he takes order to have it laid up in the side of the ark.

Moses, now drawing near to his end, bleaseth every tribe in particular by way of prophecy, save only the tribe of Simeon.

In the 12th month of this year he goes up to mount Nebo, and from thence beholds the land of promise, and there dieth, aged 120 years; the body of Moses God translates out of the place where he died, into a valley of the land of Moab, over against Beth-peor, and there burieth it; nor doth any man know the place where he laid it unto this day. The Israelites mourn for him 30 days.

Here ends the Pentateuch, or five books of Moses, containing the history of 2552 years and a half, from the beginning of the world; and the book of Joshua begins with the forty-first year after the departure of the children of Israel out of Egypt.

Enfore Christ 1451.	Josua II.	Josua, being confirmed in his government by God, sends forth spies from Shittim to the city of Jericho, who, being harboured by Rahab, are privily sent away, when search is made for them.	Before Christ 1235.		from the top of mount Gerizim expostulates with them the wrong they had done to his father's house; and by way of a parable foretells their ruin: which done, he dies, and dwells quietly in Beer.
	III.	Upon the tenth day of the first month, (April 30) to wit, the same day that the Paschal Lamb was to be chosen out of the flock, the Israelites under the conduct of Josua, a type of Jesus Christ, go up out of the river Jordan into the promised land of Canaan, a type of a more heavenly country. They pass through the river on dry ground, the waters being for the present divided; for a memorial of which miraculous passage, Josua set up 12 stones in the very channel of Jordan, and taking 12 other stones out of the midst thereof sets them up at Gilgal, the place where they next encamp.	1233.	22.	Abimelech, having reigned three years over Israel. Gai, a Shechemite conspires against him; which being discovered to him by Zebai, he utterly destroys the city of Shechem, and putteth the inhabitants to the sword, and burns the temple of their god Berith with fire; from thence he goeth and layeth siege to Thebez, where he is knocked on the head with a piece of a mill-stone, cast upon him by a woman from the walls, and then killed outright by his armour-bearer.
	IV.	The day following, Josua renews the use of circumcision, which had been omitted 40 years.	1232.	50.	Tola the son of Puah, after Abimelech, judgeth Israel 25 years.
	Josua V.	Upon the 14th day of the same month, in the evening, the Israelites celebrate their first passover in the land of Canaan.	1210.	2 Samuel XI. 21.	Jair the Gileadite succeeds Tola, and judgeth Israel 22 years.
	10.	Next day after the passover manna ceaseth.	1206.	Judges X. 1, 2, 3.	The Israelites, forsaking again the true God, fall to worship the gods of several nations, and are given up into the hands of the Philistines and Ammonites; which fifth thralldom lasteth 18 years. Upon their repentance, and abandoning their idols, at length they obtain mercy.
	11, 12, 13.	Our Lord Jesus, Captain of his Father's host, appears to Josua, the typical Jesus, before Jericho, with a drawn sword in his hand, and promiseth there to defend his people.	1187.	XI.	Jephthah the Gileadite, being made captain of the host of Israel, subdues the Ammonites; before the battle he vows his daughter unawares to be offered in sacrifice, and afterward performs it. He puts to the sword 42,000 Ephraimites, who had behaved themselves insolently against him, and judgeth Israel 6 years.
	VI.	Jericho, the ark of the Lord having been carried round about it, is taken the seventh day, the walls thereof falling down at the sound of the priests' trumpets; and all the inhabitants are put to the sword, except Rahab and her family.	XII 6.		Izabai the Bethulonite succeeds Jephthah, and judgeth Israel 7 years.
	VII.	The Israelites besiege Ai, and are smitten by their enemies, God having abandoned them for sacrilege committed by Achan: Achan's sin being discovered by the casting of lots, and himself found guilty, he is stoned to death, and, together with his children and cattle, burned with fire. God being pacified hereby, Ai is taken by ambushment and utterly destroyed.	1182.	8.	Eilon the Zebulonite succeeds Izabai, and judgeth Israel 19 years.
	VIII.	On mount Ebal, according to the law made, is an altar erected, and the Ten Commandments engraven on it; the blessings and cursings are repeated on mount Ebal and mount Gerizim, and the book of the law read in the ears of the people.	1175.	11.	Abdon the Ephraimite succeeds Eilon, and judgeth Israel 8 years.
	30, 35.	The kings of Canaan combine against Israel; only the Gibeonites craftily find a way to save their own lives by making a league with them; but are afterwards deputed to the servile offices of the house of God.	1164.	13.	Eli the high priest (in whom the high priesthood was translated from the family of Eleazar to Ithamar) succeeds Abdon, and judgeth Israel 40 years. The Israelites again provoke the Lord to anger, and he delivers them into the hands of the Philistines. This sixth thralldom begins seven months after Eli's entering upon the government, and lasteth 40 years, even till seven months after his death, when the ark was brought back again.
	IX.	Adoni-zedek, king of Jerusalem, with the kings of Hebron, Jarmuth, Lachish, and Eglon, hearing that Gibeon is fallen off from them, join their forces together and besiege it; but Josua raiseth the siege, pursueth those five kings, and smiteth them as far as Azekah, the Lord in the meanwhile killing more with hailstones from heaven, than the Israelites with their swords. Josua commands the sun to stand still over Gibeon, and the moon over the valley of Ajalon, by the space almost of one whole day, until the Israelites are fully avenged of their enemies. The five kings hide themselves in a cave at Makkedah; from whence they are brought forth, scornfully used, and hanged.	1155.	24.	Samson the Nazarite, as an angel had foretold, is born at Zorah.
	X.	From the autumn of this year, wherein, after the failing of manna, they began to till the ground, the rise of the sabbatical years is to be taken.	1157.	XIV. 4.	Whilst Eli the high priest executeth the office of a judge in civil causes under the Philistines, Samson takes an occasion to quarrel with them, by marrying a woman of Timnath; for having on the day of his betrothing propounded a riddle to the Philistines, and laid a wager, his wife tells them the meaning of it: enraged hereat, he goes and slays 30 men of Askelon, and gives them the suits of raiment which he had stripped off their bodies, in performance of the wager which he had lost, and returns home to his father.
1450.	Exodus XXIII.	Josua, now grown old, is commanded by God to divide all the land on the west of Jordan among the nine tribes remaining, and the other half-tribe of Manasseh. The Lord and his sacrifices are the inheritance of Levi.	1136.	XV.	Samson again in harvest-time goes to present his wife with a kid at her father's house, but finds her given away in marriage to another man; Samson resolves to be revenged; he catches 300 foxes, and tying fire-brands to their tails, turns them all into the corn-fields of the Philistines, and into their vineyards, and olive-gardens, and sets them all on fire. The Philistines take Samson's wife and father-in-law, and burn them; Samson in revenge slays a great multitude of them, and sits down upon the rock Etam, from whence being taken by 3000 of the Jews, and by them delivered into the hands of the Philistines, he slays of them a thousand men with the jaw-bone of an ass; in which place he is miraculously refreshed, when thirsty and ready to faint.
1445.	XIII. 10, 11.	The rest of the kings, with whom Josua had waged war for six years, resolve to set upon him with united forces: but Josua comes upon them unawares, slays them, and possesseth their countries.	1117.	XVI.	Samson is betrayed by Delilah his concubine, bereaved of the hair of his Nazariteship, and delivered to the Philistines, who put out his eyes and bind him with chains of brass. The Philistines gather together to offer sacrifice to Dagon their god, and Samson is brought to make them sport; whose hair being grown, and his strength in a great measure restored, he takes hold of the two chief pillars whereon the house stood, (wherein were the princes of the Philistines, and a great multitude of people) and pulls down the house, killing more men at his death, than he did in all his life-time. So he died, having judged Israel in the days of the Philistines 20 years.
	Josua XXIII.	Josua now roots out those giants, the Anakims, with their cities, out of the hill-countries, out of Hebron, Debir, and Anab, and generally out of all the mountains of Judah and all Israel. And having gotten the whole land into his hands, he divides it among the children of Israel according to their tribes; and the land rested from war.	1116.	I Sam. IV.	The Israelites take up arms against the Philistines, but with very ill success, for they lose 4000 men in one battle. Then they send for the ark of the covenant from Shiloh, and cause it to be brought into the camp. The Philistines, seeing now all lie at stake, encourage one another to behave themselves like men that day; and so falling on, they slay of the Israelites 30,000 men. The ark of God is taken, and Hophni and Phinehas, priests, and sons of Eli, are slain. Of all which, when tidings are brought to old Eli, frightened thereat, he falls from his chair and breaks his neck, in the 98th year of his age.
	21.	Josua now roots out those giants, the Anakims, with their cities, out of the hill-countries, out of Hebron, Debir, and Anab, and generally out of all the mountains of Judah and all Israel. And having gotten the whole land into his hands, he divides it among the children of Israel according to their tribes; and the land rested from war.		V.	The Philistines, having brought the ark into Ashdod, set it in the house of Dagon their god. But when Dagon had been found two several times fallen grovelling before it, and broken in pieces, and the inhabitants of the place sorely plagued, they remove it from thence to Gath, and from thence to Ekron. But the same plagues and judgments following wherever it went, after 7 months, by the advice of their priests, they send home the ark again with presents and gifts into the land of the Israelites, and it is brought to Beth-shemesh, where 50,070 men are smitten for looking into the ark. From hence it is carried to the house of Atinabad in Kirjath-jearim, who sanctifieth his son, Eleazar to keep it.
1444.	XV.	The first sabbatical year, or year of rest; from hence the year of Jubilee, or every fifty years' space, is to be reckoned.		VI.	After 20 years the Israelites, by Samuel's persuasion, solemnly repent at Mizpeh, and, upon their conversion, God by thunder from heaven delivers them from the invasion of the Philistines, who are subdued, the land of the Lord being against them all the days of Samuel.
	XVIII.	The tabernacle is set up at Shiloh, (thought to be the same with Salem,) where it continued 328 years.	1096.	VII.	Samuel, being grown old, takes for his assistance in the government his sons; by whose ill management of affairs, the Israelites require a king to be given them: whereupon God gives them a king in his wrath, to wit, Saul the son of Kish, after Samuel had judged Israel 21 years. Saul is privately anointed by Samuel, and afterward publicly proclaimed king at Mizpeh. About a month after Jabesh-gilead is besieged by Nabash king of the Ammonites, and the siege raised by Saul: whereupon the whole congregation of Israel, coming together at Gilgal, again proclaim Saul king.
1443.	XXII.	The Reubenites, Gadites, and the half-tribe of Manasseh, with a blessing are sent home to their possessions on the other side of Jordan.		VII. 13.	David the son of Jesse the Ephraimite, born at Beth-lehem-judah 30 years before he succeeded Saul in the kingdom. He was his father's youngest son.
	XXIII.	Josua gathers together all Israel, exhorts them to obedience, briefly recites God's benefits to them, reneweth the covenant between them and God, and dieth 110 years old.		VIII.	God rejects Saul, and sends Samuel to Beth-lehem, there to anoint David king, whom Saul ever after extremely persecuteth.
1443.	XXIV.	God's benefits to them, reneweth the covenant between them and God, and dieth 110 years old.		VIII.	Yet Jonathan, Saul's son, loveth him, and oftentimes rescueth him from Saul's cruelty.
	Judges II. 7.	After the decease of Josua, and the elders who outlived him, and who remembered the wonders which God had wrought for Israel, there succeeds a generation of men which forget God, and mingle themselves with the Canaanites by marriage, and worship their idols. In this time of anarchy and confusion, when every man did that which seemed right in his own eyes, all those disorders were committed, which are reported in the five last chapters of the Book of Judges; to wit, the idolatry of Micah, and the children of Dan; the war of the Benjamites, and the cause thereof. God, being highly provoked, gives them up into the hands of Cushan, king of Mesopotamia; which first calamity of theirs holds them but eight years.	1095.	VIII.	David, having Saul twice in his power, forbears to hurt him.
	III 6, 7.	Othniel, the son of Kenaz, and son-in-law to Caleb, stirred up by God as a judge and avenger of his people, defeats Cushan, and delivers the Israelites out of bondage; and the land rested forty years after the first rest which Josua procured for them.	1060.	XVII. 10.	David, fearing he may some time or other fall into the hands of Saul, flies to Gath unto king Achish, carrying with him 600 men; and having obtained of him the town of Ziklag to dwell in, he continueth one year and four months in the land of the Philistines; from whence he invadeth the countries of the Gesharites, Gezrites, and Amalekites, and puts to the sword all, both men and women, not leaving one alive to carry the news thereof to king Achish.
1405.	9.	Othniel, the son of Kenaz, and son-in-law to Caleb, stirred up by God as a judge and avenger of his people, defeats Cushan, and delivers the Israelites out of bondage; and the land rested forty years after the first rest which Josua procured for them.	1055.	XXVII. 12.	Achish, proposing to make war upon the Israelites, takes David along with him in that expedition, to whom, whilst he is upon his march with his 600 men, he repairs a great many others of the tribe of Manasseh, and join with him.
	10.	Othniel dying, the Israelites fell again to sin against God, and are given over into the hands of Eglon king of Moab, who, joining with the Ammonites and the Amalekites, overthrow the Israelites, and takes Jericho; and this second oppression continueth 18 years.	1053.	XVI. 11.	Saul, seeing the army of the Philistines, is in great fear, and (Samuel being now dead) goes to En-dor to consult with a witch there; the woman raiseth an apparition of Samuel, and Saul receives from it that dreadful doom. The Lord will deliver Israel together with itself, into the hands of the Philistines.
1395.	15, 30.	Ehud the son of Gera is raised up by God to be an avenger of his people; for feigning a message to Eglon, he runs him into the belly with his dagger; then getting away, he gathers all Israel into a body on mount Ephraim, and slays 10,000 of the most valiant men of Moab: and the land resteth 40 years after the former rest obtained by Othniel.		XXVIII.	The princes of the Philistines growing jealous of David, he and his company early the next morning leave the army, and return to Ziklag.
	31.	After him, Shamgar, the son of Anath, slayeth 600 Philistines with an ox-goad, and he also avengeth Israel.		XXIX.	The armies join battle, and the Israelites are defeated; the three sons of Saul are slain, and he himself falls on his own sword.
1306.	IV. 1, 2, 3.	The Israelites, after the death of Ehud, returning to their old sin, are given up by God into the hands of Jabin king of Canaan; and this thralldom of theirs continueth 20 years.	1050.	XXVI.	Three days after, an Amalekite brings Saul's crown, and the bracelet that was upon his arm, and presents them to David, professing that, finding him fallen upon his sword, he had killed him outright, and taken the crown from off his head: whereupon David causeth him to be put to death, for stretching forth his hand to slay the Lord's anointed, and lamenteth the death of Saul and Jonathan his son in a funeral song. David, having asked counsel of God, goes up to Hebron with those that are about him, where he is anointed king by the men of Judah, his own tribe, in the 30th year of his age; and there he reigns seven years and six months.
1285.	IV. 4.	Deborah, the wife of Lapidoth, a prophetess, who at this time judgeth Israel in mount Ephraim, and Barak of the tribe of Naphtali, being made captain of the host of Israel, in sight of Megiddo, overcomes Sisera, captain of Jabin's army, whom Jael the wife of Heber the Kenite afterward kills in her own tent. For a memorial of which victory Deborah composeth a song; and the land resteth 40 years after the former rest obtained by Ehud.	1056.	XXVII.	After two years there arise frequent and mortal skirmishes between a party of men on David's side, headed by Joab, David's nephew, and another party on
	V. 31.	The Israelites sinning again are delivered into the hands of the Midianites; which fourth thralldom lasteth 7 years. Hereupon they cry unto God for help, and are reproved by a prophet. Then Gideon the son of Joash, of Manasseh, is by an angel from God sent to deliver them. He first overturns the altar of Baal and burns his grove, and is called Jerubbaal. He out of 32,000 men, which came unto him, chooseth only (God so commanding) 300; but with them he puts to flight all the host of the Midianites, whom the Ephraimites afterward pursue, and slay their princes Oreb and Zeeb. Gideon having pacified the Ephraimites, who complain that they were not called to the battle at first, passeth the river Jordan, and defeats the remainder of the Midianitish army; he chastiseth also the men of Succoth and Penuel, who had refused him victuals in his journey; and slays the two kings of the Midianites, Zebah and Zalmunna. After which great victories, the Israelites offering to settle the kingdom upon him and his posterity, he refuseth it; but receiving their golden ear-rings, he makes thereof an ephod, which afterward proves an occasion of idolatry. The Midianites being thus vanquished, the land enjoys rest 40 years, after the former rest restored to them by Deborah and Barak.	1055.	XXVIII.	After two years there arise frequent and mortal skirmishes between a party of men on David's side, headed by Joab, David's nephew, and another party on
1252.	VI.	The Israelites sinning again are delivered into the hands of the Midianites; which fourth thralldom lasteth 7 years. Hereupon they cry unto God for help, and are reproved by a prophet. Then Gideon the son of Joash, of Manasseh, is by an angel from God sent to deliver them. He first overturns the altar of Baal and burns his grove, and is called Jerubbaal. The Midianites being thus vanquished, the land enjoys rest 40 years, after the former rest restored to them by Deborah and Barak.		XXIX.	After two years there arise frequent and mortal skirmishes between a party of men on David's side, headed by Joab, David's nephew, and another party on
1245.	VII.	Gideon dieth, and the Israelites, falling back again to idolatry, worship Baal-berith for their god.		XXXI.	After two years there arise frequent and mortal skirmishes between a party of men on David's side, headed by Joab, David's nephew, and another party on
	VIII.	Abimelech the son of Gideon (begotten upon his concubine) purposing to get to himself the kingdom which his father had refused, slayeth 70 of his brothers all upon one stone; and having by the help of the Shechemites got to be made king, Jotham the youngest son of Gideon, who only escaped Abimelech's fury,		2 Sam. Before Christ 1048	III. 6.	Ishbosheth's side, whereof Abner is chief, but the former still grows stronger and stronger.	Before Christ 955.	1 Kings XV. 8,	Asa in the twentieth year of Jeroboam succeeds his father Abijam, and reigns 41 years.
	22.	Abner, affronted by Ishbosheth, revolteth to David, and deals with the chief men of Israel to transfer the whole kingdom unto him, and this in the hearing of the Benjamites.	954.	25,	Nadab in the second year of Asa succeedeth his father Jeroboam in the kingdom of Israel, and reigneth not full two years.
	IV. 2.	He comes to David, and is kindly received; returning, he is treacherously murdered by Joab. David much laments his untimely death, and buries him at Hebron.	953.	27.	Nadab at the siege of Gibbethon (a town of the Philistines) is slain by Baasha of the tribe of Issachar in the third year of Asa; and the same year having made himself king over Israel, he utterly destroyeth the whole race of Jeroboam, and reigneth 24 years. At this time lived the prophets Jehu, Hanani, and Azarias.
	V.	Baanah and Rechab murder their lord and master Ishbosheth, as he lieth resting himself upon his bed. They bring his head to David, who in detestation of their treason causeth them immediately to be put to death.	951.	2 Chron. XIV. 9.	Asa destroyeth idolatry, and, enjoying ten years of peace, strengthens his kingdom with forts and a standing army.
1047.	1 Chron. XI.	The captains and elders of all the tribes coming to Hebron, anoint David a third time, and make him king over all Israel.	941.	XV.	Zerah the Ethiopian with an innumerable army invadeth Judah: Asa overcomes him, sacrificeth to God of the spoil, and maketh a solemn covenant with God. He also deposes Maachab his grandmother, a great patroness of idolatry; bringeth into the temple those things which his father and himself had consecrated unto God, and enjoys a long peace.
1045.	2 Sam. V. 5, 6, 7, 9.	David with all Israel marcheth to Jerusalem against the Jebusites, and taketh the fort of Zion, and calls it the city of David, and making Jerusalem the seat of his kingdom, reigneth there over all Israel 33 years.	930.	1 Kings XVI. 6, 8,	Elah the son of Baasha succeeds his father in the kingdom of Israel.
	VI.	The ark of the covenant, which in the first sabbatical year was brought from Gilgal to Shiloh, is this year, being also a sabbatical year, brought from Kirjath-jearim out of the house of Abinadab, and placed at Zion; 30,000 choice men of Israel attending it, and singing the 68th Psalm.	929.	21,	In the second year of his reign, and the twenty-seventh of Asa's, Zimri, one of his captains, conspires against him, kills him, and reigneth in his stead. As soon as he sits in the throne, he destroyeth the whole family of Baasha; but the army which then lay before Gibbethon makes Omri their king, who presently besiegeth Tirzah, and taketh it; which Zimri seeing, he sets on fire the king's palace, and perisheth in the flames.
1044.	1 Chron. XVI.	David now dwelling in his house of cedar, which he had built, and living in a full and perfect peace, imparteth to Nathan the prophet his purpose of building a house for God; but is answered from God, that this was a work which should be done, not by him, because he was a man of blood, and trained up in war; but by his son Solomon, a man of peace, which should be born unto him. The time which passeth from hence till the birth of Solomon is spent in wars; wherein David subdueth the Philistines, Edomites, Amalekites, Moabites, Ammonites, and Syrians, and extends his kingdom to the utmost bound of that land which had been promised to the seed of Abraham, and never possessed by any of them, save only by David and his son Solomon.	925.	22,	The people of Israel are now divided into two factions; one follows Tibni the son of Ginnath, and endeavours to make him king; the other adheres to Omri, but Tibni dying, Omri reigns alone in the 31st year of Asa.
	2 Samuel VII.	At the end of this year Joab, going with the army against the Ammonites, besiegeth Rabbah, the metropolis of Ammon, whilst David takes his ease at Jerusalem, and there commits adultery with Bathsheba the wife of Uriah the Hittite, who was then in the army, whom he also procures to be slain.	924.	23, 24,	Omri having reigned six years in Tirzah, removes the seat of his kingdom to Samaria, a place which he himself had built.
	1 Chron. XVII.	The child so gotten in adultery is born. David is convicted by Nathan the prophet of his sin, and he repents; in testimony whereof he composeth the 51st Psalm. The child dieth.	918.	29.	Abah succeeds his father in the kingdom of Israel, and reigneth 22 years in Samaria. He did evil in the sight of the Lord above all that were before him.
1035.	XVIII.	Bathsheba becomes now David's wife, and beareth him a son, unto whom, as unto one who should prove a man of peace, God gives the name of Solomon; and, as to one beloved of the Lord, the name of Jedidiah.	914.	1 Kings XXII. 41.	Jehoshaphat succeedeth his father Asa in the fourth year of Ahab king of Israel, and reigneth 25 years in Jerusalem.
	XV. 13.	Amnon, David's eldest son, defoureth his sister Tamar.	912.	2 Chron. XX. 31.	Jehoshaphat being settled in his kingdom, and having demolished the high places and groves, in the third year of his reign he sends Levites with the princes to instruct the people in the law. God in the meantime subdueth his enemies under him.
1034.	Deut. XXI. 24.	Absalom avengeth his sister Tamar, and killeth his brother Amnon; for which thing he fleeth to Geshur in Syria, where he continues three years with king Talmi, his grandfather by the mother's side.	901.	1 Kings XX.	Ben-hadad king of Syria layeth siege to Samaria, who by the direction of a prophet is beaten off, and a vast number of the Syrians slain.
1033.	2 Sam. XI.	After three years exile he returns to Jerusalem, where he continues two years, before the king his father admits him into his presence, and is reconciled to him.	899.	XXI.	Ahab, not being able to persuade Naboth to sell him his vineyard, falls sick upon it; Jezebel his wife, suborning false witnesses to accuse him of blasphemy, causeth Naboth to be stoned, and puts the king in possession of the vineyard. Whereupon the prophet Elijah denounceth judgments against Ahab and Jezebel; wicked Ahab repenting, God defers the judgment.
1032.	1 Chron. XXII.	After three years exile he returns to Jerusalem, where he continues two years, before the king his father admits him into his presence, and is reconciled to him.	898.	XXII. 51.	Ahab in the seventeenth year of the reign of Jehoshaphat maketh his son Ahaziah his associate in the government of his kingdom.
1030.	9.	This rebel son, having got chariots and horses, and a guard to attend him, insinuates himself into the favour of the people, and steals away their hearts from his father David.		2 Kings III. 17.	Jehoshaphat also maketh Jehoram his son co-partner with him; whence it is, that Jehoram the son of Ahab, who succeeded his brother Ahaziah in the kingdom of Israel, in the 18th year of Jehoshaphat king of Judah, is said to have begun his reign in the second year of Jehoram the son of Jehoshaphat.
1024.	XIII.	The next year following, under pretence of a vow, he obtaineth leave to go to Hebron, where, by Ahithophel's counsel, he breaks out into open rebellion, and forceth his father to fly from Jerusalem.	897.	1 Kings XXII.	Ahab having got Jehoshaphat to assist him in the siege of Ramoth-gilead, before he goes, he asketh counsel of 400 false prophets, who promise him victory and success; but by Jehoshaphat's advice Micaiah, a true prophet of God, is consulted, who foretells his overthrow; and according to his word Ahab is slain at Ramoth-gilead, and buried at Samaria.
1023.	XIV.	Ahithophel, because his counsel in all matters is not followed by Absalom, hangs himself.	896.	2 Chron. XVIII.	Ahab being dead, the Moabites revolt from Israel, who had continued in subjection ever since king David's days.
	XVII.	Absalom, having lost 20,000 men, fleeth, and a bough of an oak catching hold of him, he there hangs, and is run through by Joab.	I. 1. III. 5.	2 Sam. VIII. 2.	Ahaziah king of Israel, lying ill of a fall, sends to consult Baal-rehab the god of Ekron concerning his recovery. Elijah the prophet meeteth the messenger and telleth him Ahaziah shall surely die; whereupon two captains over fifty men afie are sent to apprehend him, and bring him before the king; Elijah calleth for fire from heaven, and destroyeth both them and their companies. A third captain with his fifty men being sent, and behaving himself submissively, Elijah goes along with him; the prophet certifies the king that he shall not come down from his bed alive. So Ahaziah dieth having governed (partly by himself, and partly together with his father) two years.
1017.	XXIV.	David, tempted by Satan, commandeth Joab to number the people: God, offended thereat, sends a prophet to put three plagues to his choice, viz. the famine, sword, or pestilence. David chooseth to fall into the hands of a merciful God, rather than into the hands of men. So God sends a pestilence, whereof 70,000 men die in one day. The angel being about to destroy Jerusalem, God bids him hold his hand; for he beholdeth David repenting in sackcloth, and entreating him to spare the innocent people, and to turn his hand upon himself, and upon his father's house.		2 Kings I.	Jehoram succeedeth his brother Ahaziah in the kingdom of Israel in the latter end of the eighteenth year of Jehoshaphat, and reigneth twelve years.
	1 Chron. XXI.	Rehoboam is born unto Solomon by Naamah, an Ammonitish woman.		1 Kings XXII.	Eljah is taken up into heaven in a fiery chariot.
1016.	1 Kings XIV. 21.	David, being now 70 years of age, and broken with continual cares and wars, grows so weak and feeble, that clothes can no longer preserve heat in him. Therefore Abishag, a young virgin, is appointed to keep him warm. Adonijah, seeing his father thus declining, by the assistance of Joab and Abiathar, makes himself king; which David understanding, he presently commands Zadok the priest, and Nathan the prophet, with other great men, to anoint Solomon king.	892.	2 Chron. XXI. 2, 3.	Jehoshaphat grown old gives to his sons many gifts with fenced cities in Judea; but his eldest son Jehoram he now more absolutely investeth with the throne of the kingdom in the fifth year of Jehoram king of Israel.
1015.	1 Kings I.	Adonijah hearing this, betakes himself to the sanctuary, and is pardoned.	889.	2 Kings VIII. 16.	Jehoram now, by the death of his father, has the kingdom of Judah to himself, which he holds four years. He is no sooner settled in his throne, but he puts all his brethren to the sword, with many of the princes of Israel. At this time the Edomites, who ever since king David's time had lived in subjection to Judah, revolt, and (as it was foretold by Isaac) they forever shake off his yoke.
	II.	David, having given instructions to his son Solomon, dieth; after he had reigned in Hebron seven years and six months, and 33 years in Jerusalem over all Israel.		XXVII. 40.	Lith also, a city of the priests in the tribe of Judah, falls off from him about this time.
1014.	III. 1.	Pharaoh, king of Egypt, gives his daughter in marriage to Solomon.	888.	2 Chron. XXI.	Jehoram following the counsel of his wicked wife Athaliah, the daughter of Ahab king of Israel, sets up in Judah, and even in Jerusalem itself, the idolatrous worship of Baal, and compels his subjects thereto; a letter which was left for him by Elijah the prophet comes to his hands, which reproves him, and denounces all those calamities and punishments which afterward befell him.
	2 Chron. VIII. 14.	The Lord appears to Solomon in a dream, and bids him ask what he will, and it shall be given him. Solomon asketh wisdom; God gives him wisdom from above, and adds thereunto riches and honour. Of this divine wisdom Solomon makes an eminent manifestation in judging between two harlots.		10, 11,	Ahaziah succeeds his father in the kingdom of Judah (having had part of the government bestowed upon him the year before) in the 12th year of Jehoram king of Israel, and reigneth one year in Jerusalem.
1012.	VI. 1.	The fifth Age of the World.	884.	28.	Jehoram king of Israel, and Ahaziah king of Judah, lead their armies to Ramoth-gilead against Hazael, who had newly succeeded Ben-hadad in the kingdom of Syria; Jehoram is dangerously wounded, and retires himself to Jezreel to be cured. In the meantime Elisha sendeth a young prophet with instructions to anoint Jehu the son of Jehoshaphat, the son of Nimshi, at Ramoth-gilead, king over Israel, and to open to him the will of God for the rooting out of the house of Ahab; who, being proclaimed king by the soldiers, marcheth straight to Jezreel, killeth Jehoram in the field of Naboth, and causeth Jezebel to be cast out at a window, where she is eaten by dogs. He despatcheth letters also to Samaria, and causeth seventy of Ahab's children to be beheaded. Then taking with him Jehonadab the son of Rechab, he comes himself to Samaria, and destroys the whole family of Ahab, and all the priests of Baal. Nevertheless, having put down the worship of Baal, he departs not from the worship of Jeroboam's golden calves, but maintains that idolatry all the time of his reign, which was 28 years.
1005.	III. 1.	SOLOMON layeth the foundation of the temple in the 480th year after the departure of the children of Israel out of Egypt.		IX.	Jehu proceeds farther, and executes the divine vengeance upon the idolatrous house of Judah; he pursues Athaliah, who fled towards Megiddo, and over taking him at Gur, causeth him to be killed in his chariot. Going also to Samaria, he meeteth with 42 of Ahaziah's kinsmen, whom he causeth to be slain.
1004.	1 Kings VI. 38.	Solomon's temple finished in the eleventh year of his reign; having been seven years and a half in building.		XI.	Athaliah the daughter of Ahab, seeing her son Ahaziah dead, usurps the kingdom, destroying those that had right to the succession; but Jehosheba the daughter of king Jehoram, and wife to Jehoiada the high priest, takes Jehoash, being then an infant, and son to her brother Ahaziah, and hides him in the temple, and so saves him from that massacre which was made of the rest of the blood royal.
1004.	VIII.	Solomon this year (being the 9th Jubilee, and opening the fourth Millennium of the world) with great magnificence celebrates the dedication of the temple, at which time God giveth a visible sign of his favour.		2 Chron. XXII. 10.	Jehoiada the high priest brings out Jehoash, now seven years old, and anoints him king; causeth Athaliah to be slain, and restoreth the worship of the true God, destroying the house of Baal; and commanding the idolatrous priest Mattan to be killed before his altars. Jehoash, now beginning his reign in the seventh year of Jehu, reigneth 40 years in Jerusalem.
975.	V. VI, VII.	Solomon having, as it is with reason believed, forsaken his lusts and vanities, to which he had been too intemperately addicted, and written, as a testimony of his repentance, his book called, The Preacher , dieth. He reigned 40 years.	878.	2 Kings XI.	Jehoash, in the 23d year of his reign, giveth order for the repair of the temple, committing the charge thereof to Jehoiada the high priest.
	1 Kings XI.	The Israelites assemble at Shechem to crown Rehoboam, Solomon's son, king over all Israel. The people by Jeroboam sue unto him for a removal of some grievances; to whom Rehoboam, by the advice of young men, returning a harsh answer, alienates the hearts of ten tribes from him, who make Jeroboam king over them, and fall at the same time from the house of David, and from the true worship of God.		2 Kings XIII. 1.	Jehonabaz succeedeth his father Jehu in the kingdom of Israel, and reigneth 17 years: during all which time Hazael king of Syria oppresseth him, and exerciseth all those cruelties upon the Israelites, which Elisha the prophet had foretold.
	2 Chron. IX.	The Israelites assemble at Shechem to crown Rehoboam, Solomon's son, king over all Israel. The people by Jeroboam sue unto him for a removal of some grievances; to whom Rehoboam, by the advice of young men, returning a harsh answer, alienates the hearts of ten tribes from him, who make Jeroboam king over them, and fall at the same time from the house of David, and from the true worship of God.	874.	IX.
	1 Kings XII.	Jeroboam, in the beginning of his reign, repairs Shechem, destroyed by Abimelech 258 years before, and there dwells; afterward going over Jordan he builds Penuel, and at length makes Tirzah the seat of his kingdom. But fearing lest his new subjects by going to Jerusalem to worship, may be induced to revolt from him, he deviseth a new form of religion, setting up two golden calves, the one at Beth-el, the other at Dan, for the seduced people to bow down unto.		X.
	25.	From the time of this dismal rent Rehoboam reigneth over Judah and Benjamin 17 years, and Jeroboam over Israel, or the other ten tribes, 22 years.		XI.
XIV. 17	XIV.	The Priests and Levites, and other Israelites who feared God, stick to Rehoboam, and maintain the kingdom of Judah three years; after which time Rehoboam falls to idolatry, and walketh no more in the ways of David and Solomon.		2 Chron. XXII. 10.
XII. 26	XII. 17.	Jeroboam sacrificing to his calf at Beth-el, a prophet is sent unto him from God, who foretells the judgment which should one day be executed upon that altar, and the priests (viz. those whom Jeroboam had made of the lowest of the people) that served at it. Which prophecy then and there is confirmed by signs and wonders upon the king himself, and upon the altar.		878.	2 Kings XI.
	1 Kings XII. 32.	Shishak king of Egypt spoileth Jerusalem and the temple; but the king and the princes repenting at the preaching of Shemaiah the prophet, God gives them not over to utter destruction.		874.	2 Kings XII. 7.
	XIII. 2.	Abijam the son of Rehoboam succeeds his father in the kingdom of Judah, and reigns three years.		871.	2 Kings XIII. 1.
971	XIV. 25.	He obtains a great victory over Jeroboam, killeth 500,000 men in one battle, and taketh Beth-el.		868.	2 Kings XIII. 1.
968	1 Kings XV.			864.	2 Kings XIII. 1.
957	2 Chron. XIII.

Before Christ 341.	XIII. 10.	Jehoshaphat, the son of Jehoshaphat king of Israel, is taken into the consorts of that kingdom by his father in the 27th year of Jehoshaphat king of Judah, and reigneth 16 years.	Before Christ 630. 624.	2 Kings XXII. 1. 2 Chron. XXXIV.	In the 12th year of his reign, he begins a reformation in Judah and Jerusalem, and carries it on successfully.
840.	2 Chron. XXIV. 2 Kings XII. 20.	Zachariah, the son of Jehoiada the high priest, for reproving the people of Judah that fall to idolatry after the decease of Jehoiada, is stoned to death in the court of the house of the Lord by the commandment of king Jehoshaphat, who the next year after is murdered by some of his servants, as he lay in his bed; and Amasia his son succeedeth him.	610.	2 Kings XXIII. 2 Chron. XXXIV. 2 Kings XXIII. 29. Zachar. XII. 11.	This year he giveth order for the repair of the temple. Hilkiah the high priest, having found a book of the law, sends it to the king, who hears it read all over to him; and thereupon asketh counsel of Huldah the prophetess, who prophesieth the destruction of Jerusalem, but not in his days. Josiah calling to him the elders of Judah and Jerusalem, with the priests and prophets, causeth the book of the law to be read over before all the people, and reneweth the covenant between God and his people; he burneth also dead men's bones upon the altar at Beth-el, as was foretold; and keepeth a most solemn passover.
853.	XIII.	Jehoiakim dieth, and Jehoiachin his son succeedeth in the kingdom of Israel. Not long after his father's funeral he visits Elisha the prophet, then lying sick, and with many tears asketh counsel of him, who promiseth him victory over the Syrians. A dead man is brought to life by being laid in Elisha's grave.	609.	2 Chron. XXXV. 25. Lam. IV. 20. 2 Kings XXIII. 33. 2 Chron. XXXVI.	At this time a war breaks out between the king of Egypt and the king of Assyria. Josiah unadvisedly engageth in this war against Necho king of Egypt, and is slain in the valley of Megiddo. The good king being thus taken out of the world, whose life only kept off the Babylonish captivity from that nation, not only the people then living bewailed his death, but even in after time a public mourning for him was kept. The prophet Jeremiah also in remembrance thereof composed his Lamentations; wherein bewailing the calamities which were shortly to befall that people, as present before his eyes, in a most compassionate manner he points, as it were with his finger, at the death of Josiah as the source and original of all those ensuing miseries.
856.	XV. 1.	Jeroboam the second is this year taken into the consorts of the kingdom of Israel by his father Jehoshaphat, going to war against the Syrians. This is gathered from Azariah king of Judah's beginning his reign in the 27th year of this Jeroboam.	607.	XXV. 1. 2 Chron. XXXVI. 6. Jerem. XXIX. 11. XXIX. 10.	After the death of Josiah, the people anoint Shallum, one of his younger sons, to be their king. After three months reign he is deposed by Pharaoh Necho, who makes Eliakim, his elder brother, king over Judah and Jerusalem, and changes his name into Jehoiakim; but Jehoiakim he carries along with him captive into Egypt, where he ends his days.
826.	XIV. 2 Chron. XXV.	Amaziah king of Judah, growing proud upon a victory obtained against the Edomites this 14th year of his reign, provoketh Jehoshaphat king of Israel to battle. Jehoshaphat overcomes him, and takes him prisoner, breaks down 400 cubits of the wall of Jerusalem, and having spoiled the temple and the king's house of a vast treasure, returns to Samaria.	606.	Jerem. XXVI. 6. XXV. 1. 2 Chron. XXXVI. 6. Jerem. XXIX. 11. XXIX. 10.	Jehoiakim, at 25 years of age, begins to reign, and he reigneth 11 years. Uriah and Jeremiah prophesy against Jerusalem; the former is put to death, the latter is acquitted, and set at liberty. About this time Habakkuk also prophesieth.
825.	2 Kings XIV. 23.	Jehoshaphat dies fifteen years before Amaziah, and Jeroboam the second, his son, reigneth in Samaria 41 years.	605.	Dan. I. 2. 2 Chron. XXXVI. 7. Jerem. XXIX. 11. XXIX. 10.	This year is Nebuchadnezzar the great made by his father Nebopolassar his associate in the kingdom of Assyria and Babylon; into whose hands God delivers up Jehoiakim, who is put in chains to be carried to Babylon; but upon his submission and promises of obedience is left in his own house, where he lives a servant to Nebuchadnezzar 3 years. From which entering of the king and people of the Jews into the subjection and service of Nebuchadnezzar are the 70 years of the captivity of Babylon to be reckoned, which were foretold by the prophet Jeremiah.
810.	XIV. 2 Chron. XXV.	Amaziah, finding a conspiracy against him at Jerusalem, flies to Lachish, where he is murdered; after whom comes his son Uzziah, or Azariah, in the 27th year of Jeroboam the second, and reigneth 52 years in Jerusalem.	604.	Dan. I. 2. 2 Chron. XXXVI. 7. Jerem. XXIX. 11. XXIX. 10.	Nebuchadnezzar gives order to Ashpenaz, master of the eunuchs, that he shall carry from thence of the children of Israel, both of the blood royal (as was foretold by the prophet Isaiah to Hezekiah) and also of the nobility the choicest youths both for beauty and wit that he can find; who, being educated 3 years in the language and sciences of the Chaldeans, may afterward be fit to serve the king in his palace; among whom, of the tribe of Judah, are Daniel, called Belshazzar; Hananiah, called Shadrach; Mishael, called Meshach; and Azariah, called Abed-nego; their names being thus changed by the master of the eunuchs.
808.	2 Kings XV. 25. Isaiah LX. 1. Jonah III. Math. XII. 41. 2 Kings XIV. 29.	Now is held the 13th Jubilee under the two most flourishing kings; in whose times live sundry great prophets in both kingdoms; Isaiah and Joel in Judah; Jonas, Hosea, and Amos, in Israel.	603.	Dan. I. 2. 2 Chron. XXXVI. 7. Jerem. XXIX. 11. XXIX. 10.	Whilest Nebuchadnezzar pursues his victories over the king of Egypt, his father dies; which coming to his knowledge, he gives order for the bringing away of the captives, and posts with a small company the nearest way to Babylon, where he is received as the lawful successor to his father's dominions. He causeth to be brought to Babylon what he thinks fit of the vessels and furniture of the temple, and placeth them in the house of his god, viz. Belus.
784.	XIII. 41. 2 Kings XIV. 29.	Jeroboam king of Israel (under whom that kingdom came to its full height of glory) dieth; after his death all things fall into confusion, and the state is reduced to a plain anarchy, which lasteth 11 years and a half; for such an interregnum or vacancy the synchronism of Kings requires, that the six months of Zachariah the son of Jeroboam may answer the 38 years and one month of Shallum, who murdered him in the 39th year of Azariah, or Uzziah, king of Judah.	602.	Dan. I. 2. 2 Chron. XXXVI. 7. Jerem. XXIX. 11. XXIX. 10.	Jehoiakim, having lived 3 years in subjection to the king of Babylon, falls off, and rebels against him.
773.	XV. 8.	Zachariah the son of Jeroboam, the 4th and last of the race of Jehu (as was foretold) begins his reign over Israel in the 38th year of Azariah, or Uzziah, king of Judah, and reigneth 6 months.	601.	Dan. I. 2. 2 Chron. XXXVI. 7. Jerem. XXIX. 11. XXIX. 10.	This year (being the second of Nebuchadnezzar's reign, taking it as it began at his father's death), Daniel recovers Nebuchadnezzar's dream, and interprets it to beoken the four chief monarchies; whereupon he and his companions are highly advanced.
772.	10	Shallum the son of Jabesh, at the end of 6 months, murders him in the sight of the people, and reigns one month in the 39th year of Uzziah king of Judah. After Zachariah's death follow those direful calamities foretold by Amos the prophet.	600.	2 Kings XXIV. 2. Jerem. XXXI. 13. XXXVI. 30.	Nebuchadnezzar sends an army, consisting of Chaldeans, Syrians, Moabites, and Ammonites, against Jehoiakim; these waste the whole country of Judah, and carry away from thence 8023 captives: Jehoiakim also is taken prisoner, whom they put to death, cause his carcass to be drawn out at the gate of Jerusalem (as was foretold by the prophet Jeremiah) and leave it without the walls unburied.
771.	19.	Menahem the son of Gadi going from Tirzah to Samaria, killeth Shallum, wasteth Tiphrah and the borders thereof; and because the town would not open to him, he takes it, and rips up all the women with child.	599.	2 Kings XXIV. 2. Jerem. XXXI. 13. XXXVI. 30.	Jehoiachin (called also Conias and Jeconias) at 18 years of age succeeds his father Jehoiakim, and reigns 3 months in Jerusalem.
761.	23.	White Menahem in these broils labours to get the possession of the kingdom, Pul king of Assyria invadeth his country, to whom Menahem giveth 1000 talents of silver, and afterward reigneth quietly 10 years.	598.	2 Kings XXV. 1. Jer. I. 3. XXXIX. 1. LII.	Against him Nebuchadnezzar leads an army, and besiegeth Jerusalem; Jehoiachin with all his kindred and courtiers come out to meet him. Nebuchadnezzar makes them all prisoners, enters Jerusalem, and takes all the treasure he can find in the temple and the king's palace, breaking in pieces all the vessels of gold and furniture which Solomon had made for the temple; he carrieth away captive to Babylon the king, his mother, wives, courtiers, magistrates, and 10,000 able men out of Jerusalem, leaving none behind but the poorer sort of people; and out of the country round about he carried also away 8000 artificers; among the captives are Mordecai, and Ezekiel the priest; Ezekiel therefore in his prophecy reckons the time all along from the beginning of this captivity.
759.	25, 27.	Pekahiah succeedeth his father Menahem in the 50th year of Uzziah king of Judah, and reigneth 2 years.	597.	2 Kings XXV. 1. Jer. I. 3. XXXIX. 1. LII.	At this time, said to be Jeremiah's, is now sent to the captives, admonishing them to beware of the idolatry which they shall see in Babylon.
758.	82.	Pekah, one of his captains, kills him in his own palace at Samaria, and reigneth 20 years.	596.	2 Kings XXV. 1. Jer. I. 3. XXXIX. 1. LII.	Nebuchadnezzar before his departure from Jerusalem makes Mattaniah, Jehoiachin's father's brother, king, changing his name into Zedekiah.
742.	2 Kings XVI. 1. 2 Chron. XXVIII. 1. Isa. VII.	Jotham succeedeth his father Uzziah in the kingdom of Judah at the age of 25 years, and reigneth 16 years in Jerusalem.	595.	2 Kings XXV. 1. Jer. I. 3. XXXIX. 1. LII.	Zedekiah, beginning his reign at 21 years of age, reigneth 11 years; he, by rebelling against Nebuchadnezzar, or rather by continuing in an open rebellion (as his fathers had done) against God, brought upon Jerusalem and the whole nation of the Jews those long-deserved calamities which God had so often forewarned them of by his prophets; for, in the latter end of the 11th year of Zedekiah, Jerusalem, after a long siege, is taken by Nebuchadnezzar, and his Chaldeans enter it. Zedekiah flees away by night, but, being pursued, is taken, and brought prisoner to Riblah, Nebuchadnezzar's head quarters; there having first seen his children slaughtered before his eyes, he has afterward those eyes put out, and being laden with chains, is carried away captive to Babylon.
741.	2 Kings XVI. 1. 2 Chron. XXVIII. 1. Isa. VII.	Jotham subdues the Ammonites, and makes them tributary for 3 years. Under him and his two successors the prophets Micah and Hosea execute their prophetic office. About this time lived the prophet Nahum, and prophesied the destruction of Nineveh.	594.	2 Kings XXV. 1. Jer. I. 3. XXXIX. 1. LII.	About a month after the taking of the city, Nebuzaradan, captain of the guard, sent by Nebuchadnezzar, makes his entry into it, sets fire to the temple, the king's palace, and some noblemen's houses, and so layeth the whole city in ashes; the walls of Jerusalem being razed to the ground, all that were left in the city, and those that a little before had fallen to the Chaldeans, with what treasure he can find, doth Nebuzaradan carry with him into Babylon.
739.	2 Kings XV. 30.	Ahaz succeedeth his father Jotham in the 17th year of Pekah king of Israel, and reigneth 16 years.	593.	2 Kings XXV. 1. Jer. I. 3. XXXIX. 1. LII.	And thus was Judah carried out of her own land 468 years after David began to reign over it, 388 years after the falling off of the ten tribes, and 134 years after the destruction of the kingdom of Israel.
738.	XVII. 3.	This year Rezin king of Syria and Pekah king of Israel are confederate against Judah, which strikes a great terror into that nation; but unto Ahaz, God, by the prophet Isaiah, sends a gracious message, with a promise of deliverance; for a sign whereof (when the incredulous king, being bid to ask a sign, refused to do it) God gives him the promise of Immanuel to be born of a virgin. Rezin and Pekah now lay siege to Jerusalem, and therein to Ahaz, but are beaten off; Ahaz is no sooner delivered from his enemies, but he forsakes God his deliverer, and falls to idolatry. Wherefore God gives him over into the hands of the king of Israel, who slays of the men of Judah 120,000 in one day, with a great many of the nobility, and carrieth away 200,000 captives; but these, by the advice of the prophet Oded, are released and sent home.	592.	2 Kings XXV. 1. Jer. I. 3. XXXIX. 1. LII.	Obadiah the prophet denounceth God's judgments against the Edomites, who now insult over the calamity of the Jews. The same do Jeremias and Ezekiel, and the author of the 79th and 137th Psalms, who wrote all about the same time.
737.	XVIII. 1. 2 Chron. XXIX. XXX. XXXI. 2 Kings XVII. 4.	Hoshea the son of Elah murders Pekah king of Israel, and gets the kingdom into his own hands; it is said, in the 20th year of Jotham, that is, from the time that Jotham first began to reign, which is the same with the 4th of Ahaz his son. Hoshea, by reason of the tumults and disorders which ensued, cannot be said to have reigned till 9 years after, the state continuing all that time in great confusion, without any form of government.	591.	2 Kings XXV. 1. Jer. I. 3. XXXIX. 1. LII.
728.	XVII. 3.	Shalmaneser, king of Assyria, comes up against Hoshea, and makes him to serve him, and pay him tribute.	590.	2 Kings XXV. 1. Jer. I. 3. XXXIX. 1. LII.
726.	XVIII. 1. 2 Chron. XXIX. XXX. XXXI. 2 Kings XVII. 4.	Hezekiah succeedeth his father Ahaz in the kingdom of Judah: he destroyeth idolatry and prospers; he also celebrates a solemn passover, and reigneth 29 years in Jerusalem; his father had made him in the last year of his reign, his assistant in the government.	589.	2 Kings XXV. 1. Jer. I. 3. XXXIX. 1. LII.
725.	XXXI. 2 Kings XVII. 4.	Hoshea king of Israel, having consulted with So king of Egypt, refuseth to pay tribute to Shalmaneser; provoked hereby, and jealous of some farther design in that confederacy of Hoshea with the king of Egypt, Shalmaneser layeth siege to Samaria, and toward the latter end of the third year taketh it, and carrieth away the Israelites captive into his own country. This was the end of the kingdom of Israel, when it had stood divided from the kingdom of Judah 254 years.	588.	2 Kings XXV. 1. Jer. I. 3. XXXIX. 1. LII.

The sixth Age of the World.

NEBUCHADNEZZAR, proud of his victories over Egypt, and his conquest of Judea and other countries, and boasting the magnificence of his buildings, falls distracted, and is driven from the society of men.

After seven years' torment among the beasts of the field, his understanding returning to him, he humbly acknowledgeth the power of God, and his goodness toward him, and is restored to his kingdom. A few days after he dies, having reigned about 20 months together with his father, and 43 years by himself.

Evil-merodach his son succeedeth him in the 37th year of the captivity of Jehoiachin, or Jeconiah, who presently gives order for the enlargement of Jehoiachin, and two days after changeth his prison-clothes, sets him above all the princes of his court, and causeth him to eat at his own table. Jehoiachin dies about two years after.

Belsazzar, having removed some persons who had murdered his father Evil-merodach, and usurped his throne, succeeds in the kingdom of Babylon. In the first year of this king's reign Daniel has the vision of the four beasts, signifying the four monarchies of the world, and of God delivering over all power and sovereignty to the Son of man.

Before Christ 553. 538.	Daniel VIII. 1. Jerem. XXVII. 7 Dan. V. Is. XIII. Hab. II. Jerem. XXV. 12 L. LI. Dan. V. 31. VI. 6.	In the third year of Belshazzar, Daniel receives the vision of the ram and he-goat, betokening the destruction of the Persian monarchy, and the great misery which Antiochus should bring upon the people of God. This year Belshazzar makes a great feast for all his nobles, and causeth to be brought forth all the vessels of the house of the Lord, which Nebuchadnezzar his grandfather had brought away from Jerusalem, to the glory of his idols, and dishonour of the true God. In the midst of all this jollity a band appears writing on the wall of the room in which the king and his numerous guests sit drinking. The king, greatly terrified hereat, sends for his Chaldean astrologers and wizards, and commands them to read the writing, and give him the interpretation of it; but they not being able to do either, Daniel is sent for, who reads the writing, and gives the king the interpretation of it: whereupon Daniel is publicly proclaimed the third man in the kingdom. The same night Belshazzar is slain, Babylon taken by Cyrus, and the empire translated to the Medes and Persians, as had been sundry times foretold by the prophets. Cyrus having given the kingdom of Babylon to Darius the Mede, reserving some palaces in the city for himself, he returns through Media into Persia. Daniel's greatness raising envy in some principal courtiers and officers, these contrive his ruin: but finding nothing in his management of affairs whereof to accuse him, they resolve to order matters so, that Daniel's piety toward God shall become an offence worthy of death. They move the king to make a decree, that for 30 days no petition shall be made to any god or man but to himself only. Which decree Daniel breaks by making supplication to his God, and is for doing so cast into a den of lions: but being found to have received no hurt there, Darius commands the conspirators to be cast into the same den, who are presently devoured; and the king publisheth a decree, that all persons throughout his dominions shall reverence and fear the God of Daniel. Towards the end of the first year of the reign of Darius the Mede, to be reckoned from the subversion of the Babylonish empire, begins the 70th year of the captivity of the Jews, which, by Jeremiah's prophecy, was to be the last year of their calamity. Upon consideration of which time so near at hand, Daniel pours out most fervent prayers to God for the remission of his own sins, and those of his people; and for that promised deliverance out of their captivity. To whom the angel Gabriel brings an answer not only of this, but also of the spiritual deliverance of the church by the death of the Messiah; uttering that memorable prophecy of the seventy weeks. Cyrus, his father Cambyses, and his father-in-law Cyaxares both dying, Persia falls to him by inheritance, and Media by contract of marriage; and so he is possessed of the whole eastern empire; from which time both Xenophon (Inst. lib. 8) reckons the 7 years of his reign, and the Holy Scripture out of the records of the Medes and Persians, reckons this his first year; for it teacheth us, that in this year came forth that renowned edict of his, Thus saith Cyrus king of Persia, The Lord God of heaven hath given me all the kingdoms of the earth, and hath charged me to build him a house at Jerusalem which is in Judah, &c. At which time the 70 years of the Babylonish captivity being expired, (as was foretold by Isaiah and Jeremiah, the former making mention of Cyrus by name) he gives leave to all the Jews, dwelling in all parts of his dominions, to return into their own country, and commands them immediately to fall in hand with rebuilding of the temple. He restoreth also all the vessels of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzar had brought from thence; and contributes toward the building. The Jews therefore return into their own country; the poorer sort having allowance made them to defray their charges upon the way. The number of the children of the province, or Hebrews born in Chaldea, which with their captain Zerubbabel, and their high priest Jeshua, return out of captivity, is 42,360, besides proselytes, men-servants, and maid-servants, to the number of 7,337. Now the particular sums of Ezra's catalogue being cast up amount only to 29,818; and those in Nehemiah's account make but 31,051, both which come far short of that universal sum of 42,360, which at the bottom of each catalogue is said to be the number of the whole congregation. Wherefore the Hebrews in the xxxix chapter of their great chronicle tell us, that to complete the full sum 42,360, we must cast in those of the other ten tribes of Israel, who came up out of the captivity with the Jews. For eventually the last extirpation of the Jewish state there remained some relics of the other ten tribes, not only in the dispersion, and at Jerusalem, and other cities of Judah; but also of those who kept still in their own seats; for Shalmaneser swept not away all out of the whole ten tribes, but left a remnant of them in their own country, who were afterward, together with the Jews, Benjamites, and Levites, carried away by Nebuchadnezzar into Babylon, and are now dismissed and sent back again by Cyrus. In the second year after their return from Babylon, in the second month, they appoint Levites to oversee the work of the house of God, and lay the foundation of the temple; the old men lamenting, who 53 years before had seen the old temple standing, and the younger sort rejoicing to see the new one going up. The Samaritans by the means of certain courtiers about Cyrus, whom they had bribed for that purpose, disturb the Jews in their work of the temple. In the beginning of the reign of Artaxerxes (called in profane story Cambyses) the Samaritans, who, whilst Cyrus lived, had secretly undermined the Jews, now openly frame a direct accusation in writing against the inhabitants of Judah and Jerusalem, and present it to the king, who presently forbids the Jews to proceed in the building. In the second year of king Darius Hystaspes (the same with Ahasuerus) Zerubbabel and Jeshua, incited by the prophets Haggai and Zechariah, set forward the building of the temple. Haggai prophesieth that the glory of this second temple shall be greater than that of the former; not as being a more magnificent structure, but in regard the blessed Messiah shall one day honour it with his presence, and from thence propagate peace to all nations. About this time Zechariah the prophet exhorteth the Jews to repentance. Ahasuerus puts away queen Vashti his wife, and not long after espouseth Esther, the niece of Mordecai the Jew. In the sixth year of Darius, or Ahasuerus, the temple is finished; the dedication whereof is celebrated with great joy and abundance of sacrifices, the Priests and Levites, every one in his place, attending on the ministry of the temple. The passover also is celebrated. Haman an Agagite, of the race of the Amalekites, a great favourite of king Ahasuerus, offended at Mordecai, because he falls not down and adores him, as others do, resolves to be revenged of the whole nation of the Jews, (which was ever averse to him) and to root it out; for the executing of which purpose, that he may find a successful time, he causeth Pur, that is, the lot, to be cast before him, for to know the day and month wherein the Jews shall be destroyed, and the lot falls on the 12th month Adar. Haman obtains an edict from the king, that all Jews, without respect to sex or age, upon the thirteenth day of the month Adar, be put to death in all the provinces of the king's dominions. Hereupon Mordecai, Esther, and all the Jews, humble themselves before the Lord by fasting and prayer. Ahasuerus hearing it read in the chronicles, that a conspiracy had been discovered to him by Mordecai, commandeth that he be publicly honoured, and that by Haman himself, his deadly enemy. Esther, entertaining the king and Haman at the banquet, maketh suit for her own life, and her people's; and accuseth Haman. The king, understanding that Haman had provided a gallows for Mordecai, causeth him to be hanged thereon. In memory of this great deliverance the two days of Purim are made festival. Ezra the priest, a man skilled in the law of Moses, obtains a large commission from king Artaxerxes, to settle the Jewish commonwealth, and to reform the church at Jerusalem. In the seventh year of Artaxerxes, Ezra, with a great multitude of Jews, sets out from Babylon. Ezra obligeth those who had taken strangers to wife to send them back. In the twentieth year of king Artaxerxes, Nehemiah a Jew, one of his cup-bearers, being made governor of Judea, obtains leave to build the walls of Jerusalem, and finish that great work. Here begin Daniel's 70 weeks to be fulfilled before the passion of our Saviour	Before Christ 412. 415.	Neh. V. 14. XIII. 6.	Nehemiah having governed Judea 12 years, returns to the king of Persia. This year is the 21st Jubilee, the last that ever the prophets of the Old Testament saw: for that place in Nehemiah, chap. xii. 22, is not to be understood of the last Darius, but of Darius Nothus, who now reigns in Persia; the full history of Nehemiah ending with the time of Artaxerxes Longimanus father of this Darius Nothus. Hitherto (saith Eusebius in his Chronicle, to the 32d year of Artaxerxes) the Divine Scriptures of the Hebrews contain the annals of the times. But those things which were done among them afterward we must deliver out of the books of the Maccabees, and out of the writings of Josephus, who have delivered a general history of the Jewish affairs from thence down to the times of the Romans. That Malachi, the last of the prophets, was contemporary with Nehemiah, appears from hence, that he nowhere exhorts the people to the building of the temple, as Haggai and Zachary did; but, the temple being now built, he reproves those disorders, which Nehemiah at his second return with a new commissioner from Babylon saith he found in his absence to have crept in among the Jews, as marriage with strange women, withholding of tithes, and abuses in the worship of God. And because a succession of prophets was not to be expected, as before, he exhorteth the people constantly to adhere to the law of Moses, till Christ the chief Prophet should appear; whose forerunner John the Baptist should come in the spirit and power of Elias, to turn the hearts of the fathers unto their children, and the disobedient to the wisdom of the just. See 1 Mac. iv. 46. and ix. 17.
537.	IX. Jerem. XXIX. 10. Dan. IX.			XIII.	Malachi IV. 4. Luke I. 17. Matt. XI. 14. XVII. 12.	ALEXANDER the Great, king of Macedonia, passeth out of Europe into Asia, and begins to lay waste the Persian Empire. Manasses, brother to Jaddus the high priest, refusing to put away his strange wife, is driven from the sacrifice: Sanaballath his father-in-law, governor of Samaria, revolteth from Darius, obtains leave of Alexander to build a temple on mount Gerizim, and makes Manasses high priest thereof; to which resort all such as are entangled in unlawful marriage, with all such offenders as think themselves not safe at Jerusalem. This was the rise of that schismatical conventicle of the Samaritans. See John iv. 20. Alexander marcheth toward Jerusalem, intending to besiege it. Jaddus the high priest, hearing of it, putteth on his priestly ornaments, and accompanied with the people all in white, goeth out to meet him. Alexander, seeing his habit, falls prostrate before him, saying that, whilst he was in Macedonia, a man appeared unto him in the very same habit, who invited him to come into Asia, and promised to deliver the Persian Empire into his hands. After this he goes to the temple, and offers sacrifice according to the high priest's direction. They shew him the prophecy of Daniel, That a Grecian should come and destroy the Persians; whereby he is mightily confirmed in his persuasion that he himself is the man. Lastly, he bestoweth on the Jews whatever favours they desire, and departeth. The Persians are overcome, Darius slain, and Alexander remains universal monarch of the eastern world. Alexander, having reigned six years and ten months dieth; his army and dominions are divided among his captains. Antigonus makes himself governor of Asia; Seleucus of Babylon and the bordering nations; Lysimachus hath the Hellespont; Cassander, Macedonia; and Ptolemy, the son of Lagus, gets Egypt. Ptolemy, surnamed Soter, makes himself master of Jerusalem by a strataagem; for he enters the city on a sabbath-day under pretence of offering sacrifice; and whilst the Jews suspect nothing, but spend the day in ease and idleness, he surpriseth the city without resistance, and maketh the citizens captives. He sendeth several colonies of Jews into Egypt, and puts great confidence in them. Ptolemy Philadelphus, son of Ptolemy Soter, being a great favourer of learning, builds a most magnificent library at Alexandria. Demetrius Phalerus, to whom he had committed the care of procuring all sorts of books, and out of all countries, persuades him to employ 72 Jews in translating the Holy Scriptures out of the original Hebrew into the Greek tongue, which was done in the seventh year of his reign. The king also dismisseth many captive Jews and dedicates many presents to the temple of God at Jerusalem.
538. The Per- sian Em- pire	Ezra I. 5, 6. II. Nehem. VII. Acts XXVI. 7. Lam. I. 1. Luke II. 36.				Daniel VIII. 7. XI. 13.	One Simon, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, governor of the temple, falling out with Onias, the high priest, goes to Apollonius the governor of Celsyria, and informs him that there is a vast treasure in the temple: Apollonius acquaints king Seleucus his master with it, who presently sends his treasurer Heliodorus to Jerusalem, to bring this money away. Heliodorus entering the temple, is by angels struck down in the very place, and carried from thence half dead; but by the prayers of Onias he is soon after restored to his health. Returning to Seleucus that sent him, he magnifies the holiness of the temple, and the power of God dwelling in it. Antiochus Epiphanes succeeds Seleucus in the kingdom of Syria, and reigneth 11 years, and some months. Jason, by corrupting king Antiochus, obtaineth the office of high priest. Menelaus, brother to Simon the traitor, being employed by Jason to carry the money to the king, promiseth 300 talents of silver above what Jason had sent and getteth the priesthood to himself. Menelaus, not paying the money he had promised the king at his admission, is summoned to appear before Antiochus; he substituteth Lysimachus his brother in his place. Antiochus taketh Jerusalem, and sacking it, pillageth the temple, destroyeth 40,000 of the inhabitants, and selleth as many more. He endeavoureth also to abolish the worship of God, and forceth many Jews to forsake their religion. The Samaritans now disown their relation to the Jews, to whom in prosperity they pretended alliance, and consecrate the temple on mount Gerizim to Jupiter. Perseus, having made war upon the Romans, is this year overcome by them, and the kingdom of the Macedonians ends, when from Caranus it had stood 626 years. Nevertheless the relics of the Macedonian empire, while that of the Roman was rising, did yet survive in the Ptolemies of Egypt, and the kings of Syria. King Antiochus, by a public edict, commands all nations that are subject unto him to observe the same way of divine worship, and laying aside their peculiar customs, to profess the same religion with the Grecians; the punishment of death being threatened unto such as shall be disobedient; and he appoints overseers over every people and nation who shall compel them hereunto. Of the Jews, many choose rather to undergo the most cruel torments, than to offer sacrifice unto idols; all which martyrs, with those glorious sufferings of the seven Maccabean brethren, are recorded in the two Books of Maccabees. Mattathias, a priest, with his five sons, slays those that are sent by king Antiochus to compel them to offer abominable sacrifices, and after betake themselves to the desert. They are followed by many others, of whom a great number are stifled in their caves, because they would not defend themselves on the sabbath-day. Mattathias abolisheth that superstition, and exhorts his sons to assert their privileges, and deliver their country from bondage. Mattathias dies, and Judas Maccabeus takes upon him the management of this affair. He delivers his country, and purgeth it from the abominations which had been committed in it. Apollonius, governor of Samaria, having raised an army among the Gentiles and Samaritans, falls upon the Jews; but is discomfited and slain by Judas Maccabeus. Seron also, governor of the lower Syria, musters up all the forces under his command, and invades Judea; him Judas Maccabeus encounters, slays 800 of his men on the place, and puts the rest to flight. Judas Maccabeus defeats a great army, which Antiochus sent against the Jews. Lysias returns with a greater power; Judas kills 5000 of his men, and causeth him to retreat. He purifieth the temple, and setteth it in order, after it had lain desolate three years; and buildeth a wall about Zion. Antiochus is taken with a violent pain in his bowels, and such a rottenness seizeth his flesh, that worms breed in it; he confesseth that he is plagued for the wrong done to Jerusalem, and dieth in the 143d year of the kingdom of the Greecians. His son Antiochus Eupator, a child about nine years old, succeeds him. He maketh peace with the Jews, but quickly breaketh it: he puts to death Menelaus the high priest, and confers that honour upon Alcimus, or Jacinus.

 Quirus, the son of Onias III. retires into Egypt, where Ptolemaeus Philometor, and Cleopatra his wife, permit him to build a temple at Heliopolis in imitation of that at Jerusalem, and they constitute him high priest there.
 Demetrius Soter, the son of Seleucus, escapes from Rome, and comes into Syria, where he causeth himself to be crowned king, and putteth to death Antiochus and Lysias.
 Demetrius, at the instance of Alcimus, sends Nicanor with a great army against Judas Maccabeus, whom he endeavours to surprise. They join battle, and Nicanor is slain.
 Here ends the continued history of the second book of Maccabees, being an abstract and breviary of the five books of Jason, a Jew of Cyrene.
 King Demetrius sends Barchides with a new army, consisting of 20,000 men, against Judas Maccabeus; Judas, having with him but 800 men, ventures to engage him, and is slain. His brother Jonathan is chosen general in his stead.
 Jonathan enters into an alliance with the Romans. Josephus observes, that this was the first league that ever was known to be between the Romans and the Jews.
 Whilst Alcimus commands the wall of the inner court of the temple to be pulled down, God strikes him suddenly with a palsy, so that without speaking a word he dies in great torment.
 Jonathan, having wearied Barchides by war, compelleth him to make a league, and draw off his army.
 Alexander Balas, the son of king Antiochus Epiphanes, enters with an army into Syria; the garrison of Ptolemais set open their gates to him, by reason of their hatred to king Demetrius, who prepares himself for war.
 Demetrius desireth an alliance with Jonathan, who makes use of this occasion to repair the fortifications of Jerusalem.
 Alexander Balas is no less careful to obtain the friendship of Jonathan, and, to oblige him, confers on him the high priesthood.
 Jonathan puts on the holy vestment on the seventh month of the 160th year of the kingdom of the Greecians, at the feast of tabernacles. He was the first high priest of the Hasmonean family.
 Demetrius and Alexander come to a battle, and Demetrius is slain.
 Alexander Balas, finding himself in the peaceable possession of the kingdom of Syria, espouseth Cleopatra, the daughter of Ptolemaeus Philometor king of Egypt. Alexander highly honours Jonathan the high priest at his nuptials.
 King Alexander Balas gives the command of Syria to Apollonius, who sets upon Jonathan the high priest; Jonathan defeats him, and takes Joppe and Azotus, and burns the temple of Dagon.
 Ptolemaeus Philometor, king of Egypt, comes to the relief of king Alexander his son-in-law; Alexander ungratefully sets Apollonius to lie in ambush to kill him. The treachery being discovered, Ptolemaeus takes away his daughter from Alexander, and marrieth her to Demetrius. Alexander having been driven from Antioch, the inhabitants of that place make offer of the kingdom to Ptolemaeus; but he refuseth it, and persuadeth them to accept of Demetrius for their king.
 Alexander returns with a great army. Ptolemaeus and Demetrius unite their forces, and overcome him in a pitched battle; but Ptolemaeus dies of the wounds which he received, after he had seen the head of Alexander sent to him by Zabdiel an Arabian prince. Jonathan besiegeth the citadel at Jerusalem, held by a garrison of Macedonians. Complaint hereof being made to Demetrius, Jonathan appeaseth him by presents, and obtaineth new favours for the Jews. Demetrius incurth the hatred of his soldiers by abridging their pay in time of peace.
 Tryphon, with some soldiers that revolted from Demetrius, undertakes to establish Antiochus, the son of Alexander Balas, in the kingdom of Syria.
 Demetrius is vanquished by young Antiochus, and made to fly into Seleucia. Great honours are by Antiochus conferred on Jonathan, who assists him against Demetrius.
 Jonathan renews his alliance with the Romans and Lacedemonians, and fortifies Jerusalem.
 Tryphon contrives how he may cut himself off from Antiochus, and reign in his stead; but fearing Jonathan's opposition, he invites him to come to Ptolemais, and bring with him some few of his soldiers, promising to deliver that city into his hands. Jonathan, suspecting no treachery, comes on / with 1000 men to Tryphon at Ptolemais; but as soon as he is entered the city Tryphon commands the gates to be shut. Jonathan is taken prisoner, and all his men put to the sword.
 The Jews hereupon make choice of Simon Maccabeus for their general in the place of his brother Jonathan. Tryphon leads an army against Simon. He promiseth for 100 talents of silver to release Jonathan; the money being paid him, he breaks his promise, and puts Jonathan to death. Simon erects a stately monument for his father and his brethren.
 Tryphon murders the young king Antiochus, and puts the crown on his own head. The Romans and Lacedemonians renew their leagues with Simon, and write them in tables of brass.
 Simon has the government and high priesthood settled on him and his heirs: the Jews are by his means discharged from all manner of tribute to any foreign prince. He takes Sion, the fortress of Jerusalem, drives out of the city all idolaters, clears the houses of their idols, and placeth in the city such as are true worshippers of God.
 Tryphon's vices render him so odious to his soldiers, that they submit themselves to Cleopatra, Demetrius's relict. She marrieth Antiochus Soter, Demetrius's brother, and causeth him to be crowned king. Antiochus drives Tryphon out of Syria, besiegeth him in Dora, whence he flies to Apamea, where he is taken and slain.
 Simon the high priest traversing the cities of Judea, and taking care for their orderly government, comes down with his two sons, Mattathias and Judas, to Jericho: Ptolemaeus, the son of Abubus, Simon's son-in-law, invites them to a castle which he had fortified, called Dochu, and there, whilst he entertains them at a banquet, barbarously murders them. John Hircanus succeeds his father in the high priesthood.
 Here ends the first book of Maccabees, containing the history of forty years.
 John Hircanus takes Sichem, and demolisheth the temple on mount Gerizim 209 years after it had been built by Sannaballat.
 Judas, eldest son of Hircanus, otherwise called Aristobolus, and surnamed Philhellene, succeeds his father in the government and the high priesthood: he was the first of any, that after the return from the captivity of Babylon, set a crown upon his head, and changed the state into a monarchy.
 Anna the prophetess, daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Asher, this year becoming a widow, departs not from the temple, but serveth God with fasting and prayer night and day, for 84 years together, until such time as she sees Christ in the temple.
 Jerusalem is this year taken by Pompey; who meddles not with any of the treasure which was in the temple, but makes the Jews tributary to the Romans.
 Here begins the empire of the Roman Cæsars, when Julius Cæsar, having overthrown Pompey at the battle of Pharsalia, was made perpetual dictator.
 Herod, the son of Antipas, or Antipater, an Idumean, is this year by the Romans declared king of Judea.
 Herod, assisted by Sosius the Roman general, lays siege to Jerusalem, and takes it; the soldiers fill all corners of the city with blood, rapine, and cruelty. Antigonus, the prince and high priest, is by Sosius carried away prisoner to Rome, and Herod put in full possession of the kingdom.
 About this time Hillel, a Babylonian, descended from David, flourished at Jerusalem; one of whose disciples was Jonathan, the son of Uzziel, the famous author of the Chaldee paraphrase.

Cæsar Octavianus, nephew to Julius Cæsar, in his fifth consulship, with the assent of the senate and people of Rome, assumes the title of emperor; at which time the government among the Romans was legally changed from a republic into a monarchy. The next year following he is by the senate surnamed Augustus.
 Herod this year begins to enlarge, or rather to rebuild, the temple at Jerusalem, 46 years before the first passover of the ministry of Christ, and in nine years and a half finisheth that magnificent structure.
 The angel Gabriel appears to Zachary the priest, as he is offering incense in the temple, telling him that a son shall be born unto him, whom he shall call John; who also shall be a Nazarite, and the forerunner of the Lord in the spirit and power of Elias.
 In the sixth month after John was conceived, the same angel Gabriel is sent by God to Nazareth in Galilee, to the most blessed Virgin Mary (espoused to Joseph, a person of the house and lineage of David;) the angel declares unto her, that she shall conceive by the overshadowing of the Holy Ghost, and bring forth a son, and call his name JESUS.
 John the Baptist born six months before Christ.
 The seventh Age of the World.
 CHRIST our Lord and Saviour in the fulness of time is born of the blessed Virgin Mary at Bethlehem, and laid in a manger.
 On the eighth day after his nativity he is circumcised, and named JESUS.
 The wise men of the east bring presents to the new-born king of the Jews. Joseph flees into Egypt with the child Jesus, and Mary his mother.
 Herod commands the infants in and about Bethlehem to be slain.
 Herod dieth, and his son Archelaus is by Cæsar made tetrarch of Judea: other dominions, which belonged to Herod, are divided among his sons.
 Christ, by God's appointment, is brought back out of Egypt into Nazareth.
 The first year of the vulgar Christian Era begins here.
 By occasion of the passover our Lord goes up with his parents to Jerusalem, and there disputes with the doctors in the temple.
 Augustus dies, and Tiberius succeeds him.
 Josephus, called Caiaphas, is made high priest of the Jews by the favour of Valerius Gratus, the Roman governor.
 Toward the end of this year Pontius Pilate is sent to be procurator of Judea in the place of Valerius Gratus.
 John the Baptist begins to preach and to baptize in the desert of Judea, there by preparing the way of the Lord, and doing his endeavour that Christ coming after him may be made known unto Israel. Unto John, God gives a sign whereby he may know the Lord's Christ, that upon whom he shall see the Spirit descending and remaining on him, the same is he which shall baptize with the Holy Ghost.
 Jesus, entering upon the thirtieth year of his age, comes from Galilee to Jordan, and is baptized of John; at which time a most illustrious manifestation is made of the blessed Trinity; for the Son of God ascending out of the water, and praying, the heavens are opened, and the Spirit of God in the shape of a dove descends upon him; and the voice of the Father is heard from heaven, saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.
 John sees it and bears record that this is the Son of God.
 Jesus, full of the Holy Ghost, returns from Jordan, and is led by the Spirit into the wilderness, where he fasteth forty days and forty nights, and is tempted by the devil.
 After this our Lord returns into Galilee.
 John gives testimony to our Saviour passing by him; Andrew, Peter, Philip and Nathaniel, acknowledge him to be the Messiah, and become his disciples.
 Christ at a marriage in Cana of Galilee, turneth water into wine: this was his first miracle.
 The first passover of Christ's public ministry, from which the first year of the seventh and last of Daniel's weeks begins: In which the covenant is confirmed, with many, Dan. ix. 27. compared with Matth. xxvi. 28.
 JESUS cometh to Jerusalem at the time of the passover, and entering into the temple, scourgeth out those that bought and sold there. The Jews require a sign of his authority: Christ bids them destroy that temple, (understanding the temple of his body) and in three days he will raise it up.
 Herod the tetrarch casteth John the Baptist into prison for reprehending his incest with his brother Philip's wife, and other evils done by him.
 Christ discovers himself to the woman of Samaria.
 He goes throughout all Galilee, teaching in the synagogues, and working miracles.
 Matthew called to be a disciple.
 The second passover of Christ's ministry, John v. 1. compared with iv. 3. & from which the second year of the seventieth week of Daniel begins.
 JESUS comes up to Jerusalem at the time of the feast, and heals on the sabbath-day a man that had an infirmity 38 years, lying at the pool of Bethesda. He makes a most divine apology to the Jews that sought to kill him, because he said that God was his Father.
 Christ out of the multitude of his disciples chooseth 12, whom he calleth Apostles: namely, Peter, Andrew, James, John, Philip, Bartholomew, Matthew, Thomas, James the son of Alphaeus, Simon called Zelotes, Judas the brother of James, and Judas Iscariot. To these our Saviour chiefly directs his discourse in that glorious, full, and admirable sermon on the mount.
 Jesus sends his 12 apostles by two and two to preach, and heal the sick.
 John the Baptist is beheaded in prison by Herod's command.
 Jesus feeds 5000 men, besides women and children, with five barley loaves and two little fishes. He refuses to be made a king.
 The third passover of Christ's ministry, John iv. 4. from which the third year of the seventieth week of Daniel begins.
 JESUS is transfigured on the mount; Moses and Elias are seen to talk with him; and a voice from heaven is heard a second time, saying, This is my beloved Son; hear him.
 Christ payeth tribute to Cæsar.
 A certain village of the Samaritans refuseth our Saviour entertainment in his way to Jerusalem: the disciples, desiring to call for fire from heaven to consume them, are severely reprehended.
 The seventy disciples are sent out by two and two to work miracle, and to preach.
 Christ teacheth his disciples to pray.
 Christ raiseth Lazarus, that had been buried four days.
 Caiaphas, high priest of the Jews, prophesieth concerning the death of Christ. Zacharias a publican converted.
 Christ restoreth to blind Bartimeus his sight.
 Mary the sister of Lazarus anoints our Saviour's feet with costly spikenard, and wipeeth them with the hair of her head.
 Christ rideth in triumph into Jerusalem; the multitude spread their garments in the way, and cry, Hosanna to the Son of David. Coming near the city he weeps over it, and foretells its destruction. He enters the temple, and casteth out those that bought and sold there; and heals the blind and lame.
 He curseth the fruitless fig-tree, and the next morning it is found dried up and withered. Thence he takes occasion to shew the power of faith.
 The fourth passover, in which Christ our passover was sacrificed. 1 Cor. v. 7. and so an end is put to all legal sacrifices prefiguring this great expiation. The fourth or middle year of Daniel's last week begins, Dan. ix. 27.
 ON the first day of unleavened bread, when the passover of the Jews was to be slain, (April 2) in the evening, Jesus eateth the passover with his disciples, and institutes the sacrament of his body and blood in bread and wine.
 Christ washeth his disciples feet, and exhorteth them to humility and charity.

After Christ	Matth. XXVII.	In the self-same night Christ is betrayed by Judas, mocked, buffeted and spit upon, by the soldiers.
	Mark XV.	Next day he is condemned by Pilate, and crucified; the sun during the crucifixion is darkened, and the veil of the temple rent in the midst. Christ praying for his enemies gives up the ghost. Joseph of Arimathea veils the body, and lays it in a new sepulchre.
	John XIX.	On the third day, the next after the Jewish sabbath, (April 5.) Christ riseth from the dead; his resurrection is declared by angels to the women that came to the sepulchre. Christ first appeareth to Mary Magdalene, and afterward to his disciples, and dwineh with them.
	Mark XXVI.	Christ bringeth his apostles to mount Olivet; commandeth them to expect in Jerusalem the sending down of the Holy Ghost: sends them to teach and baptize all nations, and blesses them; and while they behold, he is taken up, and a cloud receives him out of their sight. After his ascension the disciples are warned by two angels to depart, and to set their minds upon his second coming; they accordingly return, and giving themselves to prayer, choose Matthias to be an apostle in the place of Judas.
	John XX.	On the day of Pentecost (May 24.) the Holy Ghost descendeth on the apostles in the form of cloven tongues, like as of fire, and enableth them to speak all languages. Peter the same day preacheth Christ and the resurrection, and about 3000 believers are added to the church.
	Acts II.	Peter by faith in Christ's name healeth a lame man.
	III.	The rulers of the Jews, offended at Peter's sermon, and his miraculous cure of the lame man, cast both him and John into prison; upon their examination they boldly avouch the lame man to be healed by the name of Jesus, and that by the same Jesus we must be eternally saved. After this the Jews forbid them to speak any more in that name; but the apostles answer, That it is fit they should obey God rather than men. They are threatened, and let go.
	IV.	Ananias and his wife Sapphira for their hypocrisy are suddenly struck dead. The apostles are again cast into prison by the high priest; but an angel sets them at liberty, and bids them preach the gospel to the people without fear: being taken again teaching in the temple, they are brought before the council; where by the advice of Gamaliel, a Pharisee, and doctor of the law, they are delivered.
24.	VI.	The number of believers increasing at Jerusalem, the apostles ordain seven deacons, who should distribute the alms of the whole church to the widows and poorer sort of believers. Stephen, one of these deacons, having confounded some that disputed with him, is by them falsely accused of blasphemy, and brought before the council, where he reprehends their rebellion, and murdering of Christ. Whereupon they cast him out of the city, and stone him; he is in the meantime praying for them.
	VII.	A great persecution of the Church at Jerusalem follows after the death of the first Martyr Stephen.
	VIII.	Philip, one of the seven deacons, preacheth at Samaria, and converteth many; worketh miracles, and healeth the sick. Simon the sorcerer, seeing the wonders that are done by Philip, believeth, and is baptized.
	9.	The apostles at Jerusalem, hearing that Samaria had received the faith, send thither Peter and John to confirm and enlarge the Church. The apostles by prayer and imposition of hands confer the Holy Ghost on all believers. Simon Magus offers them money, that he may receive the power of conferring the same, whose impiety is sharply reproved by Peter. Having completed their ministry in those parts, they return to Jerusalem.
	10.	An angel sendeth Philip to teach and baptize the Ethiopian eunuch.
35.	VIII. 26.	Saul, a violent persecutor of all that call on the name of Jesus, and one who consented to the death of Stephen, goes now towards Damascus with commission from the high priest and the council to apprehend all Christians in those parts, and to bring them bound to Jerusalem; on the way he is miraculously converted by a voice from heaven; and three days after baptized by Ananias at Damascus, where he preacheth the gospel of Christ with great boldness, to the astonishment of those that knew upon what design he was sent thither.
	IX. 1.	Saul having preached the gospel at Damascus a long time, the Jews lay wait to kill him, but he escapeth from thence, and comes to Jerusalem; there he sees Peter, and James the brother of our Lord, and abides with them fifteen days. Here he speaks boldly in the name of Jesus, and disputes with the Grecians, or rather Jews that used the Greek tongue. These also consult how they may kill him.
36.	2 Cor. XI. 32.	While Saul prays in the temple, he is in a trance, and the Lord appears unto him, and bids him to depart from Jerusalem, because they will not receive his testimony; adding, that he will send him to the Gentiles.
	Gal. I. 18.	Saul leaving Jerusalem goes to his own country Tarsus, and from thence travels into Syria and Cilicia.
	Acts XXII. 17.	Peter visits the churches of Judea, Galilee, Samaria, &c. At Lydda he cureth Eneas of the palsy; and at Joppa restoreth Tabitha to life.
	IX. 30.	At Cesarea, Cornelius, a centurion, by prayers and alms finds favour in the sight of God, and is commanded by an angel to send for Peter now at Joppa. God by a vision teacheth Peter not to despise the Gentiles. Peter, being sent for by Cornelius, goes and preacheth Christ to him and a great company that were met at his house: while Peter preacheth, the Holy Ghost falls upon them all; and immediately the apostle baptizeth them.
	XI.	Peter, at his return to Jerusalem, is accused by those of the circumcision for conversing with the Gentiles; but he declares to them his vision, and the whole matter concerning Cornelius; and they glorify God for granting to the Gentiles also repentance unto life.
		The believers, who ever since the martyrdom of Stephen, and the persecution thereupon ensuing, had been dispersed throughout all Phenice and Cyprus, come now to Antioch, and preach the gospel to the Greeks there, having before preached to none but the Jews. The Church at Jerusalem understanding this, and that the number of believers increased exceedingly, sends Barnabas thither to confirm them; he goes to Tarsus, and takes Saul along with him to Antioch, where they continue a whole year, converting multitudes to the faith. Here the disciples were first called Christians.
44.	XII.	About this time James the brother of John is beheaded by the command of Herod Agrippa. He also imprisoneth Peter, whom an angel delivers upon the prayers of the church. This same Herod, not long after, speaking to the people at Cesarea, some of them cry out, It is the voice of God, and not of man: and immediately an angel of the Lord smites him, because he gave not the glory to God; and he is eaten of worms, and dieth.
45.	XIII.	Barnabas and Saul set forward in their preaching of the gospel. They plant the Christian faith in Seleucia, Cyprus, and other places. At Paphos they preach the gospel to Sergius Paulus, governor of that country: Elymas, a sorcerer, withstanding them, and endeavouring to turn away Sergius from the faith, is at Saul's rebuke struck blind. From this time Saul is always called by his new name Paul; he preacheth at Antioch; the Gentiles believe, but the Jews gainsay and blaspheme. Whereupon he and his assistants turn to the Gentiles, and come to Iconium.
46.	XIV.	At Iconium they are persecuted and ready to be stoned. From hence they fly to Lystra and Derbe, cities or Lycania. At Lystra, Paul healing a cripple, the multitude cry out, that the gods are come down, and call Barnabas Jupiter and Paul, Mercurius; and would have sacrificed to them, had not the apostles with clothes rent run in among them, and assured them that they were men

After Christ	2 Cor. XI. 23.	like themselves. Soon after there come Jews from Antioch and Iconium, who excite the people against them. Paul is by the furious multitude stoned, and drawn out of the city as dead; but whilst the disciples stand about him, he riseth up, and the next day departs with Barnabas to Derbe.
	XII. 2.	In this year, perhaps at this very time, Paul was caught up into the third heaven, and heard unspeakable words, fourteen years before he wrote his second epistle to the Corinthians.
	2 Tim. I. 2, 5.	About this time Timothy, though a child, with his mother Eunice, and his grandmother Lois, embrace the Christian faith preached by Paul.
	Acts XV.	Certain Judaizing Christians come from Judea to Antioch, and teach that the Gentiles ought to be circumcised, and observe the law of Moses; these Paul and Barnabas oppose, and a council is held by the apostles and others at Jerusalem to determine this controversy. The decrees of the synod are sent to the churches.
	38.	Paul and Barnabas, thinking to visit the churches together, fall at strife, and part asunder: Barnabas and Mark go into Cyprus; Paul and Silas into Syria and Cilicia.
	XVI.	Paul coming to Derbe finds there Timothy, whom (because his mother was a believing Jew, though his father a Gentile) he causeth to be circumcised, and takes him along with him. He is by a vision admonished to go into Macedonia; coming to Philippi, the chief city of that part of Macedonia, he converts Lydia: casteth out of a certain maid-servant a spirit of divination, whose master losing a considerable gain thereby, brings Paul and Silas before the magistrates: these cause them to be whipped and imprisoned; but at midnight, Paul and Silas praying and singing psalms, the doors of the prison fly open, and their bonds are loosed: the jailer, ready to kill himself, is converted to the faith, and baptized the same night with his whole family. Next day the magistrates come themselves, and pray them to depart the city.
54.	XVII.	From Philippi Paul takes his journey through Amphipolis and Apollonia, and comes to Thessalonica, where he finds a synagogue of the Jews; there he preacheth three sabbath-days; some believe, others persecute him. Leaving Thessalonica he comes to Berea, and soon after arrives at Athens, disputes with the philosophers, and declares unto them that UNKNOWN GOD, whom they had ignorantly worshipped. He converts Dionysius the Areopagite, and thence passeth to Corinth.
	XVIII.	Paul at Corinth meets with Aquila and Priscilla, not long before banished Rome by the decree of Claudius. Here he continues a year and six months, and thence writes to the Thessalonians.
55.		Paul is accused by the Jews, and brought before Gallio, proconsul of Achaia, who refuseth to judge in a controversy about religion, and so drives them away from the judgment-seat.
56.	18.	Paul departs from Corinth, and passeth to Ephesus, thence he sets out towards Jerusalem, that he may be at the feast; he lands at Cesarea, goes down to Antioch, and comes into the regions of Galatia and Phrygia, confirming the disciples in all those places.
57.	XIX.	Paul returns to Ephesus, disputes daily in the school of Tyrannus, and continues preaching there, and the parts thereof.
58.		He writes his epistle to the Galatians.
60.		At Ephesus, Demetrius a silversmith, jealous of his gain, raiseth a tumult against Paul, which is appeased by the town-clerk.
	1 Cor. I. 11.	About this time a schism ariseth in the church at Corinth, which causeth Paul (now in or about Ephesus) to write his first epistle to the Corinthians.
	XVI. 8.	Paul departs from Ephesus, and comes into Macedonia, and gathers a contribution for the relief of the saints at Jerusalem.
	Acts XX. 1.	The apostle, having learnt from Titus the success of his first, writes now his second epistle to the Corinthians. Out of Macedonia he goes into Greece, and comes to Corinth, where he writes his epistle to the Romans.
	2 Cor. VIII. 1, 2, 6, 19.	Paul purposing to go directly from thence into Syria, that he may carry the collections to Jerusalem, the Jews lay wait for him; he understanding this, thinks it best to return into Macedonia the same way he came, and thence to pass into Asia.
	1 Cor. XVI. 5.	After the days of unleavened bread Paul sails from Philippi, and comes to Troas; there he restores Eutychus to life. Having passed through several cities of Greece, he arrives at Miletus; from thence he sends to call the elders of the Church of Ephesus, whom he earnestly exhorts to the performance of their duty.
	XX. 3, 4, 6.	Paul comes to Jerusalem, is apprehended in the temple, and secured in the castle; he claimeth the privilege of a Roman, and escapeth scourging.
	XXI.	Paul pleadeth his cause before Annas the high priest. The chief captain, understanding that above forty Jews had bound themselves under a curse neither to eat nor drink till they had killed him, sends him to Felix the governor of the province, by whom he is imprisoned at Cesarea.
	XXII.	Paul is accused before Felix by Tertullus the orator: Felix goes out of his office, and, to gratify the Jews, leaves Paul in prison. Porcius Festus succeeds him in the government.
	XXIII.	The Jews come to Cesarea, and accuse Paul before Festus. He answers for himself, and appeals unto Cesar. King Agrippa comes to Cesarea, and Festus opens the whole matter to him.
	XXIV.	Paul makes his defence in the presence of Agrippa; who thereby is almost persuaded to be a Christian, and the whole company pronounce him innocent.
	XXV.	Paul comes to Rome, is a prisoner at large, and preacheth there two years.
	XXVI.	Here ends the History of the Acts of the Apostles, written by St. Luke, St. Paul's beloved companion in his travels.
62.	XXVII.	Saint Paul from Rome writes his epistles, To the Philippians. To Philemon. To the Colossians. To the Ephesians.
	XXVIII.	About the latter end of this year St. Paul is set at liberty; and a little before his departure out of Italy into Asia he writes his epistle to the Hebrews.
	XXIX.	He preacheth the gospel in the isle of Crete, and leaves Titus there to set things in order and ordain elders in every city.
	XXX.	St. Paul writes his epistles, To Timothy I. To Titus. To Timothy II.
	XXXI.	About this time the epistles of St. Peter, St. John, and St. Jude, seem to be written.
	XXXII.	St. Peter and St. Paul are said to have suffered martyrdom at Rome towards the latter end of Nero's reign.
	XXXIII.	This year Jerusalem (according to Christ's prophecy) is besieged, taken, sacked, and burnt, by Titus, 1,100,000 of the Jews perish, 97,000 are taken prisoners besides an innumerable company that in other places of Judea kill themselves, or perish through famine, banishment, or other miseries.
	XXXIV.	St. John is banished into the isle of Patmos by Domitian, and there receives and writes his Revelation.
	XXXV.	After the death of Domitian St. John returns to Ephesus, and at the request of the Church writes his Gospel.

TABLES OF SCRIPTURE MEASURES, WEIGHTS, AND COINS:

WITH AN APPENDIX.

CONTAINING THE METHOD OF CALCULATING ITS MEASURES OF SURFACE, HITHERTO WANTING IN TREATISES ON THIS SUBJECT

By the Right Reverend RICHARD Lord Bishop of Peterborough.

A MEASURE is a known quantity applied to another of the same kind that is less known, to make its dimensions better known, by help of numbers expressing the proportion that the known quantity bears to the unknown. The dimensions to be measured are three: 1. Men's length, which hath but one dimension. 2. Surface, which consists of length multiplied into breadth; so it hath two dimensions, as it were interwoven; and this is always measured by some square surface already known, as by a square foot, or a square cubit, or any other square already known, by help of its side. Moses generally useth the square cubit. 3. Solidity or Capacity, which hath three dimensions multiplied into each other: length, breadth, and height, or depth. This is measured by a known cube. From solidity ariseth weight in all sublimary bodies; and by weight we measure the value of coins. Therefore I shall join weights and coins together in the fourth table.

I use == to signify Equal :: to express Proportion: is called Separatrix, putting Decimals from Integers.

I. TABLE. Measures of Length.

I express the Cubit, and its Parts, both by Inch Measure, and by Foot Measure; which I deduce from Inches by his Proportion:

	Inch. Meas.	Foot. Meas.
As 12 1. : 21.888	1.824
	Inch. Dec. Foot. Dec.
A Cubit is == to	21.888	1.824
A Span the longer == $\frac{1}{2}$ a Cubit	10.944	.912
Span the less == $\frac{1}{3}$ of a Cubit	7.296	.608
A Hand's breadth == $\frac{1}{6}$ of a Cubit	3.648	.304
A Finger's breadth == $\frac{1}{12}$ of a Cubit	.912	.076

Measures of many Cubits Length I express only in Foot Measure.

	Feet Dec.
A Fathom	= 4 Cubits = 7.296
Ezekiel's Reed	= 6 Cubits = 10.344
Schenus, the Egyptian Line for Land Measure, which I think Scripture useth to divide Inheritances. Psalm xvi. 6. and lxxviii. 55. They use different Lengths, but the shortest and most useful was,	= 80 = 145.92
Herodotus mentions a Schenus just 500 times as long: I judge that all the greater were made in proportion to the least.
The Mile	= 4000 Cubits = 7296 Feet.
Stadium, $\frac{1}{10}$ of their Mile	= 400 Cubits = 729.6
Parasang, 3 of their Miles	= 12000 Cubits = 4 English Miles, and 500 Feet.

II. TABLE. Measures of Surface.

Moses hath described these by square Cubits. I here express them reduced to our square Feet. The method of this reduction is taught in an Appendix. I first propose three clear examples given by Moses; Secondly, I place six instances of greater difficulty.

The clearest examples are,
I. The Altar of Incense. Only two sides of it, viz. its length and breadth, are expressed by Moses; each of them is affirmed to be one Cubit. Yet he declares it was four square: whence we collect, that it was just one square Cubit. See Exod. xxx. 2. Now it is demonstrated in the Appendix, that one Jewish square Cubit amounts to in surface three English square Feet, and about 47 square Inches.

II. The Table of Shew-bread, Exod. xxv. 23. It is affirmed to be two Cubits in length, and one in breadth. None doubt but it was rectangular, containing two Jewish square Cubits. These amount to above six English square Feet, and above half, viz. 94 square Inches.

III. The Boards of the Tabernacle, each 10 Cubits in length, and one and a half in breadth, Exod. xxvi. 16. being rectangular, must contain 15 square Cubits, Jewish. These are proved to contain very near 50 square Feet of English Measure.

The more difficult cases reserved to the Appendix are,

I. The Mercy-seat, whose surface is = 12 square Feet and a half.
II. A general method is taught of reducing any given number of Jewish Cubits to English square Feet.

III. The example of the 15 square Cubits in the Boards of the Tabernacle is made clearer.

IV. The Court of the Tabernacle, described Exod. xxvii. 18. is found to be just half the Egyptian Arouara, and to contain 1 Rood, 21 Perches, 27 square Feet, &c.

V. The whole Arouara is determined, and reduced to our English Measures, 3 Roods, 2 Perches, 55 square Feet.

VI. The suburbs, or Glebe Land, given to each city of the Levites, Numb. xxxv. 3, 4, 5. is shewed to be a square, on each of the four sides of every city, containing a million of Jewish square Cubits, or 100 Arouara; which amount to in each Square 76 Acres, 1 Rood, 20 Perches, 80 square Feet. Whence we collect, that all the four Squares amounted to 305 Acres, 2 Roods, 1 Perch, besides 51 Feet square

An APPENDIX to the Second Table of Measures of Surface described by Moses, shewing the Method of reducing them by Calculation to the Measures used in England, for the benefit of those that understand Decimal Arithmetic, and desire to try the Reductions given in the Table, or to make further Improve ments in this kind of Measures.

1. The I SHALL begin with Reduction of the Measures of the Mercy-seat, which was God's Throne Mercy of Grace among the Jews. Moses in Exod. xxv. 17 affirms, that its length was two Cubits Seat. and a half, its breadth one Cubit and a half. The fractions adhering to its length and breadth make some difficulty to beginners in Arithmetic, which the Decimal way doth much abate. Supposing therefore, what I have elsewhere proved, that the Jewish cubit was in Foot measure 1.824; the length must be expressed in Foot measure, and Decimals thereof, 4.560. The breadth in like measure will be 2.736. Wherefore the product of these numbers multiplied into each other gives its surface 12.4776: in number of its square Feet, and Decimals thereof, 12 square Feet, and very near half a square Foot; if the Decimals had been .50, it had been just half a Foot. If we desire to express those Decimals of a Foot in square Inches, as is usual in England, we must multiply .4776 by 144, the square Inches of a Foot, and the product will be 68.56704; which shews that the Decimals we found amount to 68 square Inches, and about half an Inch more: we need not be nicer.

2. A square Cubit reduced to our Measure. 2. In the Altar of Incense Moses describes the Jewish square Cubit, which must be reduced to our Foot measure, thus,  $\frac{1}{18} \times \frac{1}{18} \times 144$ . The product of these numbers multiplied will be the upper surface of this Altar, 3.326,976, that is, three square Feet, and 326,976 Decimals of a square Foot, which we may express by 47 square Inches, and a few Decimals of an Inch square inconsiderable.

3. The Boards. 3. Moses's description of the boards of the Tabernacle, Exod. xxvi. 16. by 10 Cubits in length, and one and a half in breadth, naturally leads a man to discern in each board's surface 15 Jewish square Cubits; because if we conceive a line drawn from the end of one Cubit at the bottom of the Board to the end of one Cubit at the top of the Board, this must needs be 10 whole square Cubits on one side of that line, and 10 half square Cubits (= 5 whole) on the other side of that line: here therefore are 15 square Cubits. The reduction of these into English square Feet is performed by multiplying 15, viz. the number of Cubits given into 3.326,976 the Feet and Decimals of one square Cubit, and the product will be 49,904,64, and that is very near to fifty square Feet; for those Decimals amount to above 130 square Inches; and little more than 13 square Inches would make it just 50 Feet, which abatement we need not here regard.

4. The Court of the Tabernacle. 4. Let us now go to the measure of the surface of land. But we will begin with the Court of the Tabernacle, the ground on which the Priests performed all the solemn public worship of Israel in Moses's time. The Area of this Court is described by Moses, Exod. xxv. 18 by its length 100 Cubits, and its breadth every where 50 Cubits. Wherefore this Area must be in Jewish measure 5000 square Cubits, for that is the product of 100 multiplied into 50. To reduce these 5000 Jewish Cubits into English square Feet, I must multiply 5000 into 3.326,976, the product is 16,634.88 English square Feet.

But in cases of such long numbers of Feet we use for brevity's sake, and to help our memories, to reduce them into Perches, or Roods, or Acres, which contain known numbers of square Feet. A Perch contains 272 square Feet and 1-4. A Rood is = to 10,890 square Feet. An Acre is = to 43,560 square Feet. It is plain that the number 16,634.88 hath not integers equal to those of an Acre; but it hath enough to answer those in a Rood, and some overplus: therefore I must divide 16,634.88 by 10,890, which is a Rood. By such division continued in the Decimal way, until I have a fraction of five or six places, which is exact enough, I find the quote to be 1.527,537, which assures me that my number 16,634.88 hath but once entirely in it a whole Rood: but it hath moreover in it many Decimal parts of a Rood. These therefore I reduce to the Perches contained in them, by multiplying them into 40, which is the number of Perches that make up a Rood: and cutting off six places from the product, which is 21,101,480; so I find there are 21 Perches entire, and the figures after the Separatrix are Decimals of a Perch. These also I multiply by 272.25, which are the square Feet and Decimals of a Perch. The product of this last multiplication, after eight places cut off from it by the Separatrix, because there were six places of Decimals in one of the multipliers, and two in the other, is 27,62,793,000. Hence I learn that there are therein but 27 entire Feet, all the eight Decimal places amount to little above half a foot, and therefore I cast them away as inconsiderable in the measure of land. This method of reduction by multiplication of Decimals I find to be easier than the common way of reduction by division, and therefore I propose it to be used by beginners in this practice of surveying. So I find this court to contain in English measure 1 Rood, 21 Perches, 27 Feet, and little more than half a foot square. But reflecting upon Moses's measure by Cubits, and finding them to be precisely 5000 square Cubits, I observed that they were just half 10,000, which I had observed from Herodotus's Entree to be the Area of the Egyptian Arouara by which their land was as generally measured, as ours is by Acres and Roods. See Herodot. l. 2. c. 168. I called also to mind a passage in Diodorus an Egyptian Priest, cited by Josephus in his first book against Apion; where he affirms, that Manetho in his history of the reign, wars, and expulsion, of the Pastors (whom Africanus affirms to be Phoenicians, or Canaanites, and Josephus vainly believed to be Jews,) wrote out of the public Records of Egypt, that these Pastors made at Aburis a very large and strong encampment, that encompassed 10,000 Arouara, sufficient to contain 240,000 men, and long to maintain their cattle. Hence it appears, that not only the Egyptians, but the Phoenicians or Canaanites also, that had dwelt among them, and had reigned there during the time of six kings successively, used this measure of land called Arouara. Now this was long before Moses's time; for the beginning of Amosis or Tethmosis, who expelled them out of Egypt, was very near the time of Abraham's death, as appears by the annals of the learned Primato of Ireland. Wherefore I believe that Moses, who was skilled in all Egyptian learning, especially surveying, did of choice make the Court of the Tabernacle to be just half an Arouara, which was a known measure to him and his people, who had long dwelt in Egypt, and Divine Authority directed him so to do.

The Reduction of an Arouara to English measures. 5. Because we have shewn from Herodotus, that an Arouara is the square of 100 Jewish or Egyptian Cubits, and 100 such Cubits may in English Foot measure be expressed by 182.4 English Feet, it follows, that the square of this number will express exactly the number of the English square Feet that are contained in an Arouara. Now by multiplication of 182.4 into itself, I find the product to be 33,269.76; Therefore I conclude that there are 33,269 square Feet entire, and 76 Decimals of a square Foot, in an Arouara. Now to reduce these English square Feet into Roods, Perches, and the remainder of square Feet, I use the method used in the last paragraph. First, I divide them by 10,890, the square Feet in a Rood; and the quote I find 3.055,074, that is 3 Roods, and .055,074 Decimals of a Rood. Secondly, I multiply those Decimals by 40, which is the number of Perches in a Rood, the product is 2,202,960. Hence I conclude there are therein two Perches, and 202,960 Decimals of a Perch. Thirdly, I multiply these last Decimals by 272.25, which are the square Feet of a Perch. The product is 55,25,586,000, that is 55 entire square Feet; the eight places of Decimals amount to little above 1-4 of a square Foot, therefore I reject them as inconsiderable in measure of land. By all these reductions it is found, that an Arouara is in English measure three Roods, two Perches, 55 1-4 square Feet. Hence it follows also, that it is not well translated by Jugerum, for it is much larger: nor is it well in English called an

SCRIPTURE MEASURES WEIGHTS & COINS.

Acres, for it is considerably less. To this place I refer the use of the lesser sort of χοίτων, which yet is most convenient for the use of the Egyptians, and of the Jews, to measure out private men's inheritances by a line which was 80 Cubits long. For the length of the line will measure one side of an Aroura, if the other side be 125 Cubits long, which is the length of a line, and its half, and 5 Cubits above half of it, which they might easily mark on it by a knot or a ring. And by this means they might easily lay any number of Aroura together, all of them rectangular and parallel to each other. Such lines I suppose for measure of inheritances are intimated, Psalm lxxviii. 55. and xvi. 6, &c.

The Levites' Glebe.

6. I shall conclude with an example amounting after reduction to a number of English Acres, which measure we have not yet reached to. This I take from Numb. xxxv. 3, 4, 5, verses. There Moses describes what measure of land the Levites were to be allowed for their cattle, their goods, and all their beasts, on the north, east, south, and west sides of each of their cities. So that the city was to be in the midst of the land belonging to it. This land in our translation is called suburbs, because of its nearness to all their cities. But we must not thence imagine that it means houses and streets adjoining to their cities, in which sense we sometimes use the word suburbs. For Moses plainly tells us they were places for their several sorts of cattle to feed in, such as might also be orchards or gardens for fruits, or perhaps for a little corn, comprehended in the words, their goods. These fields he limits by 1000 Cubits, which was just a quarter of an eastern mile, but amounts in mere length to 608 yards English measure, and therefore exceeds a quarter of an English mile by 168 yards in length. But it is certain that cattle cannot feed upon mere length, but this must signify the side of some surface of land bounded thereby, and we must have two sides of that surface given, before we can find the Area, or surface contained. Therefore Moses, ver. 5, tells us, that on each side of each city they must measure 2000 Cubits, which will determine no surface, unless we understand it to mean the two sides of a square, bounded on every side by 1000 Cubits; these two sides multiplied into each other will produce a square that contains just a million of square Cubits, and that is a known and exact measure of just 100 Aroura: and this shews that the 2000 Cubits mentioned ver. 5 are the two sides of that square, whereof the 1000 mentioned ver. 4, is one, and may be called the root of the square. This shews the agreement of the two different numbers. The reduction of this million of square Cubits will be performed by the same method I have used before. Therefore, first, I express 1000 Jewish Cubits by 1824 English Feet, without any Separatrix, according to the principles owned in Decimal Arithmetic: and the square of that number will be 3,326,976, without a separatrix. Secondly, I divide this number by 43,560, which are the square Feet of an Acre, and find the quote to be 76,376,359, which signify 76 entire Acres, and .376,853, Decimals of an Acre. Thirdly, to find what Roots are contained in these Decimals, I multiply them by four, the number of Roots in an Acre, and find the quote to be 1,507,436, which proves that there is but one Root in them, and the six figures cut off by the Separatrix (because there were six Decimals in one of the multipliers) are all Decimals of a Root. Fourthly, therefore, to find what Perches are in these last Decimals, I multiply them by 40, which is the number of Perches contained in a Root. The product is 20,297,440; hereby I find there are 20 entire Perches, besides the Decimals of a Perch placed after the Separatrix. Fifthly, to find what square Feet are in those last Decimals, I multiply them by 272.25, which are the square Feet and Decimals in a Perch. The product is 80,97,804, which is 80 square Feet, and all the Decimals not amounting to a square Foot, I reject as inconsiderable in measure of land. Thus we have found that this and every other square on each side of every Levitical City, was prescribed to be 76 Acres, 1 Root, 20 Perches, 80 square Feet in our measure, but was just a million of square Cubits in their measure.

To add the four squares belonging to our Levitical City together, the best way will be to take the first quote that we found in Acre measure, viz. 76,376,359, and we must multiply it by four, and we shall find, by the method I have used, all the four squares together to amount to 305 Acres, 2 Roots, 1 Perch; we need not take notice of any lesser quantities in this case. We may also by this method find the sum of the Acres belonging to all the 48 cities of the Levites, and many other improvements in this kind of measuring surfaces. But I leave them to the industry of others.

The Apocrypha hath 183 chapters, 6,081 verses, and 152,185 words.
The middle chapter and the least in the Bible, is Psalm cxvii.
The middle verse is the 8th of Psalm cxvii.
The word And occurs in the Old Testament 35,349 times.
The same in the New Testament also occurs 10,684 times.
The Word Jesus occurs 6,853 times.
The middle book of the Old Testament is Proverbs.
The middle chapter is Job xxix.
The middle verse is 2d Chron. chapter xx. the 17th verse.

The least verse is 1st of Chron. chapter 1, and 1st verse.
The middle book in the New Testament is 2d Thessalonians.
The middle chapters are Romans xii. and xiv.
The middle verse is Acts xvi. 17th verse.
The least verse is in John xi. verse 35.
The 21st verse chapter vii. of Ezra has all the letters of the alphabet.
The sixth chapter of the 2d of Kings and chapter xxxvii. of Isaiah are both alike.

JUDEA, PALESTINE, OR THE HOLY LAND.

PALESTINE is bounded on the north, by Mount Libanus, or Lebanon, which separates it from that part of Syria, anciently called Phœnicia; on the east by Mount Hermon, which divides it from Arabia Deserta; on the south by Arabia Petraea; and on the west by the Mediterranean Sea, or sea of Syria.

This country received the name of Palestine from the Philistines, who dwell on the sea-coast: it was called Judea, from Judah, and it is termed the Holy Land, being the country where Jesus Christ was born, preached his holy doctrines, confirmed them by miracles, and laid down his life for mankind. Palestine is about one hundred and eighty five miles in length, and generally eighty in breadth; it is situated between 31° and 33° 40. north latitude.

The climate of Palestine is, during a great part of the year, very hot. The easterly winds are usually dry, though they are sometimes tempestuous; and those which are westerly, are attended with rain. The heat here might be expected to be excessive; yet Mount Libanus, from its uncommon height, is covered all the winter with snow.

The first rains as they are called, generally fall about the beginning of November; and the latter rains, in the month of April. In the country round Jerusalem, a moderate quantity of snow falls in the beginning of February, and the brooks soon after overflow their banks, it is thought to forebode a fruitful year; and the inhabitants make rejoicings upon this occasion, as the Egyptians do with respect to the Nile; this country is seldom refreshed with rain during the summer season.

The rocks of Judea are, in many places, covered with a soft chalky substance, in which is enclosed a great variety of shells and corals. The greatest part of the mountains of Carmel, and those of Jerusalem, and Bethlehem, are overspread with a white chalky stratum. In mount Carmel, are gathered many stones, which, being in the form of olives, melons, peaches, and other fruit, are imposed upon pilgrims, not only as those fruits petrified, but as antidotes against several diseases.

With respect to the rivers of the country, the Jordan, called by the Arabs Sceriah, is not only the most considerable, but, next to the Nile, is the largest, either in the Levant or in Barbary. It has its source at the bottom of Mount Libanus or Lebanon, and is formed from the waters of two fountains, which are about a mile distant from each other. One of them lies to the east, and is called Jor; the other, which is exposed to the south, is named Dan. The confluence of the two streams is found near the ancient city of Cesarea Philippi, which is at present only a village, and called Belus. The river takes a course between the E. and S. and after running seven miles, falls into the lake Samochon or Mathon, at present called Hulethanias, about six miles in length, from north to south, and nearly four in breadth, from east to west. The Jordan issues from this lake, and flows through a great plain, passing under a stone bridge called Jacob's Bridge, consisting of three arches, well constructed. The river then continues its course as far as the lake of Tiberias, near the ancient cities of Chorazin and Capernaum, where it mixes with its waters. When it issues from this lake, which is about eighteen miles in length, and eight in breadth, it takes the name of Jordan Major, dividing Perea from Samaria; the plains of the Moabites from Judea, and receiving the waters of the Dibon, the Jazer, the Jacob, and the Carith; after being augmented by these streams, in a course of sixty-five miles from the lake of Tiberias, or sea of Galilee, it discharges itself into the Dead Sea. The Jordan, in the rainy seasons, overflows its banks, to the distance of more than four miles; and on account of the inequality of the ground, forms two or three channels. Its current is extremely rapid, and the water always muddy: but when taken from the river, and put into any kind of vessel, it very soon clarifies, and is sweet.

The Dead Sea is a name of modern date; the ancients called it the lake of Asphalites, the sea of Sodom, the Salt Sea, the lake of S'rbon, the Arabs name it Bahheret-Lut: that is, the sea of Lot. It is about fifty miles in length, and ten in breadth. The lofty mountains of the country of the Moabites are on the eastern side, and discharge into it the waters of Arnon and the Jaret. On the west and south it is bounded by very high mountains also. It is likewise on the west that the brook Cedron, which rises at Jerusalem, empties into this sea.

We are informed that this vast lake was covered formerly with fruit-trees and abundant crops, and that from the bosom of the earth, now buried under its waters, arose the superb cities of Sodom, Gomorrah, Admah, Zebolim, and Segor. No plants of any kind grow in this lake. The bottom of it is black, thick, and solid. Branches of trees, which fall therein, become petrified in a little time. The Dead Sea produces a kind of bitumen, which may be found floating on the surface, like large lumps of earth. This bitumen is a sulphurous substance, mixed with salt; it is as brittle as black pitch, is combustible, and exhales, while burning, a strong and penetrating smell. The ancient Arabs used it for smearing and embalming their dead, to preserve them from perishing. The mountains near this sea produce a kind of black stone, which, when polished, has a beautiful lustre.

Acra, or Acre, (now called St. John de Acre, and which the Arabs, call Accho, or Akka.) is one of the places from which the Israelites could not expel the ancient Canaanites, and was formerly reckoned among the ancient cities of Phœnicia. It is also known by the name of Ptolemais. The situation is advantageous; on the north and east, it is encompassed by a fertile plain; on the west it is washed by the Mediterranean; and on the south by a large bay, which extends from the city as far as Mount Carmel. It contains little more than a few cottages, and heaps of ruins. The residence of the bashaw of the province is at this place.

To the south of Acre, is Sebasta, the ancient Samaria, the capital of the ten tribes after their revolt from the house of David. It is seated on a long mount, which rises in a fruitful valley, and is now converted into gardens.

A little farther to the south is Naplosa, the ancient Sychem, which stands in a narrow vale, between Mount Ebal on the north, and Gerizim on the south. At a small distance from Naplosa, is Jacob's well, famous for Christ's conference with the woman of Samaria.

Jerusalem is encompassed with hills, so that the city seems as if situated in an amphitheatre: there are few remains of the city, as it appeared in Christ's time; the situation being changed; for Mount Sion, the highest part of ancient Jerusalem, is almost excluded: while the places adjoining to Mount Calvary, are nearly in the centre. This city, which is about three miles in circumference, is situated on a rocky mountain, on all sides of which are steep ascents, except toward the north. The walls are not strong, nor have they any bastions. The city has six gates. There are supposed to be about twelve or fourteen thousand inhabitants in Jerusalem.

Jasa, i. e. ancient Joppa, is the port where the pilgrims disembark. They generally arrive in November, and repair without delay to Jerusalem.

Bethlehem, also called Ephrata, and the city of David, is famous for being the birth-place of Christ. It is about two miles to the S. E. of Jerusalem, on the ridge of a hill; at present only an insignificant erable place.

Raha, the ancient Jericho, is eighteen miles N. E. of Jerusalem, situated in a plain six or seven leagues long, by three wide, surrounded by a number of barren mountains.

Habroun, or Hebron, is twenty-four miles S. of Bethlehem. The Arabs call it El-Kabil the well-beloved. It is situated at the foot of an eminence, on which are some remains of an ancient castle.

Nazareth, now only a small village, is on the top of a high hill.

Canā of Galilee, otherwise called Cana Minor, celebrated for the miracle wrought by Christ, of changing the water into wine, is nothing more than a small village, with very few inhabitants.

Sidon, called by the Turks Sayl, is situated on the sea-coast. It was anciently a place of great strength, and had a very extensive commerce. Though it is still populous, and a place of considerable trade, it has fallen from its ancient grandeur. Its exports consist in silks, with raw and spun cotton; the manufacturing of which employs most of the inhabitants, amounting to above five thousand. The city is defended by an old castle, built in the sea.

Tyre, called by the Turks Sour, is about twenty miles to the south of Sidon. It was once very celebrated for its purple, called the Tyrian dye, produced from a shell-fish. This city was, in ancient times, the centre of an immense commerce and navigation and the nurse of arts and sciences. The ancient city stood, originally, on an island, joined to the main land by a mole; the remains of which appear at present. It has two harbours; that on the north side is very good; but the other is choked up with ruins. The present inhabitants are only a few poor fishermen, who live in vaults and caves. Cesarea was at first called Strabo's Tower, and was the capital of Palestine. This city was divided into two parts by a little hill, whereon was erected a temple dedicated to Cesar. Jericho is situated in a large plain about twenty miles long, and ten broad, bounded by a variety of mountains on the south-west, the west, and north; it is at present inhabited by a few miserable Arabs. The Mount of Forty Days, is situated on the north side of the plain of Jericho: the summit is covered neither with shrubs, trees, nor earth, but consists of a solid mass of white marble: it is very difficult and dangerous to ascend, the path leading by a winding course, between two dismal abysses. This mountain is one of the highest in the province, and one of its most sacred places. It takes its name from the rigorous fast which Christ observed here. From this mount may be seen the hills of Arabia, the country of Gilead, the country of the Ammonites, the plains of Moab, and that of Jericho, the river Jordan, and the whole extent of the Dead Sea. Opposite to Jericho, beyond Jordan, rises Mount Nebo. Mount Carmel, on the south side of the bay of Acre, projects at one part into the sea, forming a great promontory, called the point of Carmel. There are a number of grottoes, gardens, and convents, on this mount; as also many cisterns for receiving the rain water. On this mountain was a fortress called Ecbatana. Mount Tabor is most delightfully situated, rising amidst the plains of Galilee, distant about twelve miles from the city of Tiberias; it is distinguished by different names, as Itanyrion, Taburnum, and by the Arabs Gibel-el-Tor. It is in appearance like a sugar-loaf, and is covered from the top to the bottom with small trees. Palestine, which comprehends the ancient country of Canaan, and was occupied by nine tribes of Israel, has experienced many and severe revolutions; the extreme fertility of the country, and its many advantages and happy situation, induced the neighbouring and powerful kingdoms to attempt its subjection: most of them succeeded in reducing to obedience and slavery the peaceable inhabitants, the Persians, Saracens, Syrians, and Romans, have alternately been masters for a time, and then obliged to yield to superior force: they treated the conquered with the utmost barbarity, and committed the greatest devastation and slaughter; not even sparing old or young, women, or helpless children. Thus it continued changing its ferocious masters, until, in the twelfth century, the Turks taking Cesarea, the whole country fell into their possession; and has continued under their power ever since. The innumerable scenes of blood and desolation exhibited in this country, have changed it from that happy, fruitful and prosperous state, so beautifully described in Deuteronomy, to an almost uninhabited desert, and heap of ruins; few traces of its ancient splendor remain; and confusion and doubt hang over all the researches of the inquirer. The present masters exercise unlimited and tyrannical authority over their slaves, in Palestine, keeping the miserable inhabitants in the utmost subjection; governing them by Caliphs and Bashaws, with rods of iron; and holding them in the most deplorable ignorance and superstition.

BROWN'S CONCORDANCE

TO THE OLD AND NEW TESTAMENT.

TO THE READER.

1. THAT this Concordance doth not pretend to comprehend more than any other larger ones, but to contain the principal substance of them all in little room.
2. By observing one or more principal words of any remembered text, and what are the three first letters of them, and searching under answerable words in the Concordance, the sentence will be found.
3. The original words, whether nouns or verbs, are marked in CAPITAL letters, and those derived from them come after in Italics.
4. Where words are found in many places, the plural is distinguished from the singular; and the parts of verbs ending in -ed, -est, -eth, from their original. But when the examples are few, no such distinction is made, but may be easily observed.
5. The concord words, except the first, are marked by the first letter a. b. c. &c.; and the mark — stands for several words above marked in Italics. Divine persons are noted by answerable capitals.
6. Even other words, especially names of divine persons, are often marked by one or more of their first letters, that the sense of the line might be more complete.
